LOCAL AND OTHERWISE.

Miss Kathryn Aderholdt, of Lexington, is the week-end guest of Miss Ruth Dry.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Mabry have returned to their home in Badin, after spending a week or so with relatives at Forest Hill.

You can still purchase a King's Daughters Cook Book at the Park-Belk Company. Miss Lou White will be glad to sell you one at this store.

Mrs. J. M. Peacock and Miss Virginia Lusey, of Lakeland, Fla., Mr. T. J. Crowell, of Pittsburg, Kansas, and Mr. and Mrs. D. H. B. Crowell, of Atlea, Kansas, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Honeycutt.

There were 228 bales of cotton-counting round as half bales, ginned in Cabarrus County from the 1920 crop prior to September 25th, according to an announcement made by the Census Bureau. Last year prior to September 25th 1,202 bales had been ginned.

The many friends of Mr. P. G. Cook will regret to know that he is again seriously ill. Mr. Cook suffered another serious attack Saturday, and his condition is much the same as it was several weeks ago when he was stricken while at his work at the Concord Furniture Company.

Dr. and Mrs. W. D. Pemberton, Misses Adele and Mary Phifer Pemberton and Mr. David Pemberton spent Tuesday afternoon in Albemarle, attending the funeral services over the remains of Mr. Henry Pemberton, who died suddenly Thursday morning in a Salisbury hotel. Several local Elks also attended the funeral.

Mr. R. D. Goodman, county farm agent, spent several days in Davidson county. Mr. Goodman served as judge for the Community Fairs, and after attending one fair Thursday, attending one fair there Thursday, stated that the Davidson fairs were in no way better than the four community fairs held in Cabarrus county last month.

A call meeting of the members of the Study Club was held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Miss Mary King, president of the Club. Plans for the club's work this year were discussed at the meeting, and the program for the club's meetings definitely decided upon. The first meeting will be held the latter part of this month with Mrs. W. W. Flowe.

Some one ran into the delivery truck of Ed. M. Cook late Thursday afternoon. The truck was in front of Mr. Cook's store on West Depot street when the accident occurred, and was knocked up on the sidewalk. Mr. Frank Smith, who was driving the truck, was not hurt. The other car was not badly damaged and no one was injured in the accident.

The remains of Carl Moore, of Bear Creek, who met his death while using a Fordson tractor, were interred in the cemetery of Bethel Reformed Church, Bear Creek, Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock. The pastor, Rev. A. R. Tosh, was assisted by Rev. W. C. Lyerly, of Concord, and Dr. Wolfinger, president of Catawba College, Newton. The young man leaves behind a host of friends who sympathize with the stricken family.

Several other defendants from Cabarrus county were tried in the Federal Court at Charlotte Thursday. Arthur McDonald was charged with having whiskey and sentenced to serve 5 months in jail. The case against J. E. Lowder was continued until the next session of the court. Sheriff Caldwell, Deputy Sheriff Propst and Patrolman McKay were witnesses in court Thursday.

In his report made to the City Clerk Thursday for September, Chief of Police Robinson showed that during the last months 92 defendants had been arrested by local patrolmen. From the 92 defendants, 73 were found guilty, two cases were not pressed with leave, and eighteen defendants were found not guilty. The total amount of money collected from the defendants found guilty has not been announced.

Little Miss Nancy Linker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Linker, entertained 25 of her young friends at a birthday party Friday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at her home on South Union Street. The party was given to celebrate the 7th birthday of the hostess and the occasion proved a most interesting one to the little folk present. After playing games for an hour, refreshments were served.

Walter Blackwelder and Rosa Potat were sent to the chain gang and jail, respectively, by Judge Furr Friday. The couple was charged with prostitution and the former was given 60 days and the latter 6 months. In swearing out for the warrant for the couple Chief of Police Robinson and City Attorney Caldwell stated that they were going to prosecute persons in all such cases as were called to their attention, in an effort to clean the city of such practices.

Jones Flowe, the young white man who tried to get $20 from the Citizens Bank and Trust Company on a forged note, was tried in recorder's court Friday and was bound over to Superior Court under a $250 bond. Frank Pressley was tried for embezzlement and probable cause was found, the man being bound over under a $1000 bond. Pressley is charged with receiving $3.50 from a colored man, which he was to send off to get some parts of a gun for the colored man, and with having kept the money.

