What Would You do?

There are many times when one man questions another's actions and motives. Men act differently under different circumstances. The question is, what would you do right now if you had a severe cold? Could you do better than to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy? It is highly recommended by people who have used it for years and know its value. Mrs. O. E. Sargent, Peru, Ind., says, "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is worth its weight in gold and I take pleasure in recommending it."

Ben Wilhelm in Trouble

Several weeks ago Ben Wilhelm, a white man who lives in the neighborhood of Grace Church, was taken before P. E. Wright, Esq. at Landis, and tried for assault on his wife, having cursed, kicked, abused and driven her away from home. He was found guilty of assault and guilty of carrying concealed weapon and besides being taxed with the case he was put under a peace bond. Mr. Wilhelm is sixty odd years old and has twelve living children, a son, now twenty-five years old, and grown daughters.

Wednesday night he broke his peace bond, whipped his wife, broke up the furniture, cut up his barn, broke up a drill and destroyed things generally, then, accompanied by his oldest son, left for parts unknown. Mrs. Wilhelm, who has been a faithful wife and is a most excellent woman, has sworn out a warrant for Mr. Wilhelm and it is now, Thursday, in the hands of Sheriff McKnight, who, with his deputies, is on the lookout for him. If caught, which is very probable, some interesting stories will be told. Wilhelm, it is said, has given his children no education and treated them with little more consideration than work hands.

An Evening at Landis

The Thursday Afternoon Club charmingly entertained by Mrs. B. O. Edwards.

The Thursday Afternoon Club was delightfully entertained by an out of town friend on October the first, Mrs. Edwards upholding her reputation as a charming hostess on this occasion.

Mrs. Corriher, Mrs. Sifford and Mrs. River drove down to Landis in their automobiles, taking with them all of the visitors and members who were able to attend, a kindness which was greatly appreciated by all.

Surprise Birthday for Mrs. Roberts

A surprise birthday dinner in honor of Mrs. Samuel Roberts was given Sunday, October 4th, at the home of her son-in-law, W. G. Correll.

Mrs. Roberts was greatly surprised when her children, relatives and friends came in with well filled baskets. When dinner was announced all partook of the many good things which the ladies had prepared for the occasion. There were 53 present and, owing to the inclemency of the weather, there would doubtless have been many more present.

Mrs. Roberts is 68 years old and very active for one of that age, many would think her much younger. She is a kind hearted christian woman and is loved by all who know her. She is the mother of five children, two daughters and three sons, all of whom were present except one, John Roberts. She has sixteen grandchildren which all love and cherish her in her old age. She received a number of presents from her children which she appreciates very much.

After an hour of social enjoyment with a nice selection of music, with Miss Edith Correll playing at the organ, the time came for us to return to our homes all wishing for Mrs. Roberts many more happy birthdays. A FAIRWIND

Europe Will Call in Wilson Says

Heflin

Rowan's Democratic campaign opened last night with a speech of an hour and a half by Congressman Heflin of Alabama. Mr. Heflin was introduced by Congressman Doughton, and the first part of his speech was an appeal to send Mr. Doughton back to Washington.

He recited the great part the South has played all through the life of America and told of fruits of the present Democratic Administration.

In praising President Wilson the speaker predicted that within a few weeks he would be called on by the warring nations to arbitrate their differences. Three hundred, a number of them prominent Democrats from other towns, were entertained by the eloquent Alabama representative.

News Satisfactory

English Claim Conditions are Good but Give Nothing but Outline of Progress. Yesterday's reports are as follows:

"While the world awaits news of the great battle in which the British and French allied forces and the Germans in northern France have engaged for 26 days messenger official reports from the front vouchsafe little information of the actual operations. Today it is a small piece of ground lost and tomorrow the same ground has been regained. Meanwhile the French forces are moving northward, but are gaining little to the east, which would be essential to the outflanking of the German right wing.

As a matter of fact General von Klouk in command of that section of the German army with heavy reinforcements which have reached him in the past week has taken a decided offensive and day by day the announcement is made by the French War Office that the "violent battle continues."

The British official bureau reports that the French army is fighting with the greatest dash and bravery but is silent on what the British are doing. The French officials report an advance on certain points on the center and the retaking of the ground previously yielded in the Bois district.

Masses of German cavalry have been recently seen near Lille and behind them German forces moving on a line between Touarcing and Armentieres. This important unit of the German army, which it was thought might serve to break the French report, has been held in check, and to the north of Lille, has been driven back. On two wings, it is added the German attacks have been repulsed.

The northward movement of the French line brings it close to the Belgian frontier and coincidentally there have been engagements between the Belgians and the Germans in the environs of Ypres, 20 miles south of Ostend and at Audenarde, 5 miles southwest of Ghent.

While the east Indian troops have reached France and already may have reinforced Field Marshal French's army operating in the neighborhood of Soissons the whereabouts of the Canadians, numbering about 38,000, has been a matter of conjecture. It is now announced that they are about to be landed in England and will be sent to an island training camp.

