MEETINGS CLOSE AT BAPTIST CHURCHES

Eighty-One New Members Added to the McGill Street Baptist Church as Result of the Meeting.

INTEREST ALIVE AT LAST SERVICE

More Than $500 Given by This Church.—Salary of the Pastor Raised to $2,400 a Year.

Two fine services Sunday marked a fitting close to the 15-day series of evangelistic services which this church has enjoyed.

It has been a meeting in which Christians have prayed and worked; 81 were added to the church. It has been a revival of Bible reading; more than 15,000 chapters have been read by the congregation during the meeting, and considerably more than half of the large assembly last night solemnly pledged themselves to read some portion of Scripture each day. It has been a season of consecration; two young men and one young woman publicly declared their readiness to become evangelists, singers, missionaries, or to dedicate their lives to any definite service to which the Lord shall call them. It has been a revival of Stewardship; approximately $500 have found their way into the Lord's treasury during the meeting and last night thirty Christians stood up signifying that they are titheers. They were joined by forty five others, indicating their purpose to become titheers. The pastor has been generously pondered, since the meeting began and the church has voted to increase his salary 33 1/3 per cent, making it $2,400.

At the morning service yesterday the Evangelist did not preach, allowing the congregation instead to remind themselves and one another of the strong ties that bind them to the beloved Lord, and the loving hands in the form of loved ones before that persuasively invite them to turn their steps toward God and Home. It was a great service and at its conclusion Misses Bryte Polk, Ethel Robinson and Mr. Chad Sherrell were received for baptism.

The text for the evening was read from 1st Corinthians 16:2: "Upon the first day of the week let every one of you lay by him in store as God hath prospered him, that there be no gatherings when I come."

