Bible Thought For The Day

FORGIVENESS.—Lord, how oft shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him? till seven times? Jesus saith unto him, I say not unto thee, Until seven times; but, until seventy times seven.—Matthew 18:21, 22.

PROHIBITION HELPS.

Prohibition makes the men neat, says the President of the American Association of Hatmen. His statement points out that "since the saloon has passed into oblivion, money, that was formerly spent on liquor goes into the purchase of wearing apparel. Where formerly drinking men would allow themselves to become slovenly, they now keep themselves neat."

This is just one illustration of what prohibition is doing for the United States. This is not an important matter, some will say, and the mere fact that men are spending money now for clothes when they formerly bought liquor with it doesn't amount to much, but when taken in consideration with the fact that other necessities are being bought with money that formerly went for liquor, it means a good deal. In spite of the violations, which can be reduced, prohibition is doing much fine work.

Samuel Gompers, President of the American Federation of Labor, says that light wines and beers are coming back. We don't think so, and we don't think Mr. Gompers should encourage the members of his Federation to wish for them. Many statistics show that workers who formerly spent much of their wages for wine and beer are now giving it to the members of their families for their own advancement, and it seems that Mr. Gompers would want to encourage his spirit of drink, even if the beverages are to be light wine and beer.

There is no question about the fact that the workers can get along without the beer and wines, and before the advent of prohibition their families had to do without real necessities. Of course this condition does not apply solely to members of the American Federation of Labor. It applies to persons everywhere, whether they be in office, factory or some other industrial plant. The point we are bringing out is that Mr. Gompers, as a leader of a great body of workers, should encourage them to do without beer and wine rather than publicly sponsor the movement to revise the 18th amendment.

1917 AND 1923.

There has been a marked change in the Germans since 1917. In 1917 the fun was characterized by his arrogance, his domineering attitude, and his belief that he could conquer the world. Today he is on bended knee, and hopes with this faked attitude to get the sympathy of the world.

He deserves little sympathy. He showed no sympathy in 1914 when he marched into France and Belgium, destroying their towns and women. He showed no sympathy after the war of 1918, when he marched into Paris and carried away every cent of the reparations demanded of the defeated French people. Their attitude is accurately described by a writer in The Philadelphia Public Ledger, who spent part of last summer in Germany. He says: "The people are typical of the nation. They are very humble when they are down, but just let them get up a little; they are so arrogant that they are living with them. We gave some educated people, who had once been of assistance to us, some money, as they had fallen into hard times. They immediately became themselves, then brought all their relatives within reach at divers times to our elegant Hotel at a nearby resort, and remained over each meal hour until they were asked to remain for the meal, which they did, and expecting us to take them to 'banquets' in the evening in the Casino Gardens, or to a play or opera, regardless of the fact that we had only a few hours to pack for an early morning start. If you give them a cent, they will get $300 more out of you. If you keep your cent yourself, they will be humble and respectful. They have tried their best to make us break the Versailles Treaty so they might say that we too, consider it as 'scraps of paper.' Make them pay every cent of the reparations, but give them more than."

W. N. EVERETT.

So far as newspaper reports indicate, the Governor's selection for a successor to the late J. Bryan Grimes has met with popular favor that almost reaches the proportions of acclamation. Governor Morrison has asked Hon. W. N. Everett, of Rockingham, to assume the duties recently enjoyed by Mr. Grimes, and supporters and friends of Mr. Everett from every part of the State are urging him to accept the appointment. Mr. Everett has been prominent in the public life of his city, county and State, and in addition has been very successful as a business man. Today he is recognized as one of the most influential men in the State Legislature, and he has always worked in that body for progressive, needy legislation. In addition Mr. Everett has been close to the late Secretary, he knows something of the plans Mr. Grimes had made, and he is fully qualified to carry on the magnificent work mapped out and begun by the latter before his death. We believe Governor Morrison has never made a happier selection than when he asked the Rockingham county man to accept the secretaryship.

YOUR HOME TOWN.

This is the time of the year when we should give special thought to the beautification of our home town, and the best way to do this is to beautify our own homes and yards first. The Franklin Times offers the following suggestions: "Work for your town town. Beautify it. Improve it. Make it attractive. The world war and the Treaty of Peace, the Progressive Tariff and all such things are important subjects, but what's the good of cleaning up the world unless you sweep your own door steps? The best advertisement of your business is the town you live in. Towns get reputations, as well as men. Make your town talked all over the State. It will thus draw people. And where the people come there is prosperity. "Did your town of one eye sore after another. Clean up the vacant lots and plant things in gardens. Make a cluttered yard a disgrace. Make public opinion too hot for those who will not help. In other words, your town will be what you make it. You can buy it or raise it before the whole world. Show enough interest in it to work for it. Don't sit down and be one of the drones."

