Remembering the Orphans—Rev. Cook Accepts Poplar Tent Charge—Rev. Brown Speaks of Banners Elk—Rev. Arrowood Goes to Franklin.

At the afternoon session of the Presbytery Thursday Rev. Arrowood made a report as to the Sunday schools of the different churches. The report was both interesting and encouraging.

It was recommended to the Presbytery by the Synod through Rev. Graham that the Sabbath schools of the different churches take a collection some time during the month of June for the benefit of the Barium Springs orphanage. This recommendation was adopted.

The church narratives were handed in by the different ones in their regular form. The report showed its greatest deficiency in the holding of family worship.

It will be remembered that on Tuesday a call was extended to Rev. Geo. L. Cook by the Poplar Tent congregation. Rev. Cook, after being made a member of this Presbytery, took charge of the call and stated Thursday afternoon that he had decided to accept the same.

Rev. Brown spoke most complimentary of the work now being done at Banners Elk and asked the Presbytery to be allowed to solicit subscriptions for some additions to be made. He was allowed the privilege.

The report as to the sessional records was made, showing that they had been kept neatly and satisfactorily with but very few exceptions.

Rev. Arrowood informed the Presbytery that he had decided to accept a call to Franklin church.

A popular meeting in the interest of foreign missions was held Thursday night, consisting of talks by different ministers along this line.

Rev. Boyt, who has charge of the Barium Springs Orphanage, was not present to make his report, but Rev. J. Rumble, D. D., presented some interesting facts to the Presbytery as to the condition of the orphanage.

He stated that through the liberality of Mrs. S. P. Lees, of New York City, a convenient and tasteful new brick building for boys has been erected and is ready for occupation as soon as furnished. It will accommodate twenty-five boys, together with a matron and teacher. It costs the people nothing except the furnishing. There is a pressing need for another building there—a home for the superintendent and his family. The brick for the building are on the ground, the site selected, and it is hoped that the necessary amount be speedily collected. There are now one hundred orphans at the home, and it will soon be ready to accommodate twenty-five more. The funds in the treasury are now small and it is urged that the collections be obtained at the appointed time in June or earlier if possible. It was further desired that the Sunday schools, voluntary societies, and individuals who have pledged regular contributions observe the regular times for these contributions and if possible to increase.

After having a session this (Friday) morning, and some minor matters were attended to, the Presbytery adjourned finally, to meet this fall at Concord Church. Before adjournment the following resolutions were passed:

Resolved, First, That the Presbytery very sincerely extend its thanks to the pastor and members of the First church and of Cannonville and also to the members of all churches in the community for their hospitality to those who have spent these few days so happily in the midst of this beautiful city and within these Christian home circles.

Second, That we express our appreciation of the courtesies of the Southern Railway and to the newspapers of the city for their full reports of the business of the Presbytery.

DR. TRACY'S DEBUT.

A Casby Effort—Wit, Humor, Pathos, Music and Canvas Scenes.

Dr. Tracy made his debut in our town Thursday night in the Baptist church. It is a commodious building and was well nigh filled. Doubtless as the doctor said, many came to see and hear the "New Man." Well it was worth the going, for the doctor is very entertaining. He has a zeal and enthusiasm that warms the atmosphere about him and he enters into his theme with such vigor that we suspect that like a cyclone he will draw you up to him as the vortex or blow you clean away.

He is versatile as a splendid stager and original as a genuine wit. His mimicry keeps the little folks well awake and ready for another laugh while the older, stayed worshippers that would hardly allow themselves to crack a smile in church ever and anon find themselves indulging the hilarious ha! ha! All this vein in the doctor seems but the method he employs to bring home to the audience some telling force on the line of his theme, temperance.

The doctor's temperament is such that, of course, there is no ground for him but that of extreme distance from the liquor centres. Nor is he one of a very small class. This forms one of the very strong objections to a licensed bar room however well kept. There are those who are severely tried to resist the temptation and the doctor well said, that while he would like to scratch out the eyes of all the blind tigers in Concord, no number of them could produce the evils wrought by the open barroom. The blind tiger does not send forth fumes by which to unnerve the peculiarly constituted who are as much entitled to the term "nan" as any can be.

The stereopticon pictures on the canvass are very pretty. The illustration of "Rock of Ages," "Nearer My God to Thee," etc., while these good old soul stirring hymns were being sung or while pauses were made for the lecturer to dilate on them were truly grand and it was like bathing the devoted soul in seas of heavenly rest or illuminating it with the light about the celestial throne.

Several animated pictures were shown that were quite satisfactory, especially that of the heaving billows of the stormy ocean as it dashed up the frothy sprays on the beach.

We must not allow to pass untouched the duet sung by Rev. and Mrs. Rauche, "Will You Be Washed in the Blood of the Lamb." The audience was held in the grasp of the most attentive delight at its unique rendering.

The Power of the Appetite is the subject for tonight. The meeting will open with canvas scenes promptly at 8 o'clock.

Some Trouble Over at Mt. Pleasant.

On Thursday morning at Mt. Pleasant a difficulty occurred in which students of the college are the interested parties. Mr. Clarence Ledbetter, a young man who was dismissed from college by the faculty, assaulted Mr. Wesley Kenerly, inflicting a considerable wound on the latter's head, though resulting in nothing serious. Mr. Ledbetter was bound over to court on a $200 bond. He passed through here Thursday night on his way home to Polkton.

We Must Wash

We may live without music, poetry and art,
We may live without conscience, may live without heart,
We may live without lovers; live without hope,
But civilized women cannot live without soap.

We may live without books, what is knowledge but sorrow.
We may live without beauty, it fades on the morrow.
We may live without law suits; indictments are quashing,
But where is the one who can live without washing.
