Bible Thought For The Day

AN UNLIMITED SUPPLY.—If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you.—John 15:7.

"IN THE LIGHT OF THE WESTERN SUN."

Do you at times feel in need of inspiration? Do you think that in life there is nothing of the beautiful; that the drab existence you think is your lot is too much for you? If so, then take this tip that is given by Editor Harris, of The Charlotte Observer, under the above caption:

The eastern boundary of Concord is fringed with a chain of bluffs which drop down into the valley of Three-Mile branch, some in gentle slope and others in precipitous descent. Between are indentations running well up into the town—to the rear of the Central Methodist church at one point; to the rear of the old Billy Boyd cabinet shop at another, while at a third a deep wedge runs by the Lutheran church, butting against the wall-up street, where the Alpine home of Mrs. Quantz was located, with front door on the street level, kitchen and dining room below that, and the garden yet lower in a receding valley. The earlier settlers from the Lutheran section of Europe, attracted by the rugged lay of the land, built along the hillsides on the eastern borders and they lived in surroundings resembling to some extent the old country. The main street, running from the old McDonald south at the head of the town, four toward Blum's Field, lies like a broad, flat highway, the land sloping gently to the west into the basin of Buffalo Creek. This western slope is spread out from the heights, occupied by the county home like an inclined canvas, and in the light of the afternoon sun there is presented upon it a picture of civic activities. The greater part of the town, now compactly built up, shows in canopied splendor. Factories and homes, steeples and stores are clustered in a picture of great natural beauty. The air is hazy with the smoke of industry, which furnishes an ever-present and a continuing wealth. In the foreground along the foot of the slope the landscape is blotched at intervals by the steam of passing locomotives which streams in white-ribbed clouds; from those of the streets that present perspective the glint of sunlight beaming from the shields of speeding automobiles suggests a battle of flashlights.

TEXTILE INCREASES HERE.

Recently two cotton mills of this county made announcement that their plants would be enlarged. Work on the additions has already started, and the new work will represent an expenditure of more than $200,000. About the same time these two mills announced the enlargement of the plants, reports were circulated that a new weave mill will be erected here. Official confirmation of these reports has not been made by those persons who are backing the project, but it is generally believed that the mill will be erected, as it is definitely known that options have been received on the land on which the mill will be erected.

Other mills here, say reports, will be enlarged, and while no other new mills, with the exception of the weave mill are contemplated, it is believed that the output in mills in this county will be greatly increased during the coming year. And best of all the local mills are planning to use native labor only. We want to see the textile industry here expand, and it's going to do this, but we want to see the expansion made with local capital and in a degree that will permit the working of native labor.

BEAUTIFUL COUNTRY.

The Salisbury Post advises its readers to get into their "divver and journey down the National highway to, say Kannapolis" and pay attention to the countryside as they ride. "You have driven down this road on more than one occasion no doubt," the Post states further, "and you speeded along paying little attention to the country. You were either engrossed in conversation with your companion, or had your mind fixed on where you were going, what you were going to, or some other matter that you considered important.

NO CAUSE FOR WORRY.

The public generally was surprised to learn of a split between the American Cotton Association and Dr. Miller Reese Hutchinson, who was recently secured by the Association to conduct the most general campaign yet launched against the boll weevil. The break has caused some misunderstanding and some worry, but so far as we can see there is no cause for worry for the break does not mean that the campaign against the billion dollar bandit has been abandoned. In fact, the break may possibly mean that the campaign will be more aggressively waged, for Dr. Hutchinson has stated that he will continue his efforts against the pest, and the cotton association is certain to secure another expert to conduct its campaign. There are also numerous organizations and agencies at work in the fight against the weevil and it is not too much to expect that this year will see some effective method evolved for the control of this destructive pest.

In raising cotton this year the farmers are expected to rely on the methods and poisons already discovered and any plans which may have been disturbed by the break would hardly have been in shape to be tried this year, anyway. The farmers will go ahead with their plans of diversification and use the best means of weevil control brought to their attention, whether discovered by the experts of the cotton association or by Dr. Hutchinson.

