LATE COMERS.

Those Not Punctual at Church Have Bad Habit.
Contributor to Charity and Children.

I have been for a number of years watching the late comers at church. They are a good people but have cultivated a bad habit, and their example is hurtful to the preacher and people. I used to notice a mother who came with her little girl ten minutes late at every service. She was the subject of much criticism. The people used to say "it was her fine clothes she wanted to display." She invariably took a high seat. Recently I have worshipped in several different places and have noticed the late comers. How beautifully dressed they were! The back seats were not conspicuous enough, and to the front the beautiful clothes came and rested on the front benches. To be sure the vision was beautiful to behold. I did wish that they had come earlier and sat right in front of me. I love to see pretty clothing, beautiful garments. I believe in trimmings. Let us make everything beautiful, but let it be subordinate to and a companion of beautiful habits and character.

How these distract the attention of the people! How conspicuous it makes the late comers, and how troublesome to usher sometimes. Punctuality is a great habit—it is essential to success. The late comers with their beautiful feathers ought to come earlier and give others a longer vision of their beauty. The church is a good place to behold beautiful visions. Sometimes the young lady who comes late makes it very disagreeable for the beauty she has finally discovered. He is an ugly and bashful boy, and the vision of red cheeks, bitten lips and frowning brow makes him more conspicuous than the beautiful dresses. In such cases the young man should be considered. The young lady who can thus display her beauty's homeliness to gratify her own vanity will fail later on to consider him in the serious matters of home life, and the result will be the making of a balking horse or a kicking mule. The late comers are on the increase in every place. Time was when the preacher on Sunday never waited, but on the minute service began. Now it seems that performers, preachers and people are all in the mad race for the last place in the gathering audience. Twice I have seen prominent people get in the door to hear the benediction. The matter of coming in late is a sad commentary on the worship of all our churches.

To Prosecute Bleachers of Flour.

Federal prosecution prepared by forty inspectors now in the field. It soon to be filed for violation of the recent bleached flour decision of Secretary Wilson in the case of the Alsop Process Company of St. Louis. "We are going to seize all shipments of bleached flour in interstate commerce," said the Secretary, "and to that end our inspectors are at work. The suits will be brought in several states." Mr. Wilson is particularly anxious to assist the spring wheat millers of the Northwest, who were the first to notify him that they had discontinued flour bleaching. These millers complained to the Agricultural Department that, while they had complied with the department's demand, other millers were still marketing the bleached product.

Their Old Black "Mummy."

Siler City Girl.
A striking illustration in which the negro of the best class is held by the white people of this State was shown last Thursday in Weldon when an old colored "mummy" was buried by her white friends. This old colored woman had nursed and cared for the children of a prominent physician of Weldon and had served the family faithfully for fifty years, and by her fidelity and upright living had won for herself the high regard of her white friends. So when she died, she was tenderly laid away by his doctor in his family square in the white cemetery, for though her face was black, she was to his family their old black "mummy" and as such she received the best burial they could give.

HOME ENDORSEMENT.

Hundreds of Concord Citizens Can Tell You All About It.

Home endorsement, the public expression of Concord people, should be evidence beyond dispute for every Concord reader. Surely the experience of friends and neighbors, cheerfully given by them, will carry more weight than the utterances of strangers residing in faraway places. Read the following:

Mrs. L. S. Bonds, 140 W. Depot Street, Concord, N. C., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Gibson Drug Store, benefited me in every way and I do not hesitate to endorse them. I suffered from a constant, dull pain in the small of my back, accompanied by various other symptoms which showed that my kidneys were disordered. Doan's Kidney Pills went directly to the root of my complaint and I had taken them but a short time when they entirely disposed of my kidney trouble."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

BOARDING-SCHOOLS.

Charity and Children.

