CONCORD, N. C., Oct. 27 1900.

It would seem that no system of checks and balances, and no rules of scrutiny, examination and investigation can possibly prevent frauds and defalcations in banks or other institutions where public and private funds are handled. The First National bank of New York city has just been robbed of $700,000 by a comparatively obscure official. It appears that all ordinary precautions against frauds had been taken. The officials of the bank experts of the government had gone through the establishment time and time again without discovering any irregularity or arousing suspicion. The thief was shrewd enough to successfully cover up his tracks. The only sure prevention of fraud is honest men. But a few neatly conducted hangings might help some.—Asheville Citizen.

Just make the operation include all intentional and neglectful non-debt payers for they are the worst of all the type of rascals.

We are glad to note that Gen. Carr was re-elected by acclamation as commander of the North Carolina division of U. C. V. Association at its recent meeting. Every man has a corner in which he seems to fit and great means and a great heart and untiring zeal fit him for a sphere in which he has been moving with conspicuous success and well merited fame.

Some Georgia postmasters are in trouble about "casting an anchor to Windward." They gave away stamps to have the chance to cancel them and actually sent a dog through the mail along with pine bark and other stuff. They'll learn by this that when they mail logs again they must be less bold than to have any bark in the mail bags.

The two-weeks old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Coon is a fine little personage and is far ahead of most babies for its age. The child had been fretful and would not be pacified, and all efforts to quiet the little one proved of no avail until the Rev. Mr. McOhee, who was making a pastoral visit, discovered that the child had a full set of upper teeth. This is a very uncommon occurrence. The child is otherwise healthy. —Mooresville Enterprise.

Very precocious youngster that, especially if it was making a fuss to have its new teeth noticed. It was doubtless very opportune that the pastor put an end to its fretfulness by making the discovery.

It is a triumph of practical science by which a force of hands take out a lighter railroad bridge and put in a heavier without interfering with the schedule of trains on a business railroad like the southern, save to slow up when crossing. We believe they find it possible even though a train should come every ten minutes.

The Goldsboro Argus draws the New York Sun over the coals for objecting to the name of Robert E Lee in Helen Gould's Temple of Fame and says with fitting force that an American temple of fame without Robert E Lee's name in it would be a farce indeed.

It would seem we're on the ragged edge of prosperity. The mails only brought one circular to the newspaper man this morning and it only wanted $25 for nothing.

The latest dietetical fad in Concord is ham and coffee for breakfast without any eggs and the female cock of the walk is responsible for it.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a Great Favorite.

The soothing and healing properties of this remedy, its pleasant taste and prompt and permanent cures have made it a great favorite with people everywhere. It is especially prized by mothers of small children for colds, croup and whooping cough, as it always affords quick relief, and as it contains no opium or other harmful drug, it may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. While There is Life There is Hope.

I was afflicted with catarrh; could neither taste nor smell and could hear but little. Ely's Cream Balm cured it. Marous G. Shantz, Rabway, N. J. The Balm reached me safely and the effect is surprising. My son says the first application gave decided relief. Respectfully, Mrs. Franklina Freeman, Dover, N. H. The Balm does not irritate or cause sneezing. Sold by Druggists at 50 cts., or mailed by Ely Brothers, 58 Warren St., New York.

Ballad of the Trailing Skirt.
I met a girl the other day,
A girl with golden tresses,
Who wore the most bewitching
And daintiest of dresses.
I gazed at her with kindling eye
And admiration utter—
Until I saw her silken skirt
Was trailing in the gutter!

What senseless style is this? I thought,
What new sartorial passion?
And who on earth stands sponsor for
The idiotic fashion?
I've asked a dozen maids or more,
A tailor and a cutter,
But no one knows why skirts are made
To drag along the gutter.

What lovely woman wills to do
She does without a reason;
To interfere is waste of time,
To criticize is treason.
Man's only province is to work
To earn his bread and butter—
And buy her all the skirts she wants
To trail along the gutter.

Questions Answered.
Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by all dealers in civilized countries.

A Good Cough Medicine.
Many thousands have been restored to health and happiness by the use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. If afflicted with any throat or lung trouble give it a trial for it is certain to prove beneficial. Coughs that have resisted all treatment for many years have yielded to this remedy and perfect health has been restored. Cases that seemed hopeless, that the climate of famous health resorts failed to benefit, have been permanently cured by its use. For sale a Marsh's drug store.

Recalled On Him.
At Rutherfordton last Tuesday Moody and Crawford were holding a joint discussion. The former was speaking and the latter, having a slight headache, was taking some bromo seltzer. Moody thinking he would say something at Crawford's expense said, "Crawford, you're taking a heap of medicine." Quick as a flash of light Crawford answered, "I'll give you some later." It took some time to restore quiet and Moody "just wished it hadn't happened."

When you cannot sleep for coughing it is hardly necessary that any one should tell you that you need a few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to allay the irritation of the throat and make sleep possible. It is good. Try it. For sale at Marsh's Drug Store.

Endured Death's Agonies.

Only a roaring fire enabled J M Garretson, of San Antonio, Tex., to lie down when attacked with asthma, from which he suffered for years. This marvelous medicine is the only known cure for asthma as well as consumption, coughs and colds, and all throat, chest and lung troubles. Price 50c and $1.00. Guaranteed.
