THE CONFEDERATE MEMORIAL UNVEILED

AND ACCEPTED BY PRESIDENT WILSON.

Handsome Monument Erected at Arlington for Confederate Soldiers Buried There, By United Daughters of the Confederacy. — Impressive Ceremonies Mark the Occasion. — Feeble Veterans of "Lost Cause" Are Joined By Comrades of Union Army in Paying Tribute to Heroes of the Southland.

Washington, June 4.—The President, himself a son of the South, will accept for the United States this afternoon, the Southern women's monument to the dead of the Confederacy at Arlington. Impressive ceremonies will mark the occasion. Feeble veterans of the "Lost Cause" will be joined by comrades of the Union army in paying tribute to the heroes of the Southland.

Standing where he could overlook the graves of 20,000 of the country's dead, where wearers of the blue and the grey sleep side by side, President Wilson today accepted on behalf of the people of the United States the handsome monument erected in the Arlington National Cemetery to the Confederate soldiers who are buried there.

The unveiling of the memorial made the occasion for an impressive demonstration in which veterans of the South and North participated alike with an energy and enthusiasm which defied the life-sapping years that have gone since they bore arms on opposing sides in the greatest conflict in American history.

The ceremonies were simple but impressive in the extreme. Col. Harry A. Herbert, former Secretary of the Navy and chairman of the commission in charge of the erection of the memorial, presided over the exercises. In a short address Col. Herbert formally delivered the monument to Mrs. Daisy McLaurin Stevens representing the United Daughters of the Confederacy. Mrs. Stevens in turn presented the memorial to President Wilson, as the representative of the nation.

In addition to President Wilson the speakers and other leading participants in the ceremonies included Gen. Bennet H. Young of Kentucky, commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans, and Col. Washington Gardner of Michigan, commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Added to the delegations of the Confederate veterans who came from nearly every State of the South were many Union veterans from the District of Columbia, from Maryland, Pennsylvania and the neighboring States. Foreign diplomats, members of the cabinet, representatives of patriotic organizations and several hundred senators and representatives occupied seats on the stands erected about the memorial.

The drawing aside of the veil which draped the principal figure of the monument was the signal for an outburst of cheering, which was swollen to thunderous applause by the sons and daughters of the veterans. Tears dimmed the eyes and coursed down the cheeks of the old soldiers and their emotion-choked voices would have been a feeble effort had it not been for the assistance given by a younger and homage-paying generation.

Touching sentiment was heard on every side and the thanks of the North and South alike were offered by the orators of the occasion to the United Daughters of the Confederacy whose work it was that made the memorial project an accomplished fact.

The monument erected in honor of the memory of the Confederate dead is one of the most interesting, dignified and conspicuous memorials in the famous cemetery, where stand scores of simple shafts and towering monuments put up in honor of the soldier dead, where Revolutionary veterans lie under the same trees that shelter their descendants killed in the Philippine Islands, where sailors who sleep side by side with the victims of the Maine, and where such famous wearers of the grey as Gen. Joseph Wheeler lies buried within sight of the last resting places of such equally famous wearers of the blue as Sheridan, Crook and Schofield.

The Confederate memorial was erected at a cost of $50,000, the greater part of which was raised through the efforts of the United Daughters of the Confederacy. It was designed Harper Stewart.

Announcements have been received by friends which read:

Mrs. George F. Stewart announces the marriage of her daughter Mamie to

Mr. George Vernon Harper on Wednesday evening, June third nineteen hundred and fourteen Concord, North Carolina.

At home, 814, West Trade street, Charlotte, N. C.

by an American sculptor, Sir Moses Ezekiel, himself a Southerner who served in the Confederate army and in later years the designer of monuments to the famous leaders of the "Lost Cause" that adorn public grounds and buildings in Richmond, Louisville and a number of other cities of the South. The sculptor, who has long resided in Italy, came over especially to attend the unveiling of the Arlington memorial and was an honored guest at today's ceremonies.

The monument, which is entirely of bronze, has thirty-two life-sized figures in full relief around a cylindrical base, on which stands the chief figure, a heroic-sized woman, right hand extended, holding a laurel wreath, with the left resting upon a plow stock, on which is a cycle, and underneath a quotation from Isaiah: "They have beaten their swords into plowshares and their spears into pruning hooks."

The base of the monument is of bronze, with patins on the sides, which gives bolder relief to the life-sized statues. In addition to the statues there are bronze shields representing the States of the Confederacy and several bronze tablets bearing suitable inscriptions.

MEETING OF STATE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

N. J. Rouse, of Kinston, Temporary Chairman.—Convention Working Rapidly.—Secretary Redfield to Speak Tonight.

Raleigh, June 4.—The State Democratic Convention convened today at noon. State Chairman Thomas D. Warren called N. J. Rouse, of Kinston, to act as temporary chairman, who spoke briefly for a strong aggressive convention policy congratulatory of the splendid records of the State and National administrations.