Considerable noise has been made about some statements in the 1909 catalogue of the Oak Ridge Institute. We are pleased with those statements. Here is one of them: "A boy needs to get away from his mother's apron-strings. His father's wealth, good name, social position, avail nothing here; his standing among his fellows depends on himself. He makes his own name. He writes his own pedigree. The boarding school is a true democracy; here your boy learns to be a man; that is sound sense. It is better for a fifteen-year-old boy to go away from home, if a good boarding school is selected for him. He tries his wings in this new realm and learns to fly. He cannot learn to fly at home. If he goes from his mother's apron-strings straight to college, he labors at a disadvantage. He needs the discipline and training of the boarding-school as a preparation for his college course. It is the way to get the 'fresh' off a raw boy. This is precisely why there will always be a broad and fertile field for the academy. It supplies the important link between the public school, or the State high school, and the college. There is a gap there that the State cannot fill. The private or denominational academy bridges this chasm. Aside from the preparation in text-books for the college course, the thing so vigorously emphasized in the Oak Ridge catalogue is no less important. The academy develops manliness by teaching a boy to fight his own battles, and being a democracy without pets and favorites the poor boy stands the same chance with the boy whose parents have money or influence or both. Some faint-hearted folks fear that the State will finally overwhelm our whole educational system. There is no cause for alarm for the academy has a work before it that the State school cannot do, and one thing is, it can make a boy a man."

The Cocaine Horror.

News and Observer.

"Every Day Life" prints an awful story of the dangers of cocaine, particularly among negroes. In 1898, when this writer visited New Orleans he was told that though the city was full of saloons many negroes had quit drinking whiskey and contracted the cocaine habit. It is worse than whiskey and at that time readers were warning to prevent its sale. Judge Dickson, of Vicksburg, Miss., is quoted as saying "a man who deliberately puts cocaine into a negro is more dangerous than he who would inoculate a dog with hydrophobia. The deadly drug arouses every evil passion, gives the negro superhuman strength, and destroys his sense of fear. Yet the steamboat negro and the levee negro will not work without it. So the levee contractor makes his camp look like a cross section of hell, but he gets dirt moved." Charles W. Collins and John Day, who composed the Currier Commission to investigate the habit, say that it has been found to be the American curse as opium is the curse of China hemp in India, the worst victims being the negroes. They say "Cocaine now ranks with whiskey as the chief provocation of rape and its consequent lynching bee in the South."

800 Autos Licensed.

Just 800 automobiles have thus far been registered and licensed in North Carolina by the Secretary of State under the new automobile act passed by the last Legislature. These 800 licenses have yielded $4,000 revenue, of which the State gets $1,600 and the counties in which the machines are located $2,400 for public road improvement. The Secretary of State has no way of ascertaining just what per cent. of the motor vehicles remain unlicensed, but it is understood that there are quite a number of them in various sections of the State. Sheriff and police are under instructions to arrest all machines that are operated without the registration number being displayed.

EXTRAORDINARY HAIR TONIC.

It Won't Grow Hair on Bald Heads.
Unlike all other hair restorers, Parisian Sage won't grow hair on bald heads. Neither will it grow hair on china eggs, door knobs or hitching posts.

One claim is about as sensible as the other. If your head is bald and you want to cover it with hair, get a wig.

Parisian Sage, the quick acting hair rejuvenator, is of no use to bald headed people, but for people who have thin hair, falling hair and dandruff, and where the bald spot is just beginning to show, there is nothing in this wide world that will give such satisfactory results as Parisian Sage.

Parisian Sage is guaranteed by Gibson Drug Store to drive out dandruff and stop falling hair in two weeks or money back. It stops itching scalp in two days, and keeps the scalp cool and free from odors in warm weather.

There is nothing on earth that will so quickly turn dull, faded hair into lustrous and luxuriant hair as Parisian Sage.

Try a bottle of Parisian Sage at Gibson Drug Store's risk. Use it for a week, and you will have no use for the ordinary tonics. Parisian Sage is delightfully perfumed, free from grease and stickiness, and a large bottle costs but 50 cents. The girl with the Auburn hair is on every bottle.

