SMALL CHURCHES UNITED

Mr. W. H. Felton in Atlanta Journal.

When I read Rev. Alex. Bealer's description of the scene in that great confederated Baptist convention in St. Louis, when a speaker rose to congratulate the country that church union was in sight, and he told them he was part Indian, part white and more "nigger" and he was more than "de-lighted" at the prospect of a Baptist church which fell whipped with anybody and everything in sight." I could not forbear a smile, because the whole of such mixing business would be shak'ed at the bottom and bound to topple over at the first friction in ranks.

True it is that the Baptist organization is based on the independence of each individual church, which is a republic in itself, a fact that I admire with all my heart, if I have been a Methodist for more than fifty years, with acceptance of Methodist rule by bishops and lesser officials.

Maybe I do not understand as wise people understand, but I believe in self-government in individuals, by families, in church, state and nation. It seems to coincide with our republican form of government, and as I see it, the Baptist church caught hold on the living principle when it says each Baptist church can call its own pastor or deacons him and conduct its business with very little hindrance or delay, and with safety.

But I did not come here to talk about the different systems of church government; I only came to put in a word of cheer for our Baptist brethren, to keep in straight paths and not to beg, buy or borrow trouble by attempting to take in everybody, especially as we have, in the civil war and its issues, a theme over which we can split a thousand church organizations into flinders where we can and do get along in peace and harmony a little further apart, and by not discussing it in the same congregation.

When Lot's cattlemen and Abraham's cattlemen could not get along without squabbling, what did they do? Simply separated, and each went to his own side of the house and each bossed his own secular business. Of all places in the world to have peace, it is in the church, and when you can't have peace go out and find another place to worship and another crowd to mingle with.

My Methodist people had such a rough time in 1844 in getting to ourselves, and that dispute had so much to do with urging on the war between the states that I think our Methodist folks will go slow on organic union with the northern Methodist Church. If they will find it hard to make the mule drink after it is pulled to the watering trough.

Better let well enough alone! Just imagine how it would affect us to have a mixed annual conference send us a colored preacher or presiding elder! I do not mean that there would be anything wrong in the colored preacher or presiding elder individually. I mean to say oil and water don't mix, and the next thing would be a split, and one that would be unfortunate in many respects. It is folly to try to explain the inevitable.

Why not face facts as they exist, and tell the truth as it is demonstrated? If there is one fact made plain in the Bible, it was the demand that genealogy should be emphasized with God's chosen people. God himself set mates and bounds as to races. When the Tower of Babel was in progress of erection and everybody was in the humor to mix and mingle races and to build and edifice to memorialize their harmony and unity and mixing ability, all at once the thing went to pieces, because there was inability to understand what was said by these energetic builders and mixers. Something strange happened, and the crowd was obliged to separate because they talked at variance.

Let us be patient in these matters, and when two families quarrel and fight in the same house, let them divide the stuff and at least put the big rod between their dwelling houses.

Rev. Mr. Bealer never wrote anything which gave a better and clearer idea of the situation than the article here mentioned.

A Statistical Husband.

Monroe Journal.
A Georgia man who is suing for a divorce from his wife says that he has kept a diary and finds from it that they had quarrelled just 6,110 times and stated the reason for each scrap. Much of the trouble came from his carelessness in tracking mud on the kitchen floor, some of it from her refusal to cook dumplings with the chickens, and 224 of the scraps arose when she asked for money, while 1,589 of them were due to late meals.

In the streets of New York city persons are killed by vehicles at the rate of one for every day in the year.

MARK TWAIN AND HAWLEY

This is the way in which Mark Twain once introduced General Joseph R. Hawley at a public meeting: "I see I am advertised to introduce the speaker of the evening General Hawley, of Connecticut, and I see it is the report that I am to make a political speech. Now I must say this is an error. I wasn't constructed to make stump speeches, and on that head (political) I have only this to say: First, see that you vote. Second, see that your neighbor votes. Lastly, see that yourself or neighbor don't scratch the ticket. General Hawley was president of the Centennial Commission. Was a gallant soldier in the war. He has been governor of Connecticut, member of congress and was president of the convention that nominated Abraham Lincoln."

