CONCORD, N. C., MARCH 20, 1899.

It's a little funny to note that Admiral Sampson suggests that a different plan by Cervera might have resulted in the escape of at least some of the ships. We thought our fleet was in position to fill up that little channel with sunken ships before they could gain an exit at all. The next best thing was realized in the destruction of the fleet after it did get out, but this let's us down somewhat more when it is tacitly admitted that we did not have a fleet capable of punning the Spanish fleet, or of certainly destroying it. It attempted to run the gauntlet. So after all our glorying over the victory it seems partly creditable to Cervera's mistake, rather than to the plans of Sampson and the execution of Schley.

President McKinley, Vice-President Hobart, Speaker Tom Reed, Mark Hanna, and probably a few others, seem to have hit on the idea of a junket on Yekyll Island at the same time and now we have a regular rubber-neck time of seeing what there is in the thing. It seems that Hanna takes such methods to put in the first strokes at making presidents. When asked, "What's up?" all declare there's nothing but rest wanted, but still it is thought that rest might be better expressed in the modern term relief.

It reminds one of the old time ways of settling difficulties by fighting it out and then calling one another "a gentleman" when the Raleigh, sailing homeward from Gibraltar Sunday and passing Camara's fleet, raised the Spanish flag and fired a salute, the Spanish fleet, hoisting the Stars and Stripes and returning the salute. It seems like saying, Oh, well let's not have any hard feeling about that little matter that occurred a while ago.

Bob Ingersol, it seems, has said that Mr. Bryan is a back number and has no political future. The Colonel replies that Mr. Ingersol is hardly good authority in the make up of the back number list and he does not believe in a future. The expectant president does not mean to lose sleep on Bob's ill augury.

NO CURE, NO PAY.

That is the way all druggists sell Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic for chills and Malaria. It is simply Iron and Quinine in a tasteless form. Children love it. Adults refer to it bitter, nauseating Tonics. Price, 50c.

The government is said to be arranging for a plant at Indian Head to turn out smokeless powder at the rate of 3,000 pounds per day.

Chock Full of Pie.

Some years ago a great debate between a Northern printer and a Southern compositor on the subject of the late war was overheard. The Southerner was hot, impetuous and sentimental; the Northern champion calm, cool and even phlegmatic. "Why, didn't we lick you out of your boots at Manassas?" "Granted," said the Northern typesetter. "Didn't we smash you at Cold Harbor, and wipe up the ground with you in the Wilderness?" "Granted," said the other. "Didn't we tie you all up in knots and make rags of you all through the Peninsular campaign?" "Granted" said the Northerner, "but how was it at Appomattox?" "Yes, how was it at Appomattox?" shouted the Southerner, growing sentimental as the mingled beers and whiskies they were consuming rose to his head. "We had 13,000 poor, ragged, foot-sore, tired, starved veterans, without a single round of ammunition, while you had an army of 300,000 fat, sassy soldiers, provided with every luxury, and ev-every m-m-mother's s-son of 'em," he shouted, "chock f-full of pie."—The "Lost Cause."

In all stages of Nasal Catarrh there should be cleanliness. An experience proves Ely's Cream Balm is a cleanser, soother and healer of the diseased membrane. It is not drying or irritating, and does not produce sneezing. To test it a trial size is mailed for 10 cents or the large size for 50 cents by Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York. Druggists keep it. Upon being placed into the nostrils it spreads over the membrane and relief is immediate. It is an agreeable cure.

John H Sparks' Old Virginia Snows and Grained Animal Exposition will be in Concord, March 30th, on Thursday afternoon and night. Larger, grander and better than ever before, twice its former size, but the price of admission is the same, 25 cents, children under 12 years of age, only 10 cents. Known the world over as the cleanest, neatest and most up-to-date show in America. With all new, original and startling features. Remember the day and date.

Ready for the Printer.

Mr. John M Julian, who is indexing and annotating the laws of 1899, has them practically all ready for the printer, but owing to litigation work will hardly begin on them before the middle of this week. It will be two months or thereabout before the laws will be ready for the binder, as it will require two weeks to index them after they are in type. —News and Observer.

Took the Same.

Lawyer: You say that you were in the saloon at the time of the assault referred to in the complaint?
Witness: I was, sir.
Lawyer: Did you take cognizance of the barkeeper at the time?
Witness: I don't know what he called it, but I took what the rest did.

A. R. De Fluent, editor of the Journal, Doylestown, Ohio, suffered for a number of years from rheumatism in his right shoulder and side. He says: "My right arm at time was entirely useless. I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and was surprised to receive relief almost immediately. The Pain Balm has been a constant companion of mine ever since and it never fails." For sale by M L Marsh & Co.

The Lees on Saturday Night.

Each night the performances of the hypnotists improved, having reached its climax on Saturday night. The subjects were easily hypnotized and they were taken a stage further in the work. Several of the subjects came out into the audience selling fish, peanuts and the popular songs of the day. A school was conducted also, which brought down the house, each solo having failed to make his speech and would suffer the "dunce corner" punishment.

But the finest performance of the evening was the balloon ascension. While hundreds of feet above the earth the boys found an eagle nearing their balloon and feared that it might do them damage. They at once pulled off their shoes and coats and hurled them at the bird. One of the subjects even threw a chair. Imagine their surprise when they awoke and found themselves in such circumstances on the stage.

With this performance Prof. Lee and his assistants bade our people farewell until next year, when he hopes to return.

Yellow Jaundice Cured.

Suffering humanity should be supplied with every means possible for its relief. It is with pleasure we publish the following: "This is to certify that I was a terrible sufferer from Yellow Jaundice for over six months, and was treated by some of the best physicians in our city and to no avail. Dr. Bell, our druggist, recommended Electric Bitters; and after taking two bottles I was entirely cured. I now take great pleasure in recommending them to any person suffering from this terrible malady. I am gratefully yours, M. A. Hogarty, Lexington, Ky." Sold by P B Fetzler's Drug store.

Will Probably Come By New York.

From letters from the boys in Cuba the report is that they will come by Montauk Point, N. Y., several places having forbidden the entrance of ships containing soldiers to their harbors.

Discovered by a Woman.

Another great discovery has been made, and that too, by a lady in this country. Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood the severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery, by purchasing of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and was so much relieved on taking first dose, that she slept all night; and with two bottles, has been absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz. Thus writes W C Hamnick & Co., of Shelby, N. C. Trial bottle free at P B Fetzler's drug store. Regular size 50c and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed.
