GIRL BABYHURT.

When the Foreman of a Mill Refuses to Release Her from Work She Jumps from a Window.

Because the foreman of the Highland Park Manufacturing Company refused to release her from work, Fennie Wagstaff, a night operative, jumped from a high window in the mill last night and was very seriously injured.

The girl said that her parents were sick, and asked to be relieved from duty for the night. The foreman, not believing that the illness of her parents was dangerous and not taking her plea seriously, declined to grant her request, stating that the mill was short of hands.

Going to the window, the girl jumped for a platform on the outside, which she failed to reach in her spring. She fell to the ground; three ribs were broken, and she was badly bruised.

A physician was summoned and she was taken home. It is thought that she will recover.—Charlotte Observer.

Which is to be Pitied.

Here is a good hint from the editor of the Philistine—good for us and good for you: "No, I do not feel sorry to lose a subscriber, I do not feel sorry for the man who, liking ten articles, cancels because he dislike one. This man who will tolerate no ideas but his own is not in the line of growth, and for such there is little hope. Of course you are not expected to accept all that I write—I may think differently myself tomorrow; and I want the privilege of contradicting my words as often as I choose." The jewel consistency is often a paste jewel. We need to be consistent with truth, not to be consistent with our imperfect understanding of truth. We need to learn to think for ourselves and to be thankful to the man who touches us in tender places and makes us think.—American Grange Bulletin.

Profitable Farming.

J F Wilson who lives in No. 6 township, rented a piece of land last year for $50 standing rent and planted it in corn. He cultivated it altogether with the plow and spent 39 days in doing all the plowing. He made enough shucks and fodder to pay the rent and for re-planting and had all the corn, which was 400 bushels, for the 39 days plowing.—Gastonia News.

County Convention Next Saturday.

The Democratic convention, of Cabarrus meets next Saturday to elect delegates to the state, congressional and judicial conventions.

Lawn Party at Forest Hill.

The lawn party at Forest Hill on Tuesday night was eminently successful. The aged and the staid were there and smiled benignly on the joys of those of budding years. The middle aged were there, rendering service which was to promote happiness more than to fill the coffers. The beaux and the belles were there in all the joyousness of life's springtime vigor, hopefulness, beauty and affability. It was an unusual gathering of beautifully arrayed young ladies and gentlemen that portrayed all the happiness allotted to mortals. The juveniles, too, were there in gay and tripping glee.

However paradoxical the term, the ice cream went like hot cakes and was exhausted ere the demand was met. Lemonade and taffey helped to meet the demand but the social feature was the best of all the feasting. Only Mill No. 4 was running and the operatives of this were denied much of the pleasures but before the evening hour for work Capt. Odell treated them as a body to ice cream. They formed in one long line and enjoyed the luxury then put the spindles to humming while musing on the evening's pleasures.

The Forest Hill band discoursed splendid music and its tones would have stood the test of the critical ear. It is fully up to the standard of a good local band.

The large, splendid lawn was well lit up with electric lights and chairs and tables were distributed over it and social groups were everywhere.

The Standard man watched the playful young folks at tap hands and then catch her if you can. It called up the past and he hopes to be pardoned for a welling sensation that "I wish it were I."

All in all it was an evening of much real pleasure unexcelled as a lawn party in the memory of the writer.

The financial proceeds were $103 which is quite satisfactory.

Mrs. Melissa Cline Dead.

Mrs. Melissa Cline, relict of the late Solomon Cline, of Mt. Pleasant, died at Enochville on last Sunday evening at the good ripe age of 80 years. She was buried on Monday, Rev. B S Brown conducting the funeral.

A Majority of the Senators Favor the Panama Route.

Washington, June 17.—A number of correspondents made a poll of the Senate this afternoon which showed a majority in favor of the Panama Canal route, and that four Senators are opposed to canal legislation in any form. Mr. Teller, who is one of the quartette, told the correspondent of The Observer that the canal would cost twice as much as any estimate submitted. Senator Simmons favors the Nicaragua route, while Mr. Pritchard will vote for the Panama route. It the poll made today is correct the situation is rather remarkable, as the Panama route had only a handful of supporters at the first of the session, when Senator Hanna began its advocacy.
