Correction—Apology.

We are exceedingly sorry that, in our noting on Wednesday that Dr. Young had taken two of his patients to the hospital at Philadelphia, we used phraseology that might be construed as neglect on the part of the parents of the unfortunate little Louis Swink. We simply wrote impressions we had gotten that the limb had become stiff from some lack of application of joint exercise that is a part of the most skilful treatment of an injured joint, without for a moment intending our words to bear a construction other than that of pure misfortune without fault. Our chagrin is the deeper from the fact that Mrs. Swink, whose wifely ministrations had stood for months between her afflicted husband and the grave and that when she had seen her devotions bearing the rich fruits of restoration this very grievous accident to little Louis came as a second cloud over her home, taxing again her strength and her spirits—we say that our chagrin is the deeper that she should feel that our statement might lead a single reader to doubt her due care of her child. Such was furthest from our purpose, as it was furthest from our convictions.

The Bakery Pays Homage.

Mr. Will Johnson, proprietor of the Concord bakery, had in his show window Wednesday evening a beautiful piece of work as a tribute to the Statesville-Concord baseball game. It was a fine cake, on the top of which were the words, "Baseball, Concord 18, Statesville 3," also bearing the date. The baseball association here admired it so much that they purchased it and will probably present it to their defeated opponents.

No Court Yet.

This is the fourth morning that Sheriff Peck has opened court and adjourned it until next morning on account of Judge Robinson being detained at Asheboro on the big railroad case. Each morning our farmers from different parts of the county are here to await the opening of court only to be relieved until the next morning.

Baby Born With Set of Teeth.

A two-months-old baby born with teeth was brought to the office of Dentist Mapp, in Brooklyn, recently to have its front teeth extracted so that the mother, Mrs. Christopher Quinn, of No. 444 Bushwick avenue, could nurse the child with more personal comfort to herself. Dr. Hasbrouck, a prominent dentist, says that such cases, while rare, are not so uncommon as to cause much of a stir.

"Teeth in children at birth," said he, are usually due to some constitutional trouble of the parents. Measles and scarlet fever often cause teeth to come in an irregular way. They are usually the milk teeth. Of course, they cause the mother much annoyance, but they are easily extracted."

We're on a Steady Move.

It is a satisfaction to know that contracts are awarded for work, and are noted beforehand but it is still more gratifying to see the work now being pushed and new buildings being added each month to our town. Since last noting our improvements in this line, Mr. J. A. C. Blackwelder at Cannonville has started the erection of a residence next to his present one and will also add another on the lot at the rear of his residence.

Ground has been broken and the foundation started for another one for Mr. Chas. Wagoner on the lot opposite the residence of Mr. M. C. Walter.

Already one can see that West Depot street will have a most valuable addition when the residence of Mr. Jno. Q. Leslie is finished. The frame is already up.

Ere long two new ones will be standing on South Main street on the lots of Mr. Geo. W. Brown.

A great change and improvement is noticeable on the property of Mr. Zeb Morris on the same street. Where once was a valley almost like a precipice there will be a back yard and driveway to a barn.

A Drunken Negro Pulled.

David Crump, a negro, while very drunk conducted himself in a most disorderly way today at Cannonville near Mr. J. A. C. Blackwelder's store. Policeman Cruse got news of the affair and met the negro. A tussle followed for a little while but the officer's wooden paralyzer brought blood flowing from the negro's head and he is now in jail awaiting soberness.

Court Opens Tomorrow.

The suspense as to when court will begin is now broken. Judge Robinson this morning wired to Sheriff Peck that court would open tomorrow. As fast as possible the cases will be turned off now and the jail cleared of its prisoners. It is not likely that much can be done on the civil docket this court unless the criminal docket, which is considerably large, is cut short.

A Young Man Goes Wrong.

Newport News, Va., July 26.—W. F. Anthony, a young man who comes from a good North Carolina family, is in jail here charged with a series of thefts. He confessed his crime to several officers and one of the men from whom he took some wearing apparel. Anthony is charged with stealing two overcoats, a watch, a pistol, a razor and other clothing from young men boarding at the home of Mrs. Bostwick. He says this is his first crime and when he realized the enormity of his offense he broke down and cried like a child. While in jail he received a letter from his mother in North Carolina inclosing him $5. His father was, during the Civil War, colonel of a North Carolina regiment.

Lovers' quarrels are said to end in kisses. It must be awful nice to have a quarrel very frequently.

Booker T. Washington, the noted colored citizen of Alabama, who is now sojourning in Paris, is favorably struck with that town, but thinks it is ruled rather too much by fashion. He couldn't get a pair of shoes large enough for him in the shoe stores, and was informed that large shoes were not fashionable, for which reason they were not kept in stock.—Morning Star.

"The outlook of all this activity in the South" says the Chicago Tribune, "is not encouraging to New England manufacturers. If, as they say, they have been unable to compete with that section during the last two or three years, what will be the condition in the next two or three? Pass. We are too busy in the South to stop to guess at conundrums.—Louisville Courier Journal, Dem.

Last fall I sprained my left hip while handling some heavy boxes. The doctor I called on said at first that it was a slight strain and would soon be well, but it grew worse and the doctor then said I had rheumatism. It continued to grow worse and I could hardly get around to work. I went to a drug store and the druggist recommended me to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I tried it and one-half of a 50-cent bottle cured me entirely. I now recommend it to all my friends.—F A Babcock, Erie, Pa. It is for sale by M L Marsh & Co., druggist.
