A BURGLARY.

Some Person Enters Mr. J. W. Furr's Store at Cannonville and Robs Him of Some Cash and Goods.

For several weeks past there has been some person in Concord visiting houses at night, heretofore only prowling about residences but Friday night the night thief got in his work at Mr. J. W. Furr's store at Cannonville on West Depot street.

The door was opened with an axe from a neighbor's house. After getting in he helped himself to goods to the amount of $15 or $18. He also broke open the combination money drawer, robbing it of $3 or $4 and leaving the drawer under one corner of the store. The thief has not been captured.

A Reckless Bicycle Rider.

On Friday afternoon some unknown bicycle rider ran over Bays, the six-year-old son of Dr. Sam Montgomery. The boy was not badly hurt but was bruised somewhat. The rider did not stop when he struck the little fellow but passed hurriedly on. This kind of bicycling is dangerous—not only to the one that happens to be in front of the wheel but to the rider for if the latter is caught he will suffer for his recklessness. Just such reckless riders as that one Friday afternoon causes ordinances to be passed prohibiting others from riding on the pavements in some parts of the town, and will later very probably necessitate bells and lanterns on every wheel.

Mr. Dayvault to Move Soon.

In another week or two Mr. W. A. Dayvault and wife will move from Concord to Elmwood, where Mr. Dayvault will be engaged in the lumber business. It is probable that they will return here after Mr. Dayvault has finished his work there. Mr. Frank Pharr will occupy the house where Mr. Dayvault now lives.

Points of Difference Between Mr. Cleveland and Mr. McKinley.

We often hear people who have not forgiven ex-President Cleveland of his sin against silver express a regret that a man with his common sense and courage of convictions is not now President. It is generally believed that if such a man were President we would not have a foolish and expensive war upon our hands. Mr. McKinley is like clay in the hands of the politicians, and they made him make war when there was no need for it. The politicians were like clay in the hands of Mr. Cleveland, and he made them keep the peace during his administration when the foolish and misplaced enthusiasm of certain politicians threatened to bring about a rupture with Spain. This difference in the metal that presidents are made of is important in times like this. Nothing ever presented itself to Grover Cleveland that he was afraid to tackle without the advice of politicians, and he generally came out on top. President McKinley has been advised almost out of his wits, and is being roundly abused by some of the very politicians whose advice he has taken. There is nothing so necessary in the make-up of a president as convictions of his own and courage to carry them out regardless of the advice of politicians, and not in recent years have we had a president lacking more in these essentials than Mr. McKinley.—Sampson Democrat.

Senses Deeply Stirred.

The Burlington News, in telling the awful story of Andy McAdams against the little 4-year-old daughter of Mr. Tom Faucett adds:

"We are opposed to lynch law, but we say with the light before us that a brute so inhuman ought to have been killed just like a dog would have been if he was found trying to take the life of a little innocent child, and we declare that this negro brute ought to have been killed by the first man who came to him and we say it with all Christian forbearance."

A LIFE AND DEATH FIGHT.

Mr. W. A. Hines of Manchester, Ia., writing of his almost miraculous escape from death, says: "Exposure after measles induced serious lung trouble, which ended in Consumption. I had frequent hemorrhages and coughed night and day. All my doctors said I must soon die. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which completely cured me. I would not be without it even if it cost $5.00 a bottle. Hundreds have used it on my recommendation and all say it never fails to cure Throat, Chest and Lung troubles." Complimentary to Our Superintendent.

In speaking of the institute work in Athens, O., the Athens Gazette has the following to say of Prof. C S Coler, of our graded schools here, who was one of the foremost in the work:

"Prof. C S Coler, who will be remembered by many of the older teachers of the county, is in charge of the work is psychology, physiology and geography. Prof. Coler graduated from the Ohio University in 1881, and was for a time engaged as a tutor in his alma mater. He has had many years experience in institute, as well as public school work, and is thoroughly in touch with the teachers in their different lines of work. He is listened to with close attention, and much good will evidently result from his work.

The first evening session was held Wednesday and was taken up with a lecture by Prof. Coler on "Horace Mann." Notwithstanding the character of the weather the hall was filled, and all listened with the closest attention to the speaker as he paid tribute to the great friend of the common schools and one of America's greatest educators."
