BILL ARP'S LETTERS.

This hazing business at West Point perplexes me. I've been trying to philosophize upon it and find a reason for it, but cannot. It is the most brutal and senseless thing that young men calling themselves gentlemen were ever guilty of. The evidence already submitted has shocked the nation, and it cannot be stopped. The nation is ready right now to abolish the institution. It is a disgrace to humanity. But what concerns me is to find a plausible reason for it—an excuse or a palliation. The hazers say that it is to try a young man's metal, his courage. That is false, of course, for it requires no metal or courage to stand guard over a dead rat or march alongside a turtle or terrapin. The whole course of treatment is one of devilish cruelty and insanity. We are told that some of those hazers were considered very good, kind-hearted boys at home before they went to West Point. I know of one who was faithful and kind—a good watch dog and fond of my children. I own a flock of sheep and he protected them, but when other dogs from the neighborhood came after him in the dead hour of night and gave the sign he would go with them two or three miles and help to kill a sheep and he back at his post on the piazza by daylight. I would not believe it for a long time, but the neighbors came and found wool in his teeth and he had to be killed. I reckon that's what the matter with those good-boy hazers. They have got wool in their teeth and to my opinion, they ought to be treated like the Frenchman did his dog. He wanted to break him of sucking eggs, so he hung him by the hind legs to a limb and let him swing for a day or two. A neighbor said: "Why don't you hang him by the neck and let him choke to death?" "No sare," he said, "my nangs heem by de legs to geve hem time to tink vat a tam rascal he vas." Those hazers ought to be hung by their hind legs until they had time to repent. The catalogue of cruel and ridiculous things that those cowards inflict upon a freshman is fearful. Some of them are unfit for publication. I say "cowards" because it is a maxim that a cruel man is a coward. If they really wish to test a young man's metal or courage why don't they shut him in a room and go in one at a time and fight him fist and skull. They are cowards, and they will be until they are right. Filippino hands will graduate cowards and smell the battle from afar, and let the privates do the fighting. They are of the same breed as General Miles, who put the manacles on Jefferson Davis and tried to lie out of it. He won his spurs in Cuba by getting on top of a hill and crying "Beef, beef, beef." It reminds me of Patrick Henry's great speech during the first revolution, in which he scared a man for crying beef, beef, beef, while the patriots were fighting for independence. I have but little patience with the cowards who call themselves General George C. Thomas and "Black Jack" Logan in a New York paper. Well, I know all about them. I have now in my possession a letter written to me by Thomas in which he denounces us all as traitors and guilty of treason and says that treason equals all the crimes in the world. General George C. Thomas and "Black Jack" Logan in a New York paper. Well, I know all about them. I have now in my possession a letter written to me by Thomas in which he denounces us all as traitors and guilty of treason and says that treason equals all the crimes in the world.

Going to Utah.
SALISBURY, Jan. 11.—Mormon elders have been prosecuting their labors in the remoter parts of Rowan county for nearly a year, but it was not believed that they had made any head and feet converts. The two elders in charge of this work have also distributed tracts in Salisbury. Now comes the story from St. Paul's, in the eastern part of the county, that Mr. George Goodman, a substantial farmer and good citizen, has sold his land and is disposing of his personal effects with the intention of moving to Utah with his family. He will be able to take between $2,000 and $3,000 worth of his property. The elders have made Goodman's house their home for several months past. He is about 60 years old and has a wife and four children.

His "Pint."
The logic of some Bible readers reminds us of the story of an old colored preacher who made the assertion in his pulpit that every woman had seven devils in her. He was promptly challenged by the irate female members of his flock to make good his assertion. He announced that on a certain Sunday he would give scripture proof of what he had said.

When the time came he gave his proof as follows: "Brudders ar sisters, you have all done heard and read dat de Lord done cast seven devils out of one woman. But, brudders and sisters, you have not done heard and read dat he cast de devils out of any other woman. Dere vas, ef de Lawd would cast de devils out of one woman, he all do under women has de devils in dem yet. So, accordin' to de plain readin' of de scriptures, ebbery woman has seven devils in her. Dat's my pint."

Brought Good Fortune.
A small item in his own paper lately brought amazing good fortune to Editor Chris. Reiter of the Saguway (Mich.) Post and Zeitung. He and his family had the Grip in its worst form. Their doctor did them no good. Then he read that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds was a guaranteed cure for La Grippe and all Throat and Lung troubles; tried it and says: "Three bottles cured the whole family. No other medicine on earth equals it." Only 50c and $1.00 at P. B. Fetzner's drug store. Trial bottles free.

