MEMORIAL DAY FITTINGLY OBSERVED IN THIS CITY

Confederate Monument Decorated With Flowers—Exercises Held at Central Graded School.

Memorial Day sacred to the people of the South and of special sacredness to the Veterans of the Confederacy, was fittingly observed here Thursday. Decoration of the Confederate Monument on the court house lawn and appropriate exercises at Central Graded School, were attended by hundreds.

The monument was covered with bouquets and various other floral tributes. Most of the flowers were carried to the monument by the school children of the city, who marched in a body from their respective schools to the court house lawn. Practically each child in the long line of march carried some floral offerings, and these were placed at various places on the monument and its base.

Members of the local chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy marched with the children, and arranged the flowers on the monument. The Veterans met at the court house and were present for the exercises there.

After the decoration of the monument the exercises were continued at Central Graded school. The following program was observed there:

Chorus: The Son of Man Goes Forth to War.—Led by High School students. Invocation. Solo: Mrs. H. G. Gibson. Address: Mr. D. B. Coltrane. Bonnie Blue Flag—Boys from No. 2 School. Memorial of Flowers—Miss Margaret Bell. Solo: Mrs. Charles B. Wagoner. Benediction.

Mr. Coltrane devoted his short address to a commendation of the virtues and valor of the Confederate Veterans, devoting the greater part of the address to a tribute to the Confederate dead. The speaker served in the Confederate Army for a number of years, and knew from experience of the many heroic deeds of his comrades.

The solos by Mrs. Wagoner and Mrs. Gibson were heard with special interest.

Weak Back Mrs. Mildred Pipkin, of R. F. D. 8, Columbia, Tenn., says: "My experience with Cardui has covered a number of years. Nineteen years ago... I got down with weak back. I was run-down and so weak and nervous I had to stay in bed. I read of CARDUI The Woman's Tonic and sent for it. I took only one bottle at that time, and it helped me; seemed to strengthen and build me right up. So that is how I first knew of Cardui. After that, . . . when I began to get weak and 'no account', I sent right for Cardui, and it never failed to help me." If you are weak and suffering from womanly ailments, Cardui may be just what you need. Take Cardui. It has helped thousands, and ought to help you. At all druggists' and dealers'. E 97
