her pale, illumined life not one word. Southern Railway Issues Booklet-May Be Had Free. A handsome and well illustrated booklet, descriptive of the agricultural resources and products of North Carolina, has just been issued by the Land and Industrial Department of the Southern Railway, for distribution in the North and West in connection with the work which the Southern is doing in the effort to attract desirable settlers to Southeast. The volume is the fourth in a series on the different states traversed by the Southern. It is not for circulation in the South, but will be given a wide distribution in sections where it is believed the greatest good can be accomplished. The agricultural and forest resources of North Carolina and the opportunities in general farming, stock raising, fruit and vegetable growing that await the homeseeker as well as the many advantages offered for various branches of manufacturing in the many prosperous cities and towns are treated extensively. Full information is given concerning the character of the soils, while especial attention is directed to the delightful

The Shadowi of Science.

It is hard to believe that a shadow is probably the origin of all astronomical, geometrical and geographical science. The first man who fixed his staff perpendicularly in the ground and measured its shadow was the earliest computer of time, and the Arab of today who plants his spear in the sand and marks where the shadow falls is his direct descendant. It is from the shadow of a gnomon that the early Egyptians told-the length of the year. It is from the shadow of a gnomon that the inhabitants of Upper Egypt still measure the hours of work for a water wheel. In this case the gnomon is a lhurra stalk supported on forked uprights and points north and south. East and west are pegs in the ground, evenly marking the space of earth between sunrise and sunset. In a land of constant sunshine a shadow was the primitive chronometer. It was also the primitive foot rule.

A Son's Compliment.

His incessant work, his avoidance of all rest and reoreation and his rigorous self-denial made Jeseph Pulitzer, in his days in harness, the despair of his family.

In this connection a pretty story is told about the famous journalist's son Ralph. Mr. Pulitzer had refused to take a holiday, and Mrs. Pulitzer exclaimed:

"Did you ever know your father to do anything because it was pleasant?" "Yes, once-when he married you," the young man gracefully replied.

MOTHERS OF THEN AND NOW

Conditions Are Only Different, No Matter What Sentimental Writers May Assert.

The "popular" writer who bewails what he assumes to be the fact that the "old-fashioned" mother is no more is liable to defeat his own purpose if that be inculcating in children the highest possible regard for their parents. It is a danger which even the quantitative theory of literature or . space rates cannot justify.

The mother of the past, of course, was different from the mother of the present, as different on the whole as the conditions of life then and now. but since her daughter is the mother of the present there must be some points of similarity. All the good in our mothers and grandmothers certainly could not have vanished. It will be paying scant tribute to those dear, good women who have laid down their recepts and examples and passed on to say so.; And, of course, this writer does not mean to do that, yet he comes very near doing what he does not intend.

The fallacy of the whole sentimental notion that because things and people are not like they used to be they are not as good lies in the patent fact that they cannot be alike, and if they were it would simply be because of the present generation being so much inferior to the past that it was unable to do no more than stand still.

Housework Tresome!

"For five years," writes Mrs. L. Fulenchek, Houston, Texas, "I suffered with pains all over, especially in my back and side, and was so weak I could hardly do my housework. A friend told me of Cardul. Since taking it, I feel so much better! Now I can do all my housework, and am not bothered with pains at all."

Cardul has proven especially beneficial in cases of womanly ailments, with pain as a prominent symptom, whether the pains come from too much work, walking, standing, stooping, or just as a symptom of weakness.

The Woman's Tonic

Cardul is a strength-building medicine. You need it, if your system is out of order, if you are weak, or if you suffer from any of the pains, to which women are liable.

Fifty years of success have produced absolute confidence in Cardui, on the part of these who have used it. During this time; Cardui has benefited over a million women. Why not you? Your troubles are probably just the kind that Cardui will benefit,
