 The following are the local trains between Concord and Atlanta. Nos. 1 and 2 are the fast trains between Atlanta and Washington. Nos. 3 and 4 are the Washington and Southern. Freight Limited trains stop at Concord on sight.

LOCAL AND OTHERWISE.

Several cases of measles are reported in Concord.

D. W. Seider, the sewing machine man, has moved to Salisbury.

Mr. John Troutman left this morning for Danville, to work in a cotton mill.

Mr. L. D. Duval entertained his school class at his home last night.

The Chick Company left last Tuesday. We do not think Concord is a better thereby.

Mrs. Joanna Moyle, of Gold Hill, has a hog recently that weighed 575 pounds. Can Carbons beat that?

Chilled mortgages for sale at this office in quantities of 10 or more at 1 cent each for 75 cents per 100.

Messrs. James Holmsher and John Fisher and Miss Carrie McHaffey retired clerks at Cannons & Fetzer's on the 1st.

Goose Grease, a sure cure for rheumatism, is advertised in this paper. The registrars in Concord sell and guarantee it.

Mr. John S. Smithdale, formerly Concord, now has a position in the stone mill at Milledgeville, Montgomery county.

Mr. G. W. Miller and Miss Minnie Fisher were married in Lexington last Tuesday night. The bride is from Concord and the groom from Mt. Pleasant.

There was no preaching in the Baptist church last Sunday night, owing to the sickness of the pastor, Rev. J. O. Alderman.

Married, on December 25, Mr. Walter Ritchie of Danville, to Miss Lizzie Clayton, of Forest Hill, Rev. J. O. Alderman officiating.

Rev. R. L. Edwards, of Concord, and Miss Gloucest, both colored, were married in the country on Tuesday night of last week.

The "Exposition Flyer" which has been operated by the Southern Railway between Washington and Atlanta the past three months, was withdrawn on the 31st.

We club THE TIMES with the Atlanta Weekly Journal for only $1.50 for both papers a year. Just think of it! The Journal is one of the best papers in the South.

Edgar & Bryan, present managers of the Central Hotel in Charlotte, have leased the Buford House and moved over and took charge of it on the first of January.

We learn from the Charlotte Observer that Dr. Wakefield, the oculist, has gone to New York and Philadelphia for a two weeks stay in the eye and throat hospital.

This silver question is bound to keep coming up again. A man out in Concord won't allow his children to go to Sunday school where they teach a "golden text."

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the G. W. Patterson Manufacturing Company will be held at the mill on Tuesday, January 14, at 11 o'clock a. m.

Mrs. J. H. Mason gave a reception at her home on last Monday evening complimentary to Miss Essie Plummer, of Charlotte. The occasion was a pleasant one, and many young people were present.

There was a considerable wind storm here last Thursday evening. The smoke stack at the dynamo was blown down, and as a consequence there were no lights in town until it could be rebuilt, which was not until Saturday evening.

About 3 o'clock last Friday morning the fire bell sounded an alarm. Very few people knew of it, however. The fire was in the fire house at the mill factory, and was discovered by the night watchman. The fire was extinguished before any damage was done.

Mrs. Jesse Hathcock died at Forest Hill last Saturday after a long illness with fever. Several others in the family were sick, and they were in almost destitute circumstances. They have been very kind and subservient attention, however, by the good people of Concord.

Mr. Arthur V. Scott, of Mt. Pleasant, and Miss Ada DeLand, of Rowan, were married Christmas morning by Rev. C. A. Marks at his home. The wedding was quite a surprise, only two or three knowing that it was to take place. The Salisbury World says.

We want all our subscribers who wish to pay in advance, and in order to encourage them to do this we will give a subscription to the Women's Health Journal free of charge. This is a splendid publication, and a free sample can be obtained at our office.

Spencerfield's horse hitched to his delivery wagon ran away on Main street last Saturday evening. He nearly ran into the Balmoro Barzard House, the wheels grazing the posts in front of the house. The wagon was pretty badly torn up. Two negro boys, who were riding around, were run over.

We were glad to see Dr. L. M. Kitz, of Clinch, Mo., in our office last week. Dr. Kitz is a native of this section, and is again visiting friends and relatives in this county and Rowan. He came by Atlanta to see the Exposition. He will return to Missouri in about three weeks.