HEALTHY BUSINESS CONDITION.

"According to the latest report issued by the Federal Reserve system 'current increases in the activity of commerce and industry appear devoid of speculative tendencies and so far as present indications go a generally healthy and prosperous condition exists.'"

That is very encouraging, especially as relates to "speculative tendencies." When this country can again get back to normalcy so far as speculation is concerned, then we have learned a great lesson from the experiences of 1921 and 1922. The board report finds also that it has found "little evidence of accumulated stocks and therefore no proof of speculative holdings."

It has been found certain, the board went on, that while there has been some speculation as it always true in a period of advancing prices, there is every evidence that the great volume of production in recent months has been moving through regular channels and is being absorbed "in consumers' buying. The larger marketing of manufactured products is shown, the board declared, through the records of rail transportation taken in conjunction with the fact that first-of-the-year inventories of retail stocks disclosed only moderate stocks on hand.

WESTERN CIVILIZATION MAY BE DESTROYED, DECLARES MR. LANE.

Durham, March 7.—If no remedy for the present conditions which exist in Europe is found it is possible that the present western civilization may be entirely destroyed. Such an effect was one of the startling revelations made by R. P. Lane, European director of the junior Red Cross speaking before the historical society at Trinity college on the subject of nationalism. This staggering generalization was made by the Red Cross official, who from first-hand information, after he had summed up briefly some of the facts of the destruction of the recent war. Such facts were 10,000,000 homeless, 5,000,000 killed, 15,000,000 homes made homeless, all of which ended, he said, toward a great decline in the standard of living.

These conditions, he continued, had produced a weaker, undernourished civilization. "By 1950 the standard of living will not have reached the standard that it was in 1914, nor will it have reached the standard in 2000," declared Mr. Lane in speaking concerning hopes which might be entertained for a recovery from the effects of the war.

In diagnosing the trouble which holds Europe now, Mr. Lane declared that it was not so much concrete real, and pronounced maladies as it was that nations were troubled with quick-coming phantasies of the brain. "The patient must administer to these inward troubles himself" it was stated.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Fair tonight and Friday, little change in temperature.

North Carolina's Volstead Law Operating in Raleigh.

Raleigh, March 6.—The new North Carolina "Volstead" liquor law has already begun to operate in Raleigh. Four drunks arrested last night had small bottles of whiskey on the hip. This is in violation of the new law. Two of the defendants were promptly sent to the reformatory. They assured us that this return engagement will be as humorous and the costumes as stunning as in the first performance last year. This performance is not the "Old Maids' Convention" of last year. It is entirely new—called the return engagement.

Democrat Removed From Postoffice at Staley.

Washington, March 7.—Postmaster J. T. Warren, at Staley, has been removed. It was charged that he did not attend to his office. It was also asserted that he was too active in politics. He is a Democrat.

LOCAL MENTION

Cotton on the local market is quoted today at 30 cents per pound; cotton seed at 72 cents per bushel.

The warmer weather promised yesterday by the weather man is a reality today. The temperature during the day has risen several degrees, and it again feels like real Spring.

Eight new cases of measles and 15 new cases of whooping cough were reported to the county health department Wednesday, it was announced at the department this morning.

A clever electric sign has been placed at the entrance of the American Legion club rooms on West Depot street. The sign has attracted much favorable comment since its installation several days ago.

After being more or less neglected during the winter months Beaver Dam is again becoming popular with the fishermen of this city, and several parties from this city have already tried their luck there this Spring. Fishing has been fairly good so far, it is reported.

Messrs. Charlie Griffin, E. G. Cook, Smart Lyles and Hubert Fink, of the local EBRL's store, are spending the day in Albemarle. The EBRL's store in Albemarle will be opened this week, and the Concord men went down to assist in the arranging and marking of the stock preparatory to the opening.

In reporting the death of Mrs. Richard Blackwelder it was stated that she was survived by a brother, Mr. Barringer, of Mr. Ella. Mr. Barringer is a son of the deceased. Also surviving are two daughters, Mrs. W. M. Harris, of this city, who lived with her mother, and Mrs. W. L. Harris, of China Grove.