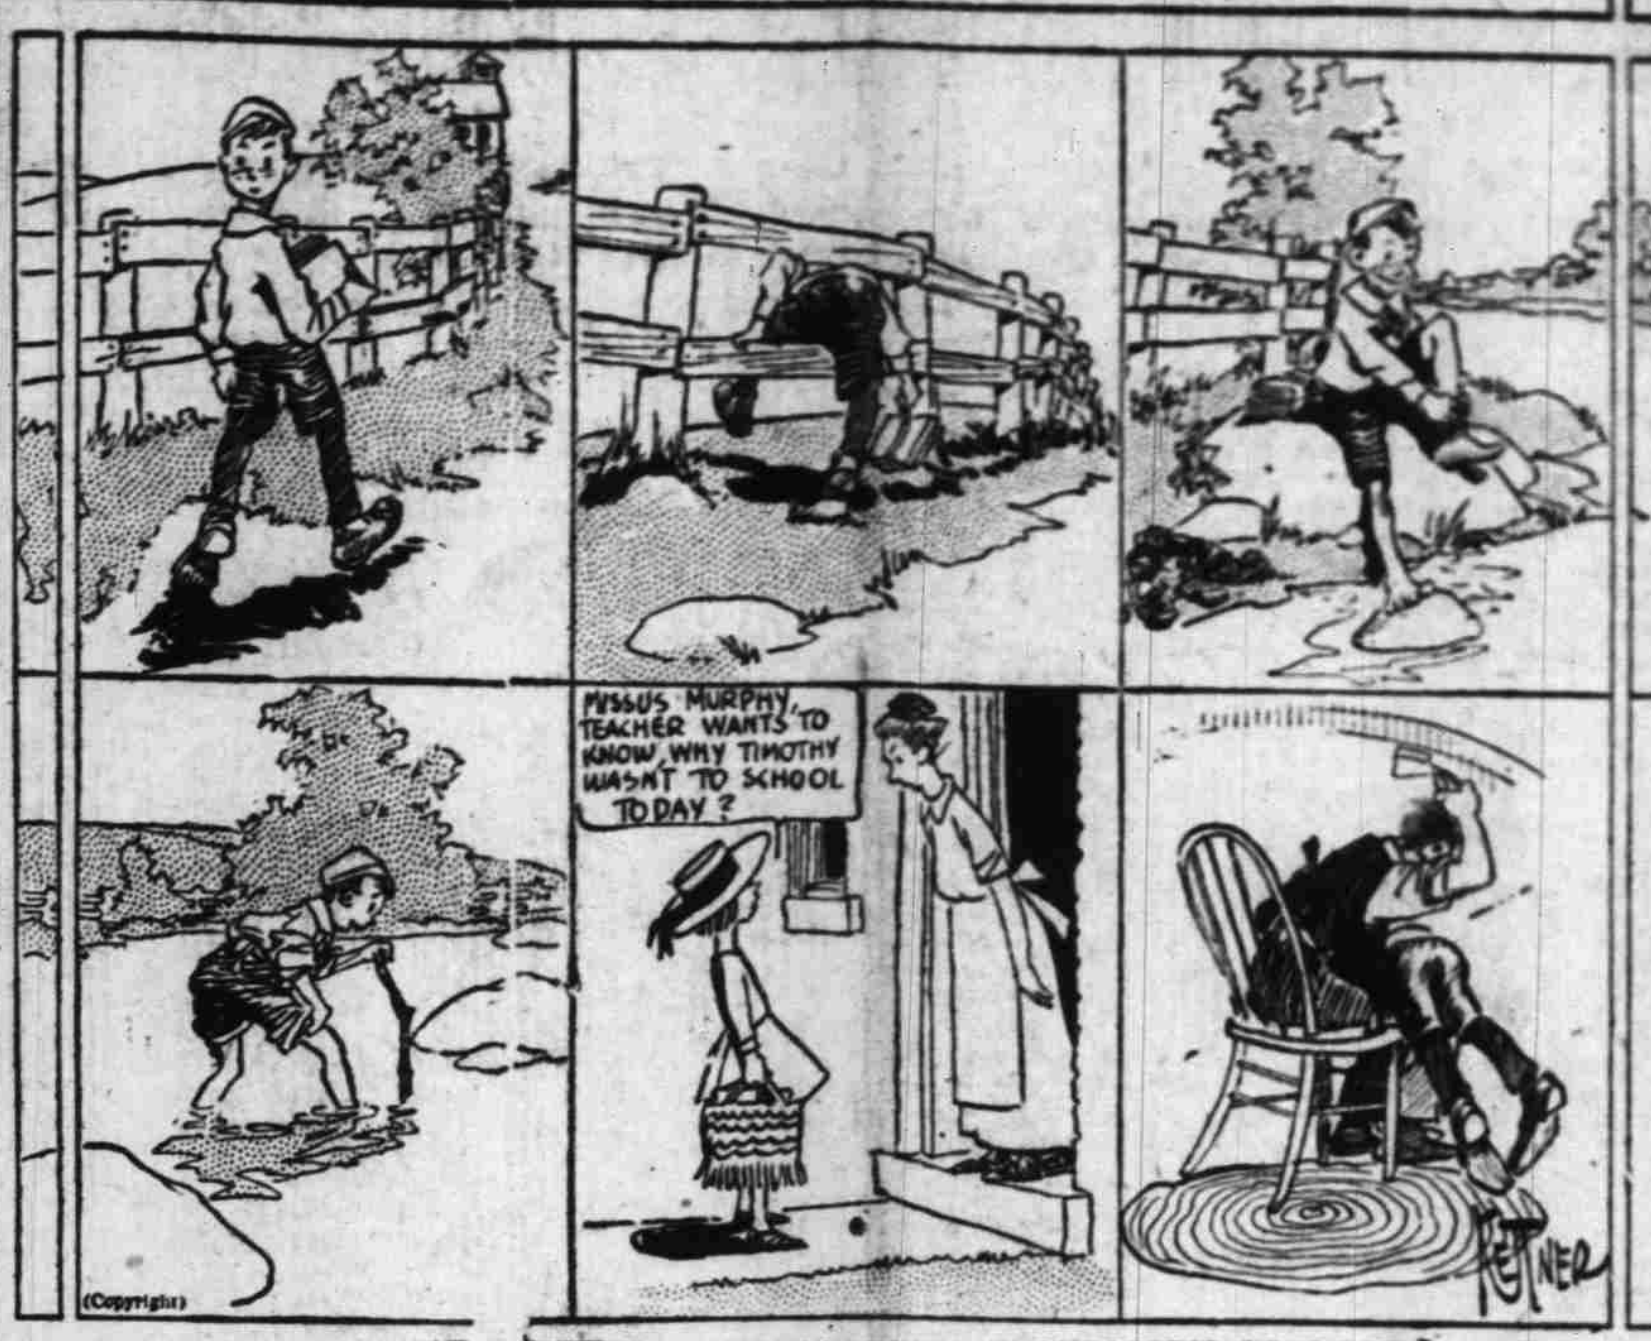

The preacher emphasized stewardship and giving as essential Christian graces, boldly asserting that the "tithe" is the basis on which God runs His kingdom on earth. He challenged his hearers to mention a single tithe who ever failed in business, assisting them Baptists that for every text in the Bible authorizing baptism, there are twenty enjoining giving.

This service, the last of the series, came to its close with the reception by the church of the following for baptism: Misses Evelyn Jaskson, Delphi Probst, Maude Ellington, Elsie Pless, Janie Helms, Curlye May Summerville and Mr. Ernest Mooney; by letter, Mrs. J. E. Tucker.

An account of these meetings could not be appropriately concluded without mentioning the splendid service rendered as accompanists by Mr. R. P. Benson of the Central Methodist Church, and Mrs. L. R. Crooks of the First Baptist church. Pastor, Church, Evangelist and Singers are under last-mentioned obligation to them both for their prompt faithfulness in assisting them.

They were a part of the meeting, publicly refusing any remuneration whatever for their services.

The End of a Perfect Day

WEDDING SATURDAY

Marriage of Miss Mary Branson Coltrane to Mr. Frank Dusch a Brilliant Affair.

