A TEAR OF PITY.

Read the account of Miss Packard, ye who deplore your own follies, and drop a tear of sympathetic sorrow and tender pity. As Col. Waddell so pithily said in his Charlotte speech, "Half of our lives is spent in making fools of ourselves and the other half in deploring the operation." There can be no mitigation of her terrible crime against her sister, the endless shame for herself and the broken-hearted humiliation of her mother but that she is human and that to err is human.

How dethroning to reason is the passion we call love and how sweet are stolen waters. How we look upon the redness of the wine as it sparkles in the cup of sensuality. When the inexorable hand of the law cut short the career of error and shame, then it was the biting of a serpent and the stinging of an adder.

In that lonely Atlanta prison cell she stands in deep, subdued depression. A foot-step falls upon her ear. It is like and it is unlike the one that had come and tucked her away for many a night of sweet innocent sleep or soothed an aching brow whose pangs did not reach the soul, a gentle glad some step of fond and loving ministrations.

It is the same and yet not the same for every step has the leaden thud of one ready to sink beneath the load of burning grief that she herself had heaped upon the mother heart. The cell door swings open and they are face to face. There is the silence of death. Oh, the fullness of two souls knowing not what shall the meeting be. 'Tis but a moment and she falls into her mother's arms a child again, receiving a mother's injured tenderness, but, overwhelmed by the enormity of her folly, she fain would hide away in the grave.

Oh, the depths of human depravity and the liability to do in one fitful spell that which forever dooms us to the valley sorrow.

For time nothing can obliterate the blot on the picture of life. Yet to the fallen there is a crimson fountain that shall wash the penitent soul and make it whiter than snow.

TIME TO STOP THE BOER WAR.

To all appearance the defeated South Africans must submit sooner or later to abject defeat as the Confederate States did in 1865. It seems that the time has fully come for them to cease this hopeless warfare, productive only of revengeful loss to Great Britain and needless destruction to themselves. Pursuant to this idea Lord Roberts has issued a proclamation requiring the farmers to take the oath of allegiance to the Queen's government so that they be not civilians one day and conspiring deadly armed enemies the next. Without participating in the original quarrel it would seem that the world must approve of drastic means at this stage to stop a useless and spiteful guerrilla warfare.

That's a neat little turn that Mr. Bryan makes in giving the reason for the neglect of the tariff four years ago and of 16 to 1 in the present campaign. He says: "A Republican and I sit in a house and discuss politics. The house takes fire and we stop discussing and put out the fire." Neat as it is, we are forced to conclude that it was a false alarm of fire four years ago and that the tariff is the most vital and most Democratic issue of all yet.

Editor J P Caldwell is spending a week of vacation in Statesville says the Observer. What sort of mascot is now about the Observer premises that brings the editor a week's vacation? We're interested.

Prevented a Tragedy.

Timely information given Mrs. Geo. Long, of New Straitsville, Ohio, saved two lives. A frightful cough had long kept her awake every night. She had tried many remedies and doctors but steadily grew worse until urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle wholly cured her; and she writes, this marvelous medicine also cured Mr. Long of a severe attack of pneumonia. Such cures are positive proof of its power to cure all throat, chest and lung troubles. Only 50c and $1. Guaranteed. Trial bottles free at Fetzer's drug store.

It Helped Win Battles.

Twenty-nine officers and men wrote from the front to say that for scratches, bruises, cuts, wounds, sore feet and stiff joints Bucklen's Arnica Salve is the best in the world. Same for burns, skin eruptions and pines. 25c. a box. Cure guaranteed. Sold at Fetzer's drug store.

That Throbbing Headache

Would quickly leave you, if you used Dr. King's New Life Pills. Thousands of sufferers have proved their matchless merit for sick and nervous headaches. They make pure blood and build up your health. Only 25c. Money back if not cured. Sold at Fetzer's drug store.

Every editor of a daily paper in North Carolina who is clamoring for "a higher political plan" either bolted in 1896, is an anti-imperialist, a gold bug, or a corporation organ. That's a fact! —News & Observer.

[It's a pity that so brilliant a newspaper man as the editor of the News & Observer makes that journal odious from a plain low enough for so ill advised a reflection.]

The Unveiling of the Vance Statue in Raleigh on Wednesday was a great occasion in honor of North Carolina's great statesman. Mr. Battle's speech was interesting and comprehensive.

It will ever be a special pleasure to proud Carolinians to gaze on the image of this memorable son.

No matter how severe the drought, it never injures the crop of dead beats.—Orange Observer.

Questions Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food; regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by all dealers in civilized countries.
