AUGUSTUS H. GARLAND DEAD.

Stricken With Apoplexy While Pleading in Supreme Court.

Augustus H. Garland, President Cleveland's Attorney General during his first term, died suddenly of apoplexy at 12:25 o'clock Thursday in Washington. He was addressing the Supreme Court in logical but unimpassioned tones and apparently without exertions. He placed his hand to his head, tottered and fell heavily to the floor. He was removed and cared for, but died within ten minutes.

Gen. Garland had made a reputation as a most able member of the bar, and had declined a place on the Supreme Court bench.

He was serving his second term in Congress from Arkansas when President Cleveland called him to his cabinet. Since the expiration of his term he has resided in Washington.

The Supreme Court adjourned in honor of the distinguished jurist and statesman.

Court Proceedings.

State vs. Shakespeare Gilmer, assault with deadly weapon. Verdict guilty and fined ten dollars and the cost.

State vs. Oscar Lomas, in two cases—one for taking Mr. Robt. Wallace's mule out of the stable and riding it, and for perjury. He was found guilty on both charges and sentenced to the penitentiary for ten years.

State vs. Nelson Garland, assault with deadly weapon. Verdict not guilty.

State vs. James Gamble, Will Ludwig, Mose Jameson, Ed Isenhour, Will Cannon, Dave DuBoise, Jno. Gilmer, Chas. Moss, Geo. Ross, Step Gilmer, Dan Cannon. The charge in this case was for a riot. Found guilty and judgment suspended on payment of the costs.

State vs. Wilson Garland, carrying a concealed weapon. Found guilty and fined $10 and the costs, the pistol to be retained by the court. A credit of five dollars, which was paid at the magistrate's trial, was allowed on the costs.

State vs. Jno. Carr, larceny, nol pros entered.

State vs. Frank Reid, carrying a concealed weapon. Found guilty and sentenced to the chain gang for three months.

State vs. David Hannan, assault with deadly weapon. Found guilty and sentenced to the chain gang for four months.

State vs. Wilson Garland, assault with deadly weapon. Not guilty.

State vs. Lem Jenkins, forcible trespass. Guilty, and sentenced to the chain gang for twelve months.

State vs. Bettie Jenkins, trespass. Defendant discharged.

State vs. John Johnson, larceny. Guilty and sentenced to the chain gang for four months.

Mr. Fulham Brought Here to Jail.

A deputy brought Mr. Fulham here today (Friday) from the western part of the county. Mr. Fulham is the man who is charged with shooting Mr. Jno. Holdbrook, of Huntersville. A bill has been found against the man already. At the last time heard, Mr. Holdbrook is in a bad condition, the ball having struck him in the abdomen. As Mr. Holdbrook will be unable to attend trial white court is in session here, Mr. Fulham will have to stay in jail a long while if he is not able to find a bondsman. His name is Nathaniel Fulham.

A Runaway Attempted at Mt. Pleasant.

A funny little occurrence came to pass over at Mt. Pleasant Thursday night when Miss Laura Honeycutt, the daughter of Mr. Jno. A. Honeycutt, excused herself from her parents. As soon as she left the house she began to carry out her past plans whereby she should gain the one whom she loved. She went to another house some distance away where her intended husband awaited for her to don her bridal garments preparatory to starting on the journey in a buggy. But by some means Mr. Honeycutt, the father of the girl, "smelt a mouse" and went after his daughter, caring not for the absence of foot apparel. He reached the plotting place just in time to stop the journey and brought his daughter back home. But mind that Mr. Lindsay Voss's love does not yet terminate in this happy marriage.

A Boom Along the Yadkin.

Mr. Palmer, of Stanly county, who about a year ago canvassed Cabarrus county in the interest of the Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance, arrived here Thursday afternoon. He informs us that the land along at Palmersville, is being bought at a high price by the northern capitalists who intend to construct a large electrical plant. He says that the company is paying cash for their land, too, and are paying good prices. Some land that could, until recently, have been bought for two dollars per acre has been sold for twenty dollars per acre.

In the New Depot

For the first time the passengers took their places in the new passenger depot Thursday night to await the trains. The omnibuses have selected their stands, as has the express and baggage wagons. The station is nicely lighted up both on the outside and inside. The white people occupy the north end of the building while the colored people have charge of the south end. The arrangement for Ticket Agent Bingham is much nicer now, as ticket seekers from each room are just in front of him—an improvement on the old depot where one window was always to his back.

Mr. John Foreman Released.

Mr. John Foreman, of Salisbury, who was taken into custody Wednesday night on the charge of shooting Mr. Black, of Salisbury also, was released Thursday night about 8:30 o'clock. His cousin, Mr. Will Foreman, of Charlotte, came over that night and gave the necessary bond. Mr. Foreman left that same night but returned today (Friday). His bond was decreased to $1,000.

Educational Meeting Tonight.

The proposed educational enterprise for our city is meeting with such an enthusiastic reception on the part of a large number of business men that a public meeting is called for tonight in the court house at 7:30 for united discussion of the subject. Rev. Lippard will be present to present outlines of the proposed plan.

Every citizen interested in seeing established in Concord a permanent Educational Institution for higher education, is invited and should make sure to be present.
J. L. Crowell, Mayor.

Ambassador Choate is credited with saying many pleasant and clever things. Once at a dinner party he was asked whom he would like to be if could not be himself. He paused a few seconds, as if thinking over the list of world's celebrities, and then his eyes rested upon his wife. "If," he answered, "I could not be myself, I should like to be Mrs. Choate's second husband."—Ex.

The Augusta Strike Ended.

The Augusta cotton mills strike is said to be adjusted and the operatives will resume work very soon. The lower wages will be accepted while there are accessions by the mill men in the way of rents, fuel, etc.

Jno. Murph's Sentence Changed.

Judge Shaw had sentenced Jno. Murph, the young white boy who was found guilty of retailing whiskey, and which case was noted some weeks ago, the boy having had in his pockets several empty whiskey flasks, to the chain gang for three months, but about 3 o'clock today (Friday) another judgment was given. The judgment is that he pays the costs and that he be bound on a $100 bond for his conduct during the coming year, to be present at the January term of court in 1900, when it will then be ascertained whether he has conducted himself well during the year.