Henry Morrison, a well known character about town, was last week arrested by Chief Boger for selling white liquor. There are several "good" cases against him, and he will no doubt be convicted. If so, we hope he will be made an example of. He was put in jail in default of bond.

We have free sample copies of the Home and Farm and Woman's Health Journal, which we will be glad to distribute to our friends. We send the paper a whole year free of charge to all who pay in advance for THE TIMES. We send our paper and the Home and Farm, the best farm paper published, both for only $1.25 a year in advance.

—Capt. J. M. Alexander has moved his tailoring business in the front end of the Standard office.

—Little James Elliott, who was very ill with membranous croup, is better this morning.

—There were two balls in town last night, one at Patterson's Hall and the other at the Morris House.

—Rev. W. M. Shaw, pastor of Bethpage church, was nicely "pounded" by his appreciative congregation Christmas.

—The bank and telegraph office took holiday yesterday. The postoffice did not, although it was a legal holiday.

—Jesse Koombs and Lura Boger, both colored, got into a fight yesterday, and were before the mayor. No damage was done.

—The young ladies of the town gave a grand leap year ball last night. There were a number of visiting young men present.

—The Concord girls who are attending school at Mt. Airy Seminary, Mt. Pleasant, returned to that institution yesterday.

—Mr. Thompson Boger, son of Mr. Allen Boger, of No. 10, was married on Thursday last week to Miss Price, of Union county.

—The colored people here had their usual celebration of "manicipation day" yesterday. There was no end to marching and the beating of drums.

—Misses Jennie, Effie and Vallie Brown gave a reception last Tuesday night. A jovial party watched the old year out and the new one in.

—James L. Watson, of Salisbury, came down Tuesday night to make Concord his home. He has a position with the Old Mercantile Co.

—The house of William Cook, of No. 10, was burned up last Friday. Everything except some bed clothes was destroyed. The fire caught in some way from the stove.

—Communion services will be held in the Presbyterian church next Sunday morning. Preparatory services will be held Friday night and Saturday morning.

—Mrs. Robert Blackwelder and Mrs. Joseph Blackwelder, both of No. 4, died Tuesday night. The former died of pneumonia, and the latter had been ill some time.

—Mrs. W. J. Lyles, of No. 5, died Tuesday night of pneumonia. The remains were interred at Mt. Gilead Wednesday, the pastor, Rev. B. F. Davis, conducting the services.

—Mr. W. L. Bell, who was to have opened out a new furniture store at the King store yesterday, has sold out his stock to Dry & Wadsworth, and will have a position with that firm.

—Tickets to the Atlanta Exposition were taken off sale Monday night, and the big show closed its gates for good Tuesday night. It is believed to have been a success financially, as well as otherwise.

—Dr. R. L. Payne and family left Lexington Monday for their new home in Norfolk, Va. A number of country people rode miles through the rain to see them off and to bid them a sad goodbye.

—Mr. John N. Barringer, well known here, was married last week to Miss Lella Dayvault, a sister of the Messrs. Dayvault, of Concord. They went to Washington on a bridal tour, and were visiting here last week and part of this. We tender congratulations.

—Mr. John Creasy, son of Rev. Dr. Creasy, was married in Charlotte last June to Miss Clara Gaston. They were very young, and their parents objected, so they went to South Carolina to get married. They kept it a secret until last Tuesday. They left Tuesday night for the groom's home in Winston.

—Mr. Charles Alexander will have a position hereafter with Lowe & Son, which firm has moved into the room lately occupied by Sims & Alexander. The latter firm sold out their stock to the different merchants of the town, and went out of business on the 31st ult.

—We call special attention to the advertisement of the Concord Marble Works, of which Messrs. Briggs & Uley are proprietors. These young men deserve a good patronage. They do all kinds of marble work, and do it well. Get their designs and prices before closing a trade with anybody.

—Probably not many people are aware that December just passed was different from any other since the beginning of the Christian era. December, 1895, enjoyed the unique privilege of having two new moons, which is a phenomenon that has not occurred in any December in 1,896 years.

—Mrs. R. W. McDowell, of Steel Creek, Mecklenburg county, died last Wednesday night, aged about 60 years. She had been in bad health for several years, but her death was not expected. Mrs. McDowell was the mother of Mrs. S. J. Lowe, of Concord, who left Sunday morning to attend the funeral services.

