Friendly Blow.

Louis Brownlow, Washington newspaper man, paused in a drug store in Greensboro, S. C., not so long ago, to ask for a match. While he was there a young colored chap came running in with a big gash the whole length of his skull, and apparently a good deal put out about some accident that had befallen him.

"What's happened to you?" asked Brownlow, excitedly but sympathetically.

"A friend hit me with a hatchet," replied the bleeding stranger.

Good Cause.

"Will you donate something to a good cause?" said the caller, as he laid a paper on the business man's desk.

"What is it?" asked the business man.

"One of the tenants in this building killed a book agent this morning," replied the caller, "and we are taking a subscription to reward him."

"Put me down for $10,000," replied the business man.

POULTRY

POULTRY HOUSE ABOUT RIGHT

Building Described and Illustrated That is Well Arranged to Admit Plenty Sunlight.

I have a poultry house I think is about right. It is 12 by 16 feet, and will house 75 birds with ease, writes Mrs. R. B. Hamerlin in the Farmers Mail and Breeze. It is four feet high on the north and six feet on the south. The roof has a nine-foot slope on the north and a five-foot slope on the south. Studding were set every two feet and drop siding was used to board up the walls. The roof is shingled. There are four windows on the south each with a double sash 22 by 28 inches in size and arranged so the top ones may be lowered. We did not want the open front style as we wanted it tight for fumigating and also to keep out beating storms. The upper sash are lowered most of the time, and during cold weather we have a muslin curtain to lower over the opening. Roosts are hinged to the north side and may be raised and fastened to the ceiling where they are out of the way for cleaning, etc. A good dropping board below keeps the floor in good condition. Nests are placed along the east and west sides. This house has a good cement floor which keeps out rats.

This house admits plenty of sunlight and we have not had a frozen comb or sick chicken all winter.

CARE OF DUCKS IN WINTER

Any Kind of Green Stuff That Happens to be Handy Makes Excellent Feed for Fowls.

During winter I feed my ducks any green stuff that I happen to have handy. Turnip, parsnip and carrot tops, cabbage leaves, beet leaves, onion tops, purslane, pigweed, tender crab grass, lettuce, radish, mustard, cut fine, all make good bulky feed.

These are dried in the shade during the summer and stored like hay. When I want to feed them a quantity is boiled for twelve hours and mixed with finely cut roots, such as potato, turnip, parsnip, carrot, onion and beet. Apples are also used, says a writer in the Orange Judd Farmer. These are all cooked.

Not much of one kind of plant is given at a time. Four measures of any one with four of corn chop to each of wheat bran, red wheat shorts and boiled fresh meat are fed as a mash—all the ducks will eat it up clean in a few minutes. If any of the mash is left, it is at once removed to avoid its getting sour. This feed is given twice daily during the winter and three times in spring. It has always proved satisfactory.

Good Drainage for Turkeys.

Always be sure that every part of any inclosure where the turkey hen and poulters are kept is well drained. Sometimes the hen will sit down at night in a low place and a heavy rain will fill the depression with water and chill or drown the poults.

The Laying Hen.

The laying hen is not apt to be come overfat. Nevertheless, it is a mistake to keep her on a diet of corn expecting her to manufacture eggs from that article. Corn is no egg food.

DOULTRY NOTES

Clean soiled eggs. Get a reputation for selling fresh eggs. Do not keep eggs in a cellar or damp place. Let the old roosters go before they eat their heads off. About ten ducks are required to make a pound of feathers. If chicken keeping doesn't pay don't be in too big a hurry to blame the chickens. Goose feathers being more oily are apt to sooner turn rancid than chicken feathers. Crude carbolic acid and coal oil make a fine disinfectant. Use a continuous sprayer. A sovereign remedy for limberneck is four drops of turpentine in a teaspoonful of water. Charcoal is a wonderful tonic at this time. See that the fowls get all they want of it to eat. Poultry breeders need to know as much of the breeding worth of a fowl as cattle breeders of a bull. The man with a fine lot of young chickens to sell, now is the one who has a smile that won't come off. One sick chicken soon infects a whole flock. It is always safest to remove a bird at first signs of illness. The essentials of poultry raising are cleanliness and close attention, coupled with hard work and common sense. Supply hens with plenty of crushed oyster shell. The shells costs little and means much if it's winter eggs you are working for. The hens relish green food of some sort and will amply repay you for the trouble of chopping up cabbage, potato, peellings, turnips, etc. Any egg eaters in the flock? Make the nests as dark as possible; that will help. If that doesn't discourage the culprit, sharpen up the ax. In the long continuous poultry building it is desirable that an alley way be provided for the sake of convenience in passing through the building.

CONSTIPATION

Munyon's Paw-Paw Pills are unlike all other laxatives or cathartics. They coax the liver into activity by gentle methods, they do not scour; they do not grip; they do not weaken; but they do start all the secretions of the liver and stomach in a way that soon puts these organs in a healthy condition and corrects constipation. Munyon's Paw-Paw Pills are a tonic to the stomach, liver and nerves. They invigorate instead of weaken; they enrich the blood instead of impoverishing it; they enable the stomach to get the nourishment from food that is put into it. Price 25 cents. All Druggists.

