WHITE SUPREMACY.

"Come, Let Us Reason Together,"
White Voters.

The legislature has performed its part in preparing and passing the proposed amendment to be voted on. It now remains for the people to say whether it shall be ratified or not. If a majority of the votes cast shall be against it that ends it. If a majority shall be for it then it will be a part of the constitution. So the whole question and responsibility is now with the people. It is for them to say what shall be done with it. And in making up their minds and arriving at their conclusion they have ample time to consider this great question in all its bearings upon the future policies and interests of their State. Much will probably be written and spoken for and against the amendment before the day of voting comes. It will be well for the conservative, thoughtful people to take these arguments and reasons, consider them and then vote as they be convinced is for the best interests of themselves, their homes and their State.—T J Jarvis.

I am confident that the amendment to be submitted to the people is constitutional, and there is no doubt in my mind that the courts cannot hold the 5th section to be unconstitutional and permit the other sections to stand.—Judge W R Allen.

The Legislature of 1899, in all it did, was inspired by a sincere desire to advance the interests of North Carolina, and bring the blessings of peace and prosperity to all her people.—E J Justice.

No man who wishes the people of North Carolina well can consistently oppose this amendment. Every one who would see our people arouse themselves and press forward in improvement must welcome the opportunity of voting for this measure.—S. A. Asho.

The day of negro control in the South has passed, and passed forever, and it may safely be asserted that no party controlled by the negro will ever again carry a State south of Mason and Dixon's line; and that the white men who hereafter attempt to manipulate the negro vote to further their mean and selfish ambition, and to degrade their race, will become daily and yearly more and more odious in the eyes of self-respecting white men and women.

Let Senator Pritchard and his office-holding negro-philists put this in their pipes and smoke it.—F M Simmons.

HIS WASHINGTON VISIT.

Col. Bryan's Opinion as to Some of the Questions Now Being Discussed—Nothing to Say as to the Convention.

From our Regular Correspondent.

Washington, Jan. 22, 1900.

Col. Bryan's visit to Washington brought about a general interchange of Democratic opinions, which resulted in showing, beyond question, that silver, trusts and imperialism will be the foremost issues in this year's campaign. While willing to talk freely on most subjects, Col. Bryan will not express an opinion on where the Democratic convention should be held, or who should be the candidate for Vice President. He said of imperialism: "I am opposed to imperialism. I am opposed to the permanent retention of the Philippines. I believe that this government should at once declare its intention to give independence to the Filipinos, on the same terms that independence has been promised to the Cubans. I am not opposed to all expansion. Each proposed annexation should be settled on its own merits. I have tried to distinguish between the peaceful extension of a republic and the change of a republic into an empire." Of his attitude toward trusts, Col. Bryan said: "I propose that a Federal license shall be required of every corporation organized in any State, before it is allowed to do business outside of that State. While this license would permit a corporation, so far as the federal government is concerned, to do business outside of the State in which it is organized, it should not impair the right of any State to impose any restriction, even to the point of prohibition, as the people deem necessary for their protection. The State and federal remedies should be concurrent. It would not be safe to take from the State any power which it now has to protect its people from outside corporations, even though State protection is not complete, because if the State remedy were taken away, the people of the State would be entirely helpless in case the monopolies were able to exert a controlling influence over the action of Congress. These remedies could be exerted without a constitutional amendment." Republican mischief-makers, or rather would-be mischief makers, were responsible for the sensational stories sent out from Washington, alleging that Col. Bryan and Chairman Jones had quarrelled over what should be the policy of the Democratic party. There was absolutely no foundation for the stories. The two men are in perfect accord politically, and on the most friendly personal terms. While in Washington, Col. Bryan took family dinner with Senator Jones and Senator Jones was one of the party of prominent Democrats who accompanied Col. Bryan to Baltimore, Saturday night and listened to his able speech on the attitude of the Democratic party towards the public questions of the hour.

I want to let the people who suffer from rheumatism and sciatica know that Chamberlain's Pain Balm relieved me after a number of other medicines and a doctor had failed. It is the best liniment I have ever known of.—J. L. Dodgen, Alpharetta, Ga. Thousands have been cured of rheumatism by this remedy. One application relieves the pain. For sale by M. L. Marsh & Co., druggist.

THE Fayetteville Observer says that a negro was discovered at Maxton a few days since walking about with a well developed case of smallpox. He was put in the pest house and soon made his escape. We need an act for such cases by which to declare these monstrosities outlaws and treat them as we do mad dogs.

First in the South.

The Star is in receipt of a letter from Mr. D L Saylor, of Wadesboro, in which he corrects an erroneous statement in a recent Weldon dispatch to the effect that the silk mill now in course of construction at Weldon, makes the second in the State, the one at Fayetteville being first. The first silk mill in the South was started in Wadesboro in April or May, 1888, and the second was one at Petersburg, Va. "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's," says Mr. Saylor. "Wadesboro had the first silk mill in the State and in the South."—Morning Star.

Anti-Trust Paper Mill.

The Wilson News says the latest news, if true, will be hailed with delight by newspaper men. It is that the New York World and other large papers have definitely decided to erect at Roanoke Rapids the largest paper mill in the country. It will be an anti-trust concern, and will fight the huge paper trust that is the nightmare of newspapers and job printers.

Didn't Know It Was Loaded.

A Weldon dispatch of the 24th says:

"Kenny Jordan, of Northampton county, was accidentally shot by a friend last Sunday, while they were playing with a pistol which was supposed to be unloaded. Jordan died Monday from the effect of the wound. No blame appears to attach to any one."

[But with the frequent accounts of death by supposedly unloaded pistols who can be blameless for playing with these instruments of death?]

Falls Into the Well and Is Drowned.

The Wilmington Star says Spencer Stafford, a harmless negro man of 60 years, whose greatest fault was that of drunkenness, had been sawing wood for a white lady on last Tuesday and after the work was done went off and indulged again, then returned and asked the lady for something to eat. She handed him a lunch and told him to sit down in the back yard and eat it. He sat on the well curbing and losing his balance fell headlong into the well, 30 feet deep, and was drowned.

Eloquent Tribute to the South.

In the debate on the floor of the House on Wednesday Congressman Landis, of Indiana, arraigned Roberts and Mormonism most mercilessly. At the close of his speech he got off this beautiful piece of oratory especially complimentary to the South: "The country is waiting for us to act, from New England, whose homes have been made a pattern for this continent to away down South in Dixie where honor is religion, where gallantly is law and virtue is the high ideal of beautiful womanhood."

A Big Circus Combine.

Two unsatisfactory clauses in the agreement contract are all that stand in the way of a combination of the large circus interests of the United States. If these contested points are adjusted satisfactorily the year 1902 will see a great circus combine. This statement is made upon the authority of Peter Sells. Those interested in the proposed combination are the Sells Brothers, of this city; Jas. A Bailey, now in Europe with the Barnum & Bailey circus, and Cole, of New York city. Mr. Bailey recently made a flying trip to this country, when an agreement was drawn up. The objectionable features provide that the winter quarters of the show shall be in Bridgeport, Conn., and that the agreement shall take effect and be in force in 1901. Peter Sells would not, he said, ever consent to leaving Columbus.—Columbia, O., Dispatch, 23rd.
