Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys are your blood purifiers. They filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work. Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unstable heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries. It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble. If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail. Write to Dr. Kilmer, P. O. Box 539, Binghamton, N. Y. Also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

SAM JONES WRITES OF NORTH CAROLINA.

Atlanta Journal.

The pastors, churches and good people of Greensboro, N. C., when Brother Stuart and myself, at their solicitation, agreed to start an evangelistic meeting in Greensboro May 1, proceeded to arrange and seat one of their largest tobacco warehouses and when we arrived here we found that the best arrangements had been made and everything in good shape for the beginning of the meeting May 1. They have seats for four thousand people, and perhaps five thousand or more crowd into the building at every service. The unity of the churches and pastors is charming in these days of divisions and ecclesiastical cliques.

The meetings from the start with their crowds and interest, have manifested the desire of the people for a great old-fashioned revival. This is the first meeting in which Brother Stuart and I have joined hands for nearly two years. My health has been in such condition that I have been forced to do lighter work. In the meantime Brother Stuart has gone steadily on with his revival work, with great success both north, south, east and west. It is a great joy to both of us that my health is in such condition as that we can be yoked up together again in a great meeting. I am stronger now than I have been in five years, and preach with less sense of physical tiredness, and if my health shall continue to improve, I shall go back fully into the evangelistic field, for surely the field is white unto the harvest. I had much rather preach the gospel in these great meetings for $1.00 per day than stand on the lecture platform at $200 per night. It, however, takes five times as much physical strength and energy to pull through one of these great meetings as to carry nightly engagements on the platform for weeks. I am sure that I have been much misunderstood and much misjudged along this line, but those who have been closest to me know that from 1890 to 1900 I was almost constant in these great evangelistic movements, and I know that there is scarcely a man dead and not one living who has preached more sermons than I have preached in the last thirty years.

Brother Stuart is in the prime of his manhood, thirty years my junior, and he preaches with a force and power, such as I have never heard him before, and as to myself, I am glad to say there is life in the Old Man yet, as well as in the Old Land yet.

Already these meetings have taken on a depth and breadth; already there is manifested of what our fathers call the old-time power in these meetings, and we look for results such as we have not seen in years. Greensboro is one of the many splendid towns in North Carolina, within a city and suburban population of perhaps fifteen thousand people. This figures in its commercial and business life, splendid in its homes, and really it is a young city of splendid growth, and with a future of great promise.

There is a tidal wave of temperance sentiment flooding this State to-day. The saloons of Greensboro feel that they are doomed, and the dispensary is not good looking and cannot come in. Raleigh has swapped her saloons for a dispensary. Fayetteville has swapped her dispensary for prohibition. Charlotte is now inaugurating a movement to put the saloons out of business, and perhaps in twelve months from now liquor will be driven from the State, unless, perchance, Wilmington shall have inaugurated her dispensary, and Raleigh holding her dearly beloved. The Watta law of North Carolina is a marvel of the kind. It gives the temperance people the long end of the handstick, and they roll the log their way with ease and pleasure. The Supreme Court of North Carolina has stayed right with the law, without hunting for a technicality or fearing the overthrow of free government in this movement of temperance and decency.

The anti-jug law in North Carolina passed by the last legislature and affirmed by the Supreme Court has put the wet towns mighty high out of business. No town in North Carolina can ship jugs into any other town in North Carolina. Good Lord, give us such a law in Georgia, and if our coming legislature don't do something for us, I am going to pray the Lord to reward them according to their works. The Old North State is forging to the front, not only in her manufacturing interests, her growing towns and cities, but she is coming to the front in men and manhood, temperance and decency, and no better evidence of this than her anti-jug law. When I stand at the depot of a dry town in Georgia, and see the dirty old jugs piled off of an express car, it makes me so mad that I could almost wish that I could turn into a stick of dynamite and blow the ## whole business into the other side of nowhere.

The anti dispensary spirit is growing in North Carolina. God grant that it may get no further foothold in Georgia, for there is no more fearful solution of the liquor traffic than to put God and his church into the retail liquor business as the dispensary proposes to do.

