MISS ZIEGLER'S RELATIVES SAY BURHAM FIRED

Declare Wealthy Contractor Shot Her and Then Himself.—His Friends on the Scene. New York, March 30.—Relatives of Miss Helene Ziegler, found dead with a pistol in her hand late yesterday in the Grand Central office of Frederic I. Burnham, wealthy contractor, who had been fatally shot, today denied Miss Ziegler had committed the double tragedy.

The allegation was made that Burnham had shot Miss Ziegler and himself, and that his friends had placed the pistol in Miss Ziegler's lifeless hand to shield Burnham, in case he should recover. Burnham died this morning.

The report of police investigators in closing the case this morning was that Miss Ziegler, who had known Burnham for 10 years, and had been exceptionally friendly with him during that period, recently learned that he was married and therefore could not marry her; and that she visited his office with the intention of killing him and herself if he did not consent to get a divorce and marry her.

Mrs. Florence Marks, a married sister of the dead girl, made the statement for the family today in the presence of her mother.

"My sister did not shoot Mr. Burnham and herself," she said. "We are positive that he shot her and then shot himself and that some one placed the pistol in her hand and slit her fur coat to make it seem as though she had reached through into her jacket pocket to get the pistol, and that the same person put the four loaded cartridges in her pocket."

"This was done to protect him if he recovered from the wound of which he died early this morning in the hospital."

"Mr. Burnham has been a friend of the family for ten years. He was at our house two or three times a week. He was entirely acceptable here except when he had been drinking."

"We never knew Mr. Burnham was married. We were always able to reach him out of office hours by telephoning at the Ardley club or the Engineers' club and he was always at liberty to join us at dinner, or a card party or a theater party. It never occurred to any of us that a married man could have so much time on his hands."

"My sister Helene was never Burnham's sweetheart. He was no friendlier to her than with any other member of the family, though he often sat in front of all of us that Helene was the girl he wanted to marry."

CLAIMS MADE EXPLOSIVE USED IN MAKING BOMB. Prisoner in Los Angeles Reported to Have Made Confession. Los Angeles, March 30.—Herbert Wilson, former evangelist, alleged mail robber, and convicted murderer, has told postal inspectors he can solve the bombing of the J. Pierpont Morgan offices in Wall Street, New York, September 17, 1920. The Los Angeles Times will state tomorrow.

The explosive, which filled the bomb, which killed 39 persons and destroyed property valued at many thousands of dollars, was manufactured by Wilson, according to his own admission. The Times will state, and sold by him to a man who has been charged with guilty knowledge of the crime.

Wilson, a prisoner, in Los Angeles county jail, who formerly maintained silence concerning all crimes attributed to him, has changed his attitude and "has talked," according to jail officials.

Men are likely to make mistakes in life, Wilson is quoted, "and afterwards regret them. I believe I will be rewarded if I assist in clearing up activities of criminals."

Eatonton, Ga., March 21.—Mr. Charles Daugherty Leonard, one of Eatonton's oldest and best-known citizens, died at home here Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Although in feeble health for several weeks prior to his death, the end came unexpectedly.

Mr. Leonard was one of Eatonton's builders, a man of wealth and influence, and major of his home town more than one term. He was Joel Chandler Harris' most intimate boyhood friend and schoolmate at "the little red schoolhouse."

Mr. Leonard is survived by his wife, Mrs. Tullulah Lawrence Leonard; two sons, Cephus and John Leonard, both of this city, and Charles Wiley Leonard, of Cincinnati, Ohio; also three daughters, Mrs. T. E. Bozeman, of Atlanta; Mrs. J. H. Barber, of Columbia, Tenn.; Mrs. Clinton M. Powell, of Kannapolis, N. C., and a sister, Mrs. A. E. Supple, of Covington. Funeral services were held Wednesday.

(Mr. Leonard visited in Kannapolis on several occasions, and while there made many friends. Ed.)

Why Does Cotton Tumble? Naleigh News and Observer. On the face of the world's "visible supply" of cotton not exceeding 4,000,000 bales, and the increased and increasing demand by the increased number of cotton mills, why has the price of cotton vplanned two dollars a bale recently, with "uncertainty" as to the future and a drop of four cents on futures?

That question can be answered only in the words of Henry Grady who said, when asked what cotton would do, said he could answer that question except for one thing. And that was: "Cotton is a fagged fool." There may be subterranean reasons not yet apparent to the public.

ARCHBISHOP ZEPLIAK IS NOT TO BE PUT TO DEATH

Soviets Sentence Him to Ten Years Imprisonment Under Strict Isolation. Moscow, March 30 (By the Associated Press).—The death sentence recently imposed on Archbishop Zepliak, head of the Russian Catholic Church in Russia, was commuted today to ten years imprisonment under strict isolation. Appeal of Vicar General Butchkevich for clemency was denied.

The Central Executive Committee which meet to consider requests for mitigation of sentences, said its decision that both prelates were deserving of the penalty imposed by the Moscow court, but that commutation was ordered in the case of the archbishop because a certain element of the sentence as being directed against the priests and their religion.

The committee, however, said it regarded the evidence in the case of Monsignor Butchkevich as showing his direct connection with an enemy of the state. The decision was signed by President Kalinin and Secretary Sapronov.

An Interesting Relic.

Col. Giles T. Crowell showed us this morning a relic which is most interesting. It was a sampler woven by his grandmother, Mrs. Leah Cress, July 13, 1837, when she was 16 years of age. It is of linen and about sixteen inches square. It is well preserved and has woven in a plainly several alphabets, and also two verses, which are easily readable. The work is executed in an exceedingly clever manner, and Col. Crowell is having it framed for preservation. The verses woven on the sampler are as follows:

Teach me to feel another's woe, To hide the fault I see; That mercy I to others show, That mercy show to me. If I am right, Thy grace impart; Still in the right to stay; If I am wrong, O teach my heart To find that better way.