The situation as between the Russians and Germans and Austrians is somewhat problematical, but a very frank statement from Berlin admits that the German forces on the frontier of East Prussia have assumed a strategical defensive bombardment of Osowetz, a fortress in Russian Poland.

This statements adds the fighting at Augustowo and in Suwalki was of a most sanguinary nature and that while the German machine guns finally turned the scale of battle in favor of the Germans the slaughter of the German artillery men was terrific. The movements of the German troops were greatly hampered by the physical condition of the country.

The forty-third German casualty list issued at Berlin contains 10,000 names in dead, wounded and missing.

Berlin also reports that the fighting on the German right wing in France has been successful and that in the assault on Antwerp two more forts have fallen into German hands.

The Belgian Government has been removed from Antwerp to Ostend, several of the ministers and many thousand of refugees having reached there. The bombardment of Antwerp, it is reported, already has begun, follow a notification from the commander of the German troops that non-combatants and others desiring to do so, should withdraw from President Poincaré accompanied by Premier Viviani and the Minister of War, M. Millerand, has returned to Paris after a visit to the battle front. It has been reported that the French Government would return soon to Paris from Bordeaux.

A British submarine has made another raid close to the German base in the North Sea and has torpedoed a German torpedo-boat destroyer. There is an unconfirmed report that a German cruiser also was torpedoed.

The Japanese have occupied the Island of Yap, of the Caroline group, in the Pacific and at the same time have notified the State Department at Washington that the occupation is only temporary and solely for military purposes.

The second son of the German Emperor Prince Eitel Frederick, is reported to have been injured by a fall from his horse in a recent battle. Already two other sons of the Emperor have suffered physical ailments as a result of his arduous campaign, Prince Joachim having received a bullet wound and Prince Oscar having been stricken with a heart affection after an exhausting engagement.

Concord, Oct. 7.—With salvoes of auto horns, banners waving and a band playing, a caravan of 31 automobiles bearing the Salisbury boosters rolled into Concord today a few minutes before noon. In the party were more than 100 live wires, exuberant with the booster spirit and effervescing with praise of Salisbury, Rowan County, North Carolina and the United States of America in general and the Salisbury fair in particular.

The boosters left Salisbury at 9 o'clock. China Grove was the first stop. Here they were welcomed by Rev. J. H. Keller and Messrs. A. H. Price and A. H. Snider responded. At Landis A. L. Smoot and E. W. Tatum spoke for the boosters. Continuing the journey to Kannapolis, W. M. Ruth presented the glorious advantages and opportunities that awaited the visitors to the fair.

When the delegation arrived here they were met by Mayor Hartsell and a number of citizens. A meeting was held in front of the St. Cloud Hotel and T. D. Maness, on behalf of the mayor, welcomed the Salisburyans and introduced the president of the Salisbury Industrial Club, Mr. Snider.

Mr. Snider stated that Salisbury had many oratorical gains of large capacity and presented A. H. Price, a well-known member of the Salisbury bar. Starting his remarks by expressing the feeling of gladness that comes over a visitor to Concord, Mr. Price sailed gladly into his work, opening his artillery at every point and firing volley after volley loaded with the many industrial, agricultural, educational resources and opportunities that abound in North Carolina.

"The great trouble," declared the eloquent Rowan attorney, after smelling the smoke of the battle the alert citizens are making in the campaign to shell the country with literature and information concerning this State, "is that the people of North Carolina have been too modest and too timid in boasting and bragging about their great resources and a magnificent citizenship."

"From now on" he said, in a voice that carried to the crowds that had gathered across the street, "I don't intend to let any man under any conditions say more about his State, his people, or his town than I do about mine." Mr. Price referred to the great industrial progress that had been made and predicted that the Piedmont North Carolina, by virtue of its climate, advantages and great citizenship was destined to become the greatest section of the United States.

He spoke in glowing terms of and its progress, naming among its resources three cotton mills, one of the finest Federal buildings in the country, the finest passenger station between Washington and Atlanta, railroad shops employing 1,200 men and a payroll of $200,000 a month.

Following Mr. Price, A. L. Smoot, formerly mayor of Salisbury was introduced and spoke in place of Mayor Woodson, who was prevented from reaching here on account of his machine breaking down. Mr. Smoot is president of the fair association. He declared that it was the purpose of the fair to portray the industrial and agricultural progress that had been made in this section by having exhibits of the many products. In addition to the exhibits he stated that there would be many free attractions, including a great midway and Federal Government exhibit showing everything that could be sent by parcel post. Mr. Smoot concluded by declaring that a visitor would find the fair pleasant, attractive, wholesome and instructive and he not only invited all his hearers but extended a broad, generous and hearty welcome to all the people of Concord and Cabarrus.

Following Mr. Smoot's speech there was music by the band and lunch at the St. Cloud Hotel. The boosters will go to Mt. Pleasant this afternoon and return to Salisbury tonight.—Charlotte Observer.
