TWO VERDICTS.

She was a woman, worn and thin, Whom the world condemned for a single sin; They cast her out on the king's highway, And passed her by as they went to pray. He was a man, and more to blame But the world spared him a breath of sham Beneath his feet he saw her lie. But raised his head and passed her by.

Time passed on and the woman died. On the Cross of Shame she was crucified But the world was stern and would not yield And they buried her in the Potter's Field.

Two mortals, knocking at Heaven's gate,

O! ye who judge 'twixt virtue and vice.
Which, think you, entered to Paradise?
Not he who the world had said would win.
For the woman alone was ushered in.
—Arthur Lewis Tubbs.
