

HELP FOR WORKING WOMEN

Some Have to Keep on Until They Almost Drop. How Mrs. Conley Got Help.

Here is a letter from a woman who had to work, but was too weak and suffered too much to continue. Now she regained health—

Frankfort, Ky.—"I suffered so much with female weakness that I could not do my own work, had to hire it done. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I tried it. I took three bottles and I found it to be all you claim. Now I feel as well as ever I did and am able to do all my own work again. I recommend it to any woman suffering from female weakness. You may publish my letter if you wish."—Mrs. JAMES CONLEY, 516 St. Clair St., Frankfort, Ky.

No woman suffering from any form of female troubles should lose hope until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial. This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. All women are invited to write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for special advice. It will be confidential.

Washington

After receiving unofficial information that six Americans had lost their lives by the sinking of the British steamship Marina, President Wilson communicated with Secretary of State Lansing and directed that all possible haste be taken in obtaining the facts concerning the sinking of the vessel.

Preliminary reports of the sinking by German submarines of the British steamers Marina and Rowanmore, partly manned by Americans, are too incomplete to enable officials at the state department to form an opinion as to whether there had been a violation of neutral rights or of pledges given the United States by Germany. Secretary Lansing declined to comment further than to admit that the reports appeared more serious than the usual routine dispatches announcing the destruction of belligerent merchantmen, and that full information would be awaited with interest.

According to the Newport News agents of the sunken Marina's owners, Donaldson line, the vessel, with some fifty American horse tenders aboard, was not under charter to the British government as a transport, but was engaged in her regular trade as a freighter and carried horses for the allies as a part of her general cargo. Under such circumstances, it is pointed out, she would be entitled to immunity.

Great Britain's note in reply to American representations against the commercial blacklist has been received at the state department. Great Britain defends her action, and contends that the British government has the right to regulate trade activities in which her subjects are engaged.

It is stated in Washington that American bankers are taking over the management of all the international revenues of Nicaragua.

The department of justice and the department of labor are watching the migration of negroes from Southern labor centers to Northern centers. The department of justice has in view the reported political activity of certain people, and the department of labor in preventing their federal employment service from being used to further their migration schemes.

At the end of the first two years' operation of the Panama canal a financial survey shows that tolls amounted to $7,411,682, which showing is very gratifying to the administration.

European War

West of Lutzk in Volhynia, the Russians have taken Austro-German trenches south of Svinitski and repulsed counter attacks.

In Galicia the Austro-Germans have checked attacks below Stanislaw and occupied Russian positions in the Narayuka region near Halicz.

The Roumanians have gained a victory in the region of Szurdok pass, on the Roumanian-Transylvania frontier, according to a wiseless message from Bucharest to Paris.

The German submarine Deutschland has arrived in harbor at New London, Conn. This is her second trip to the United States. She brought a valuable cargo.

The German submarine U-53, which sank five ships off the American coast in one day, has arrived safely at her German base, according to Berlin dispatches.

Replying in the English house of commons to criticisms alleging that the British foreign office was propping up King Constantine of Greece by withholding recognition of ex-Premier Venizelos, head of the new movement in opposition to the Greek government, Lord Robert Cecil, minister of war trade, said the English government had acted throughout in closest concert with all the allies.

"The situation is as good as possible, and all will be well also in the future." This is the way Field Marshal von Hindenburg sizes up the war. Other than to say Germany will ultimately win, he will make no prediction as to when the war will stop; that, he says, rests entirely with the triple entente.

The bad weather is keeping down all operations except bombardments on the Austro-Italian front.

On the Transylvania front the Russians and Roumanians are operating successfully against the Teutonic allies near the junction of Bukovina, Transylvania and Roumania, and to the south near Campulung, and in the Jiu valley have gained successes over them.

Bad weather is hampering operations in Macedonia, but the Serbians, it is announced in Paris, have made progress in the Cerna bend and the French have occupied a monastery west of Presba lake.

The torpedoing of the Greek steamer Angheliki, near Piraeus, with many Greeks aboard, was without warning, it is stated in Athens, Greece. This action is taken to indicate that since the capture of Constanza by the Germans, submarines have procured a new supply of benzine, enabling them to resume operations in the Mediterranean.

Following up their advantage the British captured another German trench October 29 northeast of Les Boeufts, in the Somme region, while the French made fresh advances near Sully-Sallisel and Biaches. Heavy artillery activity against the British positions is being carried out by the Germans in the Les Boeufts sector and elsewhere.

According to Berlin, another heavy Russian offensive against the German lines along the Stokhod river in Volhynia has been put down by the German curtain of fire. Petrograd reports successful reconnaissances by the Russians along the River Stokod, a tributary of the Stokhod.

In the region of Verdun, where the French made their spectacular drive over a wide front north and northeast, Verdun, they are holding the ground despite the vicious counter attacks delivered, particularly in the regions of Haudromont and Douaumont and east of the Fumin wood and north of Chenois.

Mexican News

Conditions in northern Mexico, revolving on the new ascendancy of Villa, are commanding more attention than at any time since the border raids, which resulted in the dispatch of the American punitive expedition.

