"Dixie Flyer" Wrecked. Atlanta .- The "Dixie Flyer," a famous tourist train, Chicago to Jacksonville was derailed and partly wrecked eight miles from Atlanta, on the edge of the Western and Atlantic railread yards, when it "sideswiped" a freight engine. C. O. Wright of Hopkinsville, Ind., was the most seriously injured. He was thrown against the end of his berth in the collision. Many of the passengers were bruised and badly shaken in the collision. How the engine crews escaped death is a miracle.
