IT WAS SUICIDE.
Capt. Chadwick Sent a 38-Calibre Ball Through His Brain—A Large Life Policy.

The death of Capt. Chadwick, noted Thursday, was by his own hand. He sent a 38-calibre Smith & Wesson pistol ball through his brain and died instantly. Capt. Chadwick had broken very important business relations to go to the war, and it is believed that business adversity aggravated his nervous disorder. He had life policies amounting to $40,000. He was 38 years old. He leaves a wife to whom he was married three years ago.

THE BEST PRESCRIPTION FOR CHILLS

No Beer for Privates.
Havana, March 1.—The American military authorities in Cuba are stopping the sale of beer at post exchanges and closing the bars in Havana and Marianoa for selling beer or wine to privates or non-commissioned officers.

The proprietors of such places are fined $500, but are allowed to reopen after three days on giving bonds. The private soldiers, especially volunteers, think it a great hardship that they may not buy beer when the officers of their regiments are unrestricted.

"Parted in a Dream."
is now one of the new songs that will probably go the rounds, composed by Halbert Hoard. The words tell of the parting of a brave American soldier from his sweetheart. At Santiago at the same hour in which she dreamed of his death, he fell, asking her before dying to wear for him a rose. The sentiment of the song is beautiful. The composer is a son of Ex-Governor Hoard, of Wisconsin.

In France they are manufacturing a stuff called opaline. It resembles artificial ice, can be rolled in slabs of any desired length, width and thickness, may be used as a substitute for marble in floors, and is preferable because very hard and not affected by acids.—Morning Star.

NO CURE, NO PAY.
That is the way all druggists sell Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic for chills and Malaria. It is simply Iron and Quinine in a tasteless form. Children love it. Adults refer to it as bitter, nauseating Tonic. Price, 50c.
