TERRIBLE ACCIDENT AT BLEACHERY

MR. JOHN R. BRUMLEY KILLED BY WHIRLING SHAFT.

Deceased Leaves Invalid Wife and Three Children—The Kindest of Husbands Taken from Defendant Family.

One of the saddest accidents occurred this (Saturday) morning at about 9:30 o'clock at the Kerr Bag Manufacturing Bleachery that it has been our duty ever to record.

Mr. Jno. R. Brumley and others were at work about cleaning some flues at the boiler and having turned on the steam Mr. Brumley stepped back and got near a shaft that had a set screw. This caught his overalls, and before there was time for Mr. Sam Holdbrooks, who was with him to, to render assistance, the shaft was whirling him round at terrible speed and beating his head mercilessly on the window sill. The back of the head was crushed and the right arm and leg were also crushed. He breathed but by shallow respiration till 12:50 o'clock when he breathed his last.

Mr. Brumley was 53 years old last August.

He leaves an invalid wife and three small children one of whom, has just survived fever and is even today afflicted with a chill and is in bed.

It would be a heart of stone that would not bleed at the distress of the afflicted wife and mother as she rehearses the untiring devotion of a good husband, on whose tender care she could lean, now so suddenly taken away.

Mrs. Brumley suffers a slight degree of paralysis and cannot walk much.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been arranged, but the burial will probably be at Poplar Tent of which the family are good and consistent members.

Shot Fired Into Mr. Blume's Kitchen.

Some one fired a 38-calibre pistol shot into the kitchen of Mr. William Blume Friday night about 8 o'clock. The ball struck the wire gauze then the glass and next the inside window blind then bounded back and broke the glass again and fell on the window sill.

There is no clue to the perpetrator and it is not certain that it was any more than a piece of reckless shooting without purpose.

Mrs. Blume and daughter were in the kitchen at the time.

COL. CARR TO PUBLISH A BOOK.

North Carolina in the War Between the States.

The demand for the address, "North Carolina in the War Between the States," delivered by Col. Julian S Carr before the Confederate Veterans' Association last summer, has grown to such proportions that the colonel has decided to revise it and publish it in book form, duly illustrated, for public school libraries. The publication will most likely contain illustrations of the battle of Bethel, where young Wyatt was killed; the storming of Fort Fisher, regard by many military critics as the fiercest bombardment the world has ever known; Pettigrew's charge at Gettysburg, where North Carolinians went farthest, and lost more men than any Southern State; the battle of Bentonville, where General Hoke held in check Sherman's victorious army for three days; the capture of Plymouth; Major Henry A London bearing the last dispatches at Appomattox, where more than half the number of muskets surrendered were by North Carolina troops; the Bennett House, three miles from Durham on the road leading to Hillsboro, where General Sherman, and probably other illustrations. The book will also contain a picture of Z B Vance, North Carolina's war Governor, with a sketch of his valuable service. Colonel Carr will give to North Carolina the credit that she is justly entitled to.—Durham special of 3rd to the Charlotte Observer.

Perhaps You Wonder

if the tormenting cold that made last winter one long misery will be as bad this year. Certainly not, if you take Allen's Lung Balsam when tickling and rawness in the throat announce the presence of the old enemy. Do not expect the cold to wear itself out. Take the right remedy in time. Allen's Lung Balsam is free from opium.

MARINE DISASTER ON WESTERN COAST.

Walla Walla Collides With French Sailing Boat and is Sunk—Probably 20 Lives Lost—Surviving Vessel Passes On.

A San Francisco dispatch of the 2nd says the steamship Walla Walla collided with a French sailing boat at 4:10 a. m. Thursday off the coast of Mendocino and was so injured that the vessel sank within thirty-five minutes. Discipline was preserved and the passengers and crew were furnished with life preservers and lowered into life boats. Probably twenty were lost, however, from the collision and from attempting to land on a choppy coast. There were about 144 people on the ship. Strange to say the surviving vessel passed on without rendering aid. The suffering passengers were picked up by other vessels.

The Walla Walla was valued at $250,000 and was insured for $200,000.

MR. DAN SIDES BURNED.

Oil Stove Ignites and His Store Narrowly Escapes.

Mr. Dan Sides was right badly burned this morning at his store at Cannonville. He had an oil stove in his room and it took fire by some means. Mr. Sides gathered up the stove and in throwing it out of the house he caught on fire. His hands and body were badly burned.

The store was threatened with destruction for a while but the flames were extinguished with little damage except to himself.

Accused of Swearing in a Newground.

Saluda is a new county town, blazed out of the woods and the stumps on the streets has the appearance of a newground. A few days ago a man was arrested for swearing on the streets of that city. The man was indignant and put in a plea that a man was excused for cursing in a newground.—Anderson Intelligencer.

The new divorce law which allows divorce only on the grounds of infidelity went into effect in the District of Columbia yesterday, so on the previous day there as a rush of applicants under the old law and forty-eight suits were begun.—Raleigh Times.
