WISHED SHE COULD DIE

And Be Free From Her Troubles, but Finds Better Way.

Columbia, Tenn.—"Many a time," says Mrs. Jessy Sharp, of this place, "I wished I would die and be relieved of my suffering, from womanly troubles. I could not get up, without pulling at something to help me, and stayed in bed most of the time. I could not do my housework.

The least amount of work tired me out. My head would swim, and I would tremble for an hour or more. Finally, I took Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I am not bothered with pains any more, and I don't have to go to bed. In fact, I am sound and well of all my troubles."

Cardui goes to all the weak spots and helps to make them strong. It acts with nature—not against her. It is for the tired, nervous, irritable women, who feel as if everything were wrong, and need something to quiet their nerves and strengthen the worn-out system.

If you are a woman, suffering from any of the numerous symptoms of womanly trouble, take Cardui. It will help you. At all druggists.

HURT IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT THURSDAY.

Bolt on Steering Gear Breaks, and Mr. C. A. Hinson is Seriously Hurt.

Mr. C. A. Hinson, whose home is in Charlotte, while on his way in an automobile Thursday from Albemarle to that city, met with an accident which was quite a serious one. He was driving his Hupmobile runabout, when a bolt on the steering gear snapped and he lost control of the machine. The car shot to one side and ran against a bank over a hole. Mr. Hinson was knocked unconscious, in which condition he remained for about ten minutes. He managed to get a farmer near to get some one to carry him to Harrisburg, where he took the train for Concord to consult a physician. It is feared that he is injured internally. Mr. Hinson was alone in his car at the time of the accident, which occurred near Coddle Creek, about five miles below Concord. He left the car on the side of the road.

The passengers were not molested, but the firemen who did not obey orders quickly enough were knocked unconscious, and the train crew were threatened with drowning in the nearby river if they resisted. Bloodhounds are on the trail.

LIGHTNING'S WORK.

Telephone Exchange at Kannapolis And Big Mill Motor Burned Out.

Lightning did considerable damage Thursday evening about 6 o'clock at Kannapolis and in western Rowan.

At Kannapolis the telephone exchange was burned out and put out of business for a time. The big motor in Cannon Mill No. 1 was burned out and the mill set on fire. This was promptly extinguished, however.

During the storm five head of fine Herford cattle were killed near Mt. Ulla. The cattle were owned by B. B. Miller, Esq., of Salisbury, were raised on his stock farm and were prize winners. The bolt struck the cattle, killing all of them within a radius of a few feet of each other. The loss is estimated at $500.

On the same evening lightning struck a barn belonging to Deal & Corriher, of Landis, and killed a horse valued at $250.

Concord Defeated Friday.

In a well played game on Friday, Monroe defeated Concord on the former's diamond, 6 to 3. Morrow was on the firing line for Monroe, while Graham did the hurling for Concord. Both pitchers worked well until the seventh inning, but in that frame Graham blew up and the game was lost. The Concordians were 3 runs to the good at this time, but five hits and three errors, two by Graham, lost the game. Patterson did the best hitting for the Concord boys, while Hartings was the bright and particular star for Monroe. Besides getting three hits out of four attempts, Hastings set the crowd wild in the final frame by stealing home. A large crowd witnessed the game and enthusiasm ran high from the time Mr. Umphs yelled "play ball" until the last man was out in the ninth.

The President in Gettysburg.

Gettysburg, July 4. President Wilson, in person, honored the veterans today, receiving continuous ovations, a fitting climax to an eventful week. On his arrival he received the Presidential salute, and was escorted through the cheering lines by Southerners shouting the rebel yell. The camp awoke at daylight to the strains of Dixie and Yankee Doodle, played by bands parading the streets.

Texas Flood Spoils Crops.

Greenville, Tex., July 3.—Damage estimated at almost $1,000,000 was done to crops in Hunt county by a heavy rain and flood last night and early today.

In this city 100 persons were rendered temporarily homeless by the flooding of the lowlands. Railway tracks and telephone and telegraph poles were swept away.

Lightning Fires Salisbury Church.

Salisbury, July 3.—During a severe electrical storm passing over this section of the State late this afternoon, lightning struck the steeple of the First Presbyterian Church in this city, setting the building on fire. The fire was so high in the air that it was with difficulty that it was saved, except for a damage of about $500.

Mr. George Ridenhour, who has been confined to his home on North Church street for some time by illness, is able to be at work again.

NEWS FORECAST FOR THIS WEEK

Washington, D. C., July 5.—A quiet week is in prospect for official Washington, the debates in Congress over the tariff measure promising the only relief from the dullness that envelops the capital in mid-summer.

A primary is to be held Tuesday in the Sixth congressional district of New Jersey, to select candidates to succeed Congressman Martin, who died recently. The election will be held July 22.

Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, with his two sons, Archie and Quentin, is to leave his home in Oyster Bay Tuesday for a two month's camping trip in Grand Canyon of Arizona.

