Germans Are Repulsed.

French Marines Creep Upon Enemy and Kill in Trenches With Bayonet.

Paris, Oct. 20.—11:10 p. m.—The French official communication issued tonight says the Germans today attacked along the entire front and everywhere were repulsed.

The text follows: "The day has been characterized by an effort of the Germans along all parts of the front, to the extreme north, where the Belgian army has held remarkably; at Labasse, where the German troops have attempted an offensive movement of particular violence to the north of Arras, at Mametz, between Peronne and Albert; at Vauquois, to the east of the Argonne, and finally on the heights of the Meuse and in the region of Champlon.

"Everywhere the German attacks have been repulsed. From the battle front, via Paris, Oct. 20.—10 p. m.—The German invaders are meeting a vigorous resistance in their effort to shorten their right wing further southwestward upon the English Channel. Much of the fighting is being done in the obscurity of fog.

French marines yesterday gave a good account of themselves. German troops tried a surprise attack on them Sunday but the French force held the field works against superior numbers. The fight lasted all day, and then the Germans contented themselves with cannonading the position of the marines.

A thick fog covered the entire region Monday and the marines, accustomed to such weather conditions, crept close to the German trenches. "No shooting," was the order; "use the bayonet."

The marines got within 80 feet of the trenches before they were seen. Their coming was heard too late for the defenders, who were bayoneted in the trenches and beyond the trenches as they ran. Four hundred German prisoners were taken. One of the places where the French had been most harassed is near the elbow of the western line. The important position there had been taken and re-taken frequently during the last three weeks. Every time the Germans had been obliged to abandon the position they returned in force and pushed back the French by weight of numbers.

The French took the position for the twelfth time and held it for 10 hours. Then came a shock of the human battering ram and the French gradually gave way.

The Germans began fortifying the place but while they were engaged in this task the earth heaved and there was a deafening explosion. The 10 hours the French held the point had been sufficient to mine every rod of the ground. It is estimated that three German battalions were annihilated.

The strength of the German positions north of Roye, which facilitated their movements toward Lille, it is explained by the fact that they were occupying an unfinished canal extending as far as Ressel. The Germans found in the deep, broad cutting, magnificent entrenchments.

Officers of the Allies say they have noted that only about 40 per cent of the shells from German guns explode. They say also that the prodigality of their fire apparently has depleted the German supply of ammunition, as the intensity of the fire lately has diminished.

The French artillerymen are careful in getting ranges and waste few shells. In an artillery duel near Armentieres the Germans fired for half a day into thickets that had been abandoned some time before. The French three-inch guns finally got the range and 12 shells silenced the German battery.

The Y's and Other Y's.

The Y's and Other Y's Club had a delightful evening with Miss Mary Rose Friday night. Delicious refreshments were served and numerous games were played. These present say they had a real good time. This club is composed of the young, unmarried ladies of the town, and if any set can have a good time you can certainly count them in every time, but for some mysterious reason they are not willing to give the reporter detailed accounts of their proceedings. Of course they never mention the other sex 'Aren't they awful.

Toned up Whole System. "Chamberlain's Cough Tablets have done more for me than I ever dared hope for," writes Mrs. Esther Mae Baker, Spenceport, N. Y. "I used several bottles of these tablets a few months ago. They not only cured me of bilious attacks, sick headaches and that tired out feeling, but toned up my whole system."

Democratic Candidates Here

T. F. Hudson, Esq., P. S. Carlton, Esq., J. F. McCubbins, T. G. Farr, Esq., and the regular Democratic county candidates were here Wednesday night and had a very good sized crowd out to hear them talk.

Why Not Publish It?

When you want a fact to become generally known, the right way is to publish it. Mrs. Joseph Kallaus, Peru, Ind., was troubled with belching, sour stomach and frequent headaches. She writes, "I feel it my duty to tell others what Chamberlain's Tablets have done for me. They have helped my indigestion and regulated my bowels. Since using them I have been entirely well."

Ben Wilhelm at Home

Ben Wilhelm and his two sons who recently left home and has since been dodging the officers, are said to have been at home one night early this week. Just what his mission was is not known. It is said that they have been in Illinois with relatives since leaving here and that it is likely they will return there. They were last seen at Barber.

It Always Does the Work.

"I like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy better than any other," writes E. E. Roberts, Homer City, Pa. "I have taken it off and on for years and it has never failed to give the desired result."

Republican Candidates Next

The Rowan Republican-Progressive candidates will speak in the town hall in China Grove, Saturday night, October 31st. Everybody is cordially invited to be present and hear these gentlemen discuss the issues of the day. Along with the speakers here will be A. H. Price, Esq., of Salisbury. Mr. Price also speaks at Landis on Thursday 29th, and at Cleveland Friday 30th. Mr. Price is a very interesting talker and all will enjoy hearing what he has to say.

