Their parrot had died and Master Tommy, with his little sister Jennie, had just concluded the funeral services. "I s'pose Polly is in heaven now," remarked Jennie, tearfully. "Yes," returned Master Tommy, "I s'pose he is." "He—he's got wings, but he wouldn't be an angel up there, would he?" inquired the little maid, anxious about his present status. "Oh!" cried Tommy, "he wouldn't be an angel; only people is that." "Then what do you s'pose he is now?" persisted his sister. Tommy thought for a moment. Then the light of inspiration dawned on his beaming countenance. "I guess Polly is a bird of paradise now," he announced joyfully.—Crypt.
