GREAT WESTERN TORNADO

Minnesota and Wisconsin Towns Wiped Out—Probably Five Hundred People Killed.

A tornado swept over parts of Minnesota and Wisconsin Monday and while definite details are not in it is estimated that from 200 to 500 people were killed or severely injured. Hastings, Minn., and Richmond and Hudson, Wis., are said to be almost wiped out of existence. One Dr. Wade was killed and Dr. Epley had both legs broken. Washouts hinder relief trains and telegraph lines are down. Much suffering doubtless prevails.

Some Trouble Monday Night.

On Monday afternoon about 7 o'clock three young men got into some trouble near Mr. P M Martin's store at the Cabarrus mill. The violators of the law were arrested and tried Monday night. It was a case where two persons were ordered from a house and after getting out commenced to curse very freely and caused still more of the disturbance. The persons were somewhat reluctant about leaving the house and a gentleman was about to make good use of a chair. One of the gentlemen was fined $5 and the costs. The other two were lodged in jail that night in default of a $50 bondsman for next court on the charge of assault and using a deadly weapon. The other one secured a bondsman.

He is Free Until Court.

Mr. Will Thompson, who on last Saturday was arrested near Slippery Rock, and who was bound in a $50 bond for his appearance at the next term of court for carrying a concealed weapon and resisting arrest has been taken out of jail, having secured a bondsman.

When Mr. Thompson was captured he had a keg containing four gallons and three quarts of whiskey and he has inquired promptly for his keg and the officer turned it over to him and he can enjoy himself now until court. His town fine was also paid.

A YOUNG MAN KILLED.

A Body Found Beside the Railroad Track at Lodo—He is Unknown—Probably He Was from Concord.

In the Observer we notice it stated that a young man 18 or 20 years of age was found dead on the railroad track Sunday morning at the crossing at Lodo, near Charlotte. To some one at a store the night before he said he had come from Spartanburg and was going to Concord. He stated that he had walked all of the way. Being tired that night, it is supposed that he sat down on the railroad track and went to sleep and was struck by the train. His head was crushed on one side and one ear cut off.

His name could not be found out at the inquest by the coroner, but in his pocket was found a notebook containing the name of J D Scarborough. There was also an unfinished note addressed to Miss Minnie Burg, dated at Charlotte, saying, "I write to let you know I am still alive, and have not forgot —," but the sentence was not finished. A scar about two inches long with five stitches in it was found over the right eye. There was also a scar on the right cheek about an inch long. The body was buried Monday at Lodo.

Who can this person be? The young man very probably lived here or had some relatives at this place.

Would Not Suffer So Again for Fifty Times the Price.

I awoke last night with severe pains in my stomach. I never felt so badly in all my life. When I came down to work this morning I felt so weak I could hardly work. I went to Miller & McCurdy's drug store and they recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It worked like magic and one dose fixed me all right. It certainly is the finest thing I ever used for stomach trouble. I shall not be without it in my home hereafter, for I should not care to endure the sufferings of last night again for fifty times its price.—G H Wilson, Liveryman, Burgettstown, Washington Co., Pa. This remedy is for sale by M L Marsh & Co., druggist.

The Road to Wealth.

Andrew Carnegie lays down the following rules as the basis of acquiring wealth:

"In my opinion the secret of money-making depends chiefly upon five things: Push, squareness, clear-headedness, economy, and rigid adherence to the rule of not overworking. Too much work is worse than no work at all. It undermines the constitution and unfits a man mentally and physically for the battle of life. Ten hours a day of steady work is as much as any man—no matter how robust—ought to attempt. In addition to these things, avoid being too grasping; better make a small profit by sure means than attempt to make a larger one by uncertain and risky measures."—Daily Record.

Mind Your P's.

Persons who patronize papers should pay promptly, for the pecuniary prospects of the press have a peculiar power in pushing forward public prosperity. If the printer is paid promptly, and his pocket-book kept plenteous by prompt paying patrons, he puts his pen to his paper in peace, his paragraphs are more pointed, he paints the picture of passing events in more pleasing colors, and the perusal of his paper is a pleasure to the people.

Paste this piece of proverbial philosophy in some place where all persons can perceive it.—Daily Reflector.

When a Southerner Will Fight.

The Southern Pines editorial correspondent to the Lyndon Vermont Union says:

From conversations there and elsewhere, I learn that Southerners have great respect for Northerners, and I happened to know that since the war Northerners have a great deal more respect for Southerners than they had before, when they were going to "lick 'em in three months." The Southern man, like a Northern man, is an American and does not "lick" easily. Moreover the Southerner does not fight unless he believes he is right, and under that conviction, you get all the fight there is in him. Had they known each other as well before as since the war, there would have been no fight, but the irrepressible conflict would have been settled by the purchase of the negroes, which would have distributed the expense over the whole country, instead as tastening it upon a part.