The Concord Furniture Company was the scene of a happy occasion Thursday afternoon when a Buck's Range was given away. The range was for children's use, and several hundred children of the city held coupon tickets, which contained a number. The lucky number was 157, which was held by little Miss Margaret Alexander, six-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Alexander, of Kerr Street. The company had advertised the free range extensively, and the advertisements and the value of the range drew a tremendous crowd of children and their parents to see the drawing for the prize.

JOHN J. PARKER HEARD SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Republican gubernatorial candidate addresses large crowd in Court House here.

Touching briefly on National issues, and devoting almost the full address to State issues, Hon. John J. Parker, of Monroe, the Republican gubernatorial candidate, addressed a large audience in the court house here Saturday. Mr. Parker came to Concord from Kannapolis, where he made an address Friday night.

Mr. Parker began his address with a welcome to women into politics in this State. "The Republican candidate declared that the participation of women in politics meant more independence in politics in North Carolina, more reform legislation and more character. 'Women are not interested in politics except as it affects her home and her children,' the speaker said. 'They want better schools, more protection around the homes, more aid for such institutions as the Jackson Training School, and these things will be possible, now that the women have the vote.'"

The machine politician is a thing of the past now that the women can go to the polls, the Monroe candidate stated, and the State will be better off with the State government from under the control of these machine leaders, who get out of touch with the people.

"One trouble with North Carolina is that she has been in the grip of these machine politicians, and you can't break the machine inside the party. All progressive men and women, regardless of their party affiliations, should vote for me and I shall break up this machine, which gets out of touch with the people and really stands for nothing. I don't blame the Democratic administration so much for the errors it has made as for the things it has left undone."

Declaring that the agricultural interests were the greatest in North Carolina, Mr. Parker set forth some of the things he would advocate if elected Governor. A better system of rural electrification, cooperative marketing, a State highway system of roads, and a rural credit system were advocated by the speaker, who declared that "North Carolina has been criminally negligent in not providing these things." Mr. Parker said that he was seeking to be Governor because he believes he can make these reforms.

"And not only has the Democratic administration failed to help the agricultural interests in North Carolina, but it has hampered agriculture by clinging to a tax system that is antiquated and unjust. The Revaluation Act is not a new system of taxation. It is a new way of placing the value on property for taxation under the old system. Under the new law the taxes on corporations will be less, while the farm lands will pay more taxes. Because of the law the railroads will pay about half a million dollars less in taxes this year; banks and trust companies will pay 42 per cent. less; corporations on corporate excess tax will pay 64 per cent. less; personal property will be $2,100,000 less; real estate, notwithstanding the cutting out of the State tax will pay $2,250,000 more, an increase of 34 per cent."

"For instance, in Cabarrus county, farm lands last year were valued at $10.65 an acre. This year they are valued at $4.88. Last year the tax on 100 acres of land was $14.89; this year it will be $27.54, an increase of 44.7 per cent."

Mr. Parker also advocated the Workmen's Compensation Act for this State, saying that North Carolina was one of three States in America which had not passed beneficial legislation for the working man. The act has been endorsed by the American and State Bar Associations. It was adopted in Germany in 1874; in England in 1897 and with the exception of North and South Carolina and Florida has been adopted by every State in the United States.

"Manufacturing industries, together with agriculture, mean the life of this State in the future. We should do something for the working man. We should realize that labor is not a commodity, but that the laborer is human and should be dealt with as such."

In closing, the speaker declared that he expected to be elected Governor of North Carolina and that he would give progressive leadership, as inherited in the Governor's office. "I shall not be the Governor of a party or a faction," he said, "but the Governor of all the people, and all men, whether they vote for me or not, will receive a square deal from my hands."

Presbyterian Women to Meet Here.

The N. C. Synodical Auxiliary of the Southern Presbyterian Church which is to hold its eighth annual meeting here next Wednesday and Thursday is the second largest in the General Assembly, Virginia, ranking first. It has 314 local auxiliaries, with a total membership of 9,970. The N. C. Synodical leads in the number of mission study classes, recording for the past year 263 classes, Texas coming second with 257.

The standard of excellence for the Auxiliaries in the Southern Presbyterian Church is 10 per cent. increase in membership and 20 per cent. increase in gifts. The N. C. Synodical more than reached their standard, her increase in membership being 12 per cent.; in gifts 34 per cent. Total contributions to all causes for the year were $132,742, or $14.01 per capita.

