Mr. Will Dayvault to Wed.

Mr. Will Dayvault left today (Wednesday) for Troutman, where on Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock he will be married to Miss Bettie Waugh, of that place, the ceremony taking place at the bride's home. It will be a quiet home wedding, only a few friends and relatives being present. Mr. Marvin Smoot and Mr. Garah Caldwell, both of whom are friends of the groom, accompanied Mr. Dayvault.

The bride and groom will return here Thursday night, and for several days will be at the home of Mr. Smoot Dayvault, but will soon occupy the house next to the Presbyterian church, where Mr. Frank Goodson formerly lived.

THEY PLAY TONIGHT.

The First Regiment's Band is Here and Crowds Will Hear their Martial Music Tonight—A Large Band and Their Music Ranks High.

The band which for months has greeted the ears of our soldier boys while on parade and during all hours of the day, and which has inspired thousands of people as they would come out on dress parade at Raleigh, Jacksonville, Savannah and Cuba, is in Concord today and already have the people, by the open air concert given before noon, been convinced that this is an excellent band, and tickets are fast being sold.

The band came in a special car this morning. They number thirty, including Capt. L. B. Alexander, who is with them and who was an adjutant. The combinations are as follows: Clarinets 5, cornets 5, saxophones 2, altos 4, trombones 5, baritone 1, basses 2, drums 3, together with cymbals.

Two Spaniards and one Cuban are among the number, the Spaniards being performers on the cornet and clarinet.

The band is under the direction of Mr. Chas. Coe, who performs on the saxophone.

The concert will be given in the new Morris stables, where seats have been prepared to accommodate a large number. The general admission fee is 35 cents—reserved seats 50 cents. Children admitted for 25 cents. The concert will begin at 8:30 o'clock.

Tickets on sale at Gibson's drug store.

The Concord Institute.

It is only proper that a few explanatory statements be made now, relative to the proposed educational enterprise for Concord for the benefit of all interested.

No effort will be spared to have the building sufficiently completed for the opening of the school in September, and thus accord a most hearty welcome to the young men and women who are anxious to obtain a higher education.

The two principles of co-education and non-sectarianism will characterize the institute from the first.

The present purpose of the institute will be to thoroughly prepare its students for the junior year in the best colleges, emphasizing the classical, scientific, and normal courses.

Our object is to make the musical department such as to offer the best possible advantages, vocal and instrumental at minimum cost.

The business and commercial course will receive special attention and equipment, giving to those who desire it, good advantages to obtain a thorough business training.

Believing strongly in the importance of thorough work, in the education of the child, a primary and graded department will be established from the first, into which a limited number of children will be received.

The organization of the industrial department is already being effected, the object of which is to afford remunerative employment for needy and worthy students in which they can work from two to four hours per day and thus largely meet the expense for obtaining an education.

We thoroughly realize that we are at the beginning of a no little undertaking—one that will necessitate an earnest persevering effort, but with the hearty co-operation of all lovers of higher education in Concord we may enjoy such an educational work in our midst as will make glad many hearts and characterize our time honored city as an educational center of large radiating influence.

Bespeaking a most hearty co-operation in so worthy an undertaking, we are very sincerely
J. H. Eppard.

The Hoggiest of All.

The Rocky Mount Argonaut says Mr. John Sharpe, of Sharpsburg, recently slaughtered his big hog, which weighed 840 pounds. This is the biggest we have heard of in the State.

Money Makes the Mare Go.

A Brooklyn negress has recently fallen heir to $75,000 and has had to unchain the dog to keep away the impecunious Counts and no-accounts, are the words we read in the Wilmington Star. This goes to show that the crowd of money-worshippers are increasing, and the tendency is to take in anything, white or black, true or false, good or bad; anything so it has money. Money is the only god some people worship, and yet we talk about the heathen and their idols.—Durham Sun.

A Laundry Song.

Tell us not in mournful numbers,
Be you girl or be you boy,
That we will fail to please you
If you'll patronize the Concord.

Enjoyment, not discomfort,
Gives our work in every way,
And we aim that each tomorrow
Finds it better than today.

Work that perhaps another
Seeing, he would fain exclaim,
Oh, my poorly washed laundry,
You did not "remember the Maine!"

Think about our Laundry work that
It gives pleasure without alloy;
Peace, contentment and satisfaction
Have the patrons of the Concord.

Then let us your work be doing,
Our plant of methods are the best.
Send or 'phone and we will call,
And the Concord will do the rest.