Brother Stuart and myself will remain here several days longer, and we shall begin evangelistic meetings in Rome the last Sunday in May, Providence permitting. It may be in a warehouse, it may be in a church, it may be in the court house, it may be on the streets, or it may be on the commons. Not an anti-dispensary meeting, but a meeting for the salvation of men and the building up of the Kingdom of God among men. More anon. Yours truly,

SAM P. JONES.
P. S.—I am still convinced that Parker leads, and he has nobody to beat now but Teddy.

Witty Sayings of John Wesley.

I have no time to be in a hurry. God begins His work in children. The best of all is God is with us. I look upon the world as my parish. I dare no more fret than curse or swear.

God buries His workmen, but continues His work.

I save all I can and give all I can; that is, all I have.

Loyalty (to rulers) is with me an essential branch of religion.

It is a happy thing if we can learn obedience by the things which we suffer.

It is plain God sees it best for you frequently to walk in a thorny path.

When I devoted to God my ease, my time, my fortune, my life, I did not exempt my reputation.

Be punctual. Whenever I am to go to a place the first thing I do is to get ready; then, what time remains is my own.

One Instance Where Two Jugs of Liquor Saved a Man's Life.

Washington (N. C.) Gazette.

We heard an old fisherman tell Saturday afternoon of how a companion of his was saved from being drowned by two jugs filled with liquor. "When he rolled over out of the boat into the river, he held in his hand two two-gallon jugs tightly grasped. He did not, however, let go his grasp on either of them, and a better set of life preservers I have never seen, and he floated safely to the shore, when he immediately uncorked the jug and began to celebrate his providential deliverance from a watery grave. He has these two jugs now beautifully painted like a barber's pole, and one is now sitting on each end of the mantel piece in his humble home."

Don't Respect Old Age.

It's shameful when youth fails to show proper respect for old age, but just the contrary in the case of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They cut off maladies no matter how severe and irrespective of old age. Dispepsia, jaundice, fever, constipation all yield to this perfect pill. 25c. at all druggists.

A Runaway Bicycle.

Terminated with an ugly cut on the leg of J. B. Orner, Franklin Grove, Ill. It developed a stubborn ulcer involving his feet and ankles for four years. Then Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured it. It's just as good for burns, scalds, skin eruptions and piles. 25c. at all druggists.

"Hear'd a new one the other day."

said a man, "and in my modest opinion, it's one of the best of its kind that ever went the rounds. Here it is: What is three-sevenths of chicken, two-thirds of cat, and one half of goat? Of course you give it up."

"Well, the answer is Chicago. 'Chi' three-sevenths is of chicken; 'ca' is two-thirds of cat, and 'go' is one half of goat. Pretty good, isn't it?"

Writing in the Humboldt Robinsonian, Rev. P. R. Law says the Rowland section of Robeson county is noted for the large number of maids and bachelors. In one family of twelve children—two sons and ten daughters—none has married and the youngest is now 45. To encourage his sons to marry, their father years ago gave them land and built on the land handsome homes for each of them, but this did not have the desired result.

The anti saloon League of Rowan is sending circulars to its members urging them to support certain candidates in the Democratic primaries. W. C. Newland is named by the league as the favorite for Congress.

DR. BROUGHTON ON "THE LIFE ADRIFT."

Atlanta Constitution.

Last night Dr. Broughton, at the Baptist Tabernacle, preached a characteristic Sunday night sermon on "The Life Adrift." He was outspoken against certain local conditions which he regarded as hurtful to morals. He intimated that the grand jury would take hold of the matter he presented last Sunday, and declared he would carry on the fight to the finish against the institutions he had attacked. He went for Sunday night home receptions, church formality and the like. He declared the devil is not as much to blame for a wrecked life as the church.

Perhaps his severest arraignment was of certain men of the city. Said he, "There are hundreds of men here that move in high social and business life that had rather wreck a girl's character than to make a fortune."

The following were some of Dr. Broughton's "pointed" remarks:

"Plain talk is what the world needs. Last Sunday night some people got mad because I talked my mind about the state of the devil's pets—politics and whiskey."

"There is a grand jury to decide matters. We'll get to the public, gentlemen. We'll tell about this infernal fraud. Don't pat your backs too soon."

