Why a NATIONAL BANK is Best

1. A National Bank is under the supervision of the United States Government.
2. Laws governing National Banks are very strict.
3. They are required to submit to the government a sworn detailed statement FIVE TIMES a year.
4. The stockholders are held responsible for DOUBLE the amount of their stock. This is for the benefit of the depositors.
5. The capital stock is required to be paid in cash, and must be held intact for the benefit of the depositors.
6. The Bank is required each year to add to its surplus account before declaring dividends. This is for the further security of the depositors.
7. A National Bank cannot loan more than 10 per cent. of its capital to one man or firm.

BOARD OF PARDONS NEEDED.

Raleigh Times.
The hearing in the matter of the application for a pardon for the White brothers of Concord, who killed young Russell Sherrill under the "unwritten law" because he refused to marry their niece, whom they claimed he had wronged, emphasizes a very interesting condition of affairs in regard to our pardon laws. Governor Glenn had been one of the counsel for the prosecution, and stating that he was firmly convinced of the guilt of the two petitioners declined for that reason to hear the argument and decide the question of pardon. He therefore designated the council of state to sit in the case in his stead.

There is a splendid argument in the shape of an example of the need of a pardoning board to settle all such matters instead of compelling the governor to bear the brunt of the whole burden of hearing and deciding applications for pardon. Such a case as this might happen at almost any time. Not only is it liable to occur that the governor may have been one of the attorneys in the trial of a convict who afterwards sues for pardon as in this case, but there is the additional possibility that the chief executive may be prejudiced one way or another before he has heard the argument, as was the case with State Treasurer Lacy yesterday when he declined to sit with the council.

The governor shall have power to grant reprieves, commutations and pardons, after conviction, for all offences (except in cases of impeachment,) upon such conditions as he may think proper, subject to such regulations as may be provided by law relative to the manner of applying for pardons.

Of course, it may be contended that the constitution speaks only of the granting of pardons and not of the hearing of the applications, and that the governor might, acting under its letter, appoint some other person to hear the argument and evidence and then grant or decline to grant the pardon upon their report to him. But we do not for a moment think that such was ever the intention of the framers of our state government, nor do we think that Governor Glenn is the kind of man to be satisfied to exercise any power vested in him upon the say-so of any one else.

That is the sort of a muddle we are in with our present pardon laws. The board of pardons is the thing, and if this White case results in the establishment of that board finally, there will be some good out of it, at last. At any rate, the result of this hearing will never be satisfactory. If the pardon is refused, it will be thought either that the governor was prejudiced or that he himself had heard the argument he would have decided the other way, possibly inclined in that direction from his zeal to be impartial. If the pardon is granted, it will be claimed that it is illegal because the governor did not hear the application himself.

Bull Weevil Plentiful.
BATON ROUGE, La., March 29.—The cotton boll weevil will be unusually numerous and destructive this year, according to the report by Dr. Hunter in charge of the boll weevil investigation for the department of agriculture.

He says: "Conditions indicate clearly that the weevils will be unusually abundant in the cotton fields, and that great damage is to be expected."

Be always on deck, you can never tell when your services will be needed.

HAVE SOME ENJOYMENT.

Selected
How much better to use some of the good things of life as we go along; to make our humble homes as cheery and bright as possible now. Do not starve to-day either body, mind or soul, thinking that poverty will knock at your door to-morrow. Don't hoard and crimp through all the best years of your life that you might be generous in your will. Life is uncertain, and it is better to make your children happy while they are under the home roof; to call to that home every agency that you might leave them a large account when you are gone. It will be too late for them to return kindness to you then. Don't keep the parlor shut up and live in the kitchen, unless you want the boys and girls to be anxious to leave you. Don't think they must not go any where but to Sunday school and prayer meeting; you are young once yourself. Do not ask them to walk two miles to a singing or lecture after working hard all day, when there are two or three horses in your barn that would enjoy the trip as they. For God's sake show them that you think as much of them as you do of your beasts, if not more.

