CONCORD, N. C., MAY 5, 1899.

OUR THIRD ANNIVERSARY.

The Standard greets its patrons today on the third anniversary of its existence under its present management.

When we consider the environments of journalistic life, the impossibility to attain to our own ideal and of course that of any one else, with the fearful liability to err and incur the displeasure, deserved or otherwise, of those without whose patronage even limited success would be impossible, we are gratified, almost amazed, that a sphere in which we were without training should be attended with so many successes and so few depressing blunders, and they so nearly covered by the cloak of charity ever descending from the gentle hands of a generous public.

The Standard has made no gigantic strides nor phenomenal flights but has held steadily on its onward course with that measure of success that intense application and unflagging effort generally secure, and enjoys today the no less satisfaction of a substantial basis. This proud triumph has not been attained without due regard to that frugality which makes it practical to meet bills when due and apply reasonable amounts to individual comfort and the public welfare. We enter upon a new year of our labors endeavoring to bear in mind the images of our many true and noble friends and laying back in some martyr corner of memory's dungeon, not a few who ignore the laws of honest business that demands payment for service rendered.

GEN. WHEELER'S DEFENSE.

We have before us a pamphlet of 32 pages of Congressional Record from the pen of the Hon. Joseph Wheeler in defense of his claim to a seat in Congress and showing that the Congressional Committee that declared his place vacant erred therein. It is a most exhaustive treatment and seems to us uncontrovertible.

He sets forth the following propositions and seems to establish every one, viz:

- 1st. No one reveres the Constitution more than myself.
- 2nd. Congress never expelled a member for accepting a volunteer commission.
- 3rd. Decisions of the highest courts are that inhibition applies to permanent, not to temporary, positions.
- 4th. The Attorney General of the United States decides to the same effect.

5th. Parliamentary leaders in effect sustain this view.

6th. President Abraham Lincoln's writings show that his view was to the same effect.

The hero seems to have room to feel unappreciated and wronged in the procedure.

The laurels he gained at Santiago, however, are enough and his name will go down in history with a lustre above any that may have been actuated by a taint of envy or jealousy.

Discovered by a Woman.

Another great discovery has been made, and that too, by a lady in this country. Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood the severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery, by purchasing of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and was so much relieved on taking first dose, that she slept all night; and with two bottles, has been absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz. Thus writes W C Hamnick & Co., of Shelby, N. C. Trial bottle free at P B Fetzer's drug store. Regular size 50c and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed.

No Time to Lose.

"The world is mine oyster," he blithely cried.

And his voice was sanguine and gay;

"Then wake up and hustle," his chum replied,

"The season is over in May."
—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

AN EPIDEMIC OF WHOOPING COUGH.

Last winter during an epidemic of whooping cough my children contracted the disease, having severe coughing spells. We had used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy very successfully for croup and naturally turned to it at that time and found it relieved the cough and effected a complete cure. John L. Clifford, Proprietor, Norwood House, Norwood N. Y. This remedy is for sale by M. L. Marsh & Co.

Some Good Effects of Hypnotism.

Dr. John D Quackenbos, emeritus professor of Columbia University, has conducted some interesting experiments in hypnotism in the past six weeks. He has cured boys of the cigarette habit, he says, and at least one boy has been induced to cease stealing, as his records show. Dr Quackenbos cited several cases Tuesday at his home, No. 331 West Twenty-eighth street as follows:

"Andrew B...., professional thief, smoked three packages of cigarettes daily; had been stealing for twelve years; had a sneaking, hang-dog look and repulsive manner. Said that the desire to steal was irresistible.

"I hypnotized him March 19. I suggested that he abandon both cigarettes and stealing. He returned in a week. The old hang-dog look had disappeared. He said the desire to steal had completely left his mind. He was also cured of the cigarette habit.

"Frank White, watchman, twenty years old, had smoked thirty cigarettes a day for nearly eight years. He was very nervous and afflicted with jerks. I hypnotized him March 19 and suggested that he reduce his rations to four cigarettes a day. He returned on the following Wednesday and said since Sunday he had smoked but five cigarettes and three pipes. He was again hypnotized, with the result that he was completely cured of the cigarette habit.

"John O'Neil, twenty years old.

He had smoked twelve cigarettes a day and stammered badly. After he was hypnotized I suggested that he not only abandon the use of cigarettes but also that he should cease stammering. He slept thirty minutes. When he awoke he called to me in a clear voice and without a trace of stammering. He was completely cured of that impediment of speech and also cured of the cigarette habit.

"Andrew Kelly, coal shoveller, eighteen years old, smoked twenty cigarettes daily. He was very nervous and his heart palpitated violently. I hypnotized him and suggested that he reduce his allowance of cigarette. He returned a week later and said that he had smoked but four in the interval. I hypnotized him again and he was completely cured."

For Over Fifty Years

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over fifty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhoea. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Sold by druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

The Florida Legislature has passed some "tariff for revenue" resolutions, with a tariff for protection string to 'em. It would like to have a 50 per cent. ad valorem duty on imported cotton and 5 cents a pound duty on long staple. This shows that there is about the average amount of human nature grab and selfishness in the Florida man. —Morning Star.

W L Shumate, of Hancock, Texas, a planter, has been making experiments in growing orange trees which will stand cold weather. It is claimed that Mr. Shumate has been so successful that he has produced a variety of tree which will live in a temperature of 12 degrees above zero, and will bear fruit of a superior quality. —Greensboro Record.

Announcement.

To accommodate those who are partial to the use of atomizers in applying liquids into the nasal passages for catarrhal troubles, the proprietors prepare Cream Balm in liquid form, which will be known as Ely's liquid Cream Balm. Price including the spraying tube is 75 cents. Druggists or by mail. The liquid form embodies the medicinal properties of the solid preparation. Cream Balm is quickly absorbed by the membrane and does not dry up the secretions, but changes them to a natural and healthy character.