Saturday evening at seven-thirty a brilliant and happy marriage was solemnized in the Central Methodist Episcopal Church, the contracting parties being Mr. Frank Amis Dusch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Dusch, of Norfolk, Va., and Miss Mary Branson Coltrane, the lovely, popular and accomplished daughter of Mr. D. B. Coltrane.

Hundreds of invitations had been issued, and long before the appointed hour crowds gathered on the beautiful church lawn to watch admiring friends hurrying there, who evinced pleasurable excitement over the approaching nuptials. Many friends from a distance were present including Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Dusch, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Porter, Mrs. Irma Hornthal of Norfolk, Mrs. J. D. Price, Miss Ruth Price, Mrs. E. Homer Whitt, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Bailey, of Salisbury, Md., Miss Cora Vaughn, of Franklin, Va., Mrs. W. S. Glenn, Miss Martha Glenn, of Spartanburg, S. C., Mrs. T. C. Guthrie, of Charlotte, Dr. and Mrs. D. A. Garrison, Mr. and Mrs. Plato Derham of Gastonia, Mr. Allen Preyer, Mr. John Kellenburger, Mr. Earl Weatherly, Greensboro, Mr. Gerdon Foster, of Winston-Salem.

The evening light shining softly through the stained glass windows, gave an added charm to the chancel, which was a lovely tower of roses entwined through lattice work enshrined in rich green foliage. Baskets of pink roses on pedestals completed the setting, and huge vases of Madonna lilies spaced the steps of snowy white that led to the approach of fairyland the picture presented.