Take time to enjoy the society of your friends, especially the companionship of your children; it will only be but a few years at the best that they will be with you and these ought to be years of happiness to both you and them.

Would you much rather have them look back when out in the world to the biased home (though it may not have been a mansion) where they received a great deal more joy and comfort in the world can afford, than to have them forget home in a week and hardly return to your burial? If we are happy in this life we must enjoy what every day brings. We should be grateful and glad for all the good that comes into our lives and patiently bear our trials, believing that all things if rightly used will fit us for the enjoyment of perfect happiness hereafter.

The Prosperous South.

Baltimore Sun.
The Bureau of Manufactures in Washington, through trade and consular reports, is giving wide publicity to statements showing North Carolina's extraordinary growth in prosperity. The industrial development of this progressive Southern State has been almost amazing in recent years. Governor Glenn does not hesitate to prophesy that in two years it will stand first among the cotton manufacturing States of the country. The State has the advantage of abundant water power and an agreeable climate, together with the raw material for the cotton industry almost at the very doors of the mills. North Carolina has, in addition to its cotton mills, many other industries, large and small, which in the aggregate are a considerable item in her wealth. She offers to other Southern States an excellent example of what may be accomplished by intelligent enterprise and practical methods.

Why She Was Mad.

From a Washington Letter.
"Foreign relations," said Senator Cullom, the chairman of the Senate's committee on foreign relations, "are delicate things, and must be handled delicately."

"Foreign relations, in fact, remind me of a newly married couple I heard about the other day.

"Their life had been very happy for a year. Not a cloud had marred their perfect felicity. Then, one morning, the wife came down to breakfast morose and wretched.

"She was snappish with her husband. She would hardly speak to him. And for a long while she refused to explain her unwonted conduct.

"Finally, though, the young man insisting that he be told why his wife was treating him so badly, she looked up with tears in her eyes and said:

"John Smith, if I dream again that you kissed another woman I won't speak to you again as long as I live."

Red Pepper Broke Up Show.

WILMINGTON, Del., March 24.—Harry Hammer, 20 years old, was arrested to-day charged with causing a panic at the Lyceum Theatre last night by blowing a red pepper compound from the gallery. In a few seconds practically every one in the large audience was sneezing. The outbreak was so intense that the show was stopped, with the victims in a state of great excitement. Hammer was very generous in blowing about the powder. When taken to the police station a little pepper and other compounds labeled "Cachoo, harmless; only makes you sneeze," was taken from him. He was locked up on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Earlier in the evening the manager of a moving picture show rushed into the police station and excitedly yelled that everybody in his place was sneezing. Captain Evans was unable to catch this offender. The same trick was played in a prominent restaurant last night.

Woman Gets Damages for Hug on Train.

GREENVILLE, S. C., March 28.—The suit brought by Mrs. Sada Franklin, of Newberry, for $50,000 against the Southern Railway, was yesterday compromised in common pleas court. The case has been hanging fire in the courts for three years, having been brought in 1903.

Mrs. Franklin alleged that she was embraced while on a Southern train enroute to Atlanta; that she was at the time in a delicate condition and that the rough treatment caused her great suffering, etc.

At the first trial of the case the jury gave a verdict for 25,000, but the cause was appealed and a new trial granted.

It is understood that the settlement was for a sum not exceeding five thousand dollars, though no statement can be secured from attorneys in the case.

WARNING TO R. F. D. PATRONS.

Atlanta Constitution.
Fourth Assistant Postmaster General DeGraw has reaffirmed his ruling, which puts it squarely up to patrons of rural free delivery routes to decide whether or not they desire a continuance of the privileges resulting from this service.