General Hawley—That nominated Grant.
Twain—He says it was Grant, but I know better. He is a member of my church at Hartford and the author of "Beautiful Snow." Maybe he will deny that. But I am only here to give him a character for his last place. As a pure citizen, I respect him; as a personal friend of years, I have the warmest regard for him; as a neighbor whose vegetable garden joins mine, why—why, I watch him. That's nothing; we all do that with any neighbor. General Hawley keeps his promises not only in private but in public. He is an editor who believes what he writes in his own paper. As the author of "Beautiful Snow" he added a new pang to winter: He is broad-souled, generous, noble, liberal, alive to his moral and religious responsibilities. Whenever the contribution box was passed I never knew him to take out a cent. He is a square, true, honest man in politics, and I must say he occupies a mighty lone some position.

Southern Boys in Demand.

The following item was clipped from the "Live Topics About Town" column of The New York Sun of a few days ago:
"The men most in demand now as clerks for apartment hotel are young Southerners who have come to New York to live. They do not always intend to go into occupations of that kind, but seem to drift there by natural selection. Most of them have good manners by nature and the savvy that is so often the possession of men from below Mason and Dixon's line. Whatever the cause of it may be, these young immigrants to New York very readily find such employment."

Southern boys are coming into their own wherever they go nowadays. The young men who attend lectures and take courses at the leading educational institutions of the North rank with the first.

Bliss of Wire Wound up.

News has reached here of a most extraordinary occurrence about thirty miles north of Richmond on the A. C. L. road. While dashing along at a high rate of speed in an effort to get out of a cloud burst, which was accompanied by violent winds train No. 40 began thumping and bumping over the track in a manner that greatly frightened the passengers and soon caused the train to be brought to a standstill. Investigation brought out the fact that the telegraph wires had been blown across the track, caught in the running gear and wound in great rolls around the axles and wheels. It required a wrecking train and a large force of hands to get the wire unentangled, and when it was finally all gotten out it made a heap five feet high by four five in diameter. In its rapid run through the storm the train had dragged down miles of wire and telegraph.

An exchange says, just a mile north of Greensboro lives Thomas Moore. Now, Tom is nothing more than a farm laborer on the place of John L. King, but there is something about Tom that entitles him to especial interest. Those who have occasion to pass his house see a sight that would make President Roosevelt's heart glad, for while Tom is nothing but a colored cropper, he is the father of 36 children. Tom's first wife was the mother of 20 of the brood, 12 of which number are living. So far he has 16 children by his last wife, 14 of which number are living. Tom is now 72 years old, but can still out the pigeon-wing with the youngest one of the boys.

In Mad Chase.

Millions rush in mad chase after health, from one extreme of faddism to another, when if they would only eat good food, and keep their bowels regular with Dr. King's New Life Pills, their troubles would all pass away. Prompt relief and quick cure for liver and stomach trouble. 35c at all drug stores; guaranteed.

AVENGEFUL SUITOR.

Stateville Landmark.
John Bowers, familiarly known here as "Sunday" Bowers, was tried before Justice J. P. Burke Wednesday for burning three stacks of hay that belonged to Mr. E. P. Holland, who lives in Bethany township. The hay was burned on the first day of May.

Justice Burke asked John before the trial came off if he set fire to the hay. John said he did, that he would own up like a gentleman; and when he was questioned further as to why he did it he said that Mr. Holland had promised him one of his daughters, and she got married; then he promised him another daughter but would not let him have her, "and you know that'll put the devil in a man," said John. Even so.

But Bowers would have escaped without falling into the hands of the law had it not been for some threats he is said to have made, for Mr. Holland was loath to prosecute him. Some one told Bowers that he would be tried at the May term of court and be sent to the chain-gang, but as no such contingency arose John allowed, after court adjourned, that he would burn something else for Mr. Holland. At least that was noised abroad, whereupon Mr. Holland appealed to the strong arm of the law. Two witnesses were put up to prove that these threats had been made, and John was sent to jail in default of the $500 bond required.

John is a half-witted fellow who is commonly harmless enough, but it is thought his obsession in this instance might lead him to do Mr. Holland some hurt.

A Marriage Mix-Up.

Winston Guide.
On Wednesday of this week Martin Peoples, of this city, was married to Mrs. Anna Hine, of Old Town. It requires some expert figuring to keep track of "Mart" Peoples, as a rule, and in this instance it looks like he had thrown us. On the 2nd of last November the reservoir was blown up or exploded, and his wife was killed. Peoples himself had to be carried to the hospital for several weeks of repair. Getting on foot again, he purchased a fine team of bays, had their tails wrapped in ribbon, and kept the ice and snow moving between Winston and Old Town. And now we find things as above stated. Now, "Mart" Peoples is not a bad man, but he is the worst mixed-up man we ever saw. His bride was his late wife's stepmother, and hence he becomes his own daddy. He is now his stepson's grandfather and his mother-in-law's husband, and the father of his late wife. His wife is in nearly as bad a fix, as she is her husband's mother and her grandchildren's mother also. But "Mart" Peoples can work it all out, and will no doubt give a correct answer in the wind-up. He is evidently a man of destiny.