—The occasion of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. A. Cline's China wedding last Saturday night was one of the most pleasant of the season. About 100 guests were present, and from 7:30 to 11:30 Mr. Cline's handsome residence was a scene of enjoyment. The supper was elegant and the presents many and expensive.

—Mr. Wm. Smithdale, a prominent business man of Salisbury, well known here, was married on Wednesday of last week to Miss Carrie Rendleman, of Salisbury. The marriage was a surprise. The bride was the organist of the Lutheran church at Salisbury. The bride and groom went to Atlanta on a bridal tour.

—There was a homicide in No. 3, on Christmas day. The particulars are meagre, but it seems that it occurred at Wallace's store. A negro, Henry York, shot another negro, John Steble with a shotgun. It seems that it was accidental, as York was shooting at some one else. Steele died the next day. York escaped.

—Mr. Eli Miller, an aged farmer who lived near Gold Hill, was found dead in his bed on Wednesday of last week, says the Salisbury World. The old gentleman had lived out his three score years and ten and more. The cause of his death is not known, but it is supposed that it was caused by heart failure. He was a widower and lived with his only daughter, Mrs. George Fisher.

—Mr. Philip Hartsell, of Greensboro, was married last Thursday to Miss Lulu Pinnix, of Reidsville. The bride and groom came to Concord that night on a visit to the groom's brother, Mr. J. L. Hartsell, and later went to No. 10 on a visit to his father, Mr. J. A. Hartsell. They returned to Concord Tuesday, remaining a day or so, when they returned to Greensboro.

Mrs. W. J. Hall and children, of Wilmington, who spent the holidays here, left Tuesday for home.

Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Smith, of Lynchburg, who were visiting at Mrs. M. G. Deaton's, returned home Monday.

Mr. F. Victor Barrier and wife returned to Salisbury Saturday night after visiting friends and relatives in this county.

Rev. T. A. Smoot, headmaster of Trinity College, was visiting his brother here Saturday and Sunday. He returned Monday morning.

Prof. Leo Wheat, the noted musician, of Richmond, is in Concord, the guest of Dr. R. S. Young. He gave a recital at Dr. Young's Tuesday evening.

Rev. E. E. Campbell, President of Irving College, Mecklenburg, Pa., accompanied by Mr. D. R. Hoover last week. He is a brother of Rev. W. G. Campbell.

Mrs. L. B. Clegg, of Dallas, Texas, arrived in Concord last week on a visit to the family of her father, Mr. W. M. Smith. Her many friends were glad to see her.

Messrs. H. S. Puryear, Will Gibson, Joe Fisher, Richard Gibson, Joe Hill and Pink Misenheimer left Tuesday morning for the Narrows in Montgomery county on a fishing and hunting expedition.

Mr. W. B. Winslow of New York arrived in Concord last Sunday morning and spent the day with his sister, Mrs. D. B. Colman. He had been to Chattanooga on legal business, he is an attorney and a member of a prominent firm in New York.

—There were interesting Christmas exercises at Bethpage church in No. 4 on Christmas eve. Instead of the usual tree there was a large ship laden with presents for all. Speeches were made by Dr. LaForty, Mr. C. M. B. Goodnight and Mr. T. A. Flerng.

—Mr. David L. Parish, a well-known citizen of No. 11, died last Friday. His death being the result of a stroke of paralysis received some time since. Mr. Parish was 77 years old and leaves a wife and eight children, seven sons and one daughter. He was a member of Rocky River Presbyterian church, and the funeral services were conducted on Saturday by Rev. Mr. Lancaster.

—Rev. David Tatum, of Denver, Col., an aged Quaker evangelist, delivered a temperance lecture in Forest Hill church last Saturday night, and preached at Central church Sunday night on special Providence and Divine leading. Mr. Tatum has lectured and preached in every State in the Union and also in England. He has been preaching 40 years and was never a pastor. His wife, who died recently, was a minister of the Friends church for 30 years.

Atty at the Odell Factory.

