WILL EDWARDS CAPTURED.

The Officer at Clover Arrests Him After Receiving the Circular—Landed Safely Behind the Bars in Charlotte's Jail—Waived Examination—Will Plead Not Guilty.

For almost one week Will Edwards, the third party present at the time of the killing of Policeman Kerns, kept out of the hands of the law, but he ventured too far and went to a place where the eyes of a diligent officer were. On Saturday the policeman at Clover, a small place near the State line, received the circular offering a reward for the capture of the negro. It was but a short while until the officer could have been seen opening a door and calling upon Edwards to throw up his hands. At 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon he was arrested and the news sent here at once.

The negro was brought to Charlotte Sunday morning by direction of Sheriff Peck and is now in Charlotte's jail in safe keeping. Sheriff Peck and Mayor Means both went to Charlotte Sunday and talked to Edwards. Mr. W S Whitener, of Clover, was the officer that arrested the negro. He was captured a few miles on this side of the State line.

Edwards expressed himself Sunday as desirous of waiving examination. He also expressed himself as not wanting to come to Concord as he fears trouble if brought heret. He will at the coming term of court plead not guilty and does not in his talk criminate either one of the negroes here. He boarded a freight train the night of the shooting and rode in a box car to Gastonia. He says he heard the shooting as he was running. Confesses that he had at the time a 32-calibre pistol but had disposed of it since that time. He was cautioned, of course, beforehand that he need answer no questions asked him there in the jail unless he wanted to do so. He told them that he did not care to tell to whom he sold his pistol.

There is now no doubt that the Will Edwards our officers wanted is captured and let the court have a just and fair trial of the case and find who is the guilty party that the penalty for such an offence can be meted out. The description as contained in the circular was a good one and since he is captured Mayor Means says that every one of the named scars can be found.

Since he has waived examination he will stay in jail in Charlotte until our court, which opens on the 16th of next month.

Our Cotton Market Is Good.

Concord's merchants pay good prices for cotton and the farmers of this and adjoining counties know and appreciate the fact. From other counties already we have received a good amount of cotton. We notice that Charlotte was last Saturday paying 6.15 when that same article was bringing 6.25 here.

The circuses of John Robinson and Wallace will both be in our State in a few weeks.

NEWSPAPER TROUBLES.

Mooreville's Weekly Newspaper In Bad Shape—Mr. Deaton, the Last Purchaser, Is Forbidden to Proceed Any Further.

The Mooreville correspondent to the Charlotte Observer reiterates as follows, the life of Mooreville's weekly newspaper:

"The Record-Times published at this place, has a hard time to exist. In April 1899, T L Moore, now of Lexington, sold his good will and subscription list to a Mr. Ivy, of South Carolina, but before Mr. Ivy could or did get out but one issue the paper fell into the hands of a Mr. Nealon, of Atlanta, Ga. Mr. Nealon held possession for three months and sold out the subscription list and good will to a Mr. Jones, of Charlotte. Mr. Jones held the reins for about one month and sold the subscription list and good will to Mr. H P Deaton, of Concord. Mr. Deaton took charge the first of the week and has gotten out one issue. He is now forbidden by Nealon, of Georgia, from going any further, claiming that he (Mr. Nealon) has the whole affair in his own hands. We must confess that we do not know just how the matter stands, but we do know that Mr. J W McKenzie, of Salisbury, is the real owner of the outfit and that he has leased it to Mr. H P Deaton, of Concord. Mr. Nealon has written to all advertisers forbidding them to pay any money to the present editor. The probability is that Mr. Deaton will continue to publish the paper. We should have stated that T L Moore sold good will and subscription of The Record only, as Mr. Nealon bought good will and subscription list of The Times soon after making the purchase from Mr. Moore or Mr. Ivy. It seems that good will and subscription lists are salable property in our town."

The Jewish Day of Atonement.

On last week the Jews closed their business houses here on account of their New Years day. On Thursday of this week they close also, this being the Day of Atonement. From Wednesday evening at sunset to Thursday evening at the same hour they take nothing into their mouth—nothing to eat or drink. Despite the dryness in the throat they refrain from taking even a drink of water. We have several followers of this faith here who will follow their religious rites this week.

A LAND DEAL.

Mr. Jas. Morrison to Move Into Their Town—A Pitable Case for a Young Man—To Take Textile Courses. Written for The Standard.

Pioneer Mills, Sept. 9.—Jas. P Morrison has bought the J C Barnhardt residence and will soon move to town.

Charles E Barnhardt and Roy Morrison leave in a few days for Clemson College, S. C., to take a textile course in that college.

A young man near Pioneer Mills, who is commonly called "Bud," conceived the idea that a neighboring young girl was wonderfully infatuated with him and was certain she wanted to marry him. The more he pondered the matter the more impressed he became. Without consulting said young lady he purchased the necessary license and proceeded to the girl's residence to apprise her of her good fortune, when she proceeded to clean him up in first-class style, informing him that of all the fools she had ever heard of, he was the biggest. In the meantime said young man's friends had assembled to witness the ceremony. You can imagine the surprise. The young man is out of his money for license but is richer in experience.

Bye-bye-Bud-bye bye boy
Wish you much happiness
And ever so much joy,
The next girl you want
Please consult her wishes,
See if she will keep the house in order
And also wash the dishes.

Fever Record at Key West.

The yellow fever record at Key West to the 9th inst. is said to be 135 cases and 10 deaths. This is a fraction over 7 per cent of fatalities thus far or one death to about 14 cases.

Used His Lantern On Him.

Last Saturday night Zin Crump and Sam Ury, two colored persons whose faces are familiar in their work about the depot, had some words that were not of a loving nature. It reached the point at which Zin wanted a weapon and seized upon the idea of using his lantern. The blow took effect on Sam's arm but didn't hurt him scarcely. Mayor Means imposed a fine of fifty cents and the cost on Zin Crump.

Langdon Smith Very Sick.

Sunday evening Langdon Smith, son of Rev. T W Smith, had a chill. He seemed not to be sick until this morning between 8 and 9 o'clock he became very sick and has been very sick ever since. It was a congestive chill. His condition is thought to be slightly better this afternoon.

BELL, HARRIS & COMPANY.

During the civil war, as well as in our late war with Spain, diarrhoea was one of the most troublesome diseases the army had to contend with. In many instances it became chronic and the old soldiers still suffer from it. Mr. David Taylor, of Wind Ridge, Greene county, Pa., is one of these. He uses Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and says he never found anything that would give him such quick relief. It is for sale by M. L. Marsh & Co., Druggist