WHO ARE BREAKING OUR LAWS?

The above caption is a very pertinent question. The Charlotte News asks in an editorial, and gives facts and figures which show that Americans and not foreigners are the chief law violators in the United States. "In moments of overconfidence self-pride Americans are often guilty of condoning and minimizing the criminal records being made in this country." The News says, "on the ground that it is the foreign population which contributes so materially toward law-breaking and corrupting the morals of the land." This is not the case, and The News points out further that "this does not appear to be true in California, at least, San Quentin, the largest prison on the Pacific Coast, during 1922 received 1,170 prisoners, of whom 838 were native Americans, 112 Mexicans, 19 Canadians, 17 Italians, 11 Chinamen and 3 Japanese." These are the records, and they show that Americans should call a halt and not try to "pass the buck" on to the foreigner within our gates. We have enough trouble with the foreigner, to be sure, but we have more with our own people, as these records show. We hear much about the undesirable Jap, and yet the records show that during 1921 only 3 of them were sent to the Pacific prison. California is their stronghold, and persons of that State have tried to rule them out because they claim the Japs have low ideals and no respect for law. The statistics don't support this contention.

Real Diamonds Are Displayed in "Pink Goods."

A production hazard not usually considered, has been met in Peurlynn Stanlows Paramount production of "Pink Goods," a picture featuring Belle Daniels and James Kirkwood. This is the danger of loss and the cost of insurance of tens of thousands of dollars worth of diamonds and jeweled pieces, which are seen in the picture. The theme of "Pink Goods" which comes to the Star theatre Friday and Friday is the fatal lure of diamonds for women, and the dramatic action revolves about a young wife, played by Miss Daniels, and the lengths of indiscretion to which she goes to obtain the precious stones. Mr. Kirkwood is seen as John Quelch, the "man who made Kimberly," and the man who has in his gift innumerable gems.

Kannapolis Highs Win.

Stateville, Jan. 15.—The Kannapolis High broke in the new high school gymnasium last night by defeating the local High basketball squad by the large score of 33 to 8. The game was very interesting for both teams, the locals having played nothing but football this season could hardly control their speed. This being the fifth straight victory for the Kannapolis High, who has not taken a licking from any high school team this season.

Following is the lineup: Kannapolis (33) Swearingen 4 rg. Eklam 2 Montgomery 4 lg. Tucker 2 Smith 10 c. Woodard 3 Mandlin 13 rf. Terry 0 Davis 6 lf. Bizzell 1 Substitutes: D. Brawley for Furcher, Patterson for Eklam; Alexander for Woodard; Moore for Terry; Kannapolis, Ketchie for Montgomery. Referee Triple (Cornell).

Twenty-five thousand dollars is the value set upon the hands of Miss Millicent Woodward, the champion typewriter of Europe. She can write at the rate of 239 words a minute. Even when blindfolded she can take down 163 words from dictation without a single slip. All the time she is at her machine she talks merrily upon every subject imaginable.

was a college graduate. Education is not a panacea for evil. It does not re-create or regenerate, but it does institute in men and women ideals of lawfulness and of decency and of virtue which the uneducated, at least the illiterate, can not possibly entertain. In the interest, therefore, of crime-prevention, it would seem to be profitable that we get the opportunities of education equally diffused to the masses.

WANT PEACOCK BACK.

We don't know all of the laws in the case, but we hope there is some way for North Carolina to bring Dr. J. W. Peacock back to this State and keep him. So far as we can see there is no reason why he should be allowed his freedom unless we are going to turn everyone else out of the criminally insane department of our State prison. He was tried by a State court, was found to be insane, and was sent to the insane department of the prison. The fact that he made his escape and has been declared sane in Florida does not change his status here any. So far as the man is concerned, we are perfectly willing for Florida to have him as a citizen, but we can't afford to flirt with justice, and if we allow this man to stay in Florida without making every possible effort to bring him back to serve the sentence imposed upon him by a court of the State, we will be lowering the court standards in the State. People have far too little respect for the courts as it is, and if we allow this man to remain in Florida, a free man, it will tend to lower still the standards of justice in North Carolina.

Keeping the Fetters.

The University could not afford to give up the Fetzer boys. If they are valuable to the North Carolina University they should remain as coaches at the Hill. They are valuable and they will remain. The fact that other institutions desired them is further proof of their worth to their home state, and anything that another institution would pay or do to get them, North Carolina could afford to give and do to retain them. We must stop sitting idly and resigned by and permitting our people to leave at the urging of some outside who wants them and is willing to pay for their services. We are now well able to keep our own valuable workers, and must stop permitting them to go elsewhere. For too long the state has followed this shortsighted policy in so many instances. Acting on the supposition that we could not afford to pay more we have been permitting high-grade servants to go outside the state and the complaint about men leaving the state to help build up other states. We are stopping that sort of thing, we hope for all time.

