SITUATION MADE PLAIN TO CARRANZA

MUST NOT TRY TO SET UP HIS OWN GOVERNMENT

If He Does He Will Be Treated Just as Huerta is Now Being Treated.—Without Recognition It Will Be Impossible for Him to Run His Government.—United States is Marking Time in Mexico — Confident Carranza Will Treat With Huerta.

Washington, July 9.—Until word comes from Carranza the United States will mark time in Mexico. The State Department officials are confident that he will treat with Huerta delegates. Minister Naon, local representative of the A. B. C. mediators, is also confident that he will treat with Huerta delegates. But members of the Junta here are rather dubious, and are worrying over the opposition of the field generals, who are sticking to the Guadalupe plan, which provides peace only after conquest of Mexico City. It has been made plain to Carranza that neither the United States nor the mediators recognize his military government. Should they set up their own government after the capture of the capitol they would be in the same place as Huerta. With recognition refused it would be impossible to raise funds to run the government.

MOSQUITO CURE KILLS.

Four-Year-Old Uses Carbolic Acid As Antidote for Bites.

Chicago, July 8.—Mosquitoes bit the tiny pink legs of 2-year-old Ethel Baugh. The little tot was playing at her home with 4-year-old Dorothy, her sister. Dorothy had seen her mother put some stuff out of a bottle on sister's mosquito bites. She climbed to the medicine chest and found a bottle. It bore a skull and crossbones. She put it on sister's wounds. Ethel cried, "Harder and Dorothy put more on." Mother heard the cries. It was too late. The doctor said Ethel died from the shock of carbolic acid.

Father of 25 Children.

Atlanta, Ga., July 7.—Douglas Courcy comes forward with the record of the largest family in the State. Rev. J. T. Tyson, though only 24 years old, is this week the father of his 25th child. He has been married three times, his first two wives being sisters and his third a niece of his former wives. His latest child is 34 years old.

A Six-Year-Old Evangelist.

Atlanta, Ga., June 7.—Atlanta is just now in in throes of a revival in which Carrie Turner, aged 6, is the evangelist. He is making a tour of the South with his father and preaching against alcohol and tobacco and other sins of the flesh as earnestly as though he had suffered by experience. The boy is quite effective elocutionist and has good stage presence.

Hoover's Annual Sale.

Hoover's usual summer sale of their entire stock of men's, young men's and boy's clothing, raincoats, trousers and felt hats at exactly one-third off for cash, will begin next Saturday morning, July 11. Their policy has always been to start each season with a clean, new stock. See big ad. in today's Times and Tribune.

It is more possible to read a woman like a book than to shut her up like one.

"HOBO" ARRESTED.

Young Italian Arrested Yesterday.—
Police Active After "Deadbeats."

A young Italian was picked up at the depot yesterday by Policeman Eudy for "beating" a train. He was brought to the city hall and placed in the lockup. Tony Ross, an Italian fruit vender, came to the rescue of his fellow countryman and paid him out of the lockup. Since then the young fellow has secured a job and is now at work.

The young man tells a "hard luck" story. He states that he was living in Spartanburg and that his business there was unprofitable and that he lost 11 of his money. Having relatives in New York he made an effort to "deadbeat" his way to the metropolis with the result that he was caught here. When arrested he stated that all he wanted was a job and this was secured for him.

The arrest of the young Italian adds another to the long list of "hobos" arrested here recently. The officers of the railroad company and the local officers have been vigilant in their efforts to stop the "deadbeats" on the roads and quite a number have been tried in the police court recently.

A short time ago two young men were arrested as "hobos." They were tried and sentenced to 30 days on the chain gang. Their sentence expired a few days ago. In the meantime one of the young men had written to his family for aid and a liberal response was made. When the young man's time expired they came to a local haberdashery and purchased a considerable outfit of wearables and left town more in the manner of summer tourists than ex-convicts.

TAKE MRS. CARMAN ON MURDER CHARGE.