A Closed Incident.
A man left his umbrella in the stand in a Paris (Mo.) hotel recently, with a card bearing the following inscription attached to it: "This umbrella belongs to a man who can deal a blow of 250 pounds weight. I shall be back in 10 minutes." On returning to seek his property he found in its place a card thus inscribed: "This card was left by a man who can run 12 miles an hour. I shall not be back."

A Prominent Chicago Woman Speaks.
Prof. Roxa Tyler, of Chicago, Vice-President Illinois Woman's Alliance, in speaking of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, says: "I suffered with a severe cold this winter which threatened to end in pneumonia. I tried different remedies but I seemed to grow worse and the medicine upset my stomach. A friend advised me to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and I found it was pleasant to take and it relieved me at once. I was not entirely recovered, saved a doctor's bill, time and suffering, and I will never be without this splendid medicine again." For sale by M. L. Marsh.

THE LEGISLATURE.

THE SENATE.
RALEIGH, Jan. 10.—Lieutenant Governor Reynolds called the Senate to order at noon. The message from Governor Daniel L. Russell was then presented and read by the clerk. A resolution by Woodard, to print 500 copies of the Governor's message was adopted.

Gudger, of Buncombe, laid the matter of the Appalachian Park Association before the body in the nature of a petition. Later he will introduce a bill on the subject.

Home bill: To amend the charter of the State Bank of Commerce of Hendersonville, decreasing its capital stock, was read and referred.

A communication from the executive committee of the State Hospital for the Insane here was read, asking that an appropriation be made immediately for the care of dangerous insane, who were provided for in the appropriations of 1899.

A bill was introduced by Glenn, to repeal the Greenboro dispensary law of 1899. It provides that the dispensary board shall have until July 1st next to dispose of all liquors on hand and making formal report to the county commissioners. Glenn explained the measure saying a white primary of Guilford had decided by a large majority that they wanted it abolished. McNeill said a white primary had been called in Cumberland to decide the question there and he would abide by their judgment. Foushee wanted the bill referred to committee. Glenn said it was a local measure and was a necessary man, but yielded to the voice of the majority and saw no reason for delay. Aycock spoke of the necessity of raising money for public schools and thought taxing liquor was the best way to do it, even if it was necessary for the State to go into the dispensary business. He wanted the measure to go slow on this bill. Glenn explained that the interests of all were protected by this bill.

Foushee's motion was lost and the bill passed second and third readings. On motion of Ward, the Senate then adjourned until 10:30 to-morrow.

THE HOUSE.
Speaker Moore called the House to order at 11 o'clock.

Bills were introduced as follows: By Nichols, to amend the constitution of North Carolina in reference to school lands; by Blythe, to incorporate the Bank of Hendersonville; by Craig, to increase the number of judges of the Supreme Court and abolish the Criminal Courts; by Wright, to provide judicial district with a stenographer; by Wright, to make education compulsory; by Gaither, to repeal laws of 1897-'99, relating to divorce; by Stubbs, to amend section 2, article 9, of the constitution; by Wright, to amend article 9 of the constitution, relating to school tax of the white and colored races.

A resolution permitting no costs in unsuccessful contests in cases was referred to the committee on elections.

At noon the Governor's message was received and was read. It was ordered printed.

Chief of importance among the lot of bills introduced to-day were the following: By Rountree, to create a Code commission of three members at $2,000 a year salary, and a clerk at $1,000; to revise and codify the public laws; the appointments to be made by the Governor; to provide for a permanent on the merits of the provision giving the Governor the naming of the commission is all favorable. A leading lawyer says that in this way only can the much needed revision of the Code be secured and that it will save a vast deal of time and money in the future.

By Nichols, of Pitt, to amend the constitution so as to apply white taxes to white schools; negro taxes to negro schools. The measure was referred to the committee on education.

By Wright, of Rowan, to regulate hours of labor for children under 11 in factories; limits the hours of work for children between 11 and 15 to 10; complete school three months in each year; limit the hours of labor for operations over 15 at 11, unless there is special contract.

SENATE.
RALEIGH, Jan. 11.—Lieutenant Governor Reynolds called the Senate to order at 11 o'clock.