Interest in the automobile world will center in the national reliability tour of the American Automobile Association. The tour is to start Friday from St. Paul and Minneapolis and the entries assure a notable contest. The trip will extend over a circuitous route of more than 1,200 miles and will terminate at the Glacier National Park, in Montana.

One of the largest conventions of the week will be at Rochester, where the annual national reunion of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks will assemble Monday for a session of six days. Thousands of members of the order will be in attendance from every part of the country and great preparations have been made in Rochester for their entertainment.

Other large and notable gatherings of the week will include the annual convention of the National Education Association, in Salt Lake City; the National Conference of Charities and Correction, in Seattle; the international convention of Christian Endeavor societies, in Los Angeles; the annual convention of the Canadian Forestry Association, in Winnipeg; and the annual convention of the National Association of Postoffice Clerks, in Cleveland.

Among the events of the week abroad that will be of interest to American readers will be the annual Grand Prix contest, the most important of the European automobile road races, and the assembling in Zurich, Switzerland, of the World's Seventh Sunday School Convention, in which hundreds of delegates from the United States and Canada will take part.

Other events of the week will include the Perry centennial celebration at Erie, the annual congress of the American Whist League at Chicago, the opening of the Grand Circuit season at Cleveland, and the international Great Lakes flying boat cruise, which is to start from Chicago on Tuesday, to finish at Detroit about ten days later.

Trying to Get a Divorce Law in Italy.

Rome, July 5.—Italy, which has been trying to elect a parliament that would enact a divorce law, seems to be in a fair way to lose out again. The Catholic citizens of Italy, who are not permitted by the pope to vote, are, however, permitted to interest themselves in certain phases of prospective legislation and successful campaign is now being carried on to secure the pledges of all parliamentary candidates for the June election to vote against the proposed divorce law. An official announcement of the pledge themselves against the measure.

An Argument Against Suffragettes.

Atlanta, July 4.—That Christ had no women among his Apostles was used as an argument yesterday before the assembly to prevent the Georgia suffragettes from having their request granted for permission to use the capitol for their State convention. Senator W. W. Stark led the fight against granting the request, and succeeded in having the application laid on the table. The suffragettes were very much taken back at the action of the Senate in refusing them permission to meet in the Senate hall.

BEEES IN BEARD KILL HIM.

Swarm Gathers on Farmer's Whiskers, Stings Causing Death.

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 3.—When Jeremiah Kramer, aged 72, who lives on a farm on the Windgap road, in Chartiers township, entered his wagoned this morning he ran into a big swarm of bees about to swarm on a projecting beam.

Instead of taking to the beam the bees enveloped Kramer and piled onto his face and two-foot-long whiskers. Kramer yelled for help and fought the bees as best he could, but he was soon blinded and helpless from their stings.

The onslaught of the bees rendered him unconscious and he was found by his son three hours later lying on the wagoned floor with the myriads of bees on his head, arms and neck, which were swollen to twice their natural size.

Although medical aid was hurriedly summoned, Kramer died this afternoon.

Southern Power Co.'s "Excuse."

Greensboro News. The Charlotte Chronicle says "officials of the Southern Power Company excuse the exceedingly poor service which this city has been receiving to storm conditions that have no parallel." The Chronicle looks upon this "excuse" as "indeed a plausible explanation of a service that has been exceedingly poor during the past two weeks, but we have always been under the impression that the company had facilities that could overcome any conditions of the weather. We are surprised that this is not the case." When the Southern Power Company started in business it must have known that electrical storms were frequent, and violent at times, in the Piedmont section of North Carolina during the heated season and as a public servant holding a valuable franchise it should have taken greater precaution in the construction of its plant. For the Southern Power Company to say, by reason of electric storms, it is unable to maintain satisfactory or dependable service is an admission of weakness if not inefficiency and holds little future encouragement to patrons dependent upon the company for light and power.

The Building and Loan Association and the Farmer.

Salisbury Post. Of the three associations in Concord one has always made loans on farm lands, while another is now changing its charter to permit the same thing. It is, as the Observer says, a splendid accommodation and it looks like the building and loan could make this feature a prominent and most useful one. How it would be related, no doubt, by Mr. J. M. Hendrix, of Concord, who has managed most successfully an association making loans on farm lands.

Too Hot at Gettysburg.

Winston Sentinel. J. B. Boles, a Confederate veteran of Mocksville, passed through the city today en route home from Gettysburg. To a representative of the Sentinel he stated that the number at Gettysburg when he left was estimated at seventy-five thousand, and that hundreds of others were arriving on every train. He said that the heat was intense, and that he left because he was afraid that, because he was weak, the heat would kill him.

Old Fashioned Family Reunion Had Been Planned.

Cornish, N. H., July 4.—President Wilson was expected to spend the Fourth with his family today at the "Summer White House." It was to have been the President's first vacation since his inauguration and the Wilsons were planning a regular old-fashioned family reunion as well as an Independence Day celebration.
