A SMALL BOY HURT.

A Change in China Grove's Free Delivery System—The Farmers in Good Spirits—Personals.

Written for The Standard.

China Grove, Oct. 6.—Master Chester Sechler, while scuffling with another boy, fell and broke both bones in his arm just below his elbow.

Mr. Martin Shive, of Concord, spent last night here.

The farmers around China Grove have a different step now from that of several weeks ago. About the first thing they say when you speak to one is: "Say, old boy, cotton will soon be eight cents."

Mr. A L Cagle, who has been carrying the mail in China Grove township, has resigned his position. He has been in the service nearly two years. He will accept a position with the Singer Sewing Machine Co. under the supervision of Mr. M L Blackwelder of Concord.

Mrs. W Kimball, who has been visiting her daughter, near Hendersonville, for several months, returned home last night.

Dr. Goodman, of Organ church, spent last night here.

Mr. Arthur Patterson has gone to Philadelphia to study electrical engineering another year.

Business in Western Cabarrus.

The Mooresville Record-Times has the following of the business being done in western Cabarrus:

"Wallace & Gilbert, lumber dealers of Eastfield, Cabarrus county, have, within the past two weeks, put out 53,725 feet of lumber for the Southern railroad shops. This lumber was taken from the sump, and was cut and shipped from near Troutman.

"J Robert Wallace, of Cabarrus, was here Wednesday night, and in conversation with the writer, stated that he made from his own lands this year 1,105 bu. wheat, and sold 300 bushels of seed wheat in one day at $1.00 per bushel. On a certain tract of 22 acres, he raised 605 bushels, or 27½ bushels to the acre."

Immense Sums For Travel.

The money spent by travelers to Europe every year is enormous. It has been found by even imperfect estimate that over two hundred and thirty million of dollars are spent annually in this European travel. It has been promised that there will be an accurate investigation of the subject; and when it shall have been made it will be a matter of astonishment how much the people of this country spend in foreign travel.—The Commonwealth.

Troy's Blaze.

The Stanly Enterprise says Troy had a severe fire Tuesday night that burned the Hearne livery stable and a dwelling house, a hotel belonging to Eli Green, several other dwellings and several stores. The loss is estimated at $10,000. The origin of the fire seems to have been from a drunken crowd smoking in the livery stable.

THE BUSINESS CLOSED.

The Broker's Exchange of R B Wilson & Co. Closed Its Business Leaving Numbers of Concord's Men Due Considerable Amounts.

Three weeks ago the firm of R B Wilson & Co., of New York, opened a broker's exchange here and secured Mr. W G Boshamer to have charge of their business. The business, which is generally called a "bucket shop," has been running three weeks. A good amount of patronage has been given it and several hundred dollars have been made by numbers of our people.

But the last markets came Friday evening. Mr. Boshamer received a telegram to discontinue all business, and that all that's is known about the affair.

In case an assignment has been made by the company and that none of its debts will be paid it means that some of our people have jointly lost about $1500. The last telegram received by Mr. Boshamer stated that a letter had been sent which will probably explain the matter partly. This is the second exchange that has started here and left some of our people wanting.

They Continue Their Efforts.

Continually there are requests made by the best patrons of the line that another train be put on the Yadkin railroad, running from Salisbury to Norwood. In the last issue of the Stanly Enterprise, Editor Bivins makes quite a plea for a change, claiming that the employes now have too much work to do, and that the service needs improvement, relieving the passengers of such delays on the road.

DESTRUCTION'S FREE SHOW.

How the Car Company Gets Rid of Old Cars.

The Baltimore Sun gives a most interesting account of a free show near Detroit, Mich. It is the daily collision of fifty trains of antiquated cars by the American Car and Foundry Co. There is an accumulation of out-of-date cars in which there is some good material but the cost of getting it out is a serious drawback. A short way has been fallen upon to build a track crossing a deep declivity. On every afternoon fifty trains, loaded probably with rubbish much like the old cars, are, two at a time, pushed off down this incline to meet each other at the rate of about 80 miles per hour.

Here the reader may get various degrees of interest and enjoyment by the exercise of accurate imaginations as the thousands of spectators do by a free play of the emotions.

There is a crash, a thud, a clang, a rearing up of cars upon each other, the air beclouded with fragments of matter only to be broken up and jammed by the bump of the next train. When the fifty trains have been thus tenderly dealt with the show is over for the day and the torch applied. Next morning the ashes are raked and the material wanted is gotten out till time for another afternoon's display of destruction. The company makes no charge for seeing it but it might gather a "pretty penny" if it did for it is a drawing card with interest increasing with the performances.
