THE BIG BARBECUE.

A GREAT CROWD COMING.

Committees Appointed for All the Townships—Three Bands of Music—The Eloquence and Oratory of the State to be Here—Work for All.

The soliciting committee held a meeting on Saturday to ascertain what progress has been made and after canvassing the matter thoroughly we feel warranted in promising to the white people a barbecue on the grandest scale ever seen in Cabarrus county. It is no exaggeration to say that we reasonably expect eight thousand people to be present on that day. It has been advertised far and near. People from adjoining counties will be here and the entire white population of our county are talking and working for it as never before. Undoubtedly you will see the largest concourse of people ever assembled in our county. There will be three bands to dispense the soul-inspiring music. The eloquence and oratory of the State will be here in the person of its ablest representatives to embody in language the loftiest patriotism of the people, and set bounds to their enthusiasm and zeal for a cause involving the dearest and most sacred interests of society and State.

While our success has never heretofore been equaled, still to make it more perfect we want every one to do his part for the cause. It touches every man, woman and child, no matter with what political party they affiliate.

The following committees of ladies were appointed in their respective townships to wait upon the people and to receive contributions of money or eatables and to notify all white people that they will be welcomed on that day:

AT FOREST HILL.

Judge Montgomery Addresses a Splendid Audience Saturday Night—He Rehearses the Origin and the Results of Negro Enfranchisement and Pleads for White Men to Act Now.

Judge Montgomery was introduced in terms, eloquent in ardent zeal in the cause, by Mr. W. R. Odell and spoke to a fine audience Saturday night at Forest Hill. There were a goodly number of ladies present and doubtless no one regrets having turned out to hear the great topic discussed. The judge proceeded from the historical to the logical and from the logical to the impassioned.

He rehearsed the origin of the 15th amendment and the method of its adoption whereby the incubus of the ignorant and the vicious negro vote was thrust upon us and the terrible consequences when the State was within the clutches of the negro and the carpet-bagger. He related scenes and incidents of negro rule in the east and the late operations of fusion triumph.

He showed that if this amendment were to be lost the State would be the dumping ground of the undesirable negro vote from all around us, for South Carolina, Louisiana and Mississippi have restricted the negro vote and Virginia is sure to do the same.

He explained the effect of the amendment and stoutly averred that it would not disfranchise a white man, and offered to give bond that he would pay any native white man disfranchised by this amendment the sum of $100.

The bugaboo of what all the Democrats would do, as if they would disfranchise themselves, reminded him of the old fogey that was opposed to the railroad's being built through his lands. He and the old woman went to see the train pass along when finished and she was rather pleased with it. "Ah," said he, "it did very nicely this time. It came along endwise and did not do any harm, but just wait till the train comes along sideways, then you'll see."

The constitutionality of the amendment had been vouched for by almost the entire bar of North Carolina and the only two Populist candidates for Governor before Thompson are stumping for it, beside many of the leading Republicans. It is designing office seekers and men ignorant of law that are harping on the unconstitutionality of the amendment.

Its adoption would afford opportunities for the discussion of great political issues whereas the negro is and has been a hindrance and a menace to which the chief attention had to be given.

He went over the historical and logical ground to well nigh completion when he appealed to men as white men, for the sake of wives and daughters, for the sake of an educated posterity and a peaceful and progressive political, social and moral condition in dear old Carolina to vote for the amendment and all the ticket representing it.

It is beyond question that the speech did great good if there were material in the audience not yet fully persuaded.

Miss Mary Young Wins the Prize.

The Au Fait club had a charming meeting last night with Miss Georgia Pegram. Among the pleasures provided was an angling party. The prizes were won by Miss Mary Young, of Concord, and her escort, Mr. Ernest Davis. The club meets next with Miss Hettie Baruch.—Charlotte News July 14th.

Questions Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by all dealers in civilized countries.