The bill to establish a Road Commission in Cabarrus County was passed by the recent Legislature and goes into effect June 1, 1923. These commissioners were appointed, two Democrats and one Republican, namely: Thomas H. Wood, John W. Cross and George S. Kluttz. We hope to publish this bill in entirety in our next issue.

Marriage licenses have been issued by Register of Deeds Elliott to the following couples: Frank Norman and Miss Linnie Black, both of Kannapolis; Claude P. McGee and Mrs. P. T. Lockman, also of Kannapolis; Rufus Hudson and Miss Zelma Calloway, both of Concord; and Lloyd E. Dennis and Miss Daisy Honeycutt, both of Kannapolis.

Boxing fans of the city will see something worthwhile at the Legion club rooms tonight at 8 o'clock when some of the best ring men in the South meet. There will be 22 rounds of boxing in all, and included among the fighters will be Luke Tenner, who defeated Crayton Rowe in Charlotte last night for the Southern feather-weight championship.

Students of the High School who hope to make the baseball team this year have already started practice, and a large number of candidates have already started the long grind that comes before each season. It is believed that the locals this year will have the best team turned out here in several years, and it is planned to arrange an attractive schedule for the season.

Maurice C. Howie, of Monroe, who is alleged to have struck with his auto and fatally injured Ruby Coble, 8-year-old child of this city, was given a preliminary hearing here yesterday. He was charged with manslaughter and was bound over to Superior Court under bond of $5,000 which he easily arranged. Mr. Howie did not take the stand and offered no testimony.

A number of defendants were tried in recorder's court here yesterday. Two charged with an affray were fined $15 and $5; one charged with intoxication paid a $20 fine; another charged with seduction but the case was dismissed upon payment of the costs when it was proved to the court that the couple is now married; another charged with operating a car while intoxicated was fined $50.

Trinity Alumni in Cabarrus county are planning a meeting for next Monday night. The meeting will be held at the Y, and has been called for the purpose of effecting a live Trinity Alumni club in this county. Every corner student of this college is invited to the meeting, which will begin at 8 o'clock. A representative from the college will be present to make a short talk, and an interesting evening is forecast.

Ice Fields in Mid-Atlantic Reported Dangerous to Ships.

Boston, March 8.—Warning of extensive ice fields described as dangerous to navigation, was contained in a radio message received here late today from the steamer Sinasta in the mid-Atlantic.

The master of the Sinasta gave the position of the ice fields as "the southwest limit of north latitude 42.23 and west longitude 69.10, extending easterly to 48.30 and as far north as can be seen."

Dies Shortly After Marrying Young Woman.

Chicago, March 5.—Twenty minutes after he had married Miss Eleanor McCarthy, a girl of 24, Herman A. Swanson, aged 62, a retired capitalist, died of heart failure today. The coroner's office decided Swanson's death was due to heart trouble induced by the excitement attending the wedding.

Lenn Elected District Governor by Rotarians.

Petersburg, Va., March 7.—C. Franklin Lenz, president of the Newport News, Va., Rotary Club, was unanimously elected as district governor of the 37th district of Rotary International, at the close of the final session of the annual conference which was held here this afternoon.

After Being Alight for Nearly 250 Years, the Furnaces at a Famous Glass-works near London have been extinguished as the factory is being removed.

Lord Ashfield, the head of the London underground railway system, stated his career as a messenger boy.

CALCIUM ARSENATE PRICES NOT FIXED

Federal Trade Commission Makes Its Report to the Senate—Reply to Fletcher.

Washington, March 3.—The Federal Trade Commission announced today it had sent a report to the senate that prices of calcium arsenate, used extensively in combating the cotton boll weevil, have not been fixed by agreement.

The report was in response to a resolution by Senator Fletcher, Democrat, Florida, adopted January 23, directing the commission to report the facts "relating to any alleged violations of the anti-trust acts" in connection with the manufacture and sale of calcium arsenate.