GOT ENOUGH OF OKLAHOMA.

Greensboro Man Gives An Account of His Experience Out There.

An excellent citizen of Greensboro who, on account of the going out of business of the firm which had employed him at a good salary for several years, but lost his job, found it impossible to secure any other position here at present sufficiently remunerative to support his family. Two weeks ago he planked down $25.50 for a ticket to Oklahoma City in search of a good thing in that well advertised section. He returned last night, his ticket coming back costing $32.50. This gentleman says that it was not only fearfully hot out there, the thermometer often standing at 105, but he says that for every salaried position there he found at least twenty capable men scrambling for the place. He is an expert in a certain line of work not having so much competition, and yet he says after ten days' desperate effort he was able to get the promise of a position to begin August first, but the salary, at times there for food and rent and other expenses, would nothing like have supported his family. He was glad, however, to take anything, hoping of course, to get promotion in wages and position, but he admitted the outlook was mighty gloomy. Determined to do the best he could, yet in despair, he was waiting to get his job, when he got a telegram from Greensboro offering him a position, and he hurriedly accepted it by wire, leaving the Western El Dorado in three hours. When he asked for release from his offered position there, it was granted, the manager of the firm stating that there were 47 names of first-class men on their "accepted list" of applicants for the same place. The returned citizen is simply exuberant with delight at the prospect of being able to remain and work in North Carolina, and represents a large class of good men who are thronging the new country in the vain hope of getting a better showing in the battle of life than they think they are getting at home. He says that while all incoming trains are now crowded, those going out are also full of people trying to get away.

He exhibited an Oklahoma newspaper, which had seven solid pages of real estate "for sale" advertisements and stated that real estate dealers and hot air promoters were simply swarming all over that country, and had agents all through the mountain regions of the South inducing men to "invest" and to move out West, if they had any money at all. He also stated that the Oklahoma people were not seeking North-ern and Western settlers, except big capitalists, openly asserting that they wanted their population built up chiefly with "good American Southern stock."

Mont Amonea Seminary.

Lutheran Visitor.

Prospects for the next session are good. Professor Miller has just returned from a somewhat extended visit in South Carolina and Georgia, and reports quite a number of new students. Indications are that all the rooms will be taken before the opening in September. A number of changes and improvements are being made in the seminary plant and its equipment. A few about a hundred feet deep has been bored through solid rock, which affords an abundant supply of water. All surface water, to a depth of fifty feet from the surface, is shut out by a packing of cement around the pipe. Some changes are being made in the interior of the buildings, which will add much to the convenience of students and will be conducive to better sanitation. One new member has recently been added to the already efficient faculty, Miss Rosalie Smith, a recent graduate of the State Normal, of Greensboro, who comes with excellent recommendations. Miss Smith will have charge of the School of Expression. The old pianos have been replaced with splendid new ones—five new Haines Bros. instruments. A complete renovation is being made, and everything is being put in fine shape for the opening of next session, on September 9.

When Mrs. James Williams, of Kewanee, Ill., left her home to go to the States for a day's outing Thursday, she placed the family strong box containing cash and notes to the value of $1,000 in the cook stove oven. She was late in reaching home and started a quick fire in the stove to get supper, forgetting the money. When the odor of burning paper was detected, she opened the oven to find the box fallen to pieces and the paper money destroyed. Only ashes remained of all the bills except one of the $20 denomination. Some papers were legible although badly scorched.

Competition this year between the colleges is fierce and sharp. Owing to the taxes our people are compelled to pay the State colleges are able to invade the territory of the denominational schools and offer our children inducements that the latter can not offer. It is pretty tough, though, that we are obliged to furnish the cudgel to crack our own heads.—Charity and Children.

For indigestion and all stomach trouble take Foley's Orino Laxative as it stimulates the stomach and liver and regulates the bowels and will positively cure habitual constipation. Gibson Drug Store.