On last Monday evening just after 6 o'clock a man named Miss Overcash went to the Odell factory, having announced beforehand, we learn, that he was going there to whip Mr. W. A. Wood, who is the boss of the factory. He went in the factory and began cursing, when Mr. Wood ordered him out. He had some words, when Overcash reached for his rear pocket as if to draw a pistol. Mr. Wood picked up a piece of iron lying near and hit Overcash. Overcash went out of the factory and started to his boarding house, which was at Mr. G. M. Walters'. When in front of Mrs. L. P. Cole's he set up a terrible yelling and alarmed the whole neighborhood. Exhausted from his wounds (he was drinking too), he fell down on the pavement. He was soon picked up and a doctor sent for. Drs. Lilly, Arceby and Reed arrived and gave him attention. His head was badly bruised, and he was unconscious, remaining so for a number of hours. He was taken to Mr. Walters', after his wife, who he remains there.

Overcash is a man of shady character. He was dismissed from the Odell factory some time since by Mr. Wood, and it is supposed this was the grievance that aggravated the attack. A pistol and a pair of brass knuckles were found on his person.

Mr. Wood was bound over for his appearance at next term of court. Montgomery & Crowell will defend him.

Overcash is in a very critical condition. Drs. Lilly and Arceby went yesterday to perform an operation on his head, but found his condition for that, and of course did not perform it. He is not expected to live.

The Holiday Germans.

The holiday Germans at Patterson's Hall on Wednesday and Thursday nights were greatly enjoyed by a large number of our young people. On Wednesday night the following were the couples:

Miss Addie Cannon, C. R. Montgomery, Miss Margaret Cannon, Frank O. Rogers, Miss Kate Means, Ed. Moss, Miss Belle Means, Joe Goodman, Miss Sallie Erwin, C. L. Smith, Miss Fannie Rogers, Ed. P. Hill, Miss Janie Ervin, Armistead Burwell, Charlotte, Miss Emily Clifton, A. J. York, Miss Fannie Erwin, Monday, Augustus Bingham, Salisbury; Miss Elizabeth Gibson, Joe Cannon; Miss Agnes Moss, Maury Richmond; Miss Lalla Hill, Herbert Keseler; Miss Fannie Hill, Earl Brown; Miss Eunice Beach, Morrison; Mrs. Morris; Miss Gertrude Pharr, Chalmers White; Miss Esther Ervin, George L. Patterson.

The following additional gentlemen and ladies were present.

Messrs. Ralph VanLandingham, Charlotte; W. T. Powe, Frank B. Davis, S. T. Pearson, of New York; Mr. M. M. Gillon; Will Neave, Salisbury; Frank L. Smith, Dr. and Mrs. R. S. Young, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Beach, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hurley, Mrs. M. L. Brown, Mrs. Laura Moss and Mrs. Mack Davis, Concord.

The German was repeated on Thursday night. The dancing began at 8 o'clock. Mr. J. F. Yorke was leader, and Messrs F. L. Smith and F. O. Rogers were floor managers.

PERSON-ERIN.

Mr. Samuel T. Pearson, of Morganton, and Miss Esther G. Ervin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Ervin, of Concord, were married on Thursday evening of last week at 7 o'clock at the residence of the bride, Rev. W. C. Alexander performing the ceremony. The marriage at the time was a surprise to most of our people, as it was understood that it was to occur about the 15th inst. The marriage was solemnized in the presence of relatives and a few intimate friends, who had been apprised of it, and was a quiet one.

The bride has lived in Concord all her life, and numbers her friends by the score. She is very popular and attractive, and was one of Concord's most beautiful young ladies, and a leader in society. Mr. Pearson has won a charming bride, and Morganton is richer by the acquisition. Mr. Pearson is one of the most prominent business men of Morganton, and belongs to an old and well known family. He is cashier of the Piedmont Bank, and is connected with other important business interests in his town.

The bride and groom left on the vestibule for New York and other northern points.

Terrible Explosion at Salisbury.

There was a terrible accident at Salisbury last Tuesday evening of last week. Some boys were shooting at a mark on Smithdale's powder house about a mile out from town, when the powder suddenly exploded, caused it, is thought, by the jar from the bullet. George Weaver was instantly killed, and his brother nearly killed. The magazine and the vicinity were swept clean of almost every vestige except some large trees which were left standing. Mr. Weaver, who was badly hurt, is still alive, and hopes are entertained for his recovery. The loss by the jar of the explosion, by breakage of glass and window sash, is considerable. It is estimated that between $50 and $80 worth of glass was broken at Lexington, and at the Salisbury Cotton Mills the loss was perhaps $50. Chesnut Hill chapel, the Catholic church and other places will run the loss up to several hundred dollars.