Miss Nell Herring, who presided at the organ rendered selections of different arias until the arrival of gracious and pretty Nancy Lee Patterson, who sang "Perfect Love," words by Victor Hugo, and music written by Guy D'Hardelot. The stirring tones of Lohengrin's wedding march announced the arrival of the wedding party. Four dainty little maidens—Marion Louise Coltrane, Betsy Davis, Mary Penelope Cannon, and Alice York, with the roses in their cheeks the color of the dainty pink frocks they wore, acted as ribbon girls. The ushers, Messrs. Chas. A. Cannon, Wm. P. Dobson Jr., of Norfolk, Thomas Webb, Jr., and Ralph Dawson, of Norfolk, preceded the bridemaids, Miss Anne Maury, of Big Stone Gap, Va., and Miss Shirley Gilbert, of Lynchburg, who were charmingly gowned in orchid tulle and trimmed with many frills of pleatings, carrying wondrous bouquets of varied colored snapdragons with showers. The groomsmen wore Messrs. James E. Etheridge, of Norfolk, and Mr. Laurence Wrenn, of Norfolk.

Mrs. Chas. A. Cannon, the bride's sister, the dame of honor, presented a picture of loveliness seldom seen, in a gown of soft creamy lace, carrying snapdragons. Miss Elizabeth Coltrane as maid of honor, wore a striking gown of turquoise blue tulle and the flowers she carried seemed to vie in beauty with her pretty face, sparkling eyes and glistening dark hair. The little ring bearer, Master William Coltrane Cannon, was a charming little gentleman in his white serot suit and marched soldierly like up the aisle and took his place. Marion Winstow Cannon, a cherub of a baby girl in a dress of white net over pink satin, with many frills and wearing a giant bonnet, entered smiling, greeting those who smiled at her while her dainty fingers strewed pink roses from a lovely basket along the pathway for the radiant bride, who entered looking her loveliest leaning on the arm of her father. All eyes were charmed by the elegance of the bride's attire composed of duchess satin over which flowed a snowy veil clasped by sprays of orange blossoms. A bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley held a shower that reached to the hem of her skirt. The groom, with his best man, Mr. Chas. Etheridge, of Norfolk, led the bride at the altar. The beautiful and impressive ring ceremony

NOTHING DEFINITE IS REPORTED SO FAR

Raleigh News and Observer says that today at Chicago and none are expected. Things uncertain on eve of opening.

REPUBLICAN VOTE ALSO UNCERTAIN

Believed That Lacy, Graham, Shipman, Wade and Durham Have Received Sufficient Votes to Nominate.

(By the Associated Press.) Raleigh, June 7.—With incomplete and unofficial returns compiled by the Raleigh News and Observer from 66 of the 100 counties giving Lieutenant Governor O. Max Gardner a lead of about 2,000 votes over Cameron Morrison, indications early today were that a second primary would be necessary unless these two candidates to determine the candidate for governor.

The figures as tabulated last night by the News and Observer give: Gardner, 33,068; Morrison, 29,026. Senator Lee S. Overman has overwhelmingly defeated A. L. Brooks for the nomination for the United States Senate, the returns indicate.

In the races for Congress H. R. Ward has apparently defeated Representative John H. Small for the nomination in the 1st district, the News and Observer's reports indicating Mr. Ward's majorities in most of the counties. Charles I. Abernethy in a statement last night conceding his defeat by Representative Brinson, in the third district. Representative Hamilton Jordan and Homer L. Lyon will probably enter a second primary to determine the nominee in the second district, returns indicate. W. C. Hamner and Walter Brock are running neck and neck in the seventh, with a second primary probably necessary to decide the nominee. Major A. I. Bulwinkle was apparently leading in the ninth district.

On merger reports available here on the race between Senator Johnson and Gen. Wood for the Republican nomination, it was impossible early today to tell who had received the largest number of votes because no comparison had been made of new returns. Zeb V. Walser, of Lexington, state manager for General Wood, stated over the telephone this morning that he had received reports from only a few of the mountain counties, in which he said General Wood was leading. L. Mr. Walser said he expected to receive definite reports by night, having arranged by county chairmen to wire him as soon as the vote is canvassed today.