Hit the Danger Spot.

A tippler with a very red nose got a day's work as a laborer in a boiler works. The same day he appeared before the surgeon at the hospital with his nose smashed.

COFFEE THRESHED HER.

15 Long Years.

"For over fifteen years," writes a patient, hopeful little ill woman, "while a coffee drinker, I suffered from Spinal Irritation and Nervous trouble. I was treated by good physicians, but did not get much relief. "I'm not sure that coffee might be aggravating by condition. (Tea is just as injurious, because it contains caffeine, the same drug found in coffee.) I was down-hearted and discouraged, but prayed daily that I might find something to help me. "Several years ago, while at a friend's house I drank a cup of Postum and though I had never tasted anything more delicious. "From that time on I used Postum instead of coffee and soon began to improve in health, so that now I can walk half a dozen blocks or more with ease, and do many other things that I never thought I would be able to do again in this world. "My appetite is good, I sleep well and find life is now living. A lady of my acquaintance said she did not like Postum, it was so weak and tasteless. "I explained to her the difference when it is made right—boiled according to directions. She was glad to know this because coffee did not agree with her. Now her folks say they expect to use Postum the rest of their lives." Name given upon request. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

"Postum now comes in concentrated, powder form, called Instant Postum. It is prepared by stirring a level teaspoonful in a cup of hot water, adding sugar to taste, and enough cream to bring the color to golden brown. Instant Postum is convenient; there's no waste; and the flavor is always uniform. Sold by grocers—45 to 50-cup tin 30 cts., 90 to 100-cup tin 50 cts.

A 5-cup trial tin mailed for grocer's name and 2-cent stamp for postage. Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Battle Creek, Mich.—Adv.

SOUTH IS NEW CORN BELT

The Southern Railway Exploits the Southern States as the Corn Growing Country.—Folder issued.

Columbia, S. C., February 2.—"The New Corn Belt" is the title which has been accorded the nine Southern states east of the Mississippi and south of the Potomac. This honor is given the South in an attractive folder just issued by the Southern Railway Company which is being distributed among visitors to the National Corn Exposition here. Figures in the folder, compiled from latest official sources, give new proof of the increasing importance of the South as a corn growing section and fully substantiate the claim given this wonderful section as the "New Corn Belt."

"Figures in the December number of the Crop Reporter issued by the federal department of agriculture, show that the nine Southern states east of the Mississippi and south of the Potomac produced in 1912 a corn crop of 505,135,000 bushels, worth $214,740,000 at prices paid farmers in that territory," says the folder. "Compared with the report of the 1900 census, when the crop of 342,464,737 bushels in the same states was worth $137,079,603, the latest figures show an increase of 162,670,263 bushels, worth practically $178,000,000 more than the earlier production.

"The greater yield in the Southeast has followed an increased acreage given to corn and steadily increasing acre-yield. The general development of this agricultural region, aided by federal and state demonstration work and further helped by the educational efforts of such railroads as the Southern, which maintains a corps of agricultural experts whose services are at the command of all the farmers along its 7,000-odd miles of territory, has had a large share in stimulating attention given to corn. Prominent among the reason for the increased acre-yield has been the organization of boys' corn clubs and annual corn shows in each of these nine states. Comparative figures show that the increase in the average yield per acre over the 1900 record in 1912 alone amounted to $103,981,221. Four hundred and fifty-four members of boys' corn clubs in the South in 1912 made over 100 bushels to the acre.

It is being given at the Corn Exposition, the folder will be distributed among farmers of the North and West in an effort to attract desirable settlers to the "New Corn Belt."

Galloway, chief of the Bureau of Plant Industry, that "there has never been any long-continued successful irrigation agriculture in an arid region anywhere in the world," has written to Chairman Moss, of the committee, denying Dr. Galloway's assertion. Much Trade With Orient.

Washington—Never was trade between the United States and the Orient as great as it was during 1912. Imports from Asia and Oceania combined amounted to $280,000,000 in 1912 and the export to Asia and Oceania for the last year aggregated $190,000,000. One feature was the sending of raw cotton to India and China. Despite the fact that both these countries are producers of cotton the United States sent to India 35,000,000 pounds of raw cotton and to China 14,000,000 pounds.

Planning For Celebration.

Washington—Details of a celebration of the 50th anniversary of national unity were determined upon at a meeting of the committee of which Dr. E. A. Alderman, president of the University of Virginia, is chairman. The committee proposed to have a national memorial in the shape of a bridge over the Potomac here, and urged upon congress and dedication exercises in 1915, under direction of G. A. R. and United Confederate veterans, which will be a reunion of survivors of the two great armies.

Parcel Post Proves a Success.

Washington—The parcel post system, which has been in operation since the first of the year, is working like a well-oiled Corliss engine. The experimental days seem to have been passed and the people are trying to reduce the cost of living by the use of the new postal express. Postal employees are doing their utmost to make the law a success. There are two sides to the enforcement of the parcel post regulations, one is humor and the other serious.