The report of the commission said: The commission found that the prices of calcium arsenate, which in October, 1922, ranged from 10 to 12 cents per pound, increased rapidly during next 30 to 60 days, and in February, 1923, had reached a range of 18 to 19 cents. Although the facts show that efforts were made to harmonize the various interests by the organization of an association, it does not appear that it is now in operation. A number of insecticide manufacturers had been members of, but in 1920 had severed their connection with, the Armstrong Bureau of Insecticide Manufacturers of Chicago, reference to which bureau is contained in correspondence quoted in this report. The question of joining this bureau was again suggested by some of the manufacturers in 1921, but the idea seems to have been abandoned after the decision of the United States Supreme court in the Hardwood Lumber case. The correspondence examined during this inquiry also shows that price lists were exchanged by certain of the important manufacturers, but the evidence thus far obtained does not show that the prices set forth were fixed by agreement.

The commission is continuing and extending the work of its inquiry, and should additional facts of interest be developed, further report will be made to the senate, or, if evidence is obtained indicating a violation of the laws enforceable by the commission, appropriate action will be taken.

DEPUTIES KILLED THEN SECRETED IN A SWAMP

Louisiana Officers' Bodies Are Horribly Maltreated by Moonshiners. Franklinton, La., March 7.—Bullet pierced and tramped down by booted feet, the bodies of Wesley Crain and Wiley Pierce, deputy sheriffs of Washington parish, slain by moonshiners they had captured at a still in the swamps eight miles east of here last Saturday morning, were found this morning in a snafow grave a quarter of a mile from the destroyed still.

The carcass of a cow had been dragged on top of Crain's body. The body of Pierce had been pressed down in the 18 inches of mud and slush. John Murphy and Gideon Rester, two of the men rounded up by a posse yesterday, are accused by the authorities of the crime. An official statement credited to the Franklinton authorities is that both men confessed.

A special session of the grand jury to investigate the killing has been summoned for tomorrow by Judge Prentiss B. Clark, of the district circuit court.

Held For Killing His Employer.

Anderson, S. C., March 7.—George Allen, 55-year-old negro, charged with killing his employer, Cecil Hall, a young white farmer, on Monday morning, was captured, early today, near here by a sheriff's posse. He was ordered taken to Columbia for safekeeping.

There will be a box supper at the Brief schoolhouse Saturday night, March 10th. The public is invited. The proceeds are to go for the benefit of the school.

EVERY TRACE OF FLU DISAPPEARS

Dreadful After Effects Entirely Overcome, States Atlanta Citizen—Gains 18 Pounds.

"I have reaped such great benefits from taking Tanlac that I can tell the world it is truly wonderful medicine," recently declared A. W. Wheelless, 185 Peachtree St., Atlanta, Ga., special representative of the Wright Co., dealers in hotel equipment.

"I suffered with nervous indigestion a year or more, lost nearly twenty pounds and became badly weakened. Then in this rundown state I was stricken with flu and it left me in a very critical condition. I had no appetite, could not digest properly the little I did eat, and was too nervous to sleep.

"Hearing of Tanlac through some friends I concluded to test it for myself. It ended my indigestion, built me up eighteen pounds, and ever since it set me right I have enjoyed excellent health. I gladly recommend the treatment, not only for what it has done for me, but also for the good it has done a number of my friends and relatives."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Take no substitute. Over 35 million bottles sold.

AMERICAN RELIEF SPENDS MORE THAN $12,000,000

Report of Activities in Near East During Year Given to Congress. Washington, March 4.—A review of American relief activities in the near east, showing expenditures during the past year of more than $12,000,000, was given to Congress today by Charles V. Vickrey in his annual report as general secretary of the Near East Relief.

Shipments of foodstuffs, equipment, machinery, medical supplies and clothing and textiles made from this country by the near east relief during the year totaled 53,000,000 pounds, and in addition large purchases were made in Anatolia and other areas. The number of orphans now under the care of the organization is 115,000 and Mr. Vickrey predicted that this total would increase as additional victims of persecution and war are applying daily for aid.

The year's expenditures exceeded receipts by more than $1,500,000, but the balance carried over from the year previous made up the deficit and left a surplus of $228,000.
