MOVEMENT TO CLEAN UP THE BACK LOTS

Petition Being Circulated and Liberally Signed.

A movement headed by Express Agent Holland, has been inaugurated to clean up the unsightly back lots of Concord. A petition is being circulated and most liberally signed. Practically every owner of property along Union street has signed it. The pefition reads as follows:

To the Honorable Mayor and Board of Aldermen, City of Concord, N C We the undersigned do herewith humbly beg to call your attention to, and request your serious consideration of the conditions of the back lots of this City between Depot and Corbin Streets. These lots we believe, are private property, and we do not know what length your authority extends, but we solicit your aid in having the conditions improved, which should be of mutual advantage to the owners, renters and the City at large. These lots for some time have been in terrible condition, and are almost inaccessible especially on foot, and wehicles even can hardly get in and per on "The Life of George Elliott," out.

We do a large per cent of our busi ness through our back doors, and we think that you will agree with us that and Miss Anna Branson read a synopthe present conditions should be allowed to exist longer than necessary. We have petitioned the Merchants'

Association and also Concord Civic Improvement League to lend their efforts to have conditions bettered, ness, refreshments were served to the and we are now requesting your earnest re-operation and your authority to the fullest extent to have some-

We now have a beautiful City, with all of the streets paved, and we think that it is a disgrace to allow the present conditions to exist.

John Hunt, Aged Rockwell Man, is Seriously Injured.

Salisbury, Jan. 30. - John Hunt. an aged man, from Rockwell, was seriously and perhaps fatally injured here today when a team of horses he was driving ran away. Mr. Hunt was helping to move household goods from Rockwell to Lexington and when he started down a hill on North Main street the horses began runming. At the foot of the hill they shired to one side of the street to miss mother wagon and the old man fell off, landing on his head. He was immediately taken to a physician's office and this afternoon was conveyed to his home at Rockwell. While his skull showed no outward break the physician thought it probable that there was serious internal injury.
