RAPID RISE OF DOWIE.

Wonderful Personal Magnetism Has Helped His Cause.

In 11 years John Alexander Dowie, a Scotchman by birth, has risen from the doubtful returns of street preaching to the head of Zion.

He has established himself as prophet of 150,000 persons, who give him one-tenth—the Bible tithes—of their weekly earnings and has made Zion City, Ill., which he has founded, a thriving manufacturing town, with a lace plant imported bodily from Nottingham, England, at a cost of over $1,000,000.

Dowie declared himself to be the reincarnation of the Prophet Elijah and divine healer and restorer. He has called himself Founder and General Overseer of the Christian Catholic Church of Zion, Reincarnation of the Prophet Elijah, Restorer and Messenger of the Covenant. Now he adds the title High Priest and Apostle. Dowie claims to speak by inspiration, and his followers accept his utterances as divine messages. They hold also that:

Diseases should be cured by prayer and that the employment of physicians is sinful.

The use of tobacco and spirits, attendance on theatres, card-playing and membership in oath-bound secret societies—particularly the Masonic order—are forbidden.

All who would be saved must give one-tenth of all they possess and earn to the General Overseer, to be used as he wills.

They believe in God, in Jesus Christ, His Son, and the salvation of those who keep His commandments and the will of His representative on earth (Dowie) through the atonement of the cross.

They believe in the literal resurrection of the dead, in the communion of saints and the life everlasting.

When Dowie was at the World's Fair in Chicago he stood before his tent and shouted:

"All doctors are liars and cowards. All druggists are low tricksters. Come to me and be healed by the faith. I am the only man in the world practicing and preaching the true Word of God."

Personal enemies to Zion are with Dowie all thieves, robbers and tricksters, and in his speeches to Zion he devotes them, collective and individually, to "Fire! Fire! Fire!"

In appearance Dowie is tall and large. He is 6 feet high and weighs 180 pounds. His hair and beard are white, and he has a high, thin voice. His gestures are many and violent, in keeping with his often unrestrained speech. His best asset is wonderful personal magnetism.

Dowie is 58 years old and was born in Scotland, where he studied for the ministry. Early in life he went to Australia. It was when in Sydney, N. S. W., that he formed his faith-healing theory. While reading his Bible he made up his mind that Christ meant to heal the body as well as the soul, and that bodily healing could be accomplished by the laying on of hands.

Dowie first tried to cure himself. He suffered from a form of stomach trouble that doctors had pronounced hopeless. He says he read the Bible the whole of one night, prayed for a cure and was cured.

In Sydney Dowie was twice imprisoned for holding temperance meetings without a permit. At that time he was an ordained Congregational minister, but in 1878 he left that faith, went to Melbourne and set up the "Free Christian Tabernacle," the forerunner of Zion.

Dowie left Australia in 1888, he says, because he wanted to travel; his enemies say because he was driven out by the authorities. He landed in San Francisco with his wife, Jane Dowie; his son, Alexander Gladstone, and his daughter, Esther. That son graduated in 1900 from the University of Chicago.

It was in 1890 that Dowie went to Chicago "to fight the devil on his own ground." At first he established healing homes, and on complaint of the medical fraternity a special city ordinance was passed requiring that medicine be used in them. As a result of repeated violation of this ordinance and of the street-preaching ordinance Dowie was arrested more than a hundred times, and in 1893 had achieved such prominence that he made up his mind the time was ripe to found the church. Straightway he founded the Christian Catholic Church of Zion and made himself its head. Its development since has been a marvel. Dowie's wealth is now estimated at fully $20,000,000, and he is considered one of the shrewdest business men in the United States. Some time ago a receiver was appointed for his property, but he managed to overcome his temporary financial troubles.

WHAT A DEMOCRATIC PRESIDENT CAN DO.

Indianapolis Sentinel.

A reader of the Chicago Examiner, who assumed that the United States Senate would have a Republican majority for four years yet, wrote to the Examiner asking what a Democratic President could do to curb the trusts. And he is answered in this wise:

He might get a few Republican Senators together quietly and talk to them like this:

Senators and Eminent Statesmen: The chief among you—Aldrich—is the father-in-law of Rockefeller's son.

I am aware that he and many others of you are vitally interested in a great deal of legislation which you ingeniously slip through your legislative body.

I know that your distinguished membership has a vital interest in every piece of wholesale corporation rascality that goes on in this country.

I am going after that rascality and I am going to get it.

I am going to have the right kind of Attorney-General—I'll keep changing him until I get the right kind—and he will have the right sort of assistants.

I was put here by the people of the United States—and I think more of their will than of Senatorial dignity.

The people want the trusts curbed and the tariff changed to do away with trust breeding.

I propose to see that the people have what they want.

I advise you polite gentlemen to be very careful how you use your places to defeat the people's will.

Of course, I stay and shall stay strictly within constitutional limits. But I'll try to show you that the Constitution contains a few clauses in favor of public honesty, and that it was not designed as an instrument to defeat the will of the majority.

