

MANY PRESENT FOR BIG HOME COMING

Concord Streets Thronged With 'Home Comers' During The Two Days of the Big Celebration.

EXHIBITS WERE SEEN BY MANY

And Seemed the Most Interesting Feature of the Celebration.—Tournament Also Seen by Thousands.

With perfect behavior and only one accident, and this a minor nature, the 1920 Home Coming and County Fair Celebration passed with great success. While the features offered were not so many as on former years, the crowd seemed entertained at all times, and the consensus of opinion is that the two days were a success, especially if judged by the size of the crowds rather than the entertainments offered.

The business section of Union Street was blocked off during the two days, thus making a great thoroughfare for the "home comers," and during the two days Union Street from Depot to Corbin streets was a seething mass of humanity. Not only was every section of Cabarrus County represented in the crowd, but many persons from other counties and states were here, and thousands of people who lined the city streets were representative of the hundreds of Cabarrus people who are now making their homes in other counties and states.

The behavior of the crowd was most unusual. While there was some drinking, there were no "gutter rats," and the work of the police consisted mainly in keeping traffic open on the streets of the city. The old time drunkard, with his vile tongue and nauseating appearance was conspicuously absent, and in his place came the younger generation with the same time menacing and always disagreeable rubber ball and whip, but with his eye clear and his breath clean. Such behavior as seen here Friday and Saturday has never been equaled except last year when not a single arrest was made during the Home Coming celebration.

The two main features on Friday's program were the parade and the tournament. The former took place Friday morning, and was witnessed by 50 per cent. of the visitors. The latter took place Friday afternoon, and was witnessed by a crowd estimated at 4,000 people.

While the parade Friday was not so large as some others held here, it was representative of the business houses of the city, and contained some excellent floats and some beautifully decorated cars. The judges made their decision Friday afternoon, and the following prizes were awarded: First, E. B. Grady; second, W. W. Harkey; first, Liberty Roadster second; Liberty Sedan third.

Trucks: Best decorated, Indian Refining Company; second C. H. Graeber; third, County Home. Mr. Joe Paris, manager of the Auto Tractor Company, who had announced that he would give a prize of $25 for the best decorated Liberty car in the parade, announced that the prize was given to Mrs. D. F. Ritz, who drive a Liberty roadster.

The awards of the judges will unquestionably meet with approval, for the different floats showed plainly how the city and its business houses are prospering. The Porter Drug Company's float and the War Mothers' float were especially fine. The former advertised Soma Tonic, a tonic, and seated under a large white umbrella were two ladies who represented the person before taking the tonic. Just on the rear of the float were the persons representing the same persons after the tonic had been taken. The "before taking" part was played by Miss Rosa Mund and by Mrs. J. V. Davis; the "after taking" part by Miss J. E. Cannon, L. E. Roger, J. B. Womble and Gale Pickard. The float was drawn by a black mule, which was led by Frank Cline and R. E. Hahnhorst, Jr., the former representing "before taking," the latter "after taking."

The War Mothers' float represented Flanders Field, the float being filled with poppies and war crosses. On the float, which was driven by a former soldier in uniform, were Mrs. R. A. Brown and a member each of the army and navy. Music for the parade was furnished by the Jackson Training School Band and the playing of the students at the school solicited much applause from the spectators. The members of the band also gave several concerts during the day, and much of the success of the celebration is due to the music furnished by the boys.

Horseback Tournament. Several thousand people witnessed the grand Horseback Tournament Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock which was spectacular and interesting throughout. Quite a number of knights had entered for the event, and the immense crowd was thrilled with the excellent riding of each knight, as they raced by in gorgeous costumes, especially for the occasion.

"Two cars were stolen here Friday," the Chief stated, "and with several hundred cars parked on the streets the police can't watch each of them and tell when the rightful owner gets in and drives off. The wise thing is for each person to watch his car or leave it so no one else can drive it off, and then there will be no trouble."