Bills were introduced and referred as follows: To amend section 1831 of the Code, giving husband same right to sell property as wife in certain cases; to repeal section of the Code prohibiting formation of corporations with capital over one million dollars; by Woodard, to amend chapter 1295 of the Code, relating to grounds for divorce.

Morrison, from the committee on salaries and fees, reported the bill of Senator Justice to amend the Code, increasing the Governor's salary from $3,000 to $4,000 annually, Scott and Thomas dissenting. Thomas said the money ought to be used for school purposes. Morrison moved to refer the bill to the judiciary committee was lost and the bill passed, ayee 35; noes 12.

The House bill to abolish a term of the Superior Court in Mitchell was placed on the calendar. A bill to elect justices of the peace for Harnett county was taken up on motion of Currie and passed, after being amended by adding the notifying clause.

Foushee sent up a petition from Durham school teachers for a compulsory school law.

The Senate then adjourned until 11

THE SPIRIT OF TRUE CHARITY.

Senator Woodard's bill relative to divorce allows a wife a divorce when the husband is guilty of a felony and sentenced to imprisonment for a term of five years or more, thus creating another reason for divorce. The bill applies only where the husband is convicted.

HOUSE.
Speaker Moore convened the House at 11 o'clock.

Bills were introduced as follows: By Sims, appropriating $250,000 for public schools; by Hayes, to prevent kidnapping and secure custody of children; by Owen, to regulate cost of claim and delivery; by Wright, to remove the disabilities of married women; by Lawrence, to provide for foreclosure of mortgages; by Britton, to repeal chapter 22, laws of '98, relating to possession of lands; by Marlon, to repeal laws relating to divorce; by Wright, to repeal chapter 54, laws of 1885; by Wright, to have Bible taught in public schools; by Allen, to expedite the trial of civil actions; by Connor, to employ a typewriter for clerk of the Superior Court; by Page, to abolish January term of Superior Court in Montgomery county.

The Greenboro dispensary bill came up and McLeop, of Scotland, asked that it be referred to a committee. Robinson, of Guilford, urged that the bill be passed immediately to carry out the pledge of the Representatives of the county in obedience to the wishes of 2,000 majority of the white voters of Guilford county. The bill then passed its third and final reading, McLeop withdrawing his motion to send to committee.

The bill to amend The Code, increasing the salary of the Governor from $2,000 was a motion of B. F. Frazier, referred to a committee, was reported. Adopted. The Speaker appointed as the special committee: Rountree, Hood, Hayes, Collaps and Robinson.

The House at 1:30 adjourned to 11 o'clock Saturday.

THE SIXTH INauguration of Diaz.
Review of Reviews.
Mexico certainly has every reason to cherish its good relations with this country, which have had so much to do with its recent tranquility and prosperity. It has had the good fortune to let well enough alone in political affairs, and to continue in office, from term to term, a president who has known how to maintain order and keep out of foreign complications. President Porfirio Diaz was inaugurated on December 1st, for the sixth time. He was first elected president in 1876, when he served one term and was succeeded by Gonzalez. In 1884, Diaz was elected again by a great majority, and since then the one-term provision of the constitution has been of no consequence to him. He has been in office from term to term. His recent re-elections have involved no more contest, apparently, than Washington encountered in his two elections. He has transformed the country over which he presides. It is said that during the five years previous to his first election there had been in Mexico more than two hundred revolutions and about fifty different rulers. Diaz has wholly changed all this. He has been wise enough to cultivate American friendship and to welcome American railways, mines, and investors. He has been successful in his policy of requiring the study of the English language. In the quarter-century of his rule he has seen the population of the country increase about 50 per cent., while its production, industry and wealth have increased in a far higher ratio, and its petty wrongs which have brought disorder into an excellent condition. From small beginnings, Diaz has seen the railway system grow until now more than eight thousand miles are under operation. This great administrator, whose achievements entitle him to be ranked with the foremost statesmen of his generation, was seventy years old on the 15th of the last September.

Says a Person Cannot Do a Wrong When in a Trance.
For a conscientious person to do anything morally wrong while in a hypnotic trance is quite impossible, according to Prof. J. R. Angell, of Chicago. In a lecture at the Fine Arts Building Prof. Angell said that many cases had been brought up in courts in which it was alleged that hypnotic trances were induced in criminals and that they had committed crimes. He said that he did not believe this view could be sustained in any ordinary case.