The convention is working rapidly in the hope of completing the platform and its adoption late this afternoon so as to hear Secretary Redfield speak tonight.

Raleigh, June 4.—Temporary Chairman Rouse delivered a speech accepting the temporary chairmanship that makes 28 typewritten pages, treating the whole scope of State and national political evolution and present issues.

State Chairman T. D. Warren spoke more briefly, congratulating the party on the success of the State and national administration, and the development of American ideals, predicting the present foreign policy will soon result in a restoration of peace in Mexico, and if war developed it will not be for the subjugation but for the interest of humanity and civil liberty. He said that he was simply a Democrat and not a conservative, reactionary or progressive, but one who believed in equal rights to all. "Democrat" is a substantive noun, so fine and of large import that it admits of no addition or diminution of any sort.

Raleigh, June 4.—E. L. Travis was placed in nomination for corporation commissioner by Hon. W. E. Daniel, who paid a tribute to the work of Mr. Travis as chairman of the commission and spoke of the commission as one of the most potential factors in the State. The nomination was by acclamation.

The nomination of Hon. Lee S. Overman was also by acclamation amid great enthusiasm. All resolutions were referred to the platform committee for a report later.

Mexico Declared War 69 Years Ago.

Washington, June 4.—Additional interest, because of the present Mexican situation, was lent to today by the fact that sixty-nine years ago today—June 4, 1845—Mexico declared war against the United States. Today is also the anniversary of the arrival of the British fleet in America in 1776.

Mr. Shakespeare Harris is having his residence at Poplar Tent improved and modern conveniences added.

THIS OFFER WILL POSITIVELY CLOSE ON THE DATE SET AND WILL NOT BE REPEATED AT ANY TIME DURING THE CAMPAIGN.

The plan of this offer is easily understood and any anyone will at once recognize the fact that such an offer coming right at the beginning of the campaign, when subscriptions are easy to get, will mean the biggest opportunity of the campaign. This offer gives anyone a chance to get into the contest now and in a few days' time place themselves in a position well up in the list and they can gain a lead that will be hard to overcome.

By coming at such an opportune time it will give the real workers of the campaign a chance to demonstrate their ability to their friends and show them that they are deserving of help.

And, remember, that this offer will positively not be repeated at any time during the campaign and that if you wish to be in the running for one of the prizes you must take advantage of it. Do not be satisfied with one set or even two sets. Do not be satisfied with any number. Just see to it that you get every set possible, that you get all the extra votes that you can and see that all the subscriptions that have been promised you come in during this period when they will count the most. Double your effort at once and make these next ten days win you one of the prizes.

BOGER HEARING.

Held in Greensboro Yesterday.—Marshal Webb Reserves Decision in the Matter.—Both Sides Confident.

Messrs. L. T. Hartsell and T. D. Maness have returned from Greensboro, where they appeared in the Boger hearing before Marshal Webb yesterday.

The hearing was to decide upon the appointment of former Chief of Police Boger as deputy marshal. Mr. Boger was appointed to the position several weeks ago but when charges were filed against him by Mr. Maness the appointment was held up and yesterday a hearing was held on the matter.

Mr. L. T. Hartsell and Senator J. P. Cook appeared for Mr. Boger and Mr. Maness against him. Following the hearing Marshal Webb reserved his decision in the matter.

At the hearing yesterday it was learned that, even though Mr. Boger was appointed deputy marshal there is no vacancy of this kind in the marshal's office. He was appointed before Deputy Marshal Ross, who was recently appointed postmaster at Ashboro resigned. Mr. Ross has not yet resigned, hence there is no vacancy for the position at present. It is understood, however, that Mr. Ross will soon tender his resignation and when this is done Marshal Webb will decide whether or not he will appoint Mr. Boger.

Both sides appear well pleased with the outcome of the hearing. Mr. Hartsell stated this morning that he was confident Mr. Boger would be appointed. Mr. Maness stated that he was absolutely confident Marshal Webb would not make the appointment in the face of the charges he preferred yesterday.

Over Carranza's Appointment as Commander of the Constitutional Forces.

Juarez, June 4.—Friends of General Villa are worrying over General Carranza's appointment of General Natera as Commander-in-chief of the constitutionalist forces, which makes him General Villa's superior.

Leading constitutionalists of El Paso and Juarez left in a special train to hold a conference with General Villa.

HON. R. L. DOUGHTON NOMINATED AGAIN.

Without Opposition the Present Member From the Eighth District Gets a Nomination for Third Term in Congress.

Salisbury Post.

Without a word of opposition and by unanimous vote Hon. Robert L. Doughton, present member of Congress from the eighth district, was nominated for the 64th Congress by the Democrats of the district in this city today at noon. Calling the convention to order Chairman Hayden Clement called to the chair for permanent chairman Hon. Theo. F. Klutz and the business of the convention was soon on.

Mr. Doughton was placed in nomination by Mr. R. L. Smith, of Albemarle, in a most appropriate speech in which he briefly reviewed the record of the member and told of his redeeming the district and of his splendid service as a member of Congress.