ANOTHER CLUE TODAY FROM FEDERAL AGENTS

Who Have Arrested Floreen Zelenaka For a Part in the Bomb Explosion on Wall Street.

ARREST MADE IN PITTSBURGH

A Suit Case of Dynamite Was Found in the Man's Effects When He Was Taken by the Officers.

(By the Associated Press.) New York, Oct. 4.—Renewed vigor was instilled today in the investigation of the mysterious Wall Street explosion on September 16 as a result of the arrest at Pittsburgh yesterday of Floreen Zelenaka. Department of Justice agents said they attached special significance to the arrest.

On learning of Zelenaka's arrest at Pittsburgh, where a suit case filled with dynamite was found in his room, Federal agents visited the Brooklyn address he gave when arrested and established these facts:

"That Zelenaka left his room at 470 Cleveland Street in the foreign section an hour or more before the disaster; that he carried a reddish yellow bag.

"That he formerly was employed by the Hercules Powder Company.

"That he left in his room a large quantity of alleged radical Russian literature."

Told the Police. New York, Oct. 4.—Leon Konkel, a steam fitter, the man who gave the Pittsburgh authorities the information which led to the arrest there last night of Floreen Zelenaka, of Brooklyn, in connection with the Wall Street explosion, arrived here today from Pittsburgh to tell his story to the Federal authorities.

Konkel told agents of the Department of Justice that while he was traveling from Cincinnati to Pittsburgh with the suspect, the latter had informed him that he had explosives in his suit case and gloated over the Wall Street explosion. Konkel said that he had him arrested after he had seen the dynamite in his traveling companion's suit case at a hotel in the Pennsylvania city.

If Konkel's information leads to a solution of the New York disaster he is eligible to the $2,500 rewards offered for tips leading to the arrest of the guilty parties.

GOV. COX CONTINUES HIS PLEA FOR LEAGUE

Tells Women in Dayton Why They Should Support the Cause of the League of Nations As Presented.

SAYS WOMEN KNOW WHAT WARS COST

League Will Not Only Prevent War, But "Will Set up a Clearing House For Justice."

(By the Associated Press.) Dayton, O., Oct. 4.—At home from a campaign tour that took him more than 11,000 miles and into every state west of the Mississippi River except 3, Governor James M. Cox, though supposed to rest for two days before going to Kentucky and Tennessee, today continued his plea for adoption of the league of nations.

In an address to a body of women today the Governor went into considerable detail why women should support the league cause, asserting that throughout the years they have been "the leaders of progress in the world" and declaring that the wrath of the women who were made to suffer in the war will pursue Franz Joseph, Wm. Hohenzollern and Nicholas Romanoff "through all eternity."

"Though asserting that monetary costs of war, direct and indirect was three hundred billion dollars. It was the women, Governor Cox declared, who know what the war really cost, for they paid the price in personal suffering, to provide the rulers of earth with 10,000,000 men who were thrown into the gauges of battle to placate the anger of the gods of war."

The league, Governor Cox said, not only will prevent war, which he asserted is its primary purpose, but also will promote progress, and will "set up or itself become a clearing house for international justice."

"Those who want to keep on dreaming of a new heaven and a new earth can perhaps afford to stay out of the league," the candidate said "but those who want to make dreams come true and make this world a fit habitation for human spirits will want to join the league without delay."

WHO MUST REGISTER.

Friends Voters Do Not Have to Be Jury Service or Pay Poll Tax This Year.

Fifteen hundred and sixty-four poll books will be opened in an hour's quiet preparation at county headquarters for the registration of voters who will be held today on November 2. The books will be open for four weeks, and in the next four Saturdays, the registrars will be at the regular polling places. Other days in the week, except Saturdays, they can be found at their homes or their places of business.

More interest attaches to the opening of the books this year than can be remembered in the event for some previous years. This year the women will vote, and in great numbers, most political leaders believe. Estimates as to how many will place their names on the books vary, but the average runs beyond the hundred thousand mark, and that most of those who register will go to the polls and vote four weeks from next Tuesday.