THE TIME FOR LAYING-BY.

Progressive Farmer.

The chief mistake in laying-by the crops is in allowing the time of the year instead of the condition of the soil and crops to determine when cultivation shall cease. To save moisture and to keep down the weeds and grass are the objects in cultivation. If the crops are suffering from lack of moisture or from weeds, why stop cultivation as long as the crops are growing? The man who cultivates with the plow is usually an advocate of laying-by early. Cultivation is expensive, and late in the season usually injures the crops by breaking too many roots. The man who cultivates shallow and cheaply finds it profitable to continue cultivating as long as weeds are troublesome or the crop is suffering from lack of moisture. We know of no other reason for stopping shallow cultivation, except that the crops have completed their growth, or are free of grass and weeds and have an abundance of moisture. It may pay to stop deep cultivation before any of the above conditions are reached; or it may pay to cultivate deeply when the destruction of the roots will do less injury than the presence of weeds and grass. It is a matter of methods, and condition of soil and of the crops and not one of the season of the year, nor number of cultivations already given.

President Taft Wins a Notable Victory.
Baltimore Sun.
President Taft has won a notable victory over the reactionary elements of his party in Congress. He has achieved this triumph by a combination of tact, firmness and moral courage which reflect high credit upon his ability and determination as a leader. Yesterday morning Mr. Taft notified the Republican members of the joint conference committee on the Tariff bill that he would not recede from his demands, on behalf of the people, for a reduction of the duties on lumber, gloves, hosiery, leather and leather goods. He warned the conferees that if the reductions for which he contends were not embodied in the conference report he would appeal, over the heads of the committee, to the House and Senate direct, and that if this appeal failed he would disapprove the bill when it was sent to him. Yesterday afternoon the conferees conceded the demands of Mr. Taft. They realized that the President is a man of his word, that there would be no tariff legislation at this session of Congress unless it was legislation which Mr. Taft, acting on behalf of the whole country as the President of all the people, could approve.

There is one thing to which we are pleased to call attention, and that is the pre-emptive ability of the college presidents of our denominational schools for boys. Henry Louis Smith, John C. Kilgo, William L. Poter! Come on, State, and name your men.—Charity and Children.

"WE'RE SAYING MONEY NOW."

John W. Gates Back from Abroad a Free Trader—More Prosperity Coming.

John W. Gates, the financier, who has "heretofore always been a Republican," as he puts it, returned a month ago from a tour of the States. It was after a discussion of financial conditions abroad that Mr. Gates approached the free trade question. Though he did not mention President Taft at any time, he placed himself on record as being in favor of the very provisions in the new tariff schedule that Taft advocates, namely, free lumber, free coal, oil and hides and wool. He also approved of an American ship subsidy. "All my life I have been a Republican," Mr. Gates said, "but now I am drifting toward free trade. If we are to be a great manufacturing country—if our shores are to grow greater, we must have an open workshop and a chance to get the raw material free."

General Hancock was laughed at when he said that the tariff was largely a local issue, but it really is so. Look at the South. They used to be free traders. Now they are clamoring for protection for everything they produce. Why, in my own State of Texas they want protection for rice, for cotton and pretty nearly everything else within the borders of the State. Doesn't that prove it?

"Two years ago I said that Americans were going to begin to wear their old clothes, and they have been doing it. They have been staying at home and saving their money, and the bank deposits have increased. I tell you that we are going to have four years of the greatest prosperity and industrial development that this country has ever seen. There will be abundance of investment after the passage of the tariff act."

While educating the people, how would it do to educate some of the younger set so that they will not talk in church? We teach them how to cook and to do various other things and it does look like they might be taught how to keep still for an hour in church.

"THE MOTHERS WONT VOTE."

Ex-Governor Buchtel of Colorado Denounces Extension of the Franchise.

"Only the dregs of womankind vote in Colorado. The mothers have to be practically clubbed to the polls.