In a Washington dispatch he declares that he will insist on "an adherence to the regulations requiring that boxes on rural mail routes should be erected by the roadside, so that carriers can easily get access to them without deviating from their routes, or dismounting from their vehicles. Failure to comply with the regulations in this respect, the decision states, "is likely to result in the discontinuance of mail by rural carriers."

It is a very small and reasonable requirement that the government exacts of the beneficiaries of these routes. They must, in the first place, provide a weather-proof box, costing from $1 to $1.50, for the reception of outgoing and incoming mail. They must, in the second place, so locate that box that the carrier will be subjected to no delays or inconveniences in covering the distance allotted to him.

Certainly the privilege of sending and receiving mail daily at locations far removed from postoffices or railroad stations is a most insignificant investment of time and money required for compliance with the department's regulations.

The benefits of that privilege are too obvious and have been too often demonstrated and argued to necessitate reiteration to an intelligent reading public.

The main danger is that the indifference of a few residents in scattering communities may threaten the welfare of the wide-awake, progressive majority. The reality of that danger has been shown in the case of Fulton county, where one route has been ordered discontinued because ONE-THIRD of the residents refused to comply with the sensible requirements of the department. Now that the order of discontinuance has been issued, they are waking up and ordering boxes.

A few mossbacks, a few men inclined to penny-wise and pound-foolish parsimony have the power to retard the intellectual and material development of their communities. Their neighbors ought to see to it, in each instance, that they are shamed into falling in line with the army that is working for progress; and not retrogression.

LOOKOUT, YOU LITTLE BOY WHO IS SMOKING CIGARETTES ON THESEY.

What do you want to be when you grow up? A stalwart, healthy, vigorous, broad-shouldered man, or a little penny, no 'count, weak-minded duffer? If you want to be a man, strong like a man, with hair on your face, brains in your head and muscles on your limbs, you just let those cigarettes alone. If you want to be pitied by your folks, despised by the girls, and held in contempt by your fellows, keep on smoking and end your days in an insane asylum.—Anglo-Saxon.

FACTS IN NATURE.

Not Only Do We Get Inspiration From Nature, But Health as Well.

For people who are run-down and nervous, who suffer from indigestion or dyspepsia, headache, biliousness, or torpid liver, coated tongue with bitter taste in the morning and poor appetite, it is necessary to turn to some tonic or strengthener which will assist Nature and help them to get on their feet and into the proper condition. At it becoming more and more apparent that Nature's most valuable health-giving agents are to be found in forest plants and roots.

Nearly forty years ago, Dr. R. V. Pierce, now consulting physician to the Institute of Hygiene and Surgery, at Buffalo, N. Y., discovered that by scientifically extracting and combining certain medicinal principles from native roots, taken from our American forests, he could produce a medicine which was marvellously efficient in curing cases of blood disorder and liver and stomach trouble as well as many other chronic, or lingering ailments. This country's most famous "Golden Medical Discovery," it purifies the blood by restoring the stomach, liver and kidneys to healthy condition, thereby helping the digestion and assimilation of food which feeds the blood. It cures such ailments as indigestion, torpid liver, or biliousness, and kindred derangements.

If you have coated tongue, with bitter or bad taste in the morning, frequent headaches, feel weak, easily tired, stitches or pain in side, back gives out easily and neuralgic, belching of gas, constipation, or irregular bowels, feel flashes of heat alternating with chilly sensations or kindred symptoms, they point to derangement of your stomach, liver and kidneys, which the "Golden Medical Discovery" will correct more speedily and permanently than any other known agent. Contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients printed in plain English on wrapper.

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make a little more profit. He gains you lose, except the Institute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

Constitution causes and aggravates many serious diseases. It is thoroughly cured by Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery." One a laxative; two or three are cathartic.

THE MODERN COUNTRY HOME.

