

VOTE IN PIANO CONTEST TO-DAY.

Several thousand votes have been cast in our Piano contest since last issue.

Miss Margie McEachern, who lost first place in last count to Miss Pleasant Collegiate Institute, regains it to-day by a small vote, the Institute being only a few votes behind her.

All the contestants have made good gains, as will be seen by comparing the vote.

The candidates are all now getting to work in good earnest, and large gains in the vote may be expected.

Ask all your friends everywhere to help you. It does not cost them anything to vote, and they will be glad to render you this little service.

All of the contestants have strong supporters, and it is impossible to tell who will win. It is a question of work. Every inch of ground will be fought over, every territory of Cabarrus county will be involved by the vote hunters, while friends of the candidates will go out into adjoining counties, and send word and write to absent friends for help.

Vote early and often! Your friend, though now behind, may be the leader to-morrow. Remember the race is not always to the swift, and careful planning, backed by steady and intelligent effort, will be sure to bring a candidate along to the top sooner or later. Remember, the race is not over—now is the time to work. Get in the contest and strive to be one of the winners. Your gain in votes each day will draw more votes from your friends.

Death of Mr. John McGuirt.

Mr. John McGuirt died last Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock, at his home on Valley street, his death being due to heart disease. Mr. McGuirt was a native of Waxhaw, and came to Concord about ten years ago. He was employed in the mills here for about two years, when he moved to Spencer. While he was living in Spencer he married Miss Della Rogers, of this city, daughter of Mrs. M. A. Freeze. He moved back to Concord about two years ago and for some time operated a restaurant. He was later elected a member of the city police force. He served on the police force for over a year, resigned this position at the request of his physician, who advised him on account of his having a weak heart, against over exerting himself. Mr. McGuirt made a very capable and efficient officer while on the police force and was very popular. The funeral service was held yesterday at the home of his wife's mother, Mrs. M. A. Freeze, being conducted by Rev. C. W. Irwin, of the Cannonville Presbyterian Church.

Knights of Pythias Banquet.

The Concord lodge of Pythians held their regular meeting at Castle Hall last Friday night, at which time the installation of officers for the ensuing year was held. After the installation ceremonies were over the Pythians marched to the St. Cloud-Normandy Hotel, where an elegant banquet was served them by Landlord Norman. Mr. James C. Fink was toastmaster and all the Knights present were called upon for impromptu speeches, many of them responding in a most pleasing manner, which added interest and enthusiasm to the gathering. Among the well known visitors present was Rev. C. B. Miller, of the Southern Power Co., formerly pastor of St. James Lutheran Church here.

Ivey-Askins.

Mr. Charles M. Ivey left this morning for Lake City, S. C., where he will be married to Miss Caroline Askins, to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. They will have a quiet home wedding, witnessed by the relatives and a few intimate friends of the young couple. Mr. Ivey is a prominent young business man of this city, with a bright future, being president of the Ivey Shoe Co. Miss Askins is well remembered in Concord, where she made her home for some time, being a stenographer at Cannon mill. On their return to Concord they will live at Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Yorke's.

Saw Mill Burned.

A saw mill belonging to Mr. J. L. Hartsell and Mr. P. B. Fetzer, of this city, was destroyed by fire last Thursday night. The mill was located in Anson county, twelve miles from Wadesboro. The origin of the fire is not known, as the mill had not been in operation for some time and no one lived very near it. There was a large supply of lumber stacked on the mill yard but this did not catch fire. The lumber was well insured, but the mill had no insurance. The loss is about $300.00.

Mr. J. R. McNeill will be the new superintendent of the Brander mills. His present home is Natchez, Miss., and he is expected here in a few days.

Our Three Splendid Prizes.

Our Piano Contest is now getting well started, and great interest is being manifested in it.

The first prize is a very handsome and excellent $400 Piano, which anyone should be proud to own. This will go to the one getting the largest number of votes.

To the one getting the second largest number of votes we will give a finely polished Brass Bed, complete with the best springs and mattress. This is now on exhibition in the window of the Bell & Harris Furniture Co.