"When Is My Mama Coming Home"
Baby Asks Sheriff.

Freeport, N. Y., July 8.—Mrs. Florence Conklin Carman, wife of Dr. Edwin Carman, was arrested today, accused of being the assassin who a week ago last night murdered Mrs. Louise Bailey, wife of a Hempstead manufacturer, by firing a bullet through her heart as she stood in the physician's office.

Tonight Mrs. Carman, at whom the finger of suspicion had pointed since the discovery that she had installed a telephonic instrument in her husband's office to hear conversations between him and his woman patient's in the Nassau county jail at Mineola. There she will remain until Monday, when she again will be examined by the coroner, before who she pleaded not guilty today when arraigned after her arrest in the room where Mrs. Bailey died.

Mrs. Carman's nerve is shattered. When the door of the Mineola jail closed behind her today she pulled her heavy veil from her face and broke down. Her husband and the sheriff, who took her in an automobile from her home here to the jail, assisted her to the top floor of the building.

MANY PEACH TRAINS ARE PASSING THROUGH.

Southern Now Handling About 100
Cars Daily From South Georgia Fields.

Charlotte Observer.
Between 100 and 200 cars of peaches daily are being handled through Charlotte en route to the Georgia markets to the northern markets. The peach crop is reported late, and the real rush has just begun. It was learned from officials of the Southern yesterday that an increase in the shipment of peaches was being looked for during the next 10 days.

Several hundred cars of peaches have been handled through here since the season opened. Despite the fact that the crop is late this number exceeds that of last year by 40 or more cars. Late cold snaps in South Georgia failed to damage the peach crop to the extent predicted at that time, and it is now believed that a bumper crop will be made.

Welcome.

"I'll have to arrest you," said the policeman.
The man who had been having trouble with his wife threw both his arms around the officer and exclaimed:
"This isn't any arrest. This is a rescue."

Suits to Recover $50,000,000

Chicago, July 9.—Suits to recover $50,000,000 back State taxes, started by Cook county against alleged delinquents, will be vigorously pushed. It is intimated that prominent millionaires as well as State tax officials will be involved.

The Pastime has a Universal feature today.

REAL WORKERS ARE COMING TO FRONT

TODAY'S PUBLICATION SHOWS BIG INCREASE IN THE VOTE TOTALS.

Amounts Published Do Not Represent Total Vote, and Reserve Held by
Some of the Candidates Will Be Big Surprise When They Are Made Known.

Look over the list published in today's paper. You will see who are the real workers in the Times-Tribune campaign, and who to help at once before it is too late. This list will show who are actually in the race for the prizes and who are deserving of help. But yet the totals in the paper do not signify the actual standing of the contestants. Most all of the candidates have a reserve of votes which will surprise a great many when it is published on the last day. And every day the real hustlers are adding thousands of votes to this reserve and bettering their chances of being one of the big winners in the end.

For the last few days subscriptions have been coming in much faster than at any time during the contest, and although the votes given on each is less than those of last week, this week promises to be the most important of all. Those who do their very best and get in every possible subscription will be the ones to be successful on Saturday night. But doing the very best possible means good hard work this week and not only alone but also the help of your friends. If you have two or three people working for you all well and good, but if you have not you had better get them at once. Give a couple of receipt books and tell them that you want them to get right out and hustle subscriptions for you. Make them understand that it is too late for promises now and that only actual help will be of any use to you.

As fast as you get a few subscriptions, bring or send them to the office and get your votes. Keep this always well done up so that there will be as little hurry and confusion as possible on the last day.

Kindly note that no checks will be received after today.

MUNICIPAL DANCING PAYS IN CLEVELAND.

The City's Dancing Halls Are a Decided Success.

Cleveland, July 7.—Cleveland's municipal dancing halls are a decided success. This fact was today attested to by Mayor Baker and other officials who have watched the operation of "clean dancing" at three cents per dance in the city park pavilions.

