HER SUFFERINGS ENDED.

Mrs. Fred Cline Passes Away in Death.

Death came Friday evening at 6 o'clock and relieved the long protracted sufferings of Mrs. Fred Cline at her home in No. 4 township. For many years an invalid and a most resigned and exemplary Christian, the death angel came none too soon and brought no terrors to her whose sturdy faith illuminated the dark shadows of the grave.

Mrs. Cline leaves her life companion and four children, two sons and two daughters one of each of whom is married.

The funeral services were arranged for 1 o'clock p. m. today (Saturday) at Center Grove E. L. church, of which the deceased was a valued member, conducted by her pastor, Rev. W. B. Oney, and the remains laid to rest.

"Tis well with the righteous when they die."

Superintendent Mathes Here from Durham.

On the 24th day of March our readers will remember that a terrible accident occurred at Durham, resulting in the death of Mr. W. H. Branson and almost the death of Mr. J. C. Mathes, who was superintendent of the mill there. Mr. Mathes was terribly scalded and life seemed to hang only by the smallest thread but at last he revived and is now able to again be at his post. He was here today (Saturday) on a business trip. His hands are yet very tender and his finger nails are beginning to come off to give place to others. Only a part of one ear yet remains and his face is considerably marked. Mr. Mathes can but naturally feel afraid and uneasy when around the pump house where he almost suffered death and where one of our State's best men and his own best friend met a most awful death. Mr. Mathes has been connected with the mill there for over fourteen years.

Engine Off the Track.

Friday evening about 5 o'clock while Conductor Ed. Patterson's engine was doing some shifting at the Odell mills, the big steam horse jumped the track and sank one of the driving wheels into the ground. At 8 o'clock the work train came in from Harrisburg and the force soon jacked up the engine and pulled it into its proper position. The local freight was delayed only about four hours.

Thousands of Little Fish.

The mud-holes at Brown's brick yard near the station have nearly dried up and the top surface of the slimy looking mud is lined with thousands of little fish. Men and boys have had considerable fun during the past few days catching the little fellows. Some very nice perch have been picked up.

Notice to Veterans.

THE NEGRO CAPTURED.

About Daylight the Officers Brought the Negro to Albemarle—Evidences of Trouble.

Henry Hyatt, the negro who attempted assault on Mary Saunders at Albemarle Thursday, was captured in the neighborhood of Ansonville Friday afternoon and has been lodged in jail at Albemarle.

The officers arrived with him at Albemarle about daylight today (Saturday) and he was taken before the little girl. The girl is of course almost overcome with fright and did not have anything to say when the perpetrator of the crime was in her presence.

There were some evidences of trouble even in daylight, some persons having laid hands on the negro, but the officers carried out the law and quelled the more excited persons. He was lodged safely in jail.

Persons who live in Albemarle fear yet that there is trouble brewing before this matter is settled in the court room. There is no doubt as to the negro and every one there knows him. He has confessed to the attempt of assault and of having threatened the life of Mr. Lowder, who answered to the screams of the girl.

A New Store Room.

The Messrs. Cline, at Forest Hill, are preparing to build another store room on their vacant lot between the ones now occupied by Mabrey & Son and Mr. J. H. Waddell. The work will begin just as soon as the lumber can be obtained.

Cow Boys and Indians.

Cow boys and Indians still get into it in the West. Swift Bear's band in South Dakota were committing depredations and the cow boys pursued, giving them something of a battle, according to dispatches of the 20th. No serious casualties have been reported, though at one time six cow boys seemed in danger of a Custer affair.

CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund money if it fails to cure. 25c. The genuine has L. B. Q. on each tablet.

GUILTY, SAYS THE JURY.

Julius Alexander, Colored, To Hang August 24th for Outrage On Mrs. Mullis.

Charlotte is to have another hanging.

Julius Alexander, colored, was found guilty in the criminal court at Charlotte Friday of foul outrage upon Mrs. Julia Mullis, about 60 years old.

From the first it was evident that the testimony was convincing and it took the jury only 18 minutes to reach a verdict. Judge Battle seemed quite tender in his counsel to Alexander and advised him to prepare for death as there is no power to save him. He then designated August 24th as the day for execution.

The Image of Thrift.

Mr. P. M. Faggart brought us in a stalk of cotton today (Saturday) on which there is no sign of drought, though he says the season is so dry that it is a wonder that everything is not parched. This particular stalk is of very ordinary height, just two feet, but it is vigorous and contains 48 bolls, blooms and squares. It is of the Hawkins Prolific variety. It is the image of thrift.

NO CURE, NO PAY.

That is the way all druggists sell Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic for chills and Malaria. It is simply Iron and Quinine in a tasteless form. Children love it. Adults refer it to bitter, nauseating Tonics. Price, 50c.

ALMOST TOO HORRIBLE TO TELL.

Two Negroes Rob a Man and His Wife and Then Humiliate Her Before His Eyes.

The most revolting crime that news currents convey is reported from Decatur county, Ga. The story is that two negro toughs robbed one Mr. J. E. Ogletree, a white merchant, at the point of pistols. They then made him lead him up stairs to where his wife was and obtained four dollars. But worse than all and to the shame of manhood that did not die in the effort to protect her, each one in turn outraged the helpless woman, one covering him with a pistol all the while.

Gov. Chandler has offered $500 reward for their delivery to the sheriff and the whole force of the community is in pursuit. It is needless to say that if caught and identified there will be quick retribution and nobody cares a whit.

What will be the public verdict against the husband that he did not sell his own life at the highest possible cost in defense of his wife is yet to be learned.

Five Italians Lynched.

Five Italians were lynched at Tallulah Thursday night last. It seems they were troublesome, disorderly characters and one shot Dr. J. Ford Hodges who is expected to die from his wounds. There is strong evidence that the five were in a conspiracy to murder the doctor and the popular feeling became resistless. The legal authorities were overpowered and the wretches were strung up.

Last fall I sprained my left hip while handling some heavy boxes. The doctor I called on said at first that it was a slight strain and would soon be well, but it grew worse and the doctor then said I had rheumatism. It continued to grow worse and I could hardly get around to work. I went to a drug store and the druggist recommended me to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I tried it and one-half of a 50-cent bottle cured me entirely. I now recommend it to all my friends.—F. A. Babcock, Erie, Pa. It is for sale by M. L. Marsh & Co., druggist.