Next Mr. M. H. Caldwell, of Concord, spoke, warmly seconding the nomination, and adding his personal tribute to the worth of the member and telling what he knew of the services of Congressman Doughton and his faithful service to the district.

Mr. Burk, of Alexander, spoke in like manner in making a very neat seconding speech. He spoke in a personal way of his knowledge of the efficiency of the member and told of his record in the campaign and how he subsequently "made good."

Mr. Hayden Clement, in making a motion to make the nomination unanimous by rising vote stated that as manager for Mr. Doughton, and thus forming a close personal relationship, he could speak the truth in saying that Bob Doughton is clean, fair and efficient.

Before putting the motion Judge Klutz told of a recent visit to Washington, of his having spent a week there and of the universal esteem in which the member from the district is held by his colleagues.

By a rising vote Mr. Doughton was unanimously re-nominated to succeed himself in the 64th Congress from the eighth.

Mr. Doughton responded to the calls from the convention and spoke briefly, but earnestly and forcefully. He pledged himself to the highest service he could render. He said that the party had a record to its credit and that in a large measure this is due to the man in the White House, who has wisely directed the affairs of the nation and his party to a successful undertaking of party obligations.

Mr. Doughton briefly reviewed the principal measures passed by the Democrats and told of the great benefit to be derived from these. He said that his efforts were to serve his people as best he could. Disclaiming any talents as a speaker, Mr. Doughton said that he was a worker and that in the campaign to come and the 64th Congress he would do all he could to promote the best interest of his people, his party and to serve his district.

Mr. Doughton was warm in his praise of President Wilson and in expressing his deep appreciation for the honors conferred upon him, at the same time pledging himself to a full and vigorous campaign through the district.

After listening to Mr. Doughton's short, but most excellent, speech the convention named a committee to have charge of the campaign, the members of this committee being as follows, by counties:

Alexander, C. H. Goodman; Alleghany, R. A. Doughton; Ashe, Dr. J. W. Colvard; Caldwell, Jacob Seigle; Iredell, Zeb V. Long; Cabarrus, J. P. Cook; Stanly, J. M. Boyette; Rowan, Hayden Clement; Watauga, E. F. Lovell.

The committee at once held a meeting for the purpose of effecting an organization, and Mr. Zeb V. Long, of Iredell, was made chairman of the committee, with Mr. John E. Brown, of Watauga, as secretary.

UNITED STATES MAY REVERSE ITS POLICY

Regarding Constitutionalists Should They Refuse to Participate in Mediation.

Niagara Falls, June 4.—Whether the United States will be led to reverse its policy regarding to constitutionalists should they refuse to participate in mediation, and find means to force Carranza to recognize a strong provisional government is to be determined by Carranza's answer. Unless he comes in, mediation can be a "political pacification" for some time.

Mrs. J. W. Coleman, of New Orleans, who has been visiting Mrs. T. C. Thompson, left this morning for Charlottesville, Va., to visit friends.

FINAL DEVELOPMENT IN MEXICAN SITUATION

MAY BE SETTLED IN TWENTY-FOUR HOURS.

General Carranza Will Not Risk Losing Moral Support of United States by a Complete Refusal to Accept Proposals of Mediators.—No Lead Questions Will Be Settled by the Mediators.—All Requests Will Be Complied With.

Washington, June 4.—Potential events in the Mexican situation loomed up strong with possibilities today. Within the next twenty-four hours the officials here expect definite developments, pregnant with success or failure.

The officials point out that Carranza will not risk losing this country's moral support by a complete refusal to accept the proposals of the mediators. The belief is expressed here that now General Carranza knows no lead questions will be settled by the mediators and he will comply with all their requests.

Huerta's apparent intention of blocking munitions for Carranza at Tampico gave the administration a fresh source of worry in the peace results. Admiral Mayo instructed that Tampico must be kept an open port, and whether the administration lives up to this stand is a question the officials refuse to talk on. A high naval official pointed out that a blockade would bring protests from foreign powers. Bryan continued his effort to swing the envoy of the constitutionalists into line on mediation.

Mrs. Burkheimer Here.

Mrs. Eloise Bernheim Burkheimer, of Charlotte, who is the daughter of the distinguished Rev. Dr. G. D. Bernheim, the venerable Lutheran divine and historian, was a guest for a few hours in our city Wednesday, en route to her old home at Mt. Pleasant to visit for a few days. Mrs. Bernheim is one of the most prominent U. D. C. members in North Carolina, and an ardent worker and clever writer, being laureate poetess for the North Carolina U. C. V. Her young daughters, Misses Bessie and Florence Burkheimer, are brilliant playrights, and are doing a Statewide work for the veterans and U. D. C., with their dramatic work. Miss Bessie is first brigade sponsor for the North Carolina veterans for the Raleigh reunion, and her sister, Florence, her maid of honor. The veterans delight in their lovely entertainments and charming personality. These gifted daughters of this State have a promising future.
