U. D. C.'S IN RICHMOND.

They Unveil the Statue at the Grave of Miss "Winnie" Davis—Also of her Father and Brother.

Thursday, the 9th, was a notable day in Richmond, Va., though not participated in so largely as some like events.

The United Daughters of the Confederacy, under whose auspices the monument to Miss "Winnie" Davis was erected, unveiled that statue along with one to her father, the illustrious head of the cause of which she was the daughter, and also one to Jefferson Davis, Jr. in Hollywood cemetery.

The laughers went to the cemetery in carriages furnished by the Confederate camps. Gen. Fitzhugh Lee headed the procession.

The exercises were opened with prayer by the Rev. James P. Smith, D. D., the man who being on Stonewall Jackson's staff placed himself between the wounded general and the fire of the enemy on that unfortunate occasion.

Addresses were made by Hon. B. B. Mumford, Hon. J. H. Reagan, Post Master General of the Confederacy, and Gen. Lee. Dr. H. M. Clarkson recited the ode, "The Daughter of the Confederacy."

The memorial to President Davis is a bronze statue, and that of Miss "Winnie" is a marble representation of the Angel of Grief, with one hand extending a wreath she is about to place on the grave. The figure is more than life size.

The Daughters elected Mrs. Davis honorary president of the organization. They received an invitation to hold their next annual meeting in New York.

The Historical Society Meets Here.

The Historical Society of the Western North Carolina conference will hold its annual meeting on Tuesday night before the beginning of conference on Wednesday here. Rev. P. J. Caraway will deliver his semi-annual address, Rev. J. D. Arnold will read a paper on "Concord Methodism," and Dr. Hoss hopes to be able to be here also. The meeting will be held in Central Methodist church.

He is Always Welcome.

An ever welcome visitor to Monroe is Dr. S. L. Montgomery, of Concord. During Dr. Montgomery's stay in Monroe he endeared himself to all of our citizens and whenever he returns the glad hand is given him. He was here Wednesday.—Monroe Enquirer.

To Open a Grocery Store.

Mr. V. D. Sikes, of Sikes Mill, near Monroe, has rented the vacant room in the Litaker row just above the bakery and will run a grocery business. We welcome the merchant to our town.

Mrs. Phifer Very Ill.

Dr. N. D. Fetzner went to Winston this morning, having received a telegram that Mrs. R. A. Phifer, of that place, was very ill. Mrs. Phifer is the mother of Mrs. Fetzner.

ADMIRAL DEWEY MARRIED.

The Ceremony Performed By Three Catholic Priests—The Affair a Model of Simplicity.

Admiral Dewey was married to Mrs. Mildred M. Hazen, Thursday morning at 10 o'clock at the rectory of Father Mackin assisted by Rev. Joseph H. Foley and Rev. Sidney Hurlbut, three priests of the Catholic church. Father Mackin is the pastor of Mrs. Hazen and Rev. Foley is assistant pastor. A special dispensation had to be granted to the bride to marry the admiral, as he is not a Catholic.

The whole affair was very simple. Beside the three priests the mother, Mrs. Washington McLean and sister, Mrs. Gen. Ludlow only Mr. Caldwell, the Admiral's secretary witnessed the ceremony which took but five minutes including a most impressive address by the priest before the real ceremony.

Breakfast was served at Mrs. McLeans and the bridal party went to New York.

The whole affair seems to have been a model of simplicity.

Laid to Rest.

The funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Gibson was held at the First Presbyterian church today (Friday) at 11 o'clock by Rev. W. C. Alexander, assisted by Rev. J. C. Davis. A large number of friends attended the services. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Richard Gibson, William Gibson, J. M. Odell, J. H. Allison, Frank Smith, and A. B. Young.

A Reception Tendered Him.

When Mr. A. J. Blackwelder returned home Thursday evening after wedding Mrs. Virginia Holdbrooks a reception was given him by his children. Quite a number were present, including his grandchildren. We congratulate the couple in their happy union for the remainder of life.

To Entertain Her Little Friends.

Helen Harsh, the thirteen month old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. M. L. Marsh, has at home this afternoon from 4.30 to 6 o'clock for her "tot" friends. The little boys and girls will enjoy themselves with games and Mrs. Marsh will have refreshments for them.