Washington officials make no effort to disguise their opinion that the Mexican-American commission sitting at Atlantic City cannot be expected to arrive at a satisfactory solution of the border problems until the situation in Chihuahua has been clarified.

In official Washington, it is the consensus of opinion that there is little likelihood of a reduction of the force guarding the international boundary between Mexico and the United States.

The military movements of Francisco Villa are taken in some quarters as the shadow of the downfall of the de facto government.

The number of contributors to the Democratic campaign fund is given out as 41,882.

DEUTSCHLAND IS IN AMERICAN PORT

BRINGS TEN MILLION DOLLARS WORTH OF DYES, DRUGS, JEWELS, ETC

CAPT. KOENIG TELLS OF TRIP

Was a "Quiet," But Thrilling Voyage.—Defies Allies' "Blockade That Does Not Block."—Hopes to Make Another Trip During Year.

New London, Conn.—Ten million dollars' worth of dyestuffs and drugs and it was said "possibly stocks, bonds and precious stones" comprise the cargo of the German submarine merchantman Deutschland, according to a statement by Capt. Paul Koenig, commander of the craft.

The Deutschland is in this port after having succeeded in making a second voyage from a German port to the American coast, despite the watchfulness of British and French war vessels.

"I must keep up this traffic alone for the present, that is, the Deutschland must," he said. "In a fortnight I shall be gone, I hope, to return before the end of the year."

It was possible, the navigator stated, that other merchant submarines would be built by that time.

In a summary of his voyage, just completed, Captain Koenig, who returned with decorations from German royalty as marks of recognition for his pioneer voyage, said this was "a quiet trip." Recital of its incidents, however, developed matters of lively interest. The Deutschland did not lie on the ocean floor this time, as in the voyage which ended at Baltimore last July. The submarine instead varied the monotony of its sailing under water or on the surface with occasional dodges beneath vessels identified as warships of belligerent nationality or thought to be.

Seven times, Captain Koenig said, he maneuvered in this way. The last time was off Nantucket when he sighted a "four-funnel steamer" and dived beneath her.

"The storms gave us more trouble than this so-called blockade," he continued. "We were beset by heavy southwest gales for days, and they were with us most of the way across. Fog also hindered us. We might as well have been submerged, the weather was so thick at times."

During the trip of 4,500 miles the Deutschland traveled under water less than 100 miles, 95 I should think," Captain Koenig said.

"They call it blockade. You can judge how much it blocks," the skipper exclaimed.

CONFLICTING ELEMENTS IN MARINA LOSS ARISE.

Issue Threatens to Fall Into Technical Discussion of Whether Germany Has Violated Pledges to U. S.

Washington.—So many conflicting elements have appeared in the destruction of the British steamer Marina by a German submarine, with loss of American lives, that the incident threatens to fall into a technical discussion rather than a clean-cut issue of whether Germany has violated her pledges to the United States.

It became apparent that much which is essential to a determination of the responsibility remains undisclosed, if indeed the United States, Germany or Great Britain are in possession of the full facts.

It appeared certain, however, that no move will be made by the United States until the German version of the affair, as well as that of the destruction of the British steamer Rowanmore, by shellfire with endangering of Americans, has been secured.

The only positive developments were the action of Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, in asking his government to forward full details by wireless and the issuance of a statement by Secretary Lansing, that the investigation would be in no wise delayed because there is a political campaign in progress.

Washington.—Administration officials were surprised when informed that the Mexican American Commission had revoked its decision to make Washington its meeting place. Arrangements had been perfected to accommodate the commissioners here and the Bureau of Pan-American Republics had been chosen for the meeting place. Failure to agree on border difficulties have discouraged state department officials.

CONSPIRACY TO AID REBELS IN MEXICO LEADS TO AN ARREST.

Tucson, Ariz.—Dr. G. R. Servin, a naturalized American, was arrested here charged with conspiracy to export arms to revolutionists in Mexico. Warrants also were issued for a number of other persons. Arms and ammunition were seized by the authorities. Doctor Servin denied any complicity in the plot. Doctor Servin, who is a Spanish-American physician, was released on his own recognizance to await preliminary hearing.

SARDINIA'S SAINTS' DAYS

Each Village Has Its Annual Festival, When it Celebrates the Birthday of Its Patron.

Each "pease" or village of Sardinia has its annual festival to celebrate the birthday of its own particular saint or some other church feast. The most renowned of these is the "festa" of "Saint Eufisid," the national feast of the island. The ceremony is in the form of a procession from Cagliari, the chief city of Sardinia, a village nine miles away, with the return to Cagliari. The saint was an official in the army of Diocletian, and for his conversion to Christianity was beheaded at Pula.

At midday on May 1 the procession leaves and returns on the evening of May 4. It is composed of a cavalcade of horsemen, all in the costume of the ancient Sardinian militia, escorting the image of the saint, which is preceded by musicians playing the launeddas, an instrument made of three or four reeds of different lengths and resembling the pipe of ancient times.

A Solemn Warning. "Do you think our republic is in danger?" "Certainly not," replied Senator Sorghum. "It is reasonably safe now. All I say is that I shudder to think of what may befall it if I should happen not to be re-elected."