Advice.

The Argonaut.
Abe Hummel, the New York lawyer, who is known as a master of repartee, is to be credited with a new, witty and very-much-to-the-point a retort. The other morning, accompanying a client to court, the case at issue being a breach of promise suit for damages, based on letters written by the defendant, the counsellor had been giving a lesson on morals to his client, when the latter dejectedly remarked: "O! I know all about it, Abe; the same old song, 'Do right and fear nothing.'"
"No! no! That's not it at all," answered Abe; "don't write, and fear nothing."

Found a Cure for Dyspepsia.

Mrs. S. Lindsay, of Fort William, Ontario, Canada, who has suffered quite a number of years from dyspepsia and great pains in the stomach, was advised by her druggist to take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. She did so and says, "I find that they have done me a great deal of good. I have never had any suffering since I began using them." If troubled with dyspepsia or indigestion why not take these Tablets, get well and stay well? For sale by M. L. Marsh and D. D. Johnson.

Thought It Was the Porter.

Cleveland Leader.
The masked robber stood at the door of the Pullman.
"Get yer valuables ready to hand me as I pass down the aisle!" he shouted.
"By George!" murmured a passenger, without looking up, "these porters are getting business-like methods. I believe I like this better than the old way—it saves trouble."

A Fearful Fate.

It is a fearful fate to have to endure the terrible torture of Piles. "I can truthfully say," writes Harry Colson, of Masonville, Ia., "that for Blind, Bleeding, Itching and Protruding Piles, Bucklen's Arnica Salve, is the best cure made." Also best for cuts, burns and bruises. 25c at all druggists.

HANNIBAL HAMLIN'S CLIENT.

Boston Herald.
Hannibal Hamlin, for many years a United States Senator from Maine, and vice president during the civil war, was wont to tell the following story on himself.

"An Englishman of the name of Yearson, while passing along the main street in Bangor, stepped in a hole in the sidewalk, and fell, breaking his leg. He brought suit against the city for $1,000 and engaged Hamlin as counsel. Hamlin won his case, but the city appealed to the supreme court. Here, also, the decision was for Hamlin's client.

"After setting up the claim, Hamlin sent for his client and handed him $1. 'What's this?' asked the Englishman.

"That's your damages after taking out my fee, the cost of appeal and several other expenses," said Hamlin.

"The Englishman looked at the dollar and then at Hamlin. 'What's the matter with this,' he said, 'is it bad?'"

MAKES PEOPLE
NEW ALL OVER
Let a SAMPLE BOTTLE of CHECKERS HELP YOU to GET WELL!
Perhaps you have the most stubborn and fatal disease the doctors know about. Perhaps you've suffered untold agony and daily torment. Perhaps you are unable to look after your daily work, maybe not well enough to give it a fraction of the time it needs. Perhaps you're discouraged with life—never expect to get back your youthful vigor again—lost your ambition, take no interest in your business, no longer enjoy old pleasures, find home and friends less attractive. The above are the usual penalties of disease suffering.
Perhaps you've tried a dozen doctors and a dozen different medicines. Then given up with disgust. It's a common experience. Do you expect to stop trying and risk the fatal end? Or are you still open for a positive cure? Your confidence, no doubt, has been shattered before by a dozen trials, but because you have grasped at straws in the past, will you refuse now to try a proven life preserver? Won't you bolster up your faith in human nature and try again? A positive cure depends on your answers.
Dr. Checkers, of Austria, gave his country the famous Checkers formula—this wonderful medicine to be taken into the stomach, there to be absorbed by the blood—making the people new all over. Checkers is just beginning to be known in the U. S. It has cured thousands, it has cured wherever it has been tried. It is not a drug, it is like nothing you have ever tried—but it will cure you. It checks and stops the ravages of Consumption, it cures Stomach, Liver, Kidney, Nerve and Blood Diseases, Catarrh, Bronchitis, Coughs, La Grippe, Neuritis, Rheumatism, Heart Disease, Indigestion, Malaria, Chills and Fever, Nervousness, General Debility and all known Female Complaints. We promise sufferers quick relief and permanent cure.