$500 Reward, $500

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

With Leg Broken Saves Two Lives

H. J. Holliman of Marshville Rescues Wife and Neighbor's Child.

Marshville, Oct. 21.—With a leg which had been broken the day before when he fell from a scaffold and fractured a rib, in addition to the limb, H. J. Holliman, a machinist of this place, rolled out of bed today and in some way managed to rescue his wife from a well into which she had plunged to save a neighbor's six-year-old son.

Yen men Catch one Opossum

George Brown of near Gold Hill, Earnest and Hilbert Lyerly, John Lingle, Odell Lingle, L. H. M. Brown of Granite Quarry, Earl Boston, Arthur Holshouser, Charlie Deal and John E. Brown went opossum hunting Wednesday night. They covered the territory about Sumner and then went to the Cold Water neighborhood. The crowd was armed with dogs and sticks captured one poor little two-pound opossum, and stayed out about all night. The dogs kept the boogers off and the owls were not troublesome.

Negro Convict Escapes

A negro convict, a pretty heavy fellow with stripes was seen about two miles and a half east of China Grove yesterday morning going toward the Freely Prospect place, headed south. His presence was reported to the sheriff and the China Grove officers was notified. Later the fellow came out about F. L. Ketchie's. A close hunt was made all through that section by the officers and blood hounds but he was not found.

Apply Sloan's Freely For Lumbago.

Your attacks of Lumbago are not nearly so hopeless as they seem. You can relieve them almost instantly by a simple application of Sloan's Liniment on the back and loins. Lumbago is a form of rheumatism, and yields perfectly to Sloan's, which penetrates quickly all in through the sore, tender muscles, limbers up the back and makes it feel fine. Get a bottle of Sloan's Liniment, 25 cents of any druggist and have it in the house—against colds, sore and swollen joints, rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica and like ailments. Your money back if not satisfied, but it does give almost instant relief.

The Thursday Afternoon Club Met With Mrs. Frieze

Although Dame Nature firmly insisted that everyone remain safely indoors, ten staid matrons braved the fury of the elements and attended the meeting of the Thursday Afternoon Club at the attractive home of Mrs. W. S. Frieze.

From the rain and gloom without, the guests were cordially invited into a scene of warmth and brightness. After an hour spent in various kinds of fancy work, interspersed with a lively conversation each one set busily to work "cracking nuts." Names of nuts were hidden in jumbled letters.

At the close of the contest, it was found that nearly all had discovered the names; so a guessing contest was resorted to. Mrs. Earle Gray winning in this, was awarded a serviceable nut set.

Assisted by her house guest, Mrs. Keatnes of Concord, the hostess served a delicious salad course, followed by coffee and wafers.

Everyone lingered until the evening, loathe to depart from so enjoyable a feast of wit and humor.

Mrs. Earle Gray extended an invitation to meet next with her.

What Would You do?

There are many times when one man questions another's actions and motives. Men act differently under different circumstances. The question is, what would you do right now if you had a severe cold? Could you do better than to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy? It is highly recommended by people who have used it for years and know its value. Mrs. O. E. Sargent, Peru, Ind., says, "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is worth its weight in gold and I take pleasure in recommending it."

And The War Goes on

Battleships Help Allies Fight Battles Along Flanders Coast.

London, Oct. 19.—9:30 p. m.—Fierce attacks and counter-attacks delivered almost continuously for a week or more by the allies and the Germans have resulted in no definite decision in the battle raging in West Flanders and Northern France. The contest in the area, in East Prussia, Poland and Galicia has been equally undecided.

This is clearly evident from reports issued officially at various headquarters which content themselves today with recounting the fact that violent attacks have been made. The French however, claim the allies have repulsed German offensive movements at various points in the west. According to the French announcements, the Germans also attacked the allies' lines at Nieport, Dixmude and Labasse. The German General Staff declares fighting continues on the Yser Canal and that the Germans taking the offensive west of Lille, have repulsed the French at several points.

These reports seem to counter-act accounts appearing in English newspapers from correspondents who claimed they were in West Flanders and who stated that the Germans had been driven back. The Germans, however, are believed here to be fighting under a great disadvantage especially along the coast as the British ships assisting the allies' land forces have long range guns capable of seriously menacing German troops and men in the trenches as well as the ammunition trains and supply convoys.

While no official information is available as to the ships being used, it is probable that they are the three monitors which were being completed in England for the Brazilian Government when the war broke out and which were bought by the admiralty. These monitors draw less than nine feet of water and could take up positions not far from shore which their six-inch guns and 4.7 inch Howitzers could throw shells nearly four miles across country, the range being given them by air-men.

The vessels assisting the allies have not been allowed to carry out their operations in peace for German submarines have followed them down the coast and attacked them while they were shelling German positions. These attacks however, were made futile by the presence of British destroyers. One account says the submarines suffered losses but this statement has not been confirmed. It has been remarked that the submarines and aeroplanes, which in times of peace have proved themselves as dangerous arms of the army and navy service have suffered little loss and have been doing splendid work.
