JNO. K. PATTERSON & CO.

SAN JONES' LETTER.
Atlanta Journal.
After three days of rest and recreation at Ocoosa Springs, I left Georgia the night of the 9th and resumed my chautauqua work, and began at Pittsburg, Kansas. Yesterday I was at Hillman Springs, Kansas, and today Muskogee, I. T. I find at all points that the constant rains all over the country have damaged the wheat in the shock and played havoc with the growing crops. Corn and cotton are seriously hurt by wet weather and want of cultivation, and the prospects don't live who can tell the outcome. Much of the corn and cotton is past redemption. It reminds us of the fellow's sweet potato patch. He neglected to work it until the grass had literally taken the patch. So he said it would kill the potato slips to work them. So he made him a new potato patch and pulled up his potato slips and moved them to the newly prepared ground.

Surely it looks like to begin now to plow and work the grass and weeds out of much of the crops I see would kill the crop. But the people seem to be cheerful and hopeful. They don't seem to know now had they are bit. I find the general opinion in Arkansas is that Governor Jeff Davis will beat Senator Berry in the state primary for the Senate. The Jeff Davis men are for Jeff against all odds and the anti-Jeff Davis men seem to think that to put Jeff into the United States Senate is a good riddance and the only way to get rid of him, but it is a shame to side-track old Senator Berry, a thorough-bred, for a jackass like Jeff Davis. But so it will be, I suppose, and that's what makes me glad I don't live in Arkansas.

Indian and Oklahoma Territories are impatiently anxious to come into statehood and I suppose they will be made into a state by the coming Congress. Mr. Roosevelt gave them to understand on his tour through the territories that he favored a great state. In population they are much ahead of many of the older states. I regard Muskogee the most splendid town in Indian Territory, in her splendid citizenship, her great business interests, both wholesale and retail, her growing population and her splendid surroundings, she is indeed a great city already. Many Georgians are here and they are making fortunes and fame for themselves. There is some scrapping over the question as to whether the territories shall come into the union a dry state or take the chances later on, wet or dry. Prohibition or no prohibition, I am sure good people want it dry.

I came through Missouri and I find a growing sentiment in that state in favor of law and the uncompromising enforcement of law. Governor Folk has more friends in Missouri today than he ever had and he will certainly grow had and he will certainly grow in public favor as he sticks to his purpose to enforce law. The tide is rising all the time in his favor, and he will succeed. Jerome, of New York, made an as of himself on his trip out west, by his criticisms of Governor Folk and Governor Tom Lawson is painting with a big brush over it. He is just gorming it on. He draws because of his position and his articles in Everybody's Magazine. But his talk about the system, etc., is much like that of a saloon keeper who is still in the business, going around the country talking of the evils of the whiskey business. Let them come out of the business they are denouncing, then they may do some good, otherwise their voices will be drowned out by the criticisms of those who hear and read what they say. No body has any respect for temperance men in the saloon business, and no body has any respect for a squeaking gambler. Let Mr. Lawson come out of Wall street and quit monkeying with the "system" then the people may heed what he says.

I regretted very much that I had to leave Georgia without opportunity of talking to the legislature, and hope to get back before they adjourn. I would say now, that unless this present legislature shall give our state the Australian ballot, and protect the primaries, and give some relief to the dry counties, then I would not give them ten cents for all else they may do. The Australian ballot first, for a man who has no character or cash or credit has no more business at the polls than a mule or a cur dog. A man who will buy a vote will sell a vote, and a man who will sell a vote will sell a principle, for a vote presents a principle, and a man who will sell a principle is an infernal out-let who would serve Georgia much better on the convict farm at Milledgeville than he possibly can at the ballot box. The Australian ballot is our only remedy, and no intelligent man under all the circumstances in Georgia, can or will oppose that law, unless something has been handed him. Again I say, gentlemen, unless you shall give some relief to the dry counties, as sure as God reigns you will see a prohibition fight in Georgia, and in its efforts and results let the Russians tell you what the Japs have done for them in Manchuria, and then you will know something of what the good people of Georgia will do for the liquor traffic in Georgia. The sooner the legislature shall give Georgia the anti-jug law of North Carolina the better it will be for the liquor gang.