I think I'll convince you of a fact recently overlooked—that the Constitution favors government by the people—not by the trusts or by corrupt Senators.

My particular task as executive is enforcement of the laws.

I'll try to interest you in the way I'll enforce the laws that declare trusts criminal organizations.

I advise you to go back to the Senate and regulate your votes according to the will of the people and not according to the interests of the corporations that send and keep you here.

And then it is pointed out that a firm and determined Democratic President, backed up by the people, could make the trusts and the hiring Senators who support them look insignificant. It is recalled in the same article that Andrew Jackson, when he was in the right, succeeded in accomplishing his ends. The United States bank in his day was a tremendous force, but "by the Eternal," he showed it that a President of the United States, with justice on his side, was superior to all the combined dishonesty that could be arrayed against him. Judge Parker, when elected and inaugurated, will be supported by the people of this country. They know that he has the courage to do what should be done and they will stand by him. If the Senate attempts to put itself in the way it will be to its shame.

Arrive Fresh and Clean.

It is not so very long ago since ladies contemplating a railway journey painfully anticipated their arrival dirty, tired and rumpled. Today, however, thanks to the magnificent equipment and modern conveniences afforded by the Lake Shore Railway—fair Phillis arrives at her journey's end as sweet and clean and bright as when she started. Ladies who wish to enjoy the convenience of ladies' maids, stewards, while on the road, should see that their tickets read, "Via the Lake shore."

Better Than Pills.

The question has been asked—in what way are Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Liver Tablets superior to the ordinary cathartic and liver pills? Our answer is—they are easier and more pleasant to take and their effect is so gentle and so agreeable that one hardly realizes that it is produced by a medicine. Then they not only move the bowels but improve the appetite and aid the digestion. For sale at 25 cents per bottle at M. L. Marsh.

Time Saved is Money Made.

No one appreciates the saving of time more than the average American. To him more than anyone else time is money, and the public carrier who saves him time always wins his patronage. Thus it is that the Lake Shore Railway has won so high a place in the estimation of business men, to whom punctuality is one of the cardinal virtues.

Profit is always honored even in its own country.

SPIRIT OF LAWLESSNESS CAUSED BY CIVIL WAR.

Spartanburg, S. C., Dispatch.

"The spirit of lawlessness and murder in the south and the country at large is the direct result of the Civil War."

This statement was made in a sermon recently by Dr. S. T. Hallman, editor of the Lutheran Organ in South Carolina and pastor of the church here.

"I have made a thorough study of this question and have arrived at the above stated result," said Dr. Hallman in his sermon Sunday. "The lynchings in the south are to be attributed to the same cause together with certain things which have arisen to aggravate the tendency.

"The spirit of murder has been instilled into the blood of the children born about the time of the Civil War, and this fact together with the fact that they have been trained to bloodshed and have been trained up not to fear the shedding of blood is largely accountable for the increase in murder and lawlessness in this section and over the whole country.

"About the same time there was the Franco-Prussian war on the continent of Europe and the two wars have started into being this spirit of murder which is a natural consequence of war and now on two continents we have the hereditary and other casual results of these wars in the spirit of murder," continued Dr. Hallman.

"I have read," said the speaker, "that after the French revolution and the days of the guillotine that the children of Paris made for themselves little guillotines with which they cut off the heads of mice and other animals which they were able to lay hands on. This only illustrates that I am right in stating that the consequence of war is an aptitude to the question of bloodshed and murder and that it is certain to follow any long continued strife."

Dr. Hallman attributes the mob spirit in the country to this same cause together with certain other causes which have arisen to aggravate the situation, and says Dr. Hallman, "While these lynchings may be justifiable to a certain extent, their source is the same as the source I have mentioned."

Admits Graveyard Wooling Was Sudden.

New York World.

In Cypress Hills Cemetery over the grave of her husband began a romance which will terminate in the marriage of Mrs. Gussie Thorne, of No. 94 Manhattan avenue, to Joseph Fisher, a real estate and insurance broker at No. 411 De Kalb avenue, Brooklyn. The announcement of the engagement was made recently.

Mrs. Thorne was placing flowers on her husband's grave and Mr. Fisher was decorating his wife's grave when they met.

"It did all come rather suddenly," admitted Mrs. Thorne. "I believe it was the hand of fate that threw us together. My husband died ten years ago, and although I was a constant visitor at his grave I have not isolated myself from the friendship or the society of men. Until I met Mr. Fisher I could not endure the thought of ever again marrying.

"No, I'm not a bit superstitious. I don't think for a minute that the manner of our meeting was a bad omen which will affect our future. My twenty-year-old son is quite happy over the coming event."

Mr. Fisher declared himself to be the happiest man in Brooklyn.

More Than He Could Stand.

Franklin Times.