Will Build Next Spring.

Mr. D. Frank Barrier, who at present lives several miles below Mt. Pleasant, has purchased the vacant lot next to Mr. R. O. S. Miller's home on South Main street. He purchased it from Mrs. Adida Burkhead and intends to build in the spring.

Good Enough Plan.

The company operating a trolley car line between New Britain and Berlin Conn., has put on a "jag" car. It appears that there is nothing to drink in Berlin and citizens who go to New Britain to quench their thirst are apt to take too much. The "jag" car leaves New Britain every evening at 10 o'clock and drunken men are not allowed to ride on any other. This scheme is said to be working well.—Greenville Reflector.

COUNTERFEITERS CAUGHT.

Two Who Escaped From the Raleigh Pen Bagged Again.

A Washington dispatch of the 9th says:

Chief Wilkie, of the Secret Service, was this evening notified of the arrest at Dalton, Ga., of Frank Morse and W. L. Goodwin, expert counterfeiters, who have been doing business all through the south. With these men was taken their entire outfit, including a number of counterfeit coins. Moarse and Goodwin escaped last August from the Raleigh penitentiary, where they were serving terms of imprisonment for counterfeiting.

Morse was arrested at Mobile January 13, 1898, together with David N. Pierce, and something over $2,500 in counterfeit $10 silver certificates was captured from him. Morse was convicted and sentenced June 30, 1898, to a term of ten years in the Raleigh penitentiary and fined $5,000.

Goodwin was arrested at Atlanta July 22, 1896, with one F. J. Lewis, and a number of counterfeit coins and contraband apparatus were captured.

November 2, 1897, Goodwin sat in the court room throughout the trial of his partner, Lewis, but when his case was called at the conclusion of Lewis' trial, Goodwin had disappeared. His bond was declared forfeited and a bench warrant issued for him, upon which he was shortly afterward arrested, and on June 15, 1898, was sentenced to a term of three years in the Raleigh penitentiary.

Two Freights Collide.

A head-end collision occurred on the Southern at Toccoa, Ga. Thursday night between two freight trains. Several of the men were hurt but no one was killed. The engines were practically new and were ruined. It is said that the engineer on the south-bound was asleep and running at the rate of 60 miles an hour. It was far from the worst that might have been.

PERSONAL POINTERS.

—Mrs. E. C. Barnhardt returned home yesterday evening from Charlotte.

—Messrs. C. B. Little and R. A. Austin, of Alcamarle, are here this afternoon.

—Mrs. Frank Patterson, of China Grove, was here this morning.

CAN'T ACCOUNT FOR WHIMS.

The Newspaper Cannot Hope to Please Everybody.

We knew a man once who stopped his paper, and ordered out his ad., because we failed to note the fact that he had bought and improved a ten-acre tract.

Mr. Jones regards it as a personal offense if his local paper happens to miss noting the fact that he has been out of town for a few days. Mr. Smith, on the other hand, is greatly offended because you have the impertinence to mention his departure for a coast resort. —Mrs. Brown is delighted to have her afternoon tea written up, smiles sweetly and orders 50 cents' worth of papers, if you give a list of the guests and a description of the decorations. Mrs. Gray, however, regards any attempt to find out about her soiree as meddling and insulting, and slams the door in the face of your society reporter.

Now it is tolerably plain, even to a layman, that no paper can be conducted so as to please all such parties any more than it can at the same time satisfy its readers who want full accounts of all the murders and scandals and those who think everything of that sort should be omitted, and most of the space devoted to reports of sermons, W. C. T. U. meetings, church socials and found editorial disquisitions on the merits of theosophy or the claims of the warring factions of the Christian Scientists.

There seems to be only one course for the legitimate newspaper to pursue, and that is to publish the news and publish it on time. If you wait for the consent of all parties interested before publishing a good item, it will be musty before your readers ever see it. Every well regulated newspaper office needs a good man to kill items, as well as a man to gather them; but in general anything that is actual news, that the public is interested in and has a right to know about, should be published, no matter if it does occasionally displease people. If a newspaper is accurate and fair in its news reports, it can afford to laugh at the idiosyncracies of human nature, and go on its way rejoicing that the people will read an enterprising paper, and that the live business man will advertise in it.—Riverside (Cal.) Press.