Then, gentlemen, give us the law which will domesticate every corporation doing business in our state, make them come to the very same conditions that every individual has already come to. Then I ask but little else of you, gentlemen. We need only a few new laws, but we need, I keep saying, an executive who will enforce the laws we have. A tidal wave of sentiment is now rolling over this land calling for enforcement of laws and punishment of criminals. So mote it be. I will be in Ohio, Idaho, Iowa and Colorado next week. Thence back into the middle states again.

Yours truly,
SAM P. JONES.
P. S.—A legislature that can't pass a saloon, can't pass good temperance laws.

Stories Like This Are Actually Believed in Washington.
Washington Post.
"I was traveling some months ago in the mountains of North Carolina," said Mr. J. P. Dickens, of Boston, at the New Willard, "and stopped at the log cabin of a farmer to get a little rest and a bite to eat.
"The farmer's wife was a kind-hearted soul and set about getting me a dinner with most hearty hospitality. At the table one of her children, a lad of twelve, said to her in a loud tone: 'Maw, give the stranger a knife.' His mother answered that she had given me one, which was true, but again the youngster piped up: 'Maw, I tell you to give him a knife; don't you see he is eatin' his greens with a fork?'"
Those Exempt from Jury Service.
The following constitute now the only exemptions from jury duty:
"No practicing physician, licensed druggist, telegraph operator who is in the regular employ of any telegraph company or railroad company, train dispatcher who has the actual handling of either freight or passenger trains, regular licensed pilot, regular minister of the Gospel, officer or employe of a State hospital for the insane, or active member of a fire company, shall be required to serve as a juror."
Bones and Money Found.
In tearing down a chimney to an old log house on the Helton place, 11 miles from Morganton recently the workmen discovered the bones of an infant under the stone hearth and also found three $5 gold pieces of the date 1844. The old house has been standing more than a hundred years and a great number of families have occupied it during that time. Tradition says that 1,400 in gold is secreted about this old place, and it is more than probable that it will be found when the house is torn away, which will be done at an early date.

They have some sorry citizens in Durham, just as are to be found in every town. W. J. Coley and his wife separated, there was a disagreement about some furniture, and Coley brought proceedings and recovered the furniture from his wife. H. C. Fowler had married a widow who had some property. The other day he sold a stock of groceries which her money had purchased and with the proceeds of this and other property to the amount of $1,000, belonging to his wife, he deserted the woman.

AS FROM THE GRAVE.
After a living death of fourteen years spent in prison in Colombia, Frank Holley, a former New York man, is on his way home to this country. An aged mother and a young woman to whom he was engaged when he disappeared anxiously await him. They believed Holley to be dead all these years, and when they received a letter from him recently their joy knew no bounds. Mrs. Susan Holley, the aged mother, now lives at Otisville, a village near here, and her only interest in life is once more to look upon the face of her son.
Fourteen years ago Holley, who was an expert driller, was employed by the Englewood Drill Company, of New York. His wife had died a year before and he became engaged to marry a young woman in New York, when the company made him an offer to go to Colombia. He accepted, and with his fiancée planned for a wedding on his return.
Colombia was in the throes of an uprising on his arrival there. Letters received stated he was going into the interior. Nothing more was heard from him until last April, when he wrote his mother, telling the story of his imprisonment and relating how he had been mistaken for a spy by one of the factions.
Holley has been working since April to accumulate money enough to bring him home. One of his sons by his first wife died some years ago, while the other, Frank Holley, Jr., resides in New York and is employed in the navy yard. The daughter lives in Sullivan county.