The dances are open air affairs. Every afternoon and evening except Sunday during the summer months young couples of the city are enabled to enjoy chaperoned dancing but the tango and other latest dips and twists are barred.

Nine thousand, nine hundred and seventy-seven tickets were sold at the opening night. The municipal chaperon had an easy time. But one unruly character had to be put off the floor. The culprit was a frisky little mongrel pup who slipped by the door keeper and had the time if his life trying to chew the dancers' heels. He eluded Miss Marguerite Reilly until the music stopped and then he was caught and unceremoniously bounced.

At Woodland Hills pavilion, Mrs. Carol Sullivan, chaperon, had not a single case to need her attention though 5,624 paid for dances. Total receipts at the two municipal dances on the opening nights were $462.03, representing a good profit for the city after the musicians had been paid. The dance halls are to be kept open every afternoon and evening except Sunday until the chill Autumn winds interfere.

Submarine Collides With Destroyer.

Paris, July 8.—Three members of the French submarine perished when the boat collided with a destroyer.

WINTERS CASE TO TRIAL

Another Chapter in the Famous Kidnapping Case.

Newcastle, Ind., July 9.—Another chapter in the Winters' Kidnapping case will be started in the circuit court here tomorrow, when Dr. W. A. Winters' father of the missing child; her step-mother, Mrs. Byrd Winters, and W. H. Cooper, a former boarder at the Winters' home, are to be placed on trial on charges made against them some weeks ago. The three are charged with "conspiracy to commit a felony by conspiring to kill the child by strangling or otherwise, and to destroy the body by burning."

The question uppermost in the minds of all the people of Newcastle today is whether the coming trial will solve the mystery of the disappearance of nine-year-old Catherine Winters. Most persons who have followed the case incline to the opinion that the mystery will not be solved.

Catherine Winters disappeared on March 20, 1913. The child had been canvassing the neighborhood in which she lived, trying to sell needles for a church society. She was last seen late in the afternoon and when she did not return home it was believed she had gone to the home of a neighbor for dinner. The police were not notified until the next day.

The child was the daughter of Winters by his first wife, who died several years ago. Catherine and her little brother inherited $3,000 on the death of their mother.

For many months after the disappearance of the little girl a nationwide search was made for her. The father made many trips, some to distant parts of the country, to run down possible clues as to the whereabouts of the child. Her picture was displayed in moving-picture theatres throughout the country in the hope that someone might recognize the little girl.

From time to time reports have been circulated that Dr. Winters was not sincere in his search for the missing child and that he had used a considerable part of the funds raised to conduct the search for other than the purpose intended. Matters reached a climax on May 30 last, when Dr. Winters, his wife and Cooper, the former boarder, were taken into custody. At the same time a search was made of the Winters home in an effort to find something that might throw light on the mystery. The search is said to have disclosed a red sweater and a red ribbon used for the hair concealed in a cement block in a wall under the house and a red-stained garment under a furnace ventilating pipe. Encouraged by the finding of the clothing, the police took up cellar floor and other parts of the premises with a view to learning whether or not a body might be concealed. A similar search was made of another house formerly occupied by the Winters, but so far as has been made public the investigation failed to disclose anything that would indicate that the child had been murdered.

Dr. Winters, his wife and Cooper have been at liberty on bail since their innocence of the charges made against them. They declare that the is as much a mystery to them as to anyone.

Cooper is a railroad telegraph operator, and has been in Newcastle about seven years. According to his own statement he went to Indianapolis March 24, 1913, four days after the disappearance of the child, and did not return until March 31, 1913.

One of the most baffling features in connection with the case is the apparent lack of motive either for the kidnapping or the murder of the child. A thorough investigation was conducted on the theory that the little girl might have been stolen by gypsies, but not the slightest clue was found to support the theory. On the other hand the financial circumstances of Dr. Winters seemed to preclude the idea that the child may have been kidnapped for the purpose of securing a ransom. Both of these theories were long ago dismissed as unreasonable by the detectives employed to investigate the case.