H. M. Landon, Legislative Reference Librarian, has compiled all the information that may be required by any new voters who will have to register during the coming four weeks. Batted down to the bare essentials, Mr. Landon's statement is as follows:

All persons not previously registered, and who expect to vote in the coming election, must register. "Previously registered" means in the precinct to which the voter expects to cast his vote. If he has moved since he last voted he will have to register again.

Female voters are subject to the same qualifications as are male voters, except that they are not required to pay poll tax this year. She must be a citizen of the United States, a resident of North Carolina for two years, of the county one year, and of the precinct in which she expects to vote for four months.

Female voters are not required to tell their age. They may assure the registrar that they are beyond 21 years of age. It has become the custom of most registrars to register women with their full names as "Mrs. Sallie Jones Smith," instead of Mrs. J. W. Smith.

"At the coming election six boxes will be provided in which the following ballots will be deposited: (1) State officers, including United States Senator; (2) member of Congress; (3) Presidential electors; (4) members of the general assembly and county officers; (5) township, constable and justices of the peace, and (6) constitutional amendments.

"Under the absentee voters law, any person duly registered who may be absent from the county or physically unable to go to the polls for the purpose of voting in person, which shall be made to appear by the certificate of a physician or by affidavit, shall be allowed to register and vote on application to the chairman of the county board of elections, who will furnish the voter ballots and blank certificate necessary for voting."

High "Y" Club Organized.

The organization that the high school boys are specially interested in is the H. Y. Club, which was organized last Friday night. A number of the high school boys have been inquiring about this organization recently. The H. Y. club, as it is officially called is a very active national organization in the Y. M. C. A. for high school boys. Some very remarkable work has been done by this organization throughout the country. Higher standards of athletics, scholarship, and cleaner living are along the lines tackled by the H. Y. The organization this evening is limited to the high school boys who are 15 or over. In view of the large numbers of boys interested this method is followed. The younger boys will be organized later.

One of the special jobs ahead of the local H. Y. is the sending of a delegation to the State Older Boys conference which will be held this year at Salisbury October 8, 9, and 10. The older boys classes in the Sunday schools are especially invited to send delegates to this gathering. The local "Y" is invited to send twelve delegates and Secretary Verburg is especially interested in getting twelve of the strongest and most representative boys in the community to go. They need not necessarily be members of the Y. M. C. A. to attend this conference although the twelve best fitted to represent Concord will be selected to go. A committee of the "Y" Board will assist in the selection of delegates but these applications must be made within the next few days. Free entertainment and lodging will be provided for the boys in Salisbury so that the expense is indeed very small. Information and registration cards can be secured at the local "Y" office. The Secretary and members of the board are planning to attend the conference with the boys.

THE COTTON MARKET Was Irregular During Today's Early Trading.

(By the Associated Press.) New York, Oct. 4.—The cotton market was irregular during today's early trading. A gold part of the business was attributed to further evening for new government report and this included scattered liquidation as well as covering of short contracts. The opening was steady at an advance of 5 to 35 points, but there was moderate selling for Liverpool and Southern accounts which eased off about 10 to 20 and January to 21.06 after the call, or back to within a few points of Saturday's closing.

At Forest Hill Yesterday.

Yesterday was another outstanding day in the history of the Forest Hill Methodist Church. At the morning hour a great communion service followed a short sermon on the "Meaning of Communion." A fine women's meeting was held in the afternoon under the auspices of the Laymen's League, addressed by T. Allen Austin, of High Point.

But the day's climax came with the night service. The special feature was the presence of the entire personnel of the Jackson Training School. For the first time in the history of the school these boys attended in a body a preaching service in one of the city churches. The church was packed to its utmost capacity before the hour for beginning. Verburg, this odd church, never had so many people packed within her walls. Scores stood throughout the service and many were turned away.

The pastor preached on "The Folly of Selling Out." Rev. T. W. Smith, of the city, was in the pulpit and assisted in the service. The Training School Boys sang two very fine selections. None of these present will soon forget this great occasion.