Engagement Ring is Found Embedded in Great Tree.

New Bern, Oct. 8.—Some New Bern woman, years ago, while basking in the moonlight under the trees at the court house square, probably in company with the man who placed it on her finger, slipped off her engagement ring and circled it over a twig on a little sapling growing there. The girl forgot the ring, and undoubtedly saved it up for lost. But the tree hid it within its foliage of leaves, and it remained there until now, when it has been recovered.

REGISTRATION BOOKS OPEN

Registrars Will Be Found at Registration Places Each Saturday Till October 23rd.

The registration books are now open, beginning Sept. 30, and all men and women of the county who have to register for the next election can find the books each Saturday at the voting precincts.

The new law requires the registrar to be at the polling places on the four Saturdays during the registration period, but if any man or woman had it impossible to register on one of the four Saturdays, they can register at the home of the registrar.

While the women voters are expected to give their true ages in registering, there will be no insistence on this, and assertions that they are of legal age, or "twenty-one plus," will be accepted as satisfactory.

The following are the registrars for the county, as announced by E. F. White, chairman of the County Board of Elections:

No. 1 township, Lou McCarran; No. 2, box 1, H. O. Caldwell; No. 2, box 2, W. F. McLaughlin; No. 3, J. C. Johnson; No. 4, box 1, L. W. Barnhart; box 2, A. S. McKay; No. 5, E. K. Misenheimer; No. 6, M. W. Almon; No. 7, G. W. Dry; No. 8, W. D. Folt; No. 9, L. T. Shinn; No. 10, R. L. McEachern; No. 11, box 1, Tom Talbert, box 2, W. M. Crook; Ward one, box 1, J. C. Lippard, box 2, Doc Sloop; Ward 2, C. A. Isenhour; Ward 3, L. A. Bickle; Ward 4, G. T. Crowell.

Those who register in Ward 1, box 1 will find the books for the next four Saturdays in the building next to the Shoe Hospital on West Depot street. The books in Ward 2 will be in the sample room of the St. Cloud Hotel, East Depot street; the books for Ward 3 will be at the court house and Ward four in the city hall.

Attorney General Manning has ruled that women do not have to serve on juries.

Republican Speakings.

Mrs. Mary Settle Sharp, the Republican candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction in this State, will speak in the court house here on the night of October 14th. Isaac M. Meekings will speak in the court house here on the night of October 20th. These announcements were made today by Hon. H. S. Williams, chairman of the Republican county Executive committee.

Mr. F. O. Warren, of Charlotte, was a business visitor here Thursday.

COL. ALBERT COX WILL SPEAK HERE ON TUESDAY

Will Make An Address in Court House at 1:30 Next Thursday Afternoon.

Col. Albert Cox, one of the best known men and best political speakers in the State, will speak in the court house here next Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

Col. Cox will bring a message to the women and ex-service men and women especially, and they are given a special invitation to be present.

During the past several weeks Col. Cox, who served with the 113th Field Artillery in France, has been making political speeches in the State and everywhere he has been heard with interest and benefit.

Banquet at McKinnon Church.

The banquet given Thursday evening by the Men's Bible Class of the McKinnon Presbyterian Church was a great success. There were about seventy men present. Mr. J. J. Barnhardt, of this city, made a splendid address in which he urged the men to be faithful to their class, and their church. Music was furnished by the class quartet. The after dinner speech was made by Mr. Verburg, secretary of the local Y. M. C. A., in which he told the men of some of the things being done by Bible classes and urged the men to look at their own community and town for opportunities to do things for a better Concord. Mr. Verburg also showed two reels of pictures, one of an industrial nature, the other of a social nature. They were both enjoyed by the men.

Two long tables were arranged in the basement of the church and were decorated with flowers. After supper stew had been served and disposed of, then came the omelette and sweet potatoes. Everybody enjoyed the evening and this will be a time long to be remembered by the men of McKinnon Church.

This class had 16 men on roll January 1st, 1920, and now has 60 active members and is still growing.

Nineteen defendants were carried before Judge Furr in recorder's court Friday and from this number $170 was collected in fines. Three of the defendants were found not guilty and one case was continued.

Mr. Ralph E. Hartman, who has held a position as night clerk at the Hotel Ford in Salisbury for some time, has resigned and is now traveling for the Western Commercial Co., of Chicago.