Baltimore Rat Turn Brown.
"Why have rats in Baltimore turned from the familiar gray to seal brown?" This is the question which is perplexing a rat catcher who has been in the business for many years. He says: "I have been catching rats for more than twenty years in Baltimore. After the big fire I observed that some few caught in different parts of the city were of a seal-brown color. The seal-brown rat was a rarity before the fire, but now they outnumber the old familiar gray ones. In a building in which I was employed lately 90 per cent. of the rodents caught were brown. These rats are not in any one locality, but in all parts of the city.
"The fur of the seal brown rat is long and much finer and softer than that of the gray. The big fire may have had something to do with the change of color and texture, but I cannot explain why. I only blame it on the fire because I can think of no other cause. I told a local furrier about it, and I have a commission to supply him with a number of rat skins, with which he will experiment. The fur will need no dyeing, as it is of very rich, uniform color. The Japanese used thousands of rat skins in the making of earmuffs for soldiers. I have skinned some of the brown rats. The skin is very tough, and, no matter how you stretch it, when released it will resume its original shape. I have tried, and could not keep it out of shape. I believe the skins would make excellent gloves, so, maybe, the seal-brown rats may become salable for other purposes than for training rat dogs."

A Grim Tragedy
is daily enacted, in thousands of homes, as Death claims, in each one, another victim of Consumption or Pneumonia. But when Coughs and Colds are properly treated, the tragedy is averted. F. G. Huntley, of Oakland, Ind., writes: "My wife had the consumption, and three doctors gave her up. Finally she took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, which cured her, and to-day she is well and strong." It kills the germs of all diseases. One dose relieves. Guaranteed at 50c and $1.00 by all druggists. Trial bottle free.

News comes from Greensboro that a new building under way there is being built especially for Congressman Blackburn's Tar Heel paper, that the paper will appear October 1st, will be 12 pages, issued seven days in the week, and that Col. W. S. Pearson will be editor-in-chief. It is also stated that the other Republican daily, the Industrial News, will appear two months earlier with Cyrus Thompson and R. D. Douglas as editors.

According to figures issued by the inter-State commerce commission, during the first three months of the present year, 28 passenger and 204 employes were killed and 1,651 passengers and 2,016 employes injured in train accidents, making in all 232 killed and 3,718 injured. Other accidents in connection with the operation of trains make the total killed 909 and injured 14,397.

KIDNAPS A CHILD.
The Tot Appears to be His Own Elements of Mystery.
COOLEMEE, N. C., July 18.—The fact that a little 4-year-old girl, thought to have been kidnapped, was left at the home of a citizen in this place created no little excitement here. A few hours after midnight yesterday morning the man and the child came to the home of Willie S. Greene living on the Mocksville road in the north of town and the man asked lodging for the night. This was given them, but near daylight one Snow, representing a portrait company, and another man came to Greene's and said they were looking for a man who had kidnapped a 4-year-old girl at North Advance; that a reward was offered for the man, and he had a scar on his face. Greene admitted one of the men, who examined the stranger, but it seems did not wake him. He who made the examination said this was not the man wanted and left. Soon afterwards, however, the stranger became very restless.
While he was out of the house Mrs. Greene examined the child, having suspected something, and found it was a girl dressed in boy's clothes. The stranger continued very uneasy and it was not long before he disappeared. Search was made, but to no avail. The child and a valise containing a number of things were left.
The man said he was from Advance and gave his name as Jackson on the way to Barber Junction. In addition to a white vest found in the valise there were a complete barber's outfit and dresses belonging to the little girl. She is not much more than 3 years old, bright, intelligent, apparently of respectable parents. She has light hair, blue eyes fair complexion, and weighs 36 pounds. She seemed to be in a stupor and would talk very little. She went to sleep last night at 9 o'clock and could not be waked until 3 this afternoon. A doctor had to be called in. The child said her father's name was Bud Jackson and that he cut her hair off at Miss Bailey's.
The man who brought the child and skipped wore a dark coat and blue pants, no vest, no belt. He has light hair, red complexion, and is clean shaven, low set, but heavily built and is slightly bow-legged. It is said one Will Oaten, of Advance, brought him and the child down from Advance.
This evening a message from Mr. John Campbell, of Greensboro, said the child belonged to his sister, who some time ago married one Bart Bethea, who formerly lived here, that Bethea had left his wife and taken the child with him, and that Mr. Campbell or the sheriff would come for the child. Bethea did live here at one time, and it is recalled that he and Mrs. Bethea did not agree on all things.
The whole affair has been until this time, and is yet, a mystery. It cannot well be explained why Bethea, if he is the man that brought the child, should leave as he did. It is thought that he is still in the neighborhood and will try to get the child.