Our Roll of Honor.

The following have paid their subscriptions since our last issue:

Jas. L. Leffer, B. S. Sloan, (part), D. A. Tesse, Alfred Klutz, (part), Mrs. Mary A. Barnhardt, O. O. Bryan, C. B. Patterson, A. F. Cline, (part), W. R. Likker, A. J. J. York, A. S. Dayvault.

The following have paid in advance:

J. N. Winecock, Joseph Young, J. M. Dry, Mrs. Bettie M. Johnson, Dr. L. M. Klutz, Mrs. Margaret Patterson, J. R. Likker, A. A. Shank, M. L. Brown, A. M. Brown, D. P. Dayvault.

A Bright Young Preacher.

Rev. T. A. Smoot, headmaster of Trinity High School (old Trinity College) preached at Central Methodist church last Sunday morning, and at Forest Hill at night. He is a very young man, but a remarkably bright and promising one. His sermons would have done credit to a much older and more experienced man. He will be heard from in the coming years. Mr. Smoot is a brother of Dr. J. E. Smoot and Mr. Marvin Smoot, and a nephew of Mr. D. P. Dayvault.

Mr. John Blackwelder, of Newberry, S. C., spent part of the Christmas holidays with his father, Mr. Noah Blackwelder, in No. 4.

On Christmas Day, Rev. J. O. Alderman, pastor of the Baptist church, spent Christmas in a way which brought to him, no doubt, real pleasure. He spent the day visiting up those who were newly and deserts, and it was glad to say that he found no more than one family. To the needs of this family he ministered in a substantial way. Mr. Alderman thus writes to this week's Biblical Recorder:

On Christmas day I went around and inquired about the needy and suffering in our town. After enquiring of physicians, policemen, ministers, and laymen generally I found only one family in absolute want. This was the only family I found that had not had "some Christmas." There may be other families, but I failed to find them. I think that few towns as large as Concord (six thousand population) can make a better showing than this. And it is a town of churches. And I feel sure that this largely answers for the delightful abuse of want and suffering among our people."

Fire Alarm.

Monday evening at 6 o'clock an alarm of fire was sent down from the factory by telephone. The fire bell was rung at once, and in a few moments the streets were alive with people on their way to the factory, although a heavy rain was falling. It was discovered that the fire was at the Forest Hill Parsonage. It was discovered under the window on the second floor. It was soon extinguished. It is not known yet how the fire originated, but it is thought that it was caused by a small fire in the room for five days.

It has since been learned that the nurse started the fire. It seems that she had twice before set fire to articles in different places of the house. When asked about it she acknowledged it, and did not seem to mind it much. Of course she was at once dismissed. The damage by the fire was about $25.

Georgeville Items.

Prof. W. M. Brooks returned home Thursday from a trip to Chatham and started his school.

Messrs. P. E. Bivins and A. P. Widwell returned from the exposition last week.

Prof. J. F. Shan of Concord was visiting here Sunday and Monday.

We regret to see Mr. W. L. Widenhouse and wife move to Concord. They wish their many friends around here who wish them a speedy recovery.

Mr. J. W. Furr, of No. 4 township, has moved with us. He formerly lived here and has many friends to welcome him again.

Old squire Widenhouse is lying very ill at his son-in-law's, Mr. A. M. Furr. We wish him a speedy recovery. He is the oldest man in our county.

Jason Furr, Hiram Cox and Luther Best were arraigned before Martin M. Furr, Esq. for breaking in Mr. D. M. Widenhouse's store and taking their Xmas. They compromised and paid for the goods. Is that right?

Burned With Powder.

Three small boys, Charlie Seamore, Will Parker and Charlie Parker, were playing near the depot with a piece of piping filled with powder on Christmas day. They wanted to see it explode, and they saw that they wanted too soon. They touched a match to it but it didn't go off at once, and Will Barnhardt went to see what was the matter. While he was fooling with it it went off. His eyes were both badly burned, and it is thought are entirely out. The other boys were severely burned also.