Charlotte Chronicle.
THE CONCORD TIMES this week makes the suggestion that every farmer place his name and the name of his farm on his road gate. "Not only would persons driving to a place the more easily find it," says THE TIMES, "but it would add more pleasure and interest to people driving from place to place. This last result would have special effect with regard to well kept and pretty homes. An observing person will seldom pass a beautiful farm without desiring to know who its enterprising owner." That is the idea for the modern rural home. The Mecklenburg farmers have paid more attention in the past twelve months to beautifying their homes and making their surroundings attractive than ever before. In most cases, the name on the rural delivery box indicates the owner of the farm, but in other cases, the farm itself bears a name, the houses and fences are painted, there are flowers bordering the road and the walk to the house passes through well-kept lawns. At some convenient corner in the house is the telephone. The farmer can know the state of the market before he loads his cotton to bring it to town, and his wife and daughters can keep up, with the gossip of both county and city. The country home, and life in the country is quite different from what it was a few years ago.

EXPULSIONS FROM THE SENATE.

Yonah's Companion.
Fifteen men have been expelled from the United States Senate. Fourteen of them were representatives of Southern States that had seceded or actively sympathized with the seceding states. In the whole history of the country only one Senator has been expelled for reasons not growing out of the Civil War. Futile attempts have been made to expel several other Senators. The last time Senate committee recommended expulsion was in 1873, in the case of a Senator who was implicated in the Credit Mobilier scandal. As the report was not presented until four days before the expiration of the Senator's term, there was no time to act upon it.

Several Senators, against whom expulsion proceedings were begun, resigned before final action was taken; and now the fate before a Senator guilty of criminal acts is so certain that he does not wait for charges to be preferred against him, but resigns, and avoids the penalty.

Three or four men have been unseated on the ground that they were not qualified; that is, that they had not the qualifications fixed by the Constitution. But in all cases where the ground of objection to him was some additional qualification contained in state laws the Senate has decided that a state cannot add to the qualifications fixed in the Constitution.

Although the Senate committee reported lately a resolution that Senator Smoot, of Utah, "not entitled to a seat," the Senate, last month, by a large majority, decided first that the resolution required the two-thirds vote necessary to expel a Senator, and then rejected the resolution. Whatever view one may hold of the wisdom of the vote, it adds one more instance to the large body of precedents establishing the right of the states to select their own representatives in the national Senate, provided they choose men who meet the requirements of the Constitution.

REMARKABLE OLD PEOPLE.

WINSTON-SALEM, March 28.—Mrs. Katie Brannock died this week at her home near Flat Top church, in the Haystack section of Surry county, at the ripe age of 108 years. She was without doubt the oldest person in county, and had been remarkable healthy all her life until she finally succumbed to old age. She could see without glasses, having second-sight, and two years ago she cut her third set of teeth.

This is worth having.

The following simple home-made mixture is said to relieve any form of Rheumatism or backache, also cleanse and strengthen the Kidneys and Bladder, overcoming all urinary disorders, if taken before the stage of Bright's disease: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Mix by shaking well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after meals and at bedtime.

A well-known authority states that these ingredients are mainly of vegetable extraction, and harmless to use, and can be obtained at small cost from any good prescription pharmacy. Those who think they have kidney trouble or suffer with lame back or weak bladder or Rheumatism, should give this prescription a trial, as no harm can possibly follow its use, and it is said to do wonders for some people.

It is a wise shopper who knows her own mind.

REASON TO ENFORCE JIM CROW LAW.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., March 29.—In compliance with the recent enactment of the state legislature, the Asheville Street Railway Company will enforce the "Jim Crow car" provision on all city cars beginning April 1. All colored passengers will be seated from the rear forward, while the white passengers will be required to take their seats from the front end backward.

The new regulations will abolish the last three seats which have heretofore been reserved on open cars for smokers, but the company states that smoking may be indulged in on the rear platform if lovers of the weed have no objection to standing up.

"For 2 cents," said the policeman, angrily, "I'd run you in."

"Good thing you said '2,'" replied the bold, bad college youth, "because one copper couldn't do it."
