THE RALEIGH SPEAKS.

Out there in Manila Bay
Capt. Coghlan banged away;
Loaded up his guns and fired
Just as if he was inspired;
And he was, too, like as not;
Dewey done it; that was what
Anyhow, he fired away
All around Manila Bay
With the others shooting too;
Regular Red, White and Blue
Celebration. Hip! Hi oray!
Whoop! Ta ra boom de ay!
When our jacks were through with it,
Every Spanish ship was "hit";
Gone to meet McGinty they,
Down there in Manila Bay.
Never had the Orient
Known exactly what it meant
To say things had gone h— bent;
And the sights they saw that day
All around Manila Bay,
Gave the people something new
In "Oriental splendor," too.
Then Dewey, in his quiet way,
Took a mortgage on the bay;
Took it, and he held it, too,
Though there was a party who
Put up something of a bluff;
Not a big one but enough.
Dewey called it, saying: "Nix;
Was ist los mit Diedrichs?"
Coghlan was't far away,
And his brothers in the Bay
Stood alongside, one and all,
Ready for the word: "Play ball!"
Happily it did not come;
But if it had, you bet, bu gum—
However, that is past and gone,
And we've put our peace clothes on;
The incident is closed, and we
Are now in engaged in harmony.
Coghlan told the story; he Didn't think lese-majesty
Was in force here; he had not
Well considered "Mich und Gott,"
If he were a diplomat,
He would not know where he was at,
But he isn't; all he knows
Is to go where Dewey goes;
Is to put Old Glory where
It should go, and keep it there;
Is to do his duty well,
Which means to him to fight like
h—;
And the Raleigh's crew all yell:
"Hurrah for Coghlan, plain and rough!
The Raleigh's skipper; he's hot stuff!"

THAT HAPPY EDITOR.

The jolly editor in Lexington says in the issue of the 3rd that the Davidson Dispatch has passed its seventeenth mile post and that since it came into the present management three years ago the circulation has increased to five times what it was. Editor Varner is certainly to be congratulated. He seems to have gotten into the swim beyond the craft. It will be remembered too, that he is the only editor that came out of the memorable campaign of 1898 the better of a new suit of clothes. Long live The Dispatch and its bachelor editor.

It is peculiarly annoying to the writer that in the article in the Daily of Wednesday on Battle Day Reminiscences he should use the name Gen. Meade every time in which he should have used the name Gen. Hooker. That it was Gen. Hooker who commanded the Federal army at Chancellorsville was a fact so clear and well remembered that no reference to written history was necessary and yet the name Meade got into the place of Hooker every time we referred to the Federal commander. We certainly don't want to raise the legitimate question, "Is it The Standard drunk or The Standard sober?"

AN EPIDEMIC OF WHOOPING COUGH.

Last winter during an epidemic of whooping cough my children contracted the disease, having severe coughing spells. We had used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy very successfully for croup and naturally turned to it at that time and found it relieved the cough and effected a complete cure. John L. Clifford, Proprietor Norwood House, Norwood N. Y. This remedy is for sale by M. L. Marsh & Co.

About the Philippines.

The first truce delegation from the Filipinos to Gen. Otis pretended to come from Gen. Luna and dispatches even state that Aguinaldo disavowed any connection with the application for peace. The second, however, that had an interview with Gen. Otis and the Philippine Commission Wednesday frankly admitted that they were sent by Aguinaldo himself. They say that Aguinaldo admits that he will be overcome eventually but that he can keep up the warfare for some time and will do so if he is not allowed terms with dignity. He wants cessation of hostilities for three months to get a Congress of all the islands to make terms. To this Gen. Otis replied that Aguinaldo had very little to do with the other islands and it was admitted.

Lieutenant Gilmore and eight of his men are said to be at Sanisedr, now the Filipino headquarters, and provisions have been sent to them by Gen. Otis.

Efforts at an exchange of prisoners has not yet been successful. Our troops keep advancing and fighting.

Discovered by a Woman.

Another great discovery has been made, and that too, by a lady in this country. Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood the severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery, by purchasing of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and was so much relieved on taking first dose, that she slept all night; and with two bottles, has been absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz. Thus writes W. C. Hamnick & Co., of Shelby, N. C. Trial bottle free at P. B. Fetzler's drug store. Regular size 50c and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed.

Anti-Wasp Waist Law.

Assemblyman Henry L. Daggett, of Outagamie county, Wis., has introduced an anti-wasp waist measure in the Legislature of that State. It provides for the appointment of a commission to draft a bill for the protection of "old maids, wives and young girls" against the evils of tight lacing.

Mr. Daggett says that if the matter goes no further it has already accomplished much good in setting people to thinking on a serious subject and perhaps frightening some thoughtless woman back to the ways of health. His measure, he says, is aimed at the Yankee women; the German and Norwegian women need no such protection. He points to the low birthrate and decreasing marriage rate among American women as causes for alarm.

"Why, who wants to marry a wasp waist?" he says. "I know what I am talking about, too, for I have investigated cases in the asylum at Oshkosh. I would establish a fine of $1 for lacing too tight, the parents of the girl or old maids to be the judges."—Morganton Herald.

Announcement.

To accommodate those who are partial to the use of atomizers in applying liquids into the nasal passages for catarrhal troubles, the proprietors prepare Cream Balm in liquid form, which will be known as Ely's liquid Cream Balm. Price including the spraying tube is 75 cents. Druggists or by mail. The liquid form embodies the medicinal properties of the solid preparation. Cream Balm is quickly absorbed by the membrane and does not dry up the secretions, but changes them to a natural and healthy character. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren St., N. Y.