Third prize—a beautiful Gold Watch, ladies' or gents' size. This watch is engine-turned, of the latest pattern and standard make. This is now on exhibition in the show window of J. C. Willford's Jewelry Store.

Any one may enter the contest by cutting the nomination ballot from THE TIMES and putting the name on it. If you do not wish to enter yourself, send in the name of some one else. If your friends see your name in the list of contestants, they will vote for you. Go out among your friends and secure subscriptions for THE TIMES. We will provide you with sample copies. For each new subscriber you obtain, with $1.50 cash, you will be entitled to 300 votes for your favorite, and for all monies collected on back subscriptions and renewals, 100 votes will be given for each dollar collected. When a new subscription is received, a certificate counting as 300 votes will be given, having on it a blank to write the name of the one voted for. Same with arrearsages and renewals, one vote for each cent paid being allowed on these.

Line up your friends and collect a greater amount than any one else, and secure for your own this expensive piano or one of the other prizes. You have three chances. If you do not get the first grand prize, you may get the second or third. Any of them is worth while.

We do not know just when the contest will close, but the date will be announced soon.

New Advertisements.

H. L. Parks will have a slaughter sale of ladies' coat suits Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

Black & Shepard offer you an opportunity of saving from 25 to 50 per cent. on ladies long coats, sweaters and undervests.

A new advertiser in THE TIMES' columns is the Davis Drug Co., successor to the Fetzer Drug Store. The young men who succeed to this business are popular with the people of Concord, and we predict a successful career for them.

Another new advertiser is the Concord Furniture Co., which has contracted with THE TIMES for a year's advertising. They sell a general line of furniture and call your attention especially this week to the Standard Sewing Machine, of which they have a big stock on hand.

The firm of Cline Bros. Co. is now in the store room formerly occupied by Lidpard & Barrier, and are better prepared than ever to serve the public.

Letters from Our Subscribers.

Mr. W. C. Caldwell, of Plant City, Fla., writes us:

"While you are eating sausage and pig feet, and enjoying the icy flakes from mother goose, we are eating fresh tomatoes and strawberries and enjoying the weather with our coats off in South Florida. Happy New Year for Old North Carolina and THE TIMES."

The impression has been created in some way that our Piano Contest is nearing its close. This is a mistake, as it has only fairly started.

These two gentlemen had been in a controversy over the title to some land for some time and had been in a lawyer's office that afternoon and compromised the case. There must have been something that they failed to agree on in the lawyer's office, for soon after coming out on the street they both began to fight. The fight was fast and furious for a few minutes until they were parted by the spectators who gathered around them. Both of the gentlemen seemed well satisfied with the result of the fight and went down to police headquarters and submitted and paid a fine.

RICHARD WAGNER'S PARSIFAL.

Billed for One Performance at Concord, Friday, January 14.

This will without doubt be one of the most artistic theatrical events ever offered to our local theatre-goers. The company is the same that has played the surrounding cities for the past five years. The management carry everything for the production, adapted both to large and small theatres, using no local scenery, as the company carry all scenery, electric effects and paraphernalia complete.

Owing to the unusual length of the performance the curtain will rise for the first act promptly at 7:45 p. m. There are four acts, each one of which requires about forty minutes for its enactment. The intermissions are comparatively short and the final curtain falls at 11 o'clock. It is one of the rules of the performance, and the management gives the assurance that the rule will be strictly enforced, that every one must be seated before the theatre is darkened, which means before the music starts. Late comers will not be shown to their seats until the conclusion of the act. Warning of the approach of commencement time will be given by trumpeters in the lobby entrance.

The head of new-born negro infant discovered in a piece of woods just at the edge of Wadesboro Saturday morning was the cause of considerable excitement.

The discovery was made by James Horne, who was hunting rabbits. From an examination it appears that the head was cut from the body with a knife. A wound on top of the head was made by a blunt instrument. The coroner is making an investigation, and a young negro girl 16 years of age is under arrest. She denies all knowledge of the infant. Searching parties are looking for the decapitated body. An inquest will be held today.