The editor of this paper met a commercial traveler a few days ago who said he met and made the acquaintance of a gentleman in Salisbury who had attended the late national Republican convention in Chicago as a delegate from one of the western counties of this State. He said he had voted the Republican ticket ever since 1876, old enough to vote. He had been a great admirer of President Roosevelt and went to the convention with his whole heart and mind set on doing his part for his nomination, and demonstrating his love for a great leader. He was near the platform in the convention hall and saw the young buck negro command the bosses lock his arm with a beautiful white girl and parade the platform carrying the flag. His head became dizzy, and staggering to his feet, he made his way out of the convention with a determination never to go into another Republican convention. The gentleman said he should spend the remainder of his days doing everything possible against the Republican party.

If troubled with a weak digestion try Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They will do you good. For sale by M. L. Marsh.

HE STOLE TO LIVE IN LUXURY.

New York, Oct. 1.—In the arrest of a young man who calls himself Thomas H. Price and a murderous assault on a detective sergeant in which the latter was severely stabbed twice it developed to-day that A. Z. Leubbers, an insurance broker, was a few days ago assaulted, robbed and left unconscious in a launch on the Hudson river. The assault and robbery of Mr. Leubbers was committed, according to a confession which the police claim has been made by Price, for the sole purpose of getting money which the latter had to have to continue to live in extravagance and fashion.

Price, who is a man of athletic build, only 22, well dressed, with every trace of refinement and education, was desperate and threatened to end his life at the first opportunity, the police sergeant said. According to the story told by the police, the assault and robbery of Mr. Leubbers was brought about by an advertisement in a New York newspaper offering to sell a naphtha launch.

When a well-mannered young man called on the insurance broker at his home and represented that he wanted to buy a naphtha launch, the broker went with him to show him that it was in working order. The two boarded the boat and set out for a run up the river. While he talked the young man held a large iron wrench in his hand. Suddenly, according to the story of the police, he leaped forward and dealt the broker a hard blow on the head, telling him unconscious to the bottom of the boat.

With the boat in the middle of the stream it is alleged that Price stripped Mr. Leubbers of his clothes and his jewelry. He even changed clothing with the unconscious man, and then steered the launch to the shore, alighted and pushed the boat out into the stream. Mr. Leubbers was rescued and towed to shore, and the story of his assault and robbery were told the police, when Price was arrested to-night.

Women.

There were four women—a pretty woman, a great woman, a wise woman and a good woman.

About the pretty woman thousands pressed, asking her how she did her hair.

Hundreds gathered about the great woman, asking her how she managed her buyler.

Dozens drew near to the wise woman, asking her how she avoided inking her fingers.

But the good woman stood alone except for a blind person, who could not see that she was neither pretty, nor great, nor wise, and was therefore curious to know why she was good.

Thomas E. Watson, Populist candidate for President, is confined to his bed with fever. He is working on his letter of acceptance.

Lies About the Inside Inn

We don't believe in knocking, hence we're not going to say a word about the other fellows, but in simple self-defense we propose to absolutely refute the malicious statements circulated by the St. Louis hotel and boarding house fraternity regarding the ability of the Inside Inn to care for the crowds who daily seek its hospitable roof.

The directors make the following statements in all honesty and good faith, and are prepared to "make good" on each and every one of them:

1. The Inside Inn is able, at all times, to comfortably accommodate all who come, at whatever rates they wish to pay.

2. The enormous size and wonderful equipment of the Inside Inn—with its 2,357 bed-rooms, and its immense dining halls seating over 2,500 people at a single meal—absolutely precludes overcrowding or discomfort.

3. The fact that the Inside Inn is situated upon a beautiful eminence and surrounded by a natural forest makes it the coolest and most delightful spot in all St. Louis.

4. The convenience, comfort and economy of staying right inside the grounds has been appreciated by all, and the management spares no pains to make the sojourn as comfortable and most thoroughly enjoyable in every way, and one of the pleasant memories of the great World's Fair.

5. The rates are very reasonable, ranging from $1.50 to $5.00 per day, and $10.00 to $7.00 American plan—including daily admission to the grounds.

For further details and reservations apply to The Inside Inn, World's Fair Grounds, St. Louis.

A Cough

"I have made a most thorough trial of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and am prepared to say that for all ailments of the lungs it never displaces."—J. E. Finley, Ironton, O.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral won't cure rheumatism; we never said it would. It won't cure dyspepsia; we never claimed it. But it will cure coughs and colds of all kinds. We first said this sixty years ago; we've been saying it ever since.

Consult your doctor. If he says take it, then do as he says. If he tells you not to take it, then don't take it. He knows.

The first law of health—Keep the bowels regular. Ayer's Pills are gently laxative. One is a dose.

Wool's Fair Visitors.

Will profit by adding a trip to Colorado, Utah or the Pacific coast, touring the delightful Rocky Mountain region, via the DENVER & RIO GRANDE RAILROAD, which has more scenic attractions, mountain resorts, mineral springs and hunting and fishing grounds than any other line in the world.

The invigorating climate of Colorado makes it especially inviting for a summer vacation. As health resorts Manitou, Colorado Springs, Glenwood Springs, and Salt Lake City are world-famous.

Low excursion rates prevail to Colorado and Utah via all lines, allowing liberal stopovers at and west of Colorado points.

Through car service from St. Louis and Chicago to Colorado,