Contests for the two seats on the Supreme Court bench still in doubt, though the nomination of Judge Hoke is indicated.

Based on reports thus far received the full nominations appeared probably: B. R. Lacy, treasurer; W. A. Graham, commissioner of Agriculture; M. L. Shipman, commissioner of Labor and printing; Stacy Wade, insurance commissioner; and Baxter Durham, auditor.

NO CHANGES IN THE CONVENTION LINEUP

Waiting for first ballot.

WAITING FOR FIRST BALLOT

No Campaign Manager Is Ready For a Real Test Vote.—Leaders Seem to Be No Longer Leaders.

(By the Associated Press.) Chicago, June 7.—No changes have appeared today in the convention lineup and none are expected.

Twenty-four hours before the Republican national convention assembled, it is an absolutely unbroken, solid unit, and as the hotly debated delegates will all about the hotel lobby awaiting the absence of leaders, the men who were leaders in larger groups find a grim satisfaction in referring to the changes of leadership which were so freely hurled at them in former conventions. They are asking the delegates if it is not better to be led than lost.

Such overnight and early morning conferences as were held were of the same inconclusive nature as those in which preceded them, and only served to strengthen the program of letting the convention learn by its preliminary ballots that none of the candidates now having the most delegates has enough to nominate him.

The so-called leaders are explaining to inquirers that attention is now centered on the platform. The best informed observers, however, are evidence that this is merely screen to hide the fact that the so-called leaders are no longer leaders. The passing of the old line party whips appears more evident and has brought up an entirely new crop of leaders, many of whom do not know one another, and that is one of the things that explains the lack of cohesive action in getting down to definite conclusions.

No campaign manager has been able to strengthen his lines enough to go in with confidence for the real test vote. Each of them is waiting for the first ballot to demonstrate how good are the assurances he has received from unimpaired delegates.

All managers look for the first ballot to settle the outlook considerably for the big three—Johnson, Landon and Wood.

They feel that the candidate who gets the highest number will have a potential advantage, and the candidate at the bottom will be on the defensive. The candidate who can make a gain on the second ballot, the managers feel, will provide his manager with every valuable ammunition in rounding up things for the third.

"Dark horse" talk was still in the background today and still a strong undercurrent of Hughes talk. Senator Borah, one of Johnson's supporters, said that as yet he was not considering dark horse, but would regard Hughes as a very formidable man, if the dark horse stage was reached.

Several good fights in the selection of national committee men are being staged.

Enforcement Act Legal. Washington, June 7.—The prohibition enforcement act was held constitutional.

Both Are Held Constitutional. Washington, June 7.—Both Federal prohibition amendment and the enforcement act passed by Congress were held constitutional today by the Supreme Court.

The Court dismissed petitions filed by the state of Rhode Island to have Federal officials enjoined from enforcing prohibition in that state. The court also discussed the injunction proceedings brought by New Jersey to enforce prohibition in that state.

The Injunction restraining prohibition officials from interfering with the Manitowoc Products Company, a Wisconsin corporation in the manufacture of beer containing more than one half of one per cent alcohol, dissolved by the court.

The Court upheld the Federal court decrees dismissing proceedings brought to enjoin prohibition amendment being enforced against Christian Feigenstam, a brewer of Newark, New Jersey.

A Federal court decree denying similar injunction sought by St. Louis brewing associations likewise was affirmed. The court's decision was very short. Chief Justice White rendered supplemental decision, concurring in that of Justice Van DeVanter, but going more fully into issues involved.

Federal court's decrees dismissing injunction proceedings instituted by Kentucky distillers and warehouse company of Louisville Kentucky to enjoin enforcement were sustained by the court. Injunction sought by George Deane, of Boston to restrain enforcement act against him also was denied by the court.