On the other hand, there appears to be no adequate evidence indicating a motive for the murder of the little girl. One theory advanced by the detectives connects Mrs. Winters and Cooper, and the other is that the child might have been unwelcome at the home. So far as public knowledge goes there is absolutely nothing to substantiate either theory.

There is a reward of $2,300 outstanding in connection with the case, but most of the money is for the safe return of the child alive. The mayor of Newcastle, the judges of the local courts and the bankers and leading business men of the city, all have contributed to the fund and have otherwise lent their aid in the efforts that have been made to solve the mystery.

FROM THE STATE CAPITAL TODAY

HARDWARE DEALERS ELECT OFFICERS FOR NEXT YEAR.

T. W. Dixon, of Charlotte, Secretary and Treasurer.—Two Negro Youths Committed to State Penitentiary to Prevent Lynching.—Attempted Criminal Assault on a Sixteen Year Old Girl.

Raleigh, July 9.—The North and South Carolina Association of Hardware Dealers elected officers, left the selection of the place of the next meeting to the executive committee and adjourned. The officers chosen were: President, W. H. Keith, of Timmonsville, S. C.; Vice-Presidents, H. E. Reid, of Lincolnton, N. C., A. R. Craig, Marion, S. C., J. Oneal, Henderson, N. C.; Secretary and Treasurer, T. W. Dixon, Charlotte; Official Auditor, W. L. Gilbert, Statesville; executive committee, the officers and L. W. Smoak, Orangeburg, S. C., and Otis Green, Asheville.

Fletcher Winstead and William Holland, negro youths, were committed to the penitentiary for safe keeping to prevent lynching in Edgecombe and Nash counties, where the boys last evening criminally assaulted Nannie May Daughtridge, daughter of Dock Daughtridge, a Rocky Mount contractor. The screams of the girl brought aid and the negroes failed to accomplish their purpose. The girl is sixteen years old. She was injured by being thrown in a ditch.

WASP WAIST ON BOARDWALK.

Fashion of Eighties is Revived by Atlantic City Women.

Atlantic City, July 6.—The wasp waist is here again.

Exactly four gowns made in this style appeared here. Everybody looked and wondered and women in particular discussed among themselves whether this fashion of the '80's will become generally popular.

Curving in at the normal waist line in most pronounced hour-glass fashion, this mode of 30 years ago was revived with a skirt of the present era, which seems indicative of a gigantic effort to revive the hoopskirt modes.

Hundreds of bathers left the water and tangoed on the beach today when Atlantic City's new municipal bands played in one of the pavilions on the Boardwalk.

SIR WILLIAM OSLER STARTLES AUDIENCE.

Tells His Hearers They Practically
All Have the Dreaded Tuberculosis.

Leeds, England, July 8.—Sir William Osler today startled the huge audience attending the conference of the Association for the Prevention of Consumption by telling them they practically all had tuberculosis. He said:

"If with the aid of radium and a microscope, I could look at the chests of this audience I am addressing, in 90 per cent. of you I'd discover a small focus or area of tuberculosis."

Sir William demanded in the interests of the State the establishment of rigid control over consumptives.

"PEACE PROTOCOL"

President Wilson Receives Henry
Ford and Other Big Business Men.

Washington, July 9.—The formulation of a "peace protocol" between the Administration and big business went forward rapidly. President Wilson received Henry Ford, R. S. Crampton, of Chicago, and other big business men. Through these visits President Wilson is getting actual conditions in the country. As a result he will make minor changes in the trust bills so as not to work such hardship on some classes of business.

Suffragettes Yell at King and Queen.

Delmar, Scotland, July 8.—Suffragettes followed in the wake of King George and Queen Mary yelling through megaphones along the line: "Stop torturing women." The crowds pelled the women until they were forced to retire.

Mrs. Lee S. Overman and Miss Catherine Overman motored here from Salisbury and spent a few hours Tuesday afternoon.

Lonnie Groff, son of J. W. Groff, has gone to Portsmouth to join the United States navy.