Fire Drives Guests From Central Hotel at Shelby.

Shelby, Jan. 15.—When fire broke out in the basement of the Central Hotel here tonight at 10:30, the 150 guests were forced to flee into the streets, many of them scantily attired. However, no one was injured, and the damage to the hotel is estimated tonight to be about $1,000. The hotel was crowded when the fire alarm sounded and smoke soon spread throughout the guests' rooms. The fire department quickly responded and within a short time the blaze was under control. The guests returned to their rooms after the fire was extinguished.

Dr. Peacock in Thomasville.

Thomasville, Jan. 16.—Mrs. J. W. Peacock, wife of Dr. J. W. Peacock, who escaped from the department for the criminally insane of the State Prison at Raleigh, and who is now reported located in St. Petersburg, Fla., is living at the home here and has not joined her husband. Mrs. Peacock has five children, three of the younger ones being with her here, a fourth daughter, employed in Greensboro, and the fifth, a daughter in training to be a nurse, at Wash Hospital in Durham. Mrs. Peacock conducts a boarding house here and was seen in Thomasville today.

Dr. Peacock Declared Sane in Arcadia, Florida.

Lakeland, Fla., Jan. 15.—Court records show that Dr. J. W. Peacock, who escaped last year from the criminally insane department of the North Carolina state penitentiary, was declared sane at Arcadia, Fla., last Thursday before Judge George W. Whitehurst after an examination by Dr. H. M. Richards and Dr. R. R. Sullivan of Lakeland.

Judge Alton B. Parker to Wed.

New York, Jan. 16.—Judge Alton Brooks Parker, democratic candidate for President in 1904, today obtained license to marry Amelia Day Campbell of this city.

An English Bank Note has a Very Short Life.

In fact, it averages only about two months. As soon as the Bank of England receives a note back from the public, it is not circulated again. It is automatically cancelled by having the cashier's signature torn off. Some 350,000 notes are thus cancelled every week.

DR. J. W. PEACOCK WRITES HIS WIFE FROM FLORIDA

The Slayer of Taylor Says a Florida Judge Rules Him a Free Man. Thomasville, Jan. 15.—A letter from Dr. J. W. Peacock, from Lakeland, Fla., telling of his having been set free by a judge in Florida and by alienists who pronounced him sane, was received here today by his wife, Mrs. J. W. Peacock, also an order for his office and medical fixtures to be sent to him came in the same letter with the information he was intending to begin the practice of medicine at some point in Florida. Dr. Peacock is spending today and probably tomorrow at St. Petersburg, Fla., according to information, with a view to deciding on a location for the practice of his profession. The question is already being agitated here as to the proper course to pursue in regard to bringing the doctor back to North Carolina, from whose criminal insane department he escaped sometime last summer. Former Solicitor Bower, it is learned, states that he can be brought back. Solicitor Bower was prosecutor in the case for the state during his trial for murder in Davidson county last summer a year ago. Dr. Peacock was tried in Lexington in June, 1921, on a charge of murdering James B. Taylor, chief of police of Thomasville. After one of the most sensational trials in the annals of the state, a jury from Rowan county returned a verdict of not guilty on the ground that the physician had slain Chief Taylor while in an irresponsible mental state. Judge T. B. Finley, presiding under the laws of the state, ordered Peacock held for investigation. A hearing was held in Greensboro the latter part of June, 1921, which resulted in Peacock going to the state's criminal insane asylum. Last summer Peacock made his escape from the insane asylum and the information from Florida today was the first heard of him since his sensational escape. Peacock on April 16, 1921, killed Chief Taylor on the streets of Thomasville. He fired with a shot gun from his office window upon the chief, wounding Taylor severely. Peacock then rushed from his office and emptied several shots from his automatic pistol into the head of helpess officer. The killing of Taylor was said to be one of the most brutal ever recorded in Davidson county. The trial of Peacock was one that held the attention of North Carolina for over a week. Both sides, the state and defense, were represented by some of the ablest legal talent in the state. The defense fought the case on the ground of insanity, contending that the defendant was suffering from paranoia. Several able attorneys testified that Peacock was a paranoiac and that while he appeared rational most of the time the disease would probably take hold of him at any time. The killing of Taylor followed the burning of Peacock's barn. However, the defense never contended that Chief Taylor was in any way responsible for the destruction of the barn. During the trial it was brought out that Peacock's mother was residing in Florida. His sister and her husband, of Florida, were present at the trial.