Prof. Angell made a strong appeal for laws prohibiting the practice of scientific experiments on human beings. "The idea is often expressed that people with weak wills or abnormal minds are the most easily susceptible to the influence of hypnotism. This statement can be refuted when it is taken into consideration that idiots, insane people and very young children cannot be subjected to the influence. The fact remains that it requires considerable mental ability to focus the mind and control curiosity, so that the condition of acting at the will of the operator can be obtained."

Not a Beehive.
The following is to be at the expense of an American gentleman who was recently stopping with his wife at the Hotel Cecil. On their first evening together the gentleman was somewhat later than his spouse. Arriving at the door of what he imagined to be his room, and finding it locked, he tapped and called "Honey!" No answer came, and he called again and more loudly, "Honey!" Still he got no reply, and, becoming somewhat uneasy, he shouted the endearing term with his full lung power. This time a reply came, and in a male voice: "Go away, you blithering idiot! This is a bathroom, not a blooming beehive!"

It is stated that the South Carolina dispensary bill shows a gain in business of about a million dollars for the year just passed, with a corresponding gain in profits.

ONE OF VANCE'S TALES.

The story is told of Senator Vance of North Carolina, the champion storyteller of the south, who had a broad stripe of Calumet down his back, though he was not a communicant of the church, while riding along in Beaufort county one day he overtook a venerable dabbler, with whom he thought he would have a little fun.

"Uncle," said the governor, "are you going to church?"
"No sar, not exactly—I'm gwine back from church."
"You're a Baptist, I reckon—ain't you?"
"No, sar, I ain't no Baptist, do' most of the breeden ar' sistern about here has been under the water."
"Methodist, then?"
"No, sar, I ain't no Methodist, nadder."
"Campbellite?"
"No, sar, I can't errogate to myself de Campbellite way of thinkin'."
"Well, what in the name of goodness are you, then?" rejoined the governor, remembering the narrow range of choice of religions among the North Carolina negroes.

"Well, de fac' is, sar, my old master was a herud of de cross in de Presbyterian church, an' I fetch up in dat faith."
"What! You don't mean in dat way that is my church?"
The negro making no comment on the announcement, Governor Vance went at him again.

"And do you believe in all the Presbyterian doctrines?"
"Yes, sar, dat I does."
"Do you believe in the doctrine of predestination?"
"I dunno dat I recognize de name, sar."
"Why, do you believe that if a man is elected to be saved, he will be saved, and if he is elected to be lost, he will be lost?"
"Oh, yes, boss, I believe dat. It's gospel talk, dat is."

"Well, now, take my case. Do you believe that I am elected to be saved?"
The old man struggled for a moment with his desire to be respectful and polite, and then shook his head dejectedly.
"Come, now, answer my question," pressed the governor. "What do you say?"
"Well, I'll tell you what 'us, Mars Zeb; I's been libbin' in dis new world night on 60 years, and I nebber yet heard of any man bein' 'lected 'bout he was a candidate."

Mr. Bryan's Noble Words.
Atlanta Journal.
Whatever may be said of the plans and policies advocated by Mr. Bryan in his Jackson day speech at Chicago last night in the manner in which he alluded to his own interests and prospects was certainly admirable. He said: "I am now a private citizen, with excellent prospects of remaining such. I intend to continue actively in the discussion of public questions and do not desire to be embarrassed by being placed in the attitude of a candidate for any office. In selecting journalism as my best field for usefulness, I am aware that I am placing myself in a position where I can give more aid to others than to myself, but the field is chosen deliberately because I am more interested in the promulgation of Democratic principles than I am in enjoying any honors which my countryman can bestow."

A Deep Mystery.
It is a mystery why women endure Backache, Headache, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Melancholy, Fainting and Dizzy Spells when thousands have profited by Electric Bitters will quickly cure such troubles. "I suffered for years with kidney trouble," writes Mrs. Phoebe Cherley, of Peterson, Ia., "and a lame back pained me so I could not dress myself, but Electric Bitters, which cured me, although 73 years old, I now am able to do all my housework." It overcomes Constipation, improves Appetite, gives perfect health. Only 50c at P. B. Fetzner's drug store.

Mrs. Farris, wife of Editor J. J. Farris, of The High Point Enterprise, died on the 9th. She had been suffering from an affection of the lungs for the past year or more.