"The reason there is such an army adrift today, is because sin has been winked at."

"The most disgusting thing I've noticed for a long time is the way the judiciary now winks at sin. I do not believe the courts of Georgia will get over the disgrace of the Guber-Morris campaign in twenty-five years. If evidence is worth anything both of those men are guilty of election fraud. It is my judgment that both Judge Guber and Mr. Morris have corrupted the election and brought eternal disgrace upon the court house."

"There are thousands of lives adrift that have not been discovered."

"Many people themselves have gone, but have not yet found it out."

"The devil is not half so much to blame for a wrecked life as the church. Sin offers ten attractions today to where the church offers one."

"The pious drollery and monotonous formality of the average city church is enough to disgust the devil."

"I had a long sight rather be the pastor of Westview cemetery than one of these stay-at-home Sunday night, self-satisfied, stuck up church clubs."

"Many people use Sunday nights as a reception time for their friends. Some use it as a larking occasion."

"Think of a Christian home turning Sunday night, a time when everybody ought to be at church, into a regular courting meet. I don't doubt there are a good many girls of unmentionable age to get off, but Sunday church hours is no time to run the matrimonial machine."

"Many of you mothers better look out about violating the Sabbath to marry off your daughters: first thing you know you'll be paid off in a lot of sons-in-law that the devil himself would not live with."

"Parents ought to have better sense than to turn their daughters over to just any old chapman to go on a moonlight ride or anywhere else. A man told me of a chapman last year who took out a number of young people for a little sport one night. Before time for them to return the old chapman was tanked tight on wine and champagne and it took an hour to find her to start home. No wonder scandal runs high with such reckless, careless of parents."

"You parents keep both eyes open. There are hundreds of places here your girls can go and be shielded from sin for a time. And there are devils enough in Atlanta to damn every character in it."

"I honestly believe that we have got as hard a lot of men to reckon with here as any city in this country."

"There are hundreds of men here that move in high social and business life that had rather wreck a girl's character than to make a fortune. I know what I am talking about. I have had often to deal with the wreckage. It is a hellish lot. They are not going to be stood much longer. Their deadly work will stop or there is going to be war."

"There is nothing so terrible as a life that has drifted too far to rescue."

"A mission worker passing by a New York rescue mission saw a young man gazing at the sign, 'Rescue Mission.' Said he, 'It is too late for me. I have gone entirely too far to be rescued.' He drew a revolver and took his life."

"When a man begins to drift his conscience gets harder. Things that would once cause a blush become trifles.

"Peter started adrift when he attempted to give the Lord advice. David started when he looked upon the woman. Samson when he surrendered to Delilah."

"No life hits bottom at one leap."

Hetty Green Turned the Tables.

Philadelphia Ledger.

Hetty Green, of New York, had a way of taking care of her own even in her youth. A Vermont neighbor tells that while she was living on her New England farm she had for a neighbor a particularly unneighborly old bachelor. One day, while the threshers were at work on her wheat crop, the winnowing fan broke and she sent over in great haste to borrow her neighbor's machine. "Certainly," was the reply, "Mrs. Green may use the fan, but I make it a rule never to allow my implements to be taken from my farm. The machine is in the barn, and she may bring her grain there to be winnowed," an offer it was manifestly impossible to accept.

Mrs. Green had not forgotten the implied refusal when the old bachelor sent his hired man over one morning to borrow her side-saddle for the use of a visiting relative.

"I shall be only too glad to favor him," was the word sent back by the astute Mrs. Green, "but I never allow anything I own to be carried off the farm. My saddle in hanging across a beam in the barn loft. Tell Mr. Browne to send his aunt over. She may ride there as long as she likes."

Cured His Mother of Rheumatism.

"My mother has been a sufferer for many years with rheumatism," says W. H. Howard, of Husband, Pa. "At times she was unable to move at all, while at all times walking was painful. I presented her with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and after a few applications she decided it was the most wonderful pain reliever she had ever tried, in fact, she is never without it now and is at all times able to walk. An occasional application of Pain Balm keeps away the pain that she was formerly troubled with." For sale by M. L. Marsh.
