Thirty-one Oil Paintings for Confederate Memorial Museum—Sketch Taken as the Scenes Were Enacted—Letter That Appeal to Southern Prides.

RICHMOND, VA., July 15, 1899.

There has been on exhibition in this city a series of thirty-one (31) oil paintings, made at Charleston, South Carolina, between the dates of September 16, 1863, and March 16, 1864, by Mr. Conrad Wise Chapman, who left his studio, in Rome, to take part with us in our struggle. The paintings are of extraordinary interest, not only as works of art, but because they represent vividly the actual daily life and appearance of the men, batteries and boats, who successfully defended Charleston against every attack made on it from the waterfront.

These pictures would have great value for any museum as works of art, but for the South—for this Museum, which holds the memories and relics of the entire Confederacy, they are priceless. They were executed on the spot, often under heavy fire; and were painted under the strong impetus of personal enthusiasm, by the young artist who was detailed for the specific purpose. They exist today without parallel or copies, and, above all, they prove the fact (too often overlooked) that the Confederacy achieved remarkable results in the field of military service and invention.

To describe them as they deserve will be impossible at this time; only a few striking points can be mentioned in this brief letter.

Picture No. 14 represents the submarine torpedo-boat "H L Hunley." This was the first submarine boat ever constructed. She sank the "Keokuk," and was herself lost, with all her crew. We have, therefore, the only authentic picture of a boat whose creation showed the power of the Southern mind to invent, and whose end proved once more the courage of the Confederate heart to dare any peril for the cause for which we fought.

In No. 4 we have the only picture of "The David," the first torpedo-boat ever used in naval warfare, and thus made forever famous.

No. 17 shows a night bombardment by calcium searchlights—since become one of the most powerful aids in waging war.

Thus it will be seen that in each of the thirty-one (31) pictures is represented some notable event of historic interest to us—and all future generations—which we cannot afford to let pass away from us. We look to you to help us in securing them; we cannot do it alone. Can you not raise for this purpose one hundred dollars ($100) in your honored State? If each State will raise $100 toward this fund we will soon have the privilege of placing them in a permanent form in the Confederate Memorial Museum.

It is necessary to act in concert and with expedition in this matter. The failure on the part of one means failure for all.

Surely there are twenty men in your loyal State who will each give $5 towards this purchase. I trust that your State may take the lead in this important work. In all Confederate work we have never yet appealed in vain to you—nor will we now.

Please publish this letter in your daily papers, and also take such other steps as may seem best to you for the accomplishment of this end.

I am yours cordially in the work,
BELLE S. BRYAN,
President Confederate Memorial Literary Society.

Two Tape Worms in One Year.

We are informed that the five-year-old daughter of Mr. Geo. Crainshaw, living in what is called Fetzer Town, has suffered more or less for about two years from a ravenous appetite, especially for carnivorous food. About one year ago she was relieved of a tape worm fifteen feet in length. The symptoms were soon apparent again and indicated the existence of the same trouble which refused to yield to ordinary medicines. On Tuesday evening Mr. Crainshaw applied to Dr. Smoot and got a prescription that relieved the little sufferer of another fifteen-foot tape worm. We hope a new period of health is in store for her.

It Was a Great Night for Them.

The Pythians say that there has not been such a crowd in their hall in a long time as there was Friday night when Mr. W. M. Lyles, the district deputy, and Mr. J. Robt. Jordan, the lecturer for this State were with them. Besides these Messrs. N. M. Brown, J. J. Hamilton, J. F. Kelly, and Prof. D. L. Lee were over from Charlotte. There was some fine work in the second rank. After the work was completed they all had a jolly good time socially, which, of course, is a mystery to the outside world. It was a night in the history of the lodge.

AN HONEST MEDICINE FOR LA GRIPPE

George W. Waitt, of South Gardner, Me., says: "I have had the worst cough, cold, chills and grip and have taken lots of trash of no account but profit to the vendor. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the only thing that has done any good whatever. I have used one bottle of it and the chills, cold and grip have left me. I congratulate the manufacturers of an honest medicine." Sold at Marsh's drug store.

REGION OF COPPER.

Mr. Harkey Strikes a Rich Vein—It's All About.

We have on our desk some very attractive specimens of copper ore placed with us by Mr. John A. Harkey, of No. 7 township. He says he discovered it on the plantation of Mr. John Boger, Jr., near Mt. Olive church. He and Mr. Travis Beaver are opening up the mine. The vein thus far is about two two feet thick and is very promising.

Mr. Harkey tells us that a vein that he thinks is a part of the one being operated about Gold Hill extends across his farm and is very encouraging. There is no small quantity of gold in the ore and even some silver.

Mr. Harkey has, with energy and good management, made a success of farming but thinks the value of those hills lies chiefly in minerals. He is willing for the development of the mines and if he has to get off the surface and go elsewhere to ply his life choice of agriculture.

The copper through this region seems a matter of speculation. There may be as yet, only a small conception of its extent.

Mr. Harkey told us that in places when the worker leaves his pick driven into a vein till the next day, when taken out it will be colored to look like pure copper.

Gen. Wheeler's Idea.

A San Francisco dispatch of the 8th says:

Gen. Joseph Wheeler favors giving the Philippines a territorial form of government. He says:

"I believe the people are ready for a certain kind of self-government. They could be given the power to make laws under such a system of government as has been adopted for our territories. The municipal governments are all in the hands of the natives, and they get along without trouble or friction. Under a territorial form the islands could be best controlled."

—Miss Irene Ridenhour, who lives near Mt. Pleasant, is visiting Miss Sadie Fisher.

The Best Prescription for Chills And fever is a bottle of Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic. It is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. No cure—no pay. Price 50c.