KANNAPOLIS DEPARTMENT

Kannapolis, Jan. 17.—Monday night the Kannapolis folks had the pleasure of hearing the "Troubadours," a Redpath Lyceum attraction of great merit. The quartette composed of men, rendered a complete and varied program, captivating the audience and holding it spellbound for one hour and a half. This was by far the best lyceum number seen here for some time, and many were the compliments heard on the singing and playing. Mrs. Lowery, of West Kannapolis, died yesterday morning. The writer has been unable to get details relative to the funeral and burial services. The friends of Mr. B. Zimmerman, who has been critically ill for a number of weeks, will be glad to know that his condition is now improving. The little child of Mr. and Mrs. "Chick" DeMarcus is improving, after having been seriously ill. Mesdames J. H. Brown and W. L. Yost placed an order Monday for carpet for the Baptist Church. It is hoped that the carpet will be placed on the floor by Sunday. Mrs. Fred Lomax is ill. Mr. Lomax is improving after an attack of influenza. Mrs. L. Yost that she is progressing fine, and is well pleased with her work in Durham. The Sunday afternoon meetings in the Y auditorium are well attended. Sunday at 3:30 "The Migration," the second of a series of Bible pictures, was shown. Special music has been secured for each of the Sunday services. Community singing will be the feature of each meeting. Mr. John Funderburk conducted the religious exercises Sunday afternoon. One hundred people were present. "Abraham and Lot," another Bible story, and the third of the series, will be shown Sunday, January 21. The public is cordially invited to attend these meetings. Mrs. R. C. Probst returned Monday from Concord, where she spent several days with her sister, Mrs. Arthur Pink, who is ill at her home on Crowell street. The friends of Miss Oma Goodman will learn with pleasure of her improved condition. She has resumed her work at the office of the Mary Ella Hall, after having been ill for a few weeks at her home near Salisbury. Miss Boyd, a member of the high school faculty at Huntersville, visited Mrs. R. C. Probst Saturday night and Sunday. The little son of Mr. Sam Parker, who has been very ill, is improving. Miss Nell Smith, of the Parks-Bell clerical force, spent the past week in Charlotte. Mr. and Mrs. Connell and little son, of Charlotte, are spending this week with Mrs. W. A. Honeycutt and family. Mrs. Ed. Daniels, nee Ruth Shinn, who entered the Concord Hospital Saturday, and who has been very ill, is now progressing fine. Mrs. Daniels underwent an operation a few days ago. Miss Alberta Parks spent the weekend in Salisbury with Mrs. Dupton. Mrs. E. J. Sharp entertains the 500 Club, this afternoon at her home on Ridge avenue. Mr. J. V. Bounds and family spent Sunday at Charlotte and heard Dr. Little deliver an excellent sermon on "The Earthen Vessel." The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Brinkley, of West Avenue, is recovering after an illness of some duration. Troy Thompson, the boy who disappeared from his home a few weeks ago, and who could not be located by his friends and relatives, returned Friday. The boy was at work in Charlotte, where he had secured a job, and started arriving at his home that he ascended through the paper that search was being made for him, therefore, he left for home. It is not known why he left without allowing anyone to know of his whereabouts. A pretty wedding took place Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cloaninger, of Bellevue section, when Miss Esther Sherrill, sister of Mrs. Cloaninger, and Mr. Mack Teague were married. Rev. E. A. Swearingen, pastor of the contracting parties, officiated. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a few friends and relatives. The bride was very attractive in a rich gown of brown velvet with cream lace trimming and accessories to match. Mrs. Teague is a daughter of Mr. Bruner Sherrill and the late Mrs. Roxie Sherrill. Mr. and Mrs. Teague are well and favorably known here, and have a large circle of friends who extend to their best wishes and congratulations. They are leaving today for Allhealing Springs, near Taylorsville, where they will spend some time with Mr. Teague's folks. After their return they will be at home with Mr. and Mrs. Cloaninger, where Mrs. Teague made her home prior to her marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Burley Beaver spent Saturday night and Sunday in New London. The China Grove Cotton Mills Co. held a large and enthusiastic stockholders' meeting yesterday afternoon at the lodge room in China Grove. About seventy-five were present. Charles Belmont, Concord, Salisbury and Kannapolis were represented. The number of spindles is to be increased from 16,000 to 21,000. Mrs. L. E. Brown and little daughter, Nellie, who have been ill for some time, are improving, though Mrs. Brown will be confined to her home for a week or two. The Kiekappo Tribe No. 140 of the Improved Order of Red Men gave a torchlight parade Monday night, marching down Oak street and up South Main to the Y. M. C. A. grounds where the men burned the "pale face," this demonstration as well as the parade, being very interesting and attracting much attention. Mr. H. C. Harley now has charge of the Wilkinson Undertaking Parlor, having taken up his duties here January 1st. Mr. Harley is an embalmer, also, having graduated at Cincinnati College of Embalming. Mr. E. W. Bailey, of Charlotte, was a Kannapolis visitor yesterday.
