America's Object.

"The object of this war is to deliver the free peoples of the world from the menace and the actual power of a vast military establishment controlled by an irresponsible government which, having secretly planned to dominate the world, proceeded to carry the plan out without regard either to the sacred obligations of treaty or the long established practices and long cherished principles of international action and honor: which chose its own time for the war; delivered its blow fiercely and suddenly; stopped at no barrier either of law or of mercy, swept a whole continent within the tide of blood—not the blood of soldiers only, but the blood of innocent women and children also and of the help less poor; and now stands balked but not defeated, the enemy of four-fifths of the world."—From President Wilson's Reply to the Pope.

PEOPLES AGRICULTURAL FAIR ASSOCIATION.

Catalogue Just Received Contains Many Attractive Features and Big Premiums.

Mr. Wm. H. Stewart, Editor Record, Salisbury, N. C.

Dear Editor:

We thank you under separate cover, copy of our 1917 catalogue and premium list, and for your personal promise. Page 15 shows two attractive premiums. One for INDIVIDUAL fair exhibit, first prize being one hundred dollars, total premiums for individual exhibits amounting to two hundred and twenty-five dollars. We have made the premium lists of a number of other fairs in the state and none of them equal our premium.

Our premium for Farmers' Union, or other Organization, display of Agricultural products, also listed on page 15, is another very attractive premium. Our first prize is fifty dollars, and in addition to this the American Ballast Co. of Knoxville, Tenn., will give a ton car of ground limestone which makes this premium worth fully one hundred and fifty dollars. We are expecting a lively contest for this premium.

The North Carolina Department of Agriculture is cooperating with our fair this year, and it will be seen from pages 17, 18, 19 and 21 some splendid premiums are offered which should bring out a wonderful exhibit in this Department. We are featuring the Agricultural end of our fair, as you will see, and believe the people of the county will appreciate this fact.

Attention is directed to special Sweepstakes prizes on poultry, noted on page 35. These are premiums especially for Rowan county exhibitors.

Our Household Department is complete in every respect and the premiums liberal. We believe the inducements are sufficient to bring out a great variety of household products.

Premiums offered on page 41, for Canning Club Girls, should be encouraging to those who have entered into this important industry in Rowan county. We are expecting displays from each of the nine Clubs in our county, and this alone will be worth the gate fee, if no other part of the fair is considered.

Department G, Ladies Handiwork, promises to be an important feature of the fair. Our premiums in this department are attractive and sufficient to bring out a display of fancy articles.

The Department of Education promises to be fuller in every way, and such a display as will be put on will be an education within itself.

Page 59 describes a special premium of fifty dollars for the best display of Agricultural products, garden vegetables, fruits and home industries by country schools, private families.

We have arranged for five big free acts, fully described

FAITH.

Sept. 18th.—The farmers are busy making tops and fodder in this section.

Bernard Leutz has finished sawing for Clarence Stirewalt last week and has moved his mill home to prepare to gin cotton for the fall season.

Bernard Leutz, his mother, Mrs. Ellen Leutz, and her friend, Miss Eulora Bost of near Oran Church, left early Saturday morning for Asheville where they expect to spend a few days. The party intends to visit Hendersonville where Mr. Leutz runs a wholesale grocery business.

Several people from the Rock Grove settlement went to Salisbury to attend the Lutheran rally and to hear the Rev. Simon P. Long.

Rev. D. G. Phillips, D. D., son of David Gardner Phillips Sr., of Chester, S. C., came to Faith to visit J. T. Wyatt and to find out something about his relatives. He was never here before but was told by his father that this settlement was his old home and he was born here in the old E. E. Phillips residence, which is now standing and is supposed to be over a hundred and thirty years old. His father was a brother to the late E. E. Phillips of Faith which makes him a cousin to E. E. Phillips' children. He called to see them and their children and he took dinner with his second cousin George Ladwick. He said he would make an appointment some time later to preach at the Faith Reformed church here. He visited the old residence where his father was born and raised for the first time he says there are eight children of them.

G. D. Robertson has picked out fifty pounds of cotton of this year's growth. Who ever can beat that for early cotton trot out your farmer.

In this catalogue, and contracted with the Metropolitan Shows for our midway, which is clean throughout. We positively will not tolerate any gambling on our grounds, or allow any show which shows a tendency towards immorality.

We have arranged a program of exciting and amusing races for Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday Fair week. We have races in which the farmers can participate, mule races and horse running races, automobile and motorcycle races. Our last race will be an exciting "Hay Loading Contest and Race", which promises to be a big feature of the fair.

Details for handling the big crowd anticipated at the fair, location of booths, etc., is now being worked out. We propose to have a system for handling and dispatching business, establish a bureau of information for benefit of our exhibitors, and look after everything in general.

Yours very truly,
T. D. BROWN,
Secretary,

DEATH.

Essie, daughter of John Corl, aged about 17, died yesterday at the home of her parents, eight miles southeast of Salisbury, from the effects of typhoid fever.

The funeral took place from the Reformed Church at Faith this morning. Rev. H. A. Welker officiating.

The young granite cutter at Luther Wagoner's, September 21st, is getting along fine. Venus gave him a nickel and a brownie for good luck.

Here are the names of some people who went from Faith to Albemarle to live: Rosa Klutz, David Nance, Mary Frick, John Earnhardt, Ilton Hoffner, Charley Earnhardt and Will Josey.

Mr. and Mrs. Columbus Sloan Bostian and three children, and Mrs. Jessie Wyatt and son and daughter visited J. T. Wyatt in Faith Sunday and had a fine picnic dinner with him. They live above Salisbury on the new Rocksville road.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Miller of Rockwell visited their daughter, Mrs. L. A. Walton at Granite Quarry and got an extra fine dinner. Mrs. Miller spent the night, September 13th, at her daughter's in Faith, Mrs. William Smith.

When the wagons come to our quarry after their hearth rocks, we load them with our derricks and it is just as easy when you know how.

We got the last snapshot with our kodak, of the old Fraley building while it was being torn down in Salisbury.

E. A. Brown has gone to Baltimore for treatment and is improving nicely and is expected home soon.

Rev. and Mrs. H. A. Welker were accompanied home from Pennsylvania by Rev. Welker's cousin, Miss Mabel Goulding. She spent a week with them at home.

Venus took dinner today at Thomas Matthew Morgan's for the first time. Mrs. Morgan is a good cook and has a fine lot of fruit put up in glass jars. We have seen more fruit put up all over the country than we ever saw before. We see great quantities where ever we go. The newspapers told the people to put up fruit in every issue and so the people did, all over the country.

J. Walton has moved his family to Granite Quarry so as to be near his work.

The Ladies Missionary Society of the Reformed church will hold their regular meeting with Mrs. W. S. Barger Saturday, August 29th, at 3 o'clock. Every member is requested to be present.

Joseph Chapman, who is called to go to the war, has moved his household goods in one of P. M. Barger's houses to be taken care of.

Since the Peeler brothers' land has been divided there is going to be some valued lots and houses and lots sold in Faith soon. The sale will be at the court house in Salisbury.

Great Faith in Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy.
